Modified Register for Dock J. Golding

First Generation

1. Dock J. Golding was born 10 Apr 1911 in Surry Co., NC. He died 24 May 1967 in Surry Co., NC.

The death record of Dock J. Golding states he was born 10 Apr 1910 (rather than 1911) in Surry Co., NC.

Some researchers state Dock's name is Dock Hollinsworth "Dock" Golding.

Dock Golding played the banjo and was a moonshiner. As told by Fern Ramey: "Just like Dock up there on the side of the road. Highway 89. He bootlegged all his life, like a lot of people did around this section, and he kept the law paid off 'til they didn't bother him, so they said. He had the biggest houseful of kids you've ever seen, too. One time they had him in court over selling liquor. In Dobson that was. And he marched every one of his kids in there and had them standing around him when he was being tried. And he asked the judge, "If you had this crowd to feed, what would you do, Judge?" ("Strings of Life")

Aubrey Payne writes in his Payne Golding Book that he came home to Sage Creek about 1940 or 1941 to find Dock Golding had built a house a little west of his home on the north side of Hwy #89. Although Dock was his daddy's first cousin the families did not visit back and forth across the half-mile that separated the two houses.... Once he saw Dock in the road near his house. He had stopped briefly to pass the time of day with his father. He acknowledged Aubrey with vigorous nods and broad smiles. Aubrey's father said his cousin Dock made him nervous when he saw him by beginning to laugh before anyone had said anything funny. It was common knowledge that Dock was a bootlegger (and some said a moonshiner as well). Anyone wanting a pint, a quart, or a half-gallon (probably in a fruit jar), could pull into Dock's yard and acquire same in a quick and efficient transaction. Aubrey wondered if his father bought from him as he was known to be an occasional consumer of the product. Once when Aubrey was home from college or the Navy his daddy told him Dock had recently finished a term in the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary for trafficking in non-tax-paid liquor. He did not appear to have any other source of income. He was not a farmer. Aubrey's father Gold had died in a car crash a month or so earlier when Aubrey heard that Dock had killed a Ms. Oakley, mother of two of his children, at her home, and then gone back to his own home where he killed himself. Allie had gone out with a friend who had dropped by so she was not at home when Dock killed himself. (Payne Golding Book)

Dock Golding died of a gunshot wound in the right temple which was self-inflicted. It happened one mile north of his home in his car in the Franklin Township. (death certificate)

He was born in Mount Airy, NC and died in Lowgap, Surry Co., NC. He is buried at Flat Top PBC Cemetery, Surry Co., NC.

Dock married (1) Louie Elizabeth Flippin, daughter of Walter Lee Flippin and Myrtle Lillar Lawson, on 15 Dec 1930 in Surry Co., NC. Louie was born 19 May 1913 in Surry Co., NC. She died 4 Mar 1938 in Surry Co., NC.

Louie Elizabeth and Dock Golding were married in Stewarts Creek Township, Surry Co., NC. Dock was 19 and Louie was 18. Both were from the Round Peak community when they married. Witnesses were K. D. Holder, J. R. Golding and Scynester Flippin.

Louie died of tuberculosis, leaving four children under the age of seven. As she became incapacitated her sister Allie came to help run the household. Dock then married Sarah Allie Flippin and more children were born. (Payne Golding Book)

She is buried at Flat Top PBC Cemetery, Surry Co., NC. The dates are different on her marker from her death record.

Dock and Louie had the following children:

Lowgap Man, Round Peak Woman Meet Violent Death Tuesday Night

Murder-Suicide Airtic Is Under Investigation

A searching neighbor discovered the violence marked body of a mother of eleven children shortly after 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in the Round Peak section of Surry County. He had begun his search at the request of the woman's children who had become alarmed over her overnight absence from home.

Ere officers could complete their investigation of the death, the report of a second violent death, that of a farmer in the Lowgap area, added to their investigative duties.

The body of Mrs. Reatha Riggins Oakley, 41, of route 1, Lowgap, was found lying under the shelter of a ramshackle log crib and stable on Rural Unpaved Road 1606 in the Round Peak section. Four bullet wounds had penetrated her body in the neck, chest and side.

