IN MEMORY OF MELISSA TAYLOR POOLE

Oct 7, 1954--July 9, 2017

Melissa Poole joined Modern Gardeners Garden Club in the Summer of 2015. In her two short years in our garden club, she shared with us her love of learning and teaching, gardening, attention to details and the charm and grace of a true Southern Lady. She delighted us with her creativity in decorating as hostess for club meetings, and as we were decorating the Moore House, surprised each member with a beautifully wrapped book of Christmas decorating. As she accepted her declining health with dignity, she enjoyed time and travel with her family and friends. It was with great sadness that we bid farewell to Melissa on July 9, 2017. Among the many who will always cherish her memory and her sweet smile are her beloved husband, Thomas Poole Sr.; her Mother Margaret Hennis Taylor; a sister and brother-in-law, Cindy and Mike McCabe; brothers Hugh Taylor and David Taylor; a stepdaughter Julie Ann Poole; and step sons Thomas M. Poole Jr, and wife Melissa, Adam Poole, Justin Poole and wife Angela, and Mark Poole.

Sixty yearbooks donated to museum

By Bill Colvard
bcolvard@MtAiryNews.com

Eleanor Powell-Hines has donated her collection of Modern Gardeners yearbooks to Mount Airy Museum of Regional History. Powell-Hines' collection includes the first yearbook from 1956-1957 along with one for every year since.

Powell-Hines, who worked for The Mount Airy News for decades, is the only surviving charter member of Modern Gardeners.

"I started collecting North Carolina, from which Powell-Hines quotes the opening sentence, "Our Heavenly Father, who dost feed the birds and clothe the flowers and who knoweth and careth for every need of us, Thy children, so enlighten our minds to use wisely all the gifts of Thy Mighty Hand that we, being imbued with Thy Holy spirit, may so work Thy will that those who come after may mark their path by our footsteps."

Speaking about garden clubs in Mount Airy in Renfro Street and North Main Street converged. Powell Hines said that Modern Gardeners created the mini-garden which inhabits that space when Susan Ashby said to them, "If you girls will plant some flowers there, I'll keep them watered." Powell-Hines noted that Ashby lived two houses away.

Modern Gardeners bought two flats of marigolds. "It was all the money we had," said Powell-Hines. The next year, Jack Zonneveld, of the Holland Flower Hines.

Other projects include decorating the Moore House for Christmas and offering garden therapy to special-needs school children, both of which the club has been doing for a long time, and continues to do.

"We used to just go and pick them up," Powell-Hines says of the projects with kids, "but then we found out we weren't insured. Now we go directly to the school." The children work with gardening materials, get refreshments and have

Modern Gardeners honor charter member

Staff report

Modern Gardeners recently presented a national life membership to Eleanor Powell-Hines in honor of her more than 60 years as a club member at a luncheon at Cross Creek Country Club.

During the surprise presentation, which took place last month, club president Sylvia Chilton said of the honoree, "She has proven herself to be a stalwart member. She has served in every area of the club. She is a mentor to all of the club members and is the only surviving charter member. She is the most kind and thoughtful lady, always sharing her gardening knowledge with all who ask. We as a club wanted to honor her for all these outstanding qualities that helped to form our club into the thriving club it is today. It is safe to say that Eleanor is the epitome of graciousness, and we all love her dearly. Congratulations on your honor. Eleanor."

Charlotte Croft, District 4 director, The Garden Clubs of NC, and a special guest, installed new officers at the meeting. They are Tracy Greenwood, president; Linda Knickern, vice president; Ann Klamfoth, secretary; and Susan Gentry, treasurer.

Helen Crane and outgoing president Sylvia Chilton were both honored at the luncheon for their service to the club.
