PREFACE

Our Ancestor Captain Arther (Arthur) Scot (1752-1838)

This is a brief history about how we found Arther and Frances (Ker) Scot were the parents of John Scott (1777-1846).

The genealogy book, "The Descendants of John Scott from 1777" was published 1965/6 by Colonel Walter Throckmorton Scott, U. S. Army Retired, born October 24, 1894, at Burlington, Kansas.

In the 1790 census of Surry County, North Carolina, there were 5 Scott families who could have been the parents of John Scott (1777-1846), namely:

Arthur Scott (1132) 1 male Head, 4 males under 16, 3 females.
Benjamin Scott (1125) 1 male Head, 2 males under 16, 4 females.
Daniel Scott (1127) 2 males over 16 including Head, 3 males under 16, 4 females.
James Scott (1127) 1 male Head, 3 males under 16, 4 females.
Jesse Scott (1128) 1 male Head, 7 females.

Records indicate they all came from Virginia during or after the Revolutionary War. They might be brothers. Our research proved that Arther Scott was the father of John Scott (1777-1846).

I employed professional genealogists to help me in my research, namely:

Mrs. Ruth Slevin, 3550 Madison Ave., Indianapolis, Indiana, 46227.
Charles Hughes Hamlin, Route 2, Box C-44, Powhatan, Virginia, 23139.
Mrs. Dewey W. Huggins, Box 623, Raleigh, North Carolina, 27602.
Mrs. Mary Kegley, Jr., 440 W. Fulton St., Wytheville, Virginia, 24382.
Mrs. Ruth Paine, 212 Goddard Ave., Maryville, Tennessee, 37801.

With my thanks, I am indebted to each of them for their professional help. Much of their results are in Arther Scott's family record.

The General Services Administration, National Archives and Records Service, Washington, D.C., 20408, gave me a few photocopies of Revolutionary War records, including Arthur Scott (1752-1838) and Daniel Scott (1759-1824). I am sure they are brothers. The others need more research before I place them in our lineage.

I am not able to find the burial place of Arther Scott, nor of his first wife, Frances, or his second wife, Elizabeth.

I am indebted to Arthur H. Kerr, 3628 Market Street, Kalamazoo, Michigan, 47001, for his help in finding the names and birth dates of Frances Kerr Scott's children from The Kerr Family Association as given it by the clanswoman, Frances Kerr Scott herself.

I have not been able to find proof of the marriages of Arther Scott's three daughters and two of his sons, James and Arthur. It is possible the sons were killed during the 1812 War in Tennessee.

WILEY AND ALMEDA (HINSHAW) REECE

828

Wiley Reece was born in what is now Yadkin County March 28, 1814, the son of Jesse and Margaret (Hadley) Reece. We know little of his early life, save that he grew to manhood on his father's farm near what is now Boonville. He had some education, enough to write his name, at least. "WILEY REECE" he haltingly spelled it on a surviving document bearing his signature.

On May 26, 1838, Wiley and his brother-in-law James Johnson took out a bond at the Surry County courthouse, pledging themselves in the sum of $500 that there was no reason why Wiley might not be joined in marriage with Almeda Hinshaw. She had been born in what is now Yadkin County February 1819, the daughter of Benjamin and Ruth (Parker) Hinshaw.

During their early married life Wiley and Almeda lived on land owned by Jesse Reece. At a later date they purchased a small farm near Nebo in Fall Creek Township where they spent the remainder of their lives. They were members of Mount Pleasant Methodist Church, and descendants tell us that Wiley was a fierce Democrat.

