Country Store Outlet Celebrates Grand Opening

The Chatham Country Store has taken on a new look. The new Country Store Outlet celebrated its grand opening Saturday, October 21, 1989. The Country Store Outlet opened for business on Monday, October 16, moving from the location on North Bridge Street in Elkin. The Chatham Country Store had been located on North Bridge Street since its opening on February 15, 1956. The store is now located in Jonesville on NC Hwy. 67 at the I-77 Interchange.

The Country Store Outlet is part of Riverview Village Factory Outlets, a small strip mall. Three other stores have spaces along with Chatham. They are Carolina Designs, Ltd., Willow Creek, and Elkin Valley Apparel.

The Country Store still carries all of the items that were available at the other location such as blankets, mattress pads, towels, sheets, pillows, upholstery, and pound goods. With more floor space, items are on larger displays and easier to see. The new store has 6000 square feet as opposed to 1800 square feet at the other store. Also, more racks have been added for roll goods.

The Old Chatham Country Store

The Chatham Country Store first opened for business February 15, 1956, on North Bridge Street, Elkin.

Some new items have been added. Northern Feather comforters and ski wear are now available to customers. Ski jackets, vests, pants, and coats are displayed at the store.

With the new still comes some of the old. The charm of the old store is captured by pieces such as the guest register on the antique desk as one enters. The large wooden tubs still hold scraps and cloths. The spinning wheel and the antique coffee mill, moved from the old location, are a part of the friendly atmosphere of the new store.

The helpful attitude of the employees also adds to the charm of the store. Nellie Hemric, manager, and the staff give the store a pleasant environment for mill employees and out of town shoppers.

Putting it all together

The Engineering Department worked to make the opening of the new store a success. New displays had to be built and the old ones had to be modified. Blake Mitchell and Robert Hutchins (left) study the plans for the store. Thurmond Burchette (center) one of the carpenters is working on one of the new pillow displays. Martin Dobson, Jeff Brown, Rick Slawter and Earl Hayes (right, clockwise from top left) are shown moving displays from the old store.

New Editor Named for C-NC NEWS

Davina Sprinkle has been named the new editor of the C-NC NEWS succeeding Kathie McDaniel who is leaving the company.

Davina has been employed with Chatham for three years and spent most of that time in the Industrial Engineering Department.

A 1986 graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Davina was the recipient of the Eleanor Taylor Scholarship sponsored by Chatham. She is a native of Elkin and the daughter of Vena and David Sprinkle. David is employed in our Weave Department and has been employed at Chatham for 33 years.

Davina enjoys photography, sports, weightlifting, and aerobics. She is also a co-sponsor for J.V. Cheerleading at Elkin High School where her boyfriend, Perry Lloyd, teaches history and coaches football and wrestling. If she isn't on the sideline with a camera, she is watching her cheerleaders.

Davina also finds time to cross-stitch, read Stephen King books, and paint ceramics. She attends Ebenezer United Methodist Church where she enjoys working with and teaching the youth Sunday School class and playing the piano.

C-NC Aids Hugo Victims

On Friday, September 22, Hurricane Hugo raged through the Carolinas. While some people in this area suffered minor damage to their homes and yards and managed without power for a few days, many others were far less fortunate.

In South Carolina and the Charlotte area many people lost their homes and all of their possessions. Shelters were provided in schools, hospitals, and community centers. For those staying in the shelters food, clothes, and other supplies were needed.

Chatham-Northern Chatham along with many businesses donated items for the homeless. Chatham-Northern Chatham supplied blankets to the Salvation Army in Winston-Salem for the hurricane victims in Charleston, S.C.

Chatham-Northern Chatham employees can still help the hurricane victims through donations to the Tri-County Christian Crisis Ministry, the Salvation Army, and the Red Cross.

Kevin Clayton, one of our truck drivers and Joe Bowman, switcher, load the blankets that were sent to the hurricane victims. Kevin and Joe work for Northern Chatham Bedding at the Winston-Salem warehouse. They delivered the blankets to the Salvation Army from the warehouse.

Lameck Walker (retired) and Essie Lee Walker celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on September 16. A dinner was held in the fellowship hall of Cool Springs Baptist Church. The dinner was hosted by their brothers and sisters, some of which are retirees and employees of Chatham. Lois Evans (Winding), Annie Swaim (retired), and Ernest Collins (retired) are the sisters and brother of Essie Lee.

Drug-Free Schools: What Can Be Done?

The drug problem: What can you do? Many of us ask this question every day. How can children be protected against drugs?

Two booklets from the Consumer Information Center can help you stop wondering and mobilize. The Dept. of Education's Schools Without Drugs (Item 510V, free) will help show the signs, effects, and dangers of many drugs. Kidsummit (Item 589V, free) explains how to organize against drugs. To get copies, send your name and address to S. James, Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Educating the youth is one of the most powerful tactics against drugs. The purpose of the booklets is to instill appreciation for personal health, encourage respect for laws prohibiting drug use, develop the ability to resist peer pressure, and reinforce the positive aspects of healthy, drug-free life.

The home is also a good place to start. Parents who are knowledgeable about drugs and who can teach children the evils of drugs can have a powerful impact. But children spend a lot of time in school.

By working together, members of a community can teach kids to overcome the pressure to use drugs. Set a good example. Take an interest in your child and let him know you care. Make yourself knowledgeable about drugs, and watch for signs of drug use.

