CAROL BARBER

Dear Carol,

Once again I start telling you all these sweet things. I have enjoyed to the the utmost going to school with you for almost 12 years. I hope life is filled with happiness, a person like you deserves it.

Don't ever forget all the things we've done together nothing could erase these fond memories. Our Washington Trip the boys from St. Louis, our moonlight walks, the dear old Washington Monument. I don't see how we could ever had so much fun in four years, but we did. And well, isn't it fun. Don't forget all our trips to Hobson, Mt. Airy & Elkin. Sometimes they were fun & then again they were really disconcerting, but you've got to have a little of all of it. Thanks for the many things you have done to make life so pleasant & so much fun for me. Especially 4/28/61, how could I ever forget. I hope D.C. holds life's dreams for you.

Now here's hoping you get what you want for 5/12/61. I know you will. I hope graduation is just what you're expecting, class night & everything you want from now on.

Carol, remember I have loved you for 18 years & I always will.

Remember
4/10/61
4/28/61

Dear Carol,

Dear Carol is right! In the years that I have known you you have become very dear to me. I'm in a sentimental mood tonight, so I had better stop writing about my feelings for you and write down some of those things that you're not supposed to forget, but really, I know that you won't.

Let's start with the eighth grade. That's where it all began. Remember the Halloween Carnival that year. Then those crackers Mrs. Rice made to us. That was a part of the year that I'd like to forget. But we had to mix the bitter with the sweet.

Then that Fabulous Freshman year. Never will I forget the day we became cheerleaders for "dear ole D.H.S." Those were the good days!! With band, cheerleading, and all those clubs we really had a busy year. No time to study, but what fun!

The thousand silly sophomore years. Remember the trip to Lexington with Ray and R.E. It was later when it was you and me and Ray and Q.B. that was the fun. Remember the grape juice! Remember the band picnic at Reynolds' Park! Who were those boys we were beside the pool with? It seems as if they are still around. Where was Q.B. when all this was going on? We both ignored about going steady that year, right?

The junior year also another fabulous episode in our grand and glorious high school days. The junior play and all that apple cider, those rides, climbing in and out of windows and all those other things. The Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom and all those other good times. "Do you have any clothes on?"

Most of all I'll remember our Washington trip. St. Louis, 502, 502, my escort to "Spartacus", your trip home, the extra room, the fifth floor, Room 528, eye shadow, short, white, and Kansas City. I could fill up this whole book with remembrances, but I see that I'm running out of paper.

Carol, I love you! May the best life ever come to you and yours. Always be a part of yours, everything will be as you wish. Always love and remember me as a friend indeed. Love, Carol

Carol,

Here's to a fine girl whose company I've thoroughly enjoyed these past years. Through the bad and the good, we've still managed to remain good friends somehow. I'll always remember you and your giggles. Don't ever forget our trip to Washington and the things all of us did. (You, Tracy, and Elaine didn't do anything did you???) God bless those house detectives!!! Don't ever forget our class picnics and you can remember me as your movie chaperone. I wish you much success at U.C. and I only hope that you remain as kind and understanding as you are now.

Your friend and

From Roy H. Park, Class of '26

President, Hines-Park Food Company, Ithaca, New York

Thirty-five years have elapsed since the Class of '26 was graduated from the Dobson High School. That is a long time -- half of man's expected three score and ten years. As I look back over this period, however, I can't help but be impressed by the rapid changes and developments that have occurred. It has been a period during which man has conquered the air and is now well on the way to conquering space. It has been a period when we have seen great strides in industry, education, agriculture, and in the living standards of all the people. It has been a period when state boundaries became as close to us as counties, and national boundaries became as close to us as state boundaries used to be. It has been a period of great opportunity and many of the graduates of our 1926 Class have gone on to take full advantage of these opportunities and achieved distinction in the fields of law, education, medicine, agriculture and homemaking.

I am happy to have been asked to prepare a message from the Class of '26 to the Class of '61. I wish it were possible for me to give you in this message the key to success and happiness and service for the rest of your lives. I can't do it because no one knows the true answer. Even if I could tell it to you it would be so simple you would receive it with disbelief.