Wiley and Almeda (Hinshaw) Reece were the parents of eleven children. Lewis D. Reece (1839-1866) married Mary Malinda Strickland and died in Yadkin County. Mary Elizabeth Reece (1843-?) married James J. Hobson and died in Gentry County, Missouri. Louisa Reece (1844-1907) married Isaac Williams (1843-1904) and died in Scotland County, North Carolina. Sabra Reece (1846-1877) was the first wife of Elan J. Adams, a Yadkin County Baptist preacher. Ruth (1847-1899) never married but made her home with her parents. Benjamin Franklin Reece (1849-1929) married Lucy Jane Hair (Haire) (1854-1903) and lived in Knobs Township. Lucy C. Reece (1851-?) was the second wife of Elan J. Adams. John W. Reece (1854-1926) married Jennie Overby (1859-1947) and kept store in East Bend. Edward Houston Reece (1856-1926) married Julia Wishon (1858-1936) and died in Scotland County, North Carolina. Francis Marion Reece (1859-1925) went to Henry County, Indiana, in 1876 where he married Louella Bales (1865-1942) and lived until his death. Margaret Hasseltine Reece (1862-1932) married Rev. Caleb Monroe Warden (1859-1934), a Methodist minister, and died in Yadkinville.

Wiley Reece died January 22, 1888, at his home in Fall Creek Township. Afterwards Almeda made her home with her daughter Margaret, where she died December 19, 1898. Wiley and Almeda lie buried with her parents in the Mount Pleasant Methodist Cemetery.

DARETTE MANLY REECE

829

Man Reece as he was called was born in the Crutchfield area June 12, 1862. He was the son of J. D. and Sarah DeLaney Reece. He was educated at the Globe School for Boys. He received a Degree in Law from the University of North Carolina in 1887. He is listed as being a lawyer in Yadkinville in 1904. Man married Mary S. Robertson. They had five children; James Thaddeus, Stella, Joel Manly, John Dillard and Sallie. He was a Democrat and a leader in the area of education. He was a member of the Yadkinville Baptist Church serving as a deacon and a Sunday School teacher. He died April 14, 1925. Mary died February 19, 1948.

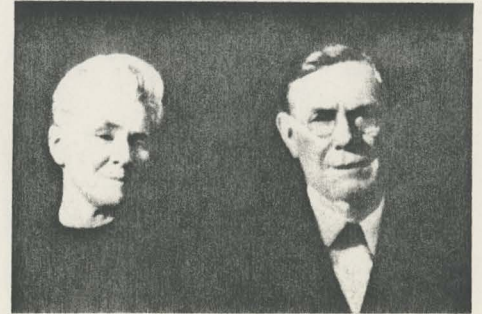

The following poem was written by Man after a trip away from Yadkinville. It was published in the Yadkin Ripple.

D.M. Reece's Experience

I've been down to the city, an'
I've seen the 'lectric lights,
The twenty-story buildin's an' the other stunnin' sights;
I've seen th' trolley-cars a-rushin'
madly down the street,
An' all the place a-lookin' like a'
fairy-land complete.
But I'd rather see the big trees
that's a-growin' up to home,
An' watch the stars a-twinklin' in the blue an' loft dome;
An' I'd rather hear the wind that goes a-singin' past the door
Than the traffic of the city, with its bustle an' its roar.

I reckon I'm peculiar, an' my tastes
is kind o' low;
I went up to a concert, an' I heard the music there;
It sounded like angelic harps a-floatin' through the air.
Yet spite of all its glory an' the gladness an' acclaim,
If I stopped to think a minute, I was home-sick jes' the same;
An' I couldn't help confessin',
though it seems a curious ill
That I'd rather live a lifetime in the town of Yadkinville.

JAMES THADDEUS REECE

830

James Thaddeus Reece was born in Yadkinville, North Carolina, February 28, 1889, the oldest child of Darette Manly Reece and Mary S. Robertson Reece. Thad had two brothers, Joe and John and two sisters, Sallie and Stella. Sallie and Joe died with childhood diseases.

