WESTERN SENTINEL

VERNON W. LONG, - Editor.

Entered at Winston Post Office as 2d-class matter

THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 17, 1889.

SAY: If fifty one issues of a paper like this are worth $1.50 to you send us that amount and have THE SENTINEL sent to your address one year.

THE LEXINGTON LYNCHING.

THE SENTINEL before this has expressed its condemnation of lynch-law. We look upon mob execution in most cases as a crime. It is a menace to the sovereignty of the State, and it deprives the people of the rights guaranteed to them both by the American constitution and that of North Carolina.

The epidemic of lynchings that has recently swept over our State discredits us in the eyes of the outside world more than could the dumb tongues of a million of suppressed negro votes; more in fact than anything our citizens could do. Our good name is at stake, and it is time for the MEN of every community to take a stand against lynch-law.

If this disregard of law, continues the life of no man who is even suspected of a great crime can be safe and the meaning of law will be forgotten.

There is one mitigating circumstance in the lynching of Berrier. His accomplice was not in sight when the shooting was done, hence could not swear that Berrier did the shooting. His wife was the only witness to the deed, and, under our laws, the wife is debarred from testifying against her husband. She is an incompetent witness.

From these facts it could be reasoned that Berrier might escape justice, but the conclusion is hardly a fair one. Circumstantial evidence was too strong against him. Cloverine was hung on far less evidence, and the people of Davidson simply anticipated the certain result of a trial and performed the hangman's duty, unsanctioned by the law.

While the circumstances are somewhat palliating, yet the people of Davidson county have cause to be ashamed of their rash act.

THE BOYLE CASE.

In reply to a northern paper charging unfairness in the Boyle trial because the jury was composed mostly of farmers and wholly of Protestants, the Wilmington Messenger has some pointed remarks which THE SENTINEL takes pleasure in reproducing with its endorsement. They are as follows:

"The jury was peculiar, and yet the defense allowed it. We suppose they were all men of respectable characters. It may not have been the best jury for Boyle, and it is altogether probable that prejudice against Roman Catholics may have existed in the minds at least of some of them. But for some reason the lawyers appearing for Boyle did not challenge them. They were sworn to find according to the law and the evidence. Did they perjure themselves? If the Supreme Court shall believe that there will probably be no difficulty in getting a new trial. But not being lawyers we do not speak by the book.

"As to the finding of Boyle guilty upon the evidence of one person, and that an interested one—a party to the trial, it does look like a hard fate. But has there ever been a raper convicted who was not convicted upon such testimony? A hundred men have been hanged in the South and indeed all over the country by Judge Lynch upon just such testimony.

"The Southern whites have firmly settled down upon this determination—that the man who assaults a virtuous, pure woman must die. Northern whites may not understand this. Before the war the pistol and shotgun stood guard over female chastity in the South, while in the North lechery wrought its ruin without fear or penalty. Since the war the shotgun still does duty, but the grape vine more often.

"As to the particular case of Boyle there seems to have been some evidence that in some way mitigated the crime. The young woman with Miss Whitaker gave evidence that was not challenged. It was of a character to make men pause before jumping to a conclusion. Then there was the admission of the young woman assaulted that showed impropriety at least. The evidence of Dr. Hines, on the other hand, was certainly very endangering to the prisoner.

"A significant fact in connection with the trial is reported at Raleigh. Public sentiment is at least divided, and among those who attended the trial.

"If Boyle is innocent he will never be hanged. If he has not had a fair trial the Supreme Court will grant a new trial. If he is unjustly condemned, the Governor stands between him and death."

WENDELL PHILLIPS' PROPHECY.

Hon. Wendell Phillips, the man of men who did not love the South, made use of the following prophetic words in the course of a speech:

"The handwriting is so plain on the wall that none but a fool need mistake it. New England is doomed just as sure as natural laws will produce fixed results.

"New England has no soil worth mentioning, and her wealth has been derived from her manufactories. These are gradually leaving her, and eventually they all will go, some to the West, the most to the South, where the advantages for profitable manufacturing are all located.

"The coal and iron in the South are easily gotten, and inexhaustible in amount; and the iron mills, the foundries and machine shops can go to them better than they can be carried to the shops.

"Then the cotton and woolen mills must go there, for the raw materials are there, and are to be produced most cheaply, uniformly and better. Then look at the advantages of extra hours of daylight in a year's run. This of itself is no small matter. As the South grows stronger and stronger, the wealth, culture and power of the country will be centered there until she will become not only the mistress of America, but the central empire of the world."