For what it may be worth, however, here are six guide-posts that may be of some help to you in planning your lives and making your day-by-day decisions:

TIME. Of all things at your disposal, the most important and the most precious is time. Each of us has a given amount -- and it is never quite enough. In youth, time moves too slowly. In later life, it speeds by and we know we will reach our final destination too soon for us. How you use that time, how you arrange it to take full advantage of every minute, is one of the most important arts you can master. And I do not mean that you should use all of your time in work and in self-improvement. You should take some of your time and use it for the fun of living. Do just what you want to do for the joy of doing it. But don't "kill time" by indecision or waste. In fact, you cannot kill time, it moves constantly. All you can do is move forward with it or stand still while time marches on.

HEALTH. If you are going to make the most of your time, then you must be in good health, eager to enjoy the fullness of life. Most of us start out as reasonably healthy individuals. Some remain that way for most of their lives. Others never fully enjoy the hours that God has given to them because they are sleepy, they feel bad, or they are physically or mentally upset. I believe any doctor would tell you that the key to good health is moderation in eating, in exercise, in drinking, in work, and in pleasure.

CHARACTER. What you do with your time here on earth will depend on your character. I do not hold that character is molded fast in the early period of life. It changes as we go along, for good or bad, and it is the responsibility of the individual to make constructive changes as he develops.

Character is a lot of things. It is the ability to be right and say No when it would be easier and more pleasant to say Yes. It is the willingness to hold fast to your beliefs when they are not popular with the crowd. This does not mean that you have to impose your philosophy or creed on others. It does mean that you should not be swayed by popular acclaim.

Character is the desire to be self-reliant, pay your own way to individuals and to society as a whole. It is dependability. It is that force that keeps you going when weaker souls give up the cause.

Plowman, Scholar, Housewife, Priest;
Doctor, Lawyer, Merchant Chief.

FRIENDS. Until you prove yourself in a community, you will be judged by your friends and by their deeds and by the impressions others have of them. This is a reasonably accurate criterion for in a free and mobile society, we usually are drawn to people who have similar tastes and desires.

You will, as time goes on, make relatively few deep and lasting friendships. They will last only if they are based on mutual respect and understanding. Friendship is something that can never be bought. It must be earned and earned constantly through consideration, sincere interest, and the giving of yourself, oftentimes at personal sacrifice. In friendship, dependability takes precedence over ability.

In a democracy you pick your own friends. That is as it should be. You should, however, take time to chose wisely, and I should hope that you could contribute something to the well-being and pleasure of your friends and that they could reciprocate.

YOUR FINANCES. Generally speaking, in our country, a man to be self-respecting, must be self-supporting. There is no freedom without responsibility and that applies to economics as well as political doctrine.

I have seen happy people with very little more than the bare necessities of life, materially speaking. I have seen unhappy people who had accumulated great wealth. But I have never seen a happy person, be he rich or poor, who had a steak appetite and a hamburger income. If you want something you must also ask yourself if you are willing to sacrifice the time and effort to buy and take care of it. There is an axiom that adults learn -- but often too late -- and that is that it may be good business to go in debt to buy things with a permanent value, such as land, houses, or securities (and, of course, education falls in this category), but it is almost always bad business to go in debt for things that are fleeting and once consumed have no further value.

Live within you income and save a reasonable amount of what you earn. If you were to start now putting aside 10% of your income or allowance and invest it in good stocks, you would be surprised at the way your estate would grow. If you adopt this 10% rule and keep it inviolate, you will have a comforting reserve when hard times come, and believe me they come to us all at one time or another.

PLANNING AHEAD. They used to say circumstances make the man. Today the word is Men Make Circumstances. You should be sure of what you wish to do, then you should go resolutely forward in that direction. Remember that the way you walk a mile is to take the required number of steps. Greatest progress comes not from spurts and stops but rather from steady, consistent effort.

The only way you can make steady, consistent progress is to plan ahead, not just day by day but year by year. Modern businesses, for example, require their executives to plan at least five years ahead and to make such a plan each year. This establishes the goals and also drives home the point that it takes consistent, steady effort to attain those goals. How you plan your work and use your time is important but not nearly as important as that you do it.

In planning ahead keep in mind that it is a human failing that we all like to anticipate success, acclaim, and leadership. We do not look forward with the same zest to the work and the effort that has to go in attaining our goals. The weak point of most plans is the tendency to wait until tomorrow to put the unpleasant part of the plan into effect and to be impatient for the benefit to descend upon us.

So endeth the message from the Class of '26 to the Class of '61.

Up until now you have been building castles in the air -- that is where they should be -- now put foundations under them!

