This Is the Law

Relations, Relatives Explained

Dr. Lee is professor of law at Wake Forest College here.

By ROBERT E. LEE
For the N. C. Bar Assn.

Conversation on the subject of who is related to whom often bogs down over terminology. The purpose of the column this week is to assist you in identifying by label those who are kin to you.

Who is your second cousin?

Everybody, of course, knows who to call a first cousin. He is your parent's brothers' (or sisters') child.

Your first cousin's child is not your second cousin, as is so often thought to be the case. Your first cousin's child is your first cousin once removed.

The child of the first cousin once removed is your first cousin twice removed, and this person's child is your first cousin three times removed.

Your second cousin is your grandparent's brothers' (or sisters') grandchild. That second cousin's child is your second cousin once removed, his child your second cousin twice removed, and so on.

Or stated differently, your second cousin is the grandchild of your great-aunt or great-uncle. Or stated still differently, the person your parent calls a first cousin once removed is your second cousin.

Who is your third cousin?

He is your great-grandparent's brothers' (or sister's) great-grandchild. The third cousin's child is your third cousin once removed, his child your third cousin twice removed, and so on.

Who is your grandnephew or grandniece?

He or she is the grandchild of your brother or sister. This is, of course, the same as saying he or she is the child of your nephew or niece.

Who is your great-grandnephew or great-grandniece?

This is the great-grandchild of your sister or brother. Or stated differently, it is the grandchild of your nephew or niece.

Who is your great-aunt or great-uncle?

This is the sister (or brother) of your grandparent. Or stated differently, the person your parent calls an aunt (or uncle) is your great-aunt or great-uncle).

Who is your great-grandaunt or great-granduncle?

This is the sister or brother of your great-grandparents.

Who is your stepchild?

The child of your husband or wife by a former marriage.

Who is your stepsister or stepbrother?

The child of your stepfather or stepmother.

Who is your half sister or half brother?

The child of your mother and stepfather, or of your father and stepmother, or of either parent by a former marriage.

Who are double first cousins?

If two brothers marry sisters, the children of these two marriages would be double first cousins. The same result would be reached if a brother and a sister should marry the opposite sexes of a brother and sister in another family.

North Carolina forbids the marriage of double first cousins though otherwise the marriage of first cousins is permitted.

Who is a foster child?

A child raised like one's own child, though not such by birth or formal adoption.

Who is a posthumous child?

He is a child born after the death of his father.

Who is a legitimated child?

He is a child who was born out of wedlock but who has subsequently become legitimated.

This may be accomplished in North Carolina through any one of three methods: (1) by a formal adoption proceeding; (2) by a petition of the putative father; and (3) by a subsequent marriage of the mother and father.