Three of the woman's children were in a deputy's car when it arrived at the scene where their mother's dead body lay. In hysterics, they were taken to a neighbor's house to receive what consolation could be given them. Mrs. Oakley's 1958 Chevrolet was parked no more than 30 feet from her dead body, the driver's the rear were freshly gathered embers, apparently evidence she had gathered the produce from a nearby garden.

She had lived at the site on the farm of Dock Golding, 57, of route 1, Lowgap, until a few days ago, when her house there burned to the ground.

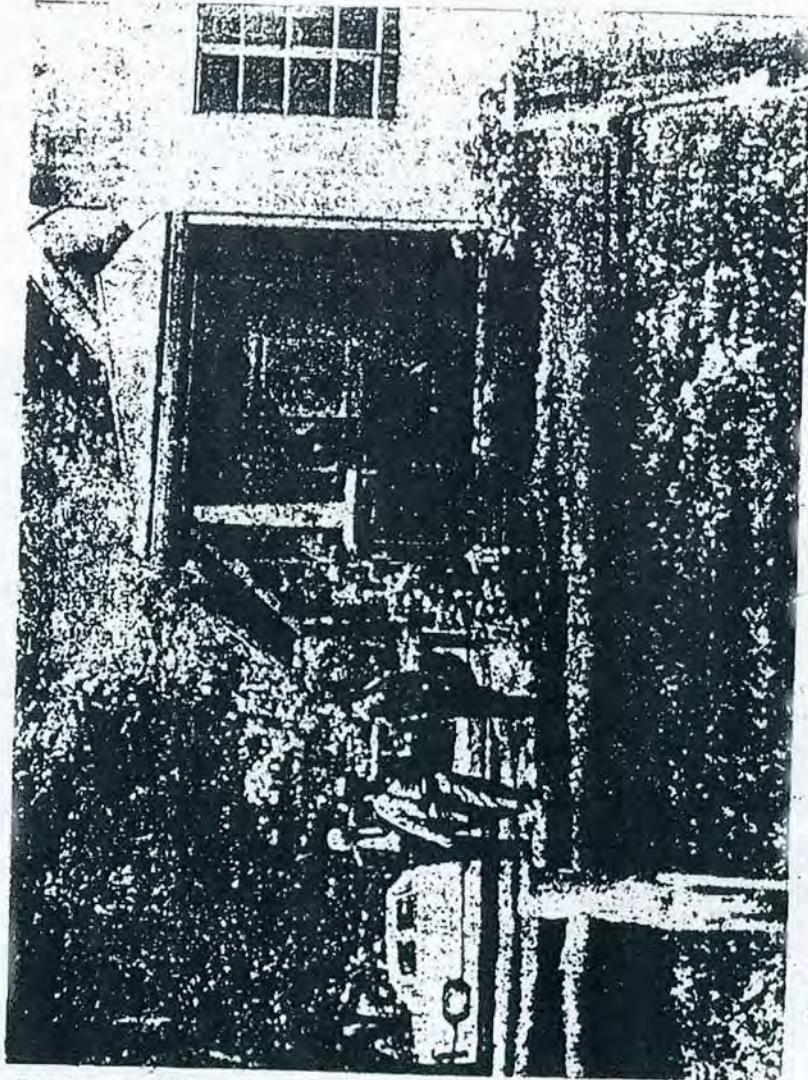

Officers fingerprinted the car, assisted by Detectives Joe Simmons and G. M. Eldridge of the Mount Airy Police Department. The early investigation produced information that led Sheriff Jim Taylor to radio an alert to pick up Dock Golding for questioning, after it was established he knew the woman.

Golding could not be found immediately.

A resident of the small dirt road, just off Round Peak Road, where the slain woman was found told officers she recognized two vehicles entering the dead end road between 5:30 and 6 p.m. Tuesday. She identified the vehicles and their occupants as Dock Golding in a black pickup truck, followed by Mrs. Oakley in her Chevrolet. An hour later, the pickup truck returned; Mrs. Oakley's car did not return.

