The Beginning

JOHN B. SIMMONS
MAHALA JESSUP SIMMONS

The Beginning

Mahala Jessup Simmons and her daughter, Ioda Simmons, travel by horse and buggy to the Friends Mission in the Blue Ridge Mountain of Virginia. Mahala invited a Presbyterian minister to the foothills of Slate Mountain to preach.

The people built a brush harbor for a place to hold the services, wooden benches were also made to sit on, the attendance was great. After a short time under the brush harbor, the congregation moved across the road to the Joe Goins house (now the home of Victor and Viola Burkhart).

John B. Simmons organized a Sunday School being Superintendent and song leader. The crowd was so great that more room was needed for Sunday School and preaching services. These meetings were held on Sunday afternoons. This was the first time for most of the people to attend a Sunday School or go to public school. Joe Goins tore out the west end of his house to meet the needs of the growing number of people who attended. The first Revival was held by Rev. Joe Simmons. Many people accepted Christ as their Savior and were baptized in Archer Creek.

Lord and Savior until He returns.

Slate Mountain Baptist Church has been and continues to be a vital force in the lives of its members. It is comprised of a loving and loyal congregation who take pride in the maintenance and improvement of their church. The members are also dedicated to the spreading of the gospel and to the support of the church, the pastor, and each other.

We maintain an average Sunday school attendance of approximately 55 to 60, with more than 100 attending the Sunday morning worship service.

Many changes and improvements have been made throughout the years. In 2003 the sanctuary was remodeled with new oak wainscoting, oak pews, communion table, carpet, and lighting. In 2006 improvements were made to the library and a new piano was purchased. The basement fellowship area was remodeled in 2008 with cabinets, countertops, and floor replaced. A new refrigerator, stove, and microwave oven were also purchased at this time. In 2009 a back porch with a ramp was built for easier access into the building. In 2010 we purchased tables and chairs which are now being used in our new Fellowship Building that was completed in 2013.

The WMU continues to be very active and sponsors worthwhile projects such as participation in the Samaritan's Purse Shoebox Ministry, Red Cross Blood Drives, and assisting families by providing meals during times of sickness and death. The Baptist Brotherhood holds monthly meetings and does minor repairs and maintenance projects around the church. Our youth group is also very active as participants in church plays, a youth choir, and an annual Youth Sunday. On Wednesday nights the children and youth meet in the Fellowship Building for Bible stories/study and activities.

Slate Mountain Baptist Church continues to carry out a ministry that lifts up Jesus Christ through worship services and programs that meet the spiritual needs of the community. The church seeks to spread the gospel throughout the world through mission support and to faithfully serve our Lord and Savior until He returns.
