ANOTHER SOLDIER PAYS THE SUPREME SACRIFICE

Charles Herman Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Howell, of Moravian Falls, a soldier of the World War, passed away Saturday after-ncon at 4:45, at the age of 26 years, 1 month, having been born on October 4, 1896. An illness, of duration, which was brought about by service to his country in France, caused his death.

The deceased volunteered in the my at Camp Sevier Greenville, army at Camp S. C., in August 1917. In May, 1918, he went overseas ,where he served until the signing of the Armistice with the 118 Infantry, 30th Division. He was in France 11 months. The deceased went over the top five times. The last time he was overcome with gas, and lay unsconscious four hours. After this time his health was never normal again. After coming home he took treatment at Naples and Oteen hospitals in this State, and spent sometime in New Mexico.

Besides the parents, the following brothers and sisters survive: George Howell, of Winston-Salem; Herbert and Clyde Howell, of Lochgully, W. Va., Lytle Harvel and Cecil Howell, of Acravian Palls; Mrs. L. C. Dula, Winston-Salem; Leliabelle Howell, who resides with her parents.

A beautiful funeral service was held Monday at 11 a. m. in the Methodist church at Moravian Falls, of which Mr. Howell was a member. The service was conducted by Revs. E. E. Yates, and W. E. Linney. There was a large attendance. Members of Wilkes County Post American Legion acted as pall bearers, and at the cemetery the body was laid to rest with full military honors by members of the local national guard company, under command of Capt. Robinson. The floral offerings were beautiful.

Herman was popular with all who knew him. Not only was he a soldier during the war, but a soldier to the last, for he bore his sufferings patiently, and was ready to go. We sympathize with the family in their loss.

DEATH OF HERMAN, SON' MR. AND MRS. WILL HOWELL

Herman Howell died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. WillHowell, in West Wilkesboro last Saturday night after a long illness extending over a period of months and more. Herman's death was not altogether unexpected. He tried in vain to restore his health having returned from a hospital latter part of the summer and had since shown very little or no improvement at any time. During the times prior, when at home, since being discharged from the United States army and returning from the war in Eu-ope in 1919 -he seemed to gain most in weight.

His death is very sad because he was a brave young man beloved his comrads, besides other friends, and especially to his parents and grown brothers, Messrs. George and Lytle, and two smaller brothers, Cecil and Harvel, and his youngest sister, Lena Bell Howell, and one sister, Mrs. Cargile Dula of Winston-Salem. He has one other brother, Mr. Herbert Howell of West Virginia.

The burial was at the cemetery at Moravian Falls Monday afternoon.

Charles Herman Howell died at his father's home, near Moravian Falls, on the afternoon of November 4th. On the day of his death he was 26 years and one month old. He was the son of William and Lelia Howell, both of whom survive him. He left also surviving him five brothers and two sisters.

Herman Howell volunteered into the army August 30, 1917, and was discharged April 4, 1919. He was in the engagements at Ipres July 4th, 19th, 25th and September 6, 1918, and in Cambrai and St. Quentin offensives from September 23rd. to Octo He was gassed at ber 11, 1919. Vaux Audigny, France, October 11, 1919, and this was the cause of his death. In the army he did his duty faithfully and well. He brought home with him a certificate of discharge that will bear testimony through the years of his bravery and devotion as a soldier. His character is given thereon as "Excellent." Providence vouchsafed to Herman Howell but a short life, but in the short span of that life he freely rendered to his that will bear testimony through all country a mead of service of which his relatives and friends may ever feel proud. He lived a full and buoyant life until he succumbed to the deadly ravages of the poison gas he inhaled at the front.

He was buried with military hon-

Dear Friends,

Looking over the material you left me when you were in Kansas last fall--I noticed the note you had written concerning my connection with the John Burcham family -- which I had overlooked. As it is "better late than never", I will give you my connection. I am related through Susannah Burcham--John and Roseanna Burcham's daughter who mar Lazarus Denny. Their daughter, Sengrad married David Noblitt who was born in NC, but later lived and bought land in Grayson CO, VA. Their marriage bond is from Grayson W bhn Burcham was also a Patriot in the American Revolution. I have his papers and also the papers of David Noblitt from the War of 1812. David's father Abrāham Noblitt was in the French and Indian. Won The Noblitts were Hugenots from France. They were in England for awhile and then came to America where they settled in York CO, PA. David's father was Abraham Noblitt who was in the French and Indian. WM Although the Noblitts were Quakers when they came to America, they were disowned when they joined the army.

Henry Mason, my gr grandfather, mar. Rebecca Noblitt and my grandfather was named David H. Mason. My gr gr grandfather was William Mason who mar Mary Magdaline Spoonamore. Her family had come from Germany about 1748. William Mason came from Norfolk VA to Kentucky before Kentucky became a state.