While still pondering this phase of their investigation, Sheriff Jim Taylor and Surry Coroner Dr. Carl L. Thomas received a report that the body of Golding had been found.

His body was discovered by a son and a hired man on the farm.

Neither Golding nor Mrs. Oakley had been reported seen since each left home late Tuesday evening.

Officers' Theory

Officers theorized the two were together at the old barn on Golding's property where Mrs. Oakley's body was found. Footprints indicated a man had been with her during her excursion to the garden to pull onions.

Golding apparently left the old shed and drove straight to the old burned tobacco barn site where his body was found. Dr. Thomas, after examining each body, estimated the time of death for Mrs. Oakley at from 6:30 to 7 p.m. Tuesday. He estimated the time of death for Golding at about 8 p.m. the same evening.

Sheriff Jim Taylor reported yesterday he will journey today to the State Crime Laboratory in Raleigh where ballistics tests will be performed to determine if shots fired from the rifle found by Golding's body killed both of the deceased. They are seeking LOWGAP — Allie Golding got lots of nice things for Christmas, but one special gift promises to keep her feeling warm throughout the year.

Golding, 73, of Lowgap is the kind of grandmother who usually knows everything happening in her family, but was completely in the dark about her family's plan to surprise her during the holiday. She knew there was something going on with handprints being cut from material, and mailed from those who live away from this area, but says she could have never guessed the cloth was slowly becoming a special quilt honoring her efforts as a mother and a grandmother.

Each of Golding's children, grandchildren and great grandchildren were asked to find a piece of cloth that reflected their personality, and then trace their hand on it and send it to family member Pam Handy. The hands were cut out and placed on a quilt top with the words, "Grandma, May the touch of our hands and the warmth of our hearts surround you with love." The quilt was presented to Golding at a family gathering of nearly 100 family members just a few days before Christmas.

Pam Handy said she got the idea of the hand quilt from a magazine which featured a mother's gift suggestion to attach children's hand outlines on an apron. "Of course they only had four or five children."

Handy said she had only a few weeks to make the project a reality and was assisted in the effort by family members including Teresa Gwyn, Shyrrell Jackson and Angie Hooker. Cloth hands were rushed through the mail from children and grandchildren in locations including Michigan, Georgia and South Carolina, and those who weren't in on the plot were told the hands were being collected for a scrapbook, just in case grandma got suspicious.

"We didn't want anybody to know because we knew grandma would find out if she could," Handy said with a laugh.

When Golding got the quilt she found it contained a little something for each of her children, and their children, with stars in place for those whose hands couldn't be traced and mailed in time for Christmas. The collection of different materials to make the hand prints adds unique character to the work, and lets the family know that Dub likes race cars, Joel is into football, Lillar loves her poodle, Robert is a Redskins fan, Connie enjoys the kitchen and Joe likes to fish.

The top and bottom of the quilt are left open, so future generations can update the quilt when the time is right.

"Next year everybody will probably be doing this," Golding said as she spread the quilt across a bed in her home. "It is really the nicest thing I got for Christmas."

"We all learned to cook and help out in the kitchen," she said. "I've always just loved cooking and to this day I see that my family has good, nutritious meals on the table. And the children I keep are fed nutritious foods, not snack foods," she added. Lillar lives at Lowgap with her husband, John Carl Hayes, a fourth-grade teacher at Lowgap School. Their son, Travis, is a senior at North Surry and another son, Myron, enters the ninth-grade there next fall. "Since we didn't have any little girls of our own, we enjoy these five (that she keeps) that range in ages from five, four, three and two who are two two years old." Lillar says she just enjoys cooking and having others to enjoy it. One of her favorite recipes for Hush Puppies was published some time back in the Progressive Farmer magazine. "My niece, Helen Dosier Keller, was working for the magazine at that time and they were working on fish recipes and it was published," she added. (newspaper article)

Something's Cooking In Connie Barnes' Kitchen

December 31, 1995

It was just a few days before Christmas and Connie Barnes was busy in her kitchen making a coconut cake to give to a friend.