Col. Walter L. Steele, of Richmond county, is one of the brainiest men in the State. He has travelled over the United States a great deal, and he is a close observer. On his recent return from a visit to the far west he wrote: "I prefer North Carolina to any place which I have seen. No land destitute of trees in the valleys, and on which no rain falls during the summer months, would suit my tastes. Too many people are, like Rasselas, looking for greener fields, more sparkling water, more balmy air, beyond their native hills, and these usually meet with his fate—sad disappointment. There is room here for men of brain and energy."

* * *

Dr. Eugene Grissom is on his muscle. He had some hard words with Mr. Josephus Daniels last week, and then went to High Point looking for Dr. Sion H. Rogers. It is thought that he was "a-laying" for him with a gun. Dr. Rogers must have thought so too, for he has gone to Texas, where he intends to reside. It is thought that Dr. Grissom will establish a private insane asylum at Raleigh.

* * *

The Walnut Cove Walnut Leaf is dead. Cause, lack of support. The journalistic field in North Carolina is covered with wrecks "as thick as the leaves that strew the brooks of Vallambrosa." There should be fewer papers started, and those already established ought to receive the hearty, whole-souled support of their people.

* * *

Sam Jones may be coarse, but he says some capital things. THE SENTINEL endorses the following: "The railroads have a sleeping car, a ladies car, a smoking car, a baggage car, a mail car—they ought to add one other car; put on a cussing car, and run every black-mouthed scoundrel in there and keep him out of the company of decent people.

* * *

THE SENTINEL would like to see our business men hold more frequent meetings of the Chamber of Commerce and make another grand, glorious push for our cities. Our past is wonderful, but we can make our future more so. A good honest effort is all necessary.

* * *

The acquittal of Ed Brown who killed Col. Roger J. Page at Marion in July is another proof that no jury can be found in North Carolina that will convict a man for killing the despoiler of his home. It is well.

* * *

We have before us the initial number of a new publication in Durham, The North State Artisan. It is published monthly by Mr. H. E. Seeman, and is an excellent industrial journal.

* * *

We are indebted to Hon Kemp P Battle, President of the University of North Carolina, for a copy of his admirable address on the History of the Supreme Court of the State.

* * *

The fact that Miss Winnie Davis will be at the Fayetteville Centennial celebration adds much interest to the incident THE SENTINEL publishes about her this week.

* * *

The semi-weekly Fayetteville Observer is a credit to the town and to Editors Whitehead and Myrover. Long life and prosperity to it.

* * *

In a list of the gems from the United States shown at the Paris exposition it is observed that at least a fifth are from North Carolina.

* * *

Sam Small, the Georgia evangelist, is turning an honest penny or two by canvassing Ohio for the prohibition ticket.

* * *

The entire road between Wilmington and Fayetteville is graded and now it is the purpose to more than double the force of track layers and push on to Fayetteville. One hundred and twenty convicts have been transferred from the Factory branch of the C. F. & Y. V. to this end of the line and will be employed in laying rail. With this increase of labor the contractor will be enabled to lay and surface up a mile or more of track per day, and it is in contemplation therefore to finish laying rails to Fayetteville in the next sixty working days, there being about sixty-three miles of track yet to be laid.

LATE WASHINGTON NEWS.

[From The Sentinel's Regular Correspondent.]

Senator Ransom of North Carolina is keeping up the reputation he has had for many years of keeping "solid with the administration. He believes that it pays to be consulted about the Federal officials to be appointed in his State, even if they have to be taken from the opposition. If he cannot name the men, he can at least prevent an unusually bad man's being appointed. It was just after a visit of Senator Ransom's that Mr. Harrison appointed Charles A. Cook to be U. S. Attorney for the Eastern district of North Carolina.

Secretary Blaine has heard from his friends in the South, and now announces that the members of the Three America's Congress will visit the principal cities of that section early in the new year. Mr. Blaine says that such has been the intention of the State department all the time, but some other people, probably on account of prejudice, say that the vigorous kicking of Southern members of Congress is what paved the way for this tardily announced trip through the South.

The fall term of the United States Supreme Court was crowded to-day. The only vacant chair was that of the late Justice Mathews. Immediately after the court met it adjourned to pay the usual visit to the President. It was generally supposed that the vacancy on the bench would have been filled before the term began, but President Harrison seems to lack the nerve to appoint Attorney General Miller in the face of the opposition to him among the leaders of his party, and so far the opposition cannot agree on a man for the place.

Representative Breckenridge, of Arkansas, says that so far as the Democrats shall need a leader on the floor of the House, ex-Speaker Carlisle will assume that function.

Hon. Samuel J. Randall, who has been reported as being very ill at his Pennsylvanian home, has arrived at his Washington house. His health, while not good, is such that he can take an active part in the coming session of Congress.

LATEST NEWS NOTES.

Happenings in North Carolina and Elsewhere.