My gr grandparents and grandparents (Exwells) came to Kansas-leaving NC 1868 and arriving in SE Kansas 1873. Most of that was spent in MO, where the Howell and Jones families (both from Yadkin CO). happened to meet and my grandmother, Mary Permelia (Mollie) and John King Jones of Jonesville were mar at the Blue Springs Baptist Church in Miller CO, MO. Both Thomas B. Howell and John King Jones had been ordained in the Swan Creek Baptist Church where most of my Howells held their membership. Thomas Howell did not live long after coming to Kansas and is bur in the beautiful little cemetery at Oak Valley Ks, where I spent the first ten years of my married life. Sarah Ann lived several years longer and took a claim herself--she was a real pionar. Her oldest grandaughter, Sally, stayed with her in a little cabin. Most of our Howell ancestors --children and grand children of Thomas and Sarah are bur. in the Oak Valley cemetery.

My next project is with the early HOWELS who came from Wales and settled in Delaware until after James Howell's death 1753 in DE. His wife was Ruth-he sons-Samuel who stayed in DE where he mar., James, Joseph, David and Thomas. They were active in the Welsh Tract Baptist Church-there was also a dau, Hannah.

Best Wishes to both of you,

I do not have genealogy books with me as I left them in Longton-Several there are doing a history of Longton and wanted to use my books. I may the ave not have gotten my dates right.

If you find a JAMES that seems to be connected with my Lucy James b. 1788, let me know.

CAROLINA KISSIN' KIN

My grandmother believed the finest country in the world was America and the most precious part of America was Carolina—the sun rose and set between Brushy Mountain and the Yadkin River.

My kinfolk lived for almost three generations at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountains in the Northwest part of this paracise. They were farmers and Baptists—a strange people, complicated and simple and proud and religious and family loving—a divorceless, Bible reading lot of folk—all rich in ancestry and steeped in tradition and emotionally quick on the trigger.

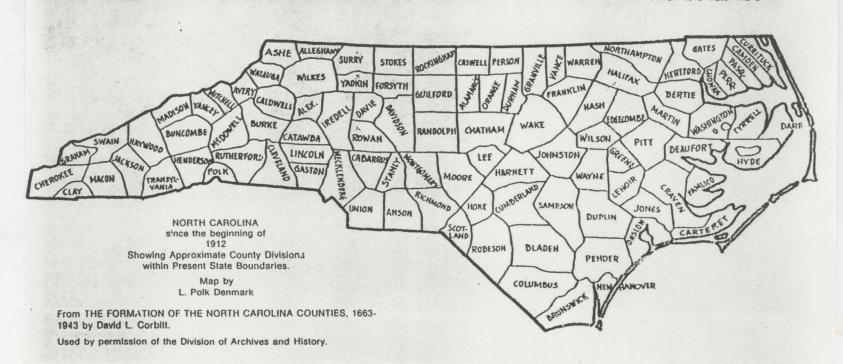

Our kinfolk of the inland and upland South are the hickory nut, homespun Southerners who do a lot of talking, but also a lot of work--forthright and and plain spoken.

They believed in total abstinence, total immersion, in faithfulness, rightebusness, justice and honoring our parents. They tried to keep the Commandments, but often failed. They stakes their immortal souls on death bed repentence—they put their faith in the promise of Paul, the Apostle, that in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, they shall be saved.

Our kinfolk in Carolina are inter-married, webbed and woven like a rug. They are interested in their ancestors—as persons to whom all of us—present and past are obligated. We know their transgressions, their iniquity and secret goodness hid within them, the thistle and the wheat.

Our grandmothers and grandfathers in Carolina influenced our generation more than all the schools and universities. They had knowledge and intuition and the power to inspire—they never gave up or lost hope—in all their tribulations in a new country.

Howell

Mrs. Sadie Howell, daughter of Goe. A. Stanley and wife, and wife of Emmet O. Howell, died in the hospital at Petersburg, Virginia, Jan. 24, 1919, aged 20 years and 3 months. Her body was brought back to her old home and laid to rest by her mother, who was called away a few months ago.

She left her husband and one little babe, two years old, her father and a number of sisters and brothers, who mourn because of her almost sudden death. Her illness was of but few days. Then God saw fit to call her home. Yes, I trust and believe that dear Sadie is now resting in that happy home, with our angel mother, who had gone on before.

Sadie wrote me a few months before her death, saying, "Sister, I have felt, for a long time, like mama has been dwelling near me." I believe dear Sadie had been shown in a way that she was soon going to be with mother.

She bore her sickness so well and was so patient, and seemed willing to go, makes us feel sure that she is now resting in that happy home above. Oh, I trust and pray that I may be prepared to meet these dear ones who have gone on before, when God shall see fit to call me. May we all be gathered together again where there will be no more parting, but peace and happiness forever.

One sad month has passed away,
Yet time brings no relief;
We miss you more and more each day,
With sad and bitter grief;
Yet we know that you are happy,
In mansions of the blessed.
Where there is no pain nor sorrow,
But sweet eternal rest.

Written by her sister,
MISS MINNIE A. STANLEY.
