My dear Bro,

We have thought very very often of you and of sister Vic, of the dear children and of the many good times you gave us while we were with you last summer. It certainly takes you people down south to show genuine hospitality. Sister Vic's fine breakfasts, fried chickens, fried hams, fried apples, hot biscuits, nice light-bread, milk, coffee, honey and preserves, all at one sitting; and when dinner was ready, it was something just as good and more elaborate even. I have never eaten such nice meals.

I am sure you are very proud of your wife, every thing she does, she does well. We have often regretted that we did not see Bernard and his family. Anna Moore seems so happy in her home with her good husband and sweet little boy. Cousin Ed. Abernathy, his wife and daughter made us a short visit this summer, they were traveling with a party, so they did not stay as long as we would have liked for them to stay. They came out to the Conclave. He is a Mason of high standing, I suppose. They are living in Texas, all the brothers are dead except he and Hal. Anna Belle and Joe come up every Saturday evening, you know give our very best love to Sister Vic, Sadie, Jessie, Mary and Brother, they are such good sweet children, I call them children because we are all children. Anna Moore and Brother look more like their Mother than the others do. We can never forget the lovely time you gave us, you did every thing for our pleasure, and we do appreciate it. That drive over the mountains was perfectly lovely we enjoyed every minute of it, and your home we enjoyed more than we can ever tell, such a nice large house, we do not have such big houses in California.

Pearl is canning tomatoes and is calling me to help her, so will have to close this my letter. We have had such an abundance of peaches, apples and grapes this summer. Our Heavenly Father is good to His children. He has given to them His best, His all.

Good bye my dear Bro., Lovingly.

Home,

Sept 30, '13.

Eddie.