Newberne is to have electric lights.

Fourteen burglars have been jailed in Charlotte.

Bishops Wilson and Galloway are soon to visit North Carolina.

Geo. Vanderbilt has bought two more farms near Asheville, paying for them over $26,000.

Fifteen government distilleries of McDowell county were seized by revenue officers this week.

The Raleigh Signal has resumed publication. It will be an independent Republican newspaper.

The Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina will meet in Wilmington next year, first Tuesday in November.

Rev. Baylus Cade has sold his railway telegraph system to a syndicate for a large sum of money and a handsome royalty besides.

The Raleigh News and Observer says, speaking of the Boyle case, "from what we learn the sentiment is very generally entertained that the jury erred.

Dr. Wm. J. Martin, of Davidson College, at the request of the University Faculty, will at some future day deliver at Chapel Hill a memorial address on the late Dr. Charles Phillips.

The North Carolina Synod has accepted the invitation of Mecklenburg Presbytery, to establish the Presbyterian Orphans' Home in Charlotte.

A destructive fire occured in Savannah Wednesday. Six warehouses and two compresses were destroyed, together with 4,000 bales of cotton. Loss $400,000.

The Asheville Journal says a true bill has been found against Ed Brown for the killing of Col. Roger J. Page, at Marion, on the 24th day of July last.

The revenue commissioner has ordered the running capacity of distilleries to be increased and that more whiskey is required to be taxpaid from a certain amount of meal. This will lessen the profits of running a government still.

The Hatfield McCoy feud, in Pike county, Ky., has broken out again; while a marriage ceremony was being performed at Peter McCoy's house, a volley was poured through a window which killed the young couple and wounded fatally the officiating clergyman.

Mrs. Eva Ray Hamilton, sentenced to two years' imprisonment for assault upon "Nurse" Donnelly at Atlantic City some weeks ago, was placed in the new Jersey State prison Saturday afternoon. Her husband is suing for divorce.

Twenty five negro families left Raleigh last week for Mississippi. It was learned that all these families were from Franklin county. It is said that this fall only one negro has left Wake county for the South as an exoduster. Thirty families, numbering 104 persons, have left Selma for Arkansas.

The Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States at Washington City, in secret session on Thursday morning elected J. P. T. Gobin, of Pennsylvania, Grand Master, and Hugh McCurdy, of Michigan, Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Encampment.

According to the returns received from all Legislative districts in South Dakota the Republicans have elected 135 of the 169 members. The Democrats have 27 and seven are Independents with Republican proclivities. The Republican majority on joint ballot will be 125.

The election returns from the Northwest show that both parties claim Montana, but the indications point to a Democratic victory. North Dakota went Republican by 7,000 majority, prohibition defeated 2,000. The Republican ticket was elected in South Dakota by 20,000, prohibition carried by nearly 10,000. Washington Territory gave a Republican majority of over 8,000.

A special to the Charleston News and Courier, from Augusta, under date of 12th, says: The whole of Georgia will be startled to-morrow when it becomes known that the old feud between Maj. Chas. McGregor and Mr. J. M. Cody, of Warrenton, Ga., sixty miles from Augusta, was ended today by McGregor killing Cody this morning.

Mr. Jones' meetings closed in Durham Sunday night. The people of that place gave him $1,800. Julian S. Carr headed the list with $500. It is estimated that between 800 and 1,000 converts was the result of Mr. Jones' meetings at Durham. Arrangements will be at once begun for the erection of the tabernacle in Charlotte where he will preach next April.

John E. H. Feeks was killed Saturday in New York by electric wires, in sight of hundreds of people, but none could give him assistance. While climbing a post to cut a dead wire his arm came in contact with a live wire, which so shocked him that he fell upon other live wires in such a way as to form a perfect connection. The sparks were seen to fly out of his right arm so fast as to appear almost like a blaze. The neck of the victim was burned nearly through. This accident produced a cry from all classes that the poles must be taken down.

OTHER EDITORS' THOUGHTS.

Passing from Grave to Gay and from Lively to Severe.

Geese have been known to live much longer than this (50 years), and we have occasionally encountered some in boarding-houses that we would be willing to believe had lived twice as long.—Wilmington Star.

The Treasury statements for September 30th show that on that day the Government had $47,746,382 on deposit without interest, in the national banks, "the pet banks," as Mr. Blaine calls them, and is therefore perpetuating the policy which last year General Harrison denounced as injurious and dangerous and Mr. Blaine denounced as corrupt and the greatest scandal in the history of the United States. Out of their own capacious mouths the people who have at present got possession of the Government are convicted of mendacity or misgovernment; one or the other.—National Democrat.