Thad lived in Yadkinville all of his life. He was educated at the Yadkinville Norman School and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill receiving an A.B. degree in 1912 and a degree in law in 1916. During the school year 1912-1913 he was principal of the Normal School. The next year he taught in East Bend, North Carolina. Here he met a young lady, Nina Dalton Davis. She was a student in his class. Thad and Nina did not declare their affection until commencement time of that year. Thad did not return, he went back to school at the University of North Carolina. He served as superintendent of the Yadkin County Schools from July 1917 — April 1929 and from 1931-1939. He was principal of the Lewisville High School in Forsyth County 1929-1931.

In 1935 the citizens of Yadkin County approved bonds of $140,000 for the consolidation of the small two-teacher schools. The State Board of Education approved of this venture but there was real doubt if it would pass. Yadkin County was a Republican county; the schools were operated by a Democratic state government. There was tension at times. Thad was an active Democrat. However, he believed that quality education for all of the children of Yadkin County was of greater importance than any political party. He used his time and effort in the days before the vote traveling almost to the door of each family in Yadkin County explaining the need of the bond.

Through the years Thad had a very limited law practice. He gave this his full attention in July, 1939, until his death June 1, 1961.

Attorney J. Thad Reece

Thad was a member of the Yadkinville Baptist Church. He served as a deacon and as a Sunday School teacher (1928-1961). He also served as moderator of the Yadkin Baptist Association from 1933-1949.

Mr. J. T. (as he was sometimes called) was a member of the Yadkin Masonic Lodge 162 for 48 years. He served twice as Master — from 1920-22 and 1927-30. He was a charter member of the Board of Trustees of the Lula Conrad Davis Memorial Hospital. He served as judge of the Yadkin County court. He held many offices in professional and civic organizations. Nina Dalton Davis Reece was the ninth child of Samuel Dalton Davis (1851-1897) and Augusta Elvira Hauser (1857-1948). Nina and Thad were married at her home in the East Bend community June 30, 1920. Two children were born to the couple — a daughter, Mary Augusta born February 1, 1925, and a son, James Manly — the oldest — lived for ten days and then died. Mary Augusta married Dennis Walter Hockaday August 12, 1948.

Nina was educated in the East Bend School. She attended Oxford Seminary for Women in Oxford, North Carolina, and the State Normal School for girls at Greensboro, North Carolina. She taught school at Chestnut Ridge in the East Bend Township.

Nina came to Yadkinville as a bride. She soon became active in church and community affairs. She served as president of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Yadkinville Baptist Church; and second President of the Yadkinville Woman's Club and held various offices in civic and denominational groups.

Nina died March 21, 1976. She was buried on her birthday.

Joel Wilson Reece, son of Joel Daret Reece, before his marriage built a nice two story house on a hill overlooking the Yadkin river about four miles north of Boonville, N.C. He occupied the house along with his aged father, his housekeeper and her husband. On June 14, 1899, Joel married Annie Watkins of Clemmons, N.C., and brought his bride home to a farm of a good number acres.

Joel was educated at Boonville and at Moravian Falls Academy, Wilkes County, N.C. Annie was educated at Salem College, Forsyth County, N.C.

To this union three children were born: Naomi and Glenn died in infancy, the third child, Thad Marshall, was born January 19, 1907. Since it was about four miles to the nearest school, his mother taught him at home until he was nine years old. He entered the third grade at Boonville School, and after graduation furthered his education at the University of Chapel Hill, N.C. where he received a B.A. degree in Journalism in 1928. He worked as a government employee, farmer and land appraiser until his retirement.

Thad married Anita Hobson, daughter of Alvis Bonson and Alice Hobson on February 25, 1933. Anita is a graduate of Boonville High School, UNCG, Greensboro, N.C. with a B.S. degree in Home Economics, class of 1931. She taught for 37 years, mostly at Boonville High School. During that period she served as president (1958-60) of the N.C. Home Economics Division of the N.C. Vocational Association. She is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, national teacher honorary society, and is a member of the DAR (Daughters of American Revolution) being a great, great granddaughter of Col. James Martin, an officer in the Revolutionary Army and a brother to Alexander Martin, twice governor of North Carolina.