Why not for you
for you
for you

We're sure our class to match them must aspire.

Many years ago Chaucer's pilgrims wended their way to Canterbury and served "to liven up the way by telling tales." Today we seniors wend our way toward graduation, and the members of the other classes wend their way toward life in a new school. May these pleasant tales of our activities here serve to "liven up" our pilgrimage and to remind us ever of the happy days spent "in fellowship" at Dobson High School.

Education

For his efforts in our school recreation program, for his ability and example in the classroom and on the athletic field, and for his interest and help in our total school program, we, the Senior Class of 1961, are proud to dedicate this edition of the DOBSONIAN to MR. BRIGHT.

*Best Wishes Always,
Karen W. Bright*

A coach there was, and that a worthy man.

It fell that in a season, on a day

In Dobson, Surry County, as we lay
Each year there came into that hostelry
Many maids and youthful men in a company
That on to learning meant to ride.

Carol,
 It was fun!
 wasn't it? (kidding)
 for the team for the past few years. All the fun we had at the games and
 after the games made up the memories!
 that lost a lifetime. Always be a good as you can, always be a winner. Always be a first 12 years. I wish you had more fun at the had meant to me as well as to another would say former cheerleader to say she would say
 and your kind.

School's Last Football Dobson To Be Main Spring On Surry Central Gridiron

By BOB TANNEHILL

When three schools consolidate next year—when Dobson, Copeland and Mountain Park unite to become Surry Central High School—a new athletic threat will be made in area basketball and football.

It may take a couple of years for this threat to become great, but the material with which to work will be there.

Dobson, only football school of the three, will be offering experienced gridiron material. The commenced school, which has strived for sportsmanship and athletic discipline, has for the past couple of years added its bit to the football fever in Surry County.

The man largely responsible for this has been Kara Bright, more familiarly known as "Coby". His "Dobson, win or lose" attitude has gained for him respect from not only the players and others at the school, but from the Dobson community and those outside that community who have grown to know and like him.

Coach Bright has a devotion to recreation, not just high school athletics. He believes every youngster, be he in elementary school or high school, ought to have a outstanding player, Jay Coe . . . that if this boy continues in progressive ways he will not only be a tremendous asset to the new school, but a dandy college prospect. Jay Coe, just a sophomore, is the Tigers' most improved player. The 195-pound center is described as the strongest link in the team line. His coach foresees some fine playing from this lad in the next couple of years.

Improved player, Jay Coe . . . and University of Mississippi, has brought Dobson through its final football years. The boys he's coached will be the main spring of football at Surry Central.

In addition to Wilmoth and Coe, other experienced gridironers from Dobson will lead the Surry Central team next year. They are: Wilbur Carpenter, Ralph Linville, Wade Tucker, Bill Freeman, Joe Cave, Cleve Haymore, Junior Nixon, Sammy Dollyhigh, Charles Welch, Ruben Snow, Bill Emerson, Gary Reece, Sonny Stanley and Eddie Wright.

Coach Bright lost five seniors this year, including experienced Grady Mitchell and co-captain Larry Cave. The Steubenville, Ohio, native doesn't know what Surry Central will be doing on the gridiron next year, but he's convinced that whatever record they post his Tigers played the major role.

Our Team Is Red Hot! Like, Man— Fired Up

DOBSON—Dobson High School's basketball team may not be literally setting the world on fire, but twice this season the sites of its home games have been devoured by flames.

Dobson, whose boys boast a record of nine wins and three losses, lost its gym in a fire last fall. An arrangement was made with Copeland to play home games at the Copeland gym.

On Jan. 20, the Copeland gym burned.

Dobson has now secured the old Beulah gym (Beulah was consolidated into North Surry), and hopes to finish its home schedule there, with the exception of a Feb. 15 game with Courtney at Boonville.

Copeland, which last week suffered its first loss of the season when playing a scheduled home game at Pilot Mountain, will play the remainder of its home games at North Surry gym.

Copeland and Dobson play at Dobson's new home site, Beulah, Tuesday night.

my senior year at Dobson. You're a wonderful girl with a beautiful smile. Always stay that way and you will be a great success in life. Lots of Luck in the years to come.

Carol,
Although I just met you about 30 mins ago I feel right now that if instead
to be seeing more of you,
you deserve the best and
I pray that you get just
that. Never forget tonight!
That steak was too "tuff".
Carol best of luck in the
