The Spirit of Copeland

Copeland School is a world in itself. It has stood as a center of learning in our community. Its seven hundred students do not breathe city air or walk city streets; yet they know the same happiness anyone else knows. They bring a way of life from many communities and make it a part of our school which we are proud to call our own.

At first there is the confusion of registration and doubts about choice of subjects. Later, however, order emerges, and the students settle down to the pattern of studying.

Yes, Copeland School stands as a monument to education. Its protecting walls have been a shield against ill winds; its doors have opened the way to learning; its windows have let in the light of knowledge and truth.

Long shall we cherish the memories of lasting friendship, experiences we shared through struggles on exams, and gala times at parties.

Graduation from high school is now upon us. Commencement becomes a beginning, not an end... this is Copeland School.

Dedication . . .

MRS. ALMA HOLYFIELD

It is with a deep feeling of gratitude that we recall what Mrs. Holyfield has meant to us as students. She has been more than a teacher. Her personal interest in each individual, her willingness to help in any way, and particularly her assistance to the Glee Club has endeared her to us. She not only serves by constantly assisting us, but also be setting an example that each of us would by proud to follow. We take great pleasure in dedicating this 1959 "Windswept Echoes" to MRS. ALMA HOLYFIELD.

Administration

To Mr. Graham, Mr. Gentry, and the School Board, we wish to devote a word of praise. We realize that they sacrifice much time in order to perform important tasks which are necessary for the well being of our school. Their work in guiding the lives of boys and girls in one which they have accepted willingly and in a spirit of helpfulness and understanding. We feel that a large part of the knowledge we now possess was made possible by their assistance. Because of this, they stand out in our memories as guiding lights, pointing the way to successful futures.

Faculty

These are our teachers who are known and loved for their patience, understanding, and constant supervision. It is because of them that we are able to proceed through our high school years and prepare for the future. They are due our unselfish gratitude for each hour spent toward our betterment.

At last, how wonderful it is to be called that magic word-Senior!

The seniors lead the parade of students at Copeland. They are a vital part of the round of classes and extracurricular activities that engulf each individual here. Cheerleading, basketball, publications, club work and substitute teaching are participated in with intergrity, efficiency, and dependability. They accept their "responsible freedom" and the positions of leadership that come with it. They started the year with a yen for the future; now they are casting glances over their shoulders wistfully envying the freshmen.

It is true that they grumbled through twelve years of hard work and long hours, but May of 1959 will come too soon for all of them. Before they assume the role of "has beens" they want to express heart-felt thanks to all the people who have made these twelve years possible; their parents, teachers, principal, and devoted friends.

At last—Juniors!

There was the excitement of having charge of the Halloween Carnival and of getting their classrings. Later came the fun of planning for and having the Junior-Senior Banquet. Many more responsibilities that they had long looked forward to came to pass and now they are looking up the ladder and preparing for the day they will be Seniors.

School publications cannot be ignored as an essential part of a well-rounded educational program.

The newspaper provides opportunities for self-expression, practical reporting, and business contacts and experiences. It also helps to build better relationships between the school and community.

The yearbook appeals to the artistic talent of the school, gives students a chance to express originality, and serves as a record of school life all through the years.

The students, while working on these publications, learn valuable lessons in co-operation, organization, and efficiency. They acquire skill in putting their carefully laid plans into working order, as well as to put new ideas into practical use.

Girls' Basketball

The 1958-1959 basketball season marked the fifth year that Mr. Lonnie Bledsoe has served as basketball coach here at Copeland High School. Coach Bledsoe has untiringly devoted his efforts to producing a team that could win consistently.

It was our aim to promote a spirit of pride between our school and community, and those with whom our games were played; and to develop sportsmanship, which is that quality of honor that inspired us always to be courteous, fair and respectful. A combination of good sportsmanship, cooperation, hustle and teamwork made our team the success it was.

1959 Boys'

This year has been a pleasant surprise for the coach, team, and followers of the Copeland "Bluebirds" boys. The loss of several key players from last year's fine team, and lack of experience from the returning lettermen, indicated a lean year for the "Bluebirds;" however, their hustle, determination, and teamwork completely surprised, everyone and many favored teams were knocked from their lofty

OUTFIELDERS

Ability, Strength, and depth contribute to a winning club. Arnold Eads, Earl Martin, Gayle Johnson, John Snow, and Billy Reynolds work on outfield play.

PITCHING and CATCHING

Strength, experience, and talent are indispensible to a successful baseball team. Kent Snow, Moir Chilton, Brent Snow, Johnnie Scott and Mac Burrus talk strategy with the coach.

INFIELDERS

Infielders need ability, knowhow, and experience. Bobby Boyd, Jimmy Speaks, Don Harbour, Gaither Bledsoe and Mac Simpson drill on infield play.

Cheerleaders are an important and essential part of a well-rounded athletic program. They furnish the extra spark of enthusiasm that gives the ball teams a flash of inspiration needed to win an important game or even a conference. Their untiring efforts of organize fans and spectators into a uniform cheering unit are often well rewarded with yells that amaze and dumbfound visiting teams.