Thad and Anita Reece have one son, Joe Wilson Reece, born March 1, 1935. Following his graduation from Boonville High School he entered N.C. State University at Raleigh and in 1957 was awarded a Bachelor's degree in nuclear engineering with honors. He received his Master's degree in applied mathematics from the same school in 1961, and at commencement exercises was named the outstanding engineering faculty member. He earned the doctorate in fluid mechanics from the University of Florida in 1963. Dr. Reece is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Eta Sigma, Sigma Pi Sigma, Tau Beta Pi, Theta Tau, and Scabbard and Blade. As an undergraduate, he was a member of the Order of St. Patrick, engineering leadership society.

Dr. Reece is a Professor of Mechanical Engineering at Auburn University, Auburn, Alabama. During his tenure at Auburn Dr. Reece has served as President of the Southeastern Section of the American Society for Engineering Education and on the society's national Power Committee. He is a full member of ASME and has been elected to Sigma Xi, Pi Tau Sigma and the Alabama Academy of Science. In 1976-78 he served the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission as Deputy Director of to his reward after a slight illness of a few days. He was born February 4, 1832. For sixty-five years he was a consistent member of Boonville Baptist Church. On April 16, 1870, he was elected church trustee and ordained deacon May 7, 1870. These positions of trust he held until death. "Uncle Deck" was widely known for his genial happy disposition which made him a friend of all who knew him. He truly loved the house of God and his place was never vacant when possible for him to fill it."

On December 30, 1852, Joel Daret married Sarah Delaney Caudle. She died March 22, 1899. The first three children born to this union died in early childhood: Nely C., born September 29, 1853, died April 13, 1859; Samuel C., born May 16, 1855, died October 7, 1862; Aaron S. born January 3, 1857, died April 24, 1859; Cornelia Saphronia, born August 6, 1860, died November 10, 1920; Daret Mann, born June 12, 1862, died April 14, 1928; Marylindy, born July 18, 1864, died June 4, 1904; Joel Wilson, born September 24, 1868, died December 6, 1942; Lucy Jane, born March 7, 1870, died November 18, 1959. Most of these family members are buried in the Boonville Cemetery.

Joel Daret Reece was appointed by Governor Vance as a captain of the Home Guard of North Boonville District during the Civil War.

Other information I have of this lineage follows: Saphronia married Nathan Dobbins. Their children are:

THE LAND AND I

837

At the beginning of this century, many a young man found himself with little more to begin life for his family than the land. That could be divided into two or three categories. First inherit it, which would have been good, secondly, you could have bought it, land was extremely cheap. thirdly, you could rent land to suit your capacity to work and save what you made and hope that land would stay cheap until that day when your savings or credit standing would let you own your own.

Charlie Sebon Reece would belong to this last category. He was the son of Benjamin Franklin Reece and Mary Jane Haire Reece. He and his brother Bob (Robert W.) were near the same age. They grew up together, shared the same work and social activities. I'm going to let my husband Oscar, who is a son of Sebon tell about this:

Work! They cut cord wood for Old man Jim Greenwood for 25¢ per day. This meant through all kinds of weather. My daddy used to tell about a time when, sleet was on the Operating Reactors Division. He has been med Outstanding Professor in the School of gineering at Auburn five times. He serves as consultant to over 20 companies and has blished over 40 papers and reports. He is ted in Who's Who in America and Who's ho in the South and Southwest.

Dr. Reece is married to the former Nancy etcher, daughter of the late Ralph Fletcher d Elizabeth Evans Fletcher Turner. Nancy as born August 5, 1937. She graduated from onville High School and attended UNCG, ensboro, N.C. Joe and Nancy have two ns, James Thad Reece, born July 18, 1957, d Joel Wade Reece, born May 11, 1959. mes T. graduated from Auburn University th a B.S. degree in Mechanical Engineering 1981. He is married to Kimberly Victoria unson. J. Wade is a student in Industrial gineering at Auburn University.

