Murder of a Negro Near Mount Airy

Two White Men and a Negro Arrested Charged With the Crime

The Body Left in the Woods Until Nearly Decomposed.

There has been considerable excitement in our unusually quiet little village for the last few days, occasioned by the mysterious murder of a half-witted negro man named Frank Flower, who disappeared about three weeks ago.--This murder, though committed so long ago, did not leak out to the public until Tuesday last, when a rumor was set afloat to the effect that the colored man had been beaten to death by three men, namely: Frank Taylor, Jun Sparger, and Dick Franklin (colored). There are so many reports abroad that it is impossible for us to give much information in regard to this horrible affair at this writing, notwithstanding, we shall try to furnish the particulars in full as soon as they are developed.

On Wednesday night, a posse of citizens succeeded in arresting the three men accused of the crime who were tried on Thursday. We will endeavor to ascertain the result before we go to press. A posse of colored men scoured the woods on Thursday in search of the body of the murdered man, and at this writing they had not yet returned. (The Surry Visitor, Mount Airy, NC, August 22, 1874) (In checking the 1850, 1860, 1870 census records, no Flower or Flowers family was listed in Surry County.)