Club News

Lois Wilkins of the Fellowship Club stitches the quilt that will be given away at the Christmas Bazaar on November 11. Lois is retired from the Burling and donated the use of her quilting frame. The Fellowship Club met for lunch at the clubhouse on Tuesday, October 17 to finish the quilt. Chances on the quilt may be purchased from the members of the club and at the bazaar for 25 cents.

The Fellowship Club met Tuesday, September 19, for lunch at the Western Steer. Twenty-seven members attended the meeting.

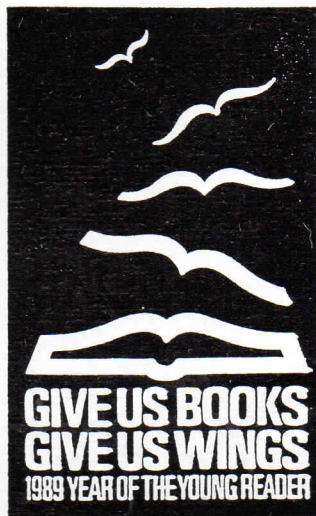

Mr. Ronald Boyles presented the program. He is the manager of the Surry County Roads Project through the Surry County Health Department. Mr. Boyles gave a presentation on researching our alternatives to driving for senior citizens.

Happy Birthday Pain Payne?

Alan Payne, our fearless leader (and Chatham President), hit the "Big 60" on September 16.

As a special surprise, some of our employees (who shall remain nameless) redecorated Alan's office in a "stately birthday ridicule" motif. The theme was carried out with black balloons, red streamers, toilet tissue and wall posters proclaiming "60 is a PAIN" and "Happy Birthday Pain."

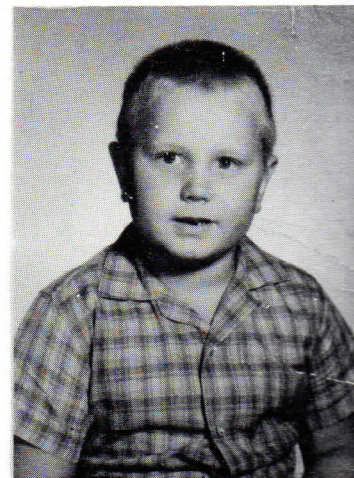

The poster idea carried the theme down the hallways of the main office to make sure anyone entering the building on that day would be informed about Alan's new age.

There was also a birthday cake with the big 60 reminder in large numbers on the cake. There was no shortage of mean and vicious birthday cards and other reminders about being over the hill, etc.

But enough is enough. We must be more careful not to upset our leader with these age jokes. Besides that, someone his age deserves more respect.

Misinformation

A man walked into a doctor's waiting room and when the receptionist asked him what he had, he said, "Shingles."

She took his name, address and medical insurance information and asked him to have a seat.

A nurse's aide called him into the office and asked what he had. Once again he said, "Shingles." She took his weight, height and complete medical history and led him to the examining room.

"What do you have?" asked the nurse who joined him. He said, "Shingles."

So she took a blood test, an electrocardiogram, checked his blood pressure, and told him to take off his clothes.

The doctor came in, looked at him and asked what he had. He said, "Shingles."

"Where?" asked the obviously puzzled doctor.

"Outside in the truck," replied the man. "Where do you want them?"

Then and Now Answer

First shift Weave Has Picnic

The first shift Main Weave employees enjoyed a picnic at Doughton Park on Sunday, September 17. About twenty-two of the forty-one employees attended with their families.

Special guests were Bill Boles and his wife Faye, Lee Lawrence and his wife Eva. Other guests included Department Head Mickey Carter and his family.

Howard Burchette was the official greeter for everyone and Glenn Darnell made a video for the employees.

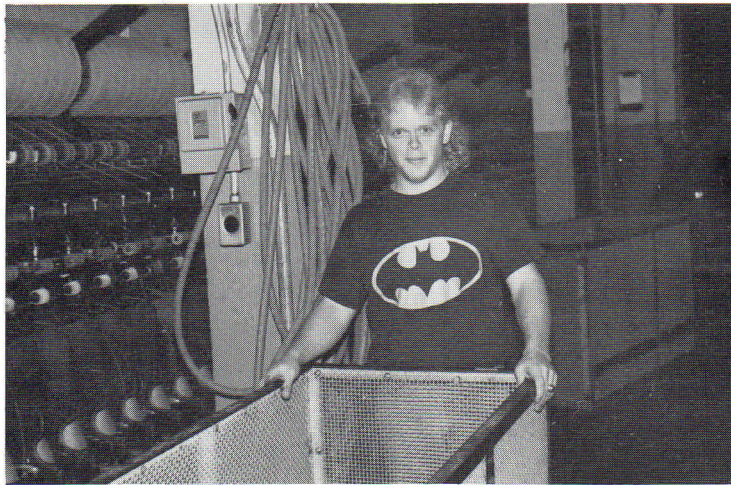

The employees of the first shift Weave would like to thank the company for contributing to their outing.

Christmas Savings To Be Paid Nov. 3

Christmas Savings will be paid by the Chatham Employees Credit Association on Friday, November 3.

The checks will be distributed by the supervisors in each department. Your check stub on October 27 will show the total amount in your Christmas Savings Account.

A 4% per annum dividend will be paid on the accounts this year. (Example: If your Christmas Savings total is $500.00, your dividend will be $10.00.)

Accounts which have been borrowed against during the year will not receive this dividend. If a loan has been made against your account, the check you receive will be for the difference.

Stop by the Credit Association if you are interested in starting a Christmas savings or in changing the amount you have deducted.