JOEL DARET REECE

835

Joel Daret Reece was the son of Joel whose father was Daniel, a son of Abraham. The following is from an obituary appearing in the Biblical Recorder "REECE — At his home near Boonville, N.C. on February 21, 1914, our dear brother in Christ, J. D. Reece, was called

Surry and Yadkin Unites.
Attorney W. L. Reece, of Dobson, Wing and Weds one of Yadkin County's Fairest Daughters.

Wednesday, the 18th of December, 1895, was a gala day along the Yadkin, it being the red letter date on which W. L. Reece, one of Surry's favorite young attorneys, and Miss Dora Shore, one of Yadkin's most popular and accomplished young ladies, were married.

A large number of relatives and friends gathered in response to formal invitations at the residence of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. ex-Sheriff W. F. Shore, to enjoy the happy and festive event. Soon after high noon Miss Laura Benbow, late of Hagerstown, Md., took her seat at the organ and with superb grace and exquisite touch coaxed forth the melodies of Mendelsohn's grand wedding march, whereupon, entering from the stair case, came Lawyer J. T. Benbow and S. F. Shore who ushered in the bride and groom elect, to receive the ceremonial recital by Rev. C. C. Haymore that blended two hearts into one and made them man and wife. Mr. Haymore is an adept at the business and performed his duty with much dignity and impressiveness. All immediately repaired to the dining hall where an inviting and bountiful spread greeted the vision and were served in a polite and gracious manner that elicited the highest admiration. The bride was attired in heavy terra-cotta silk and velvet, with iridescent trimming, and wore a lovely spray of orange blossoms in her beautifully curled and crimped hair. The groom was attired in the conventional black. The bride was the recipient of several handsome presents, among them was a set of silver spoons with initials, from Mrs. Bryan, of Charlotte; a fine large photo-album from Willie Stauber and sister, of Forsyth; a silver card receiver and silver pickle stand from Miss Emma Kapp and brothers, of Bethania; a beautiful hand painted vase from Miss Cora Conrad, of Charlotte; a lovely table scarf from Mrs. Atkins, of Kernersville; a set of silver tea-spoons, from Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shore; a set of Chinaware from the mother of the bride, and a cathedral gong clock, from her brother, accompanied by this tribute: "May each tick of the clock bring you nearer Heaven."

On the following day the bridal party, comprising the bride and groom, P. C. Shore and Miss Lillie Poindexter, Miss Ida Reece and S. F. Shore, drove with elegant teams to the home of the groom's parents, near Boonville, and enjoyed an elegant reception. Early next morning the happy couple, with their cortege, left for Dobson, where they met with another grand and enthusiastic reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hampton. In the evening a most enjoyable sociable was tendered at the Dobson Inn, in honor of the bridal party. The newly wedded couple will make Dobson their future home, where Mr. Reece, with true pluck and earnest application, has built up an enviable practice in his chosen profession. This charming couple begin life with splendid prospects, and we bespeak for them pence, pleasure and prosperity.

Dear Mr. Cockerham,

Janice Morland suggested I contact you.

For sometime I have been researching my Reece line. During that time I have been unable to identify the parents of my greatgreatgrandmother, Louisa Williams Wilson Reece, born 16 April 1810 in N.C. Died 28 May 1903 in Yadkin Co. N.C.

Her greatgrandson by her first marriage to Henry M. Wilson claims her maiden name was Williams.

Louisa married Henry Wilson ca 1832. They had one child, William Alexander Wilson born 17 Mar 1834. Henry was dead by the time of the 1840 Census.

Louisa married Jesse Reece prior to 1842. Their son Ellis Richmond Reece was born 18 December 1842.

Most of the other information I have is unproven.

Any assistance you may provide in identifying Louisa's parents will be appreciated.

Sincerely,
George R. Reece