Then, the next day, she was getting ready to go to a family get-together at the home of her mother, Allie Golding. "I'm the oldest of 13 children, so we have a big family. I guess we'll have 80 to 90 people there — all the brothers and sisters, their children, grandchildren and anybody who doesn't have a place to go will be there," she added.

She said her nephews like her barbecued venison, so they always supply her with the meat and she makes the sauce. "I chop up 7 to 8 pounds of cooked venison and bake it with my barbecue sauce. They love to put it on a bun for sandwiches and they always eat all of it," she said with a chuckle.

Connie went on to say, "My son-in-law, Jerry Fore, really likes my Old-Fashioned Fried Apple Pies. My daughter, Shirley, came up here and we made 36 fried pies for him to carry to his friends at Floyd S. Pike Co. They all love those pies."

Now retired, Connie worked at Perry Manufacturing Co. for 28 years and her husband, Harvey, was employed at Northwest Landscape and Seeding Co. She says they grow a big garden. Connie then freezes and cans the vegetables and gives most of them away.

Here are some favorites you'll enjoy in 1996.

BARBECUE SAUCE FOR VENISON

- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 cup ketchup
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- Dash pepper
- Dash salt
- 1 tablespoon dry mustard

Melt butter in skillet, add onion and brown slowly. Add other ingredients and let simmer for 5 minutes. Place chopped, cooked venison in baking dish. Pour sauce over the cooked meat. Place in oven for 30 minutes. This amount of sauce is enough for about 4 pounds of venison. Can be used on all meat.

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour 2 (9-inch) cake pans. In small bowl blend all filling ingredients; beat at highest speed until smooth and creamy. Set aside. In large bowl blend cake mix, eggs, oil and water until moistened. Beat 2 minutes at high speed. Pour half of batter in pans. Pour cream cheese mixture over batter. Carefully use a knife to spread. Pour remaining batter over cream cheese mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool completely. Frost with your favorite fudge frosting. Store in refrigerator. (Connie uses Betty Crocker Milk Chocolate Frosting.)

Connie and Shirley made these Peanut Butter Snowballs for the first time this year and say they are great.

PEANUT BUTTER SNOWBALLS

- 1 cup confectioners sugar
- 1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
- 1 pound white chocolate

In a mixing bowl, combine sugar, peanut butter and mix well. Shape into 1-inch balls and place on wax paper-lined cookie sheet. Chill 30 minutes or until firm. Meanwhile, melt the white chocolate in a double-boiler or microwave-safe bowl. Dip and place on waxed paper to harden. Yield: 2 dozen.

Here are other family favorites.

CREAMY CORN CHOWDER

- 2 slices bacon, diced
- 2 medium potatoes, diced
- 1 small onion, sliced
- 2 cups fresh or frozen corn
- 3/4 cup water
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/4 teaspoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon black pepper
- Salt to taste

Saute bacon and onions until onions are golden brown.

OLD FASHIONED DRIED APPLE PIES

- 2 cups cooked dried apples, drained
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon apple pie spice
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Put dried apples in water and boil until mushy. For best results cook apples at least a day before using. Add sugar, spices and vanilla and store in refrigerator.

CRUST FOR PIES

- 3 cups self-rising flour
- 1/2 cup Crisco
- 1 1/4 cups buttermilk

Blend Crisco in flour with large spoon, add buttermilk and mix well. Place on floured board and knead until stiff enough to roll with rolling pin. Pinch off enough dough to make a crust slightly larger than a saucer. Put 2 heaping tablespoons of apples on crust. Fold crust over filling, use a fork to press crust together around edge. Use a knife to cut off remaining crust.

Carefully slide pie into electric fry pan containing Crisco or oil preheated to 300 degrees. When edges are brown, carefully turn to brown on other side. Makes about 20 pies.

Connie says this cake is "delicious!"

- 1/4 cup sugar

CANDIED SWEET POTATOES

- 1 cup white sugar
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup cold water
- 1 stick margarine
- 1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