The circus is not what it used to be. The fact is the circus will never be to the man what it was when he was a boy. The animals are not near so large; nor are the keepers half so noble and brave-looking. The bareback riding is not near so daring; nor are the leaps and somersaults onefourth so difficult. The elephant is smaller, and the lion is only a sleepy-looking, sheep-killing dog. The clown who was wont to set the table in a roar, is now a hay seed, whose crop is chestnuts—full of worms.—Charlotte Chronicle.

So the Democrats will get two new Senators from Montana, while the Republicans will get six from the three other new States. In the House the Republicans will also be strengthened. They will have a working majority sufficiently large to induce them, it may be, to begin their meanness. The Democrats in Montana also elect their Governor, while the Republicans elect their member of the Federal House.—Wilmington Messenger.

An Exciting Incident at the Fair Grounds.

[From the Raleigh Call.]

Yesterday there was an incident that caused considerable excitement in one of the side shows at the fair grounds. A female snake charmer in one of the tents was fondling two tremendous snakes, having them wrapped around her body, neck and arms. The cold weather probably angered the huge reptiles, for they were slow, stubborn and angry.

Suddenly one of them struck the arm of the woman viciously, biting it savagely and causing blood to flow. The charmer was very much frightened and screamed. The crowd of onlookers were panic stricken or horrified, but there was no stampede. A physician was summoned and administered alcoholic spirits internally and externally, and the bitten woman was soon all right. She continued her exhibitions with the snakes during the day.

MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY.

HOPEWELL P. O., Mecklenburg Co., September 4, 1888.

MRS JOE PERSON—Madam—Four years ago I took a violent cold, which resulted in Quinsy, and after suffering almost death, got relieved; but alas! the disease was in my system, and finally culminated in a womb trouble which caused me great suffering that winter and spring. I could scarcely drag around and was often so miserable I would pray to die. I begged my husband to let me try your Remedy. He bought me one box, and it has made a perfect cure of me. It has also cured me of Indigestion, and furthermore, after the birth of five of my children, I would nearly lose the use of my arms, and suffered untold agony with Rheumatism and Neuralgia. I have not been troubled with my last two children. I keep a bottle of the Remedy in the house all the time. My husband says it is better than a doctor. With all my other children I had great trouble during dentition. I can truthfully say, never did children cut teeth with so much ease and so little trouble as have my last two. Whenever I see any sign of their teething, I commence taking the Remedy. It keeps my stomach and bowels regular and in a healthy condition, and seems to have the same effect on theirs. It is certainly the best Tonic I ever tried. A few doses will brace me up and make me feel like a new person. Yes, publish any part of my letter that will help your cause in the least. I hate publicity, but if my experience with the Remedy will be the means of others trying it, I am willing for the public to know the good it has done me and mine. May God bless you! I am, very truly,

A WORD IN SEASON

From Your Friends, W. T. Carter & Co.

A DOLLAR A SUIT—

Fifty cents per piece for balbriggan undergarments—There's plenty of 50c. qualities floating around town—but the price is cheap and so is the underwear—Our price is cheap—but we deny the charge for our Balbriggan—They're the best we ever saw for 50c.—They'd make good 65c. or 75c. stock—Full, regular made, neatly finished—All sizes.

FORCING THE SEASON—

We don't want to do that—We may be a few weeks early; its just as well for you to know in advance that Trunks and Travelling Bags are included in our volume of Outfittings—When you get ready to make a start—bear this in mind—All sorts of trunks—All shapes, little or big—Commodious, strong and light—Bags in all sizes, shapes and colors—made up in tough, knockabout leather.

FOR THE LADIES—

A lady is never so comely as when dressed in the soft gauzy goods of summer. And this weather makes is necessary for them to dress that way. This season you will find at Carter's some new and handsome goods—lawns, challies, India linens, piques and Nainsooks. And you will find our prices just as low as you can find them anywhere—perhaps considerably lower.

SOMETHING ABOUT SHOES—

Do you know what a hand-made shoe is? Not a shoe made all over by hand sewing; that would be very clumsy, the uppers are cut by measure of the foot in size, and stitched by machine, the soles are cut and the two put together by a skilled shoemaker, on bench, with awl and waxed end. Such work is expensive, and is only done nowadays on the best material. Much machine work that looks like hand work is said to be hand work. That, of course, is false. Sometimes machine work is said to be as good as hand work. If that is so, why is it that machine work is never used except on poor material and hand work is only put on good material? Our shoes are priced according to leather and good hand work. We handle the Heiser hand-made shoe for gentlemen—price from $5.00 up—and we consider it the best shoe on the market. Then we have a shoe for ladies—the Evitt—that is simply superb. We can fit any foot and guarantee satisfaction. One word in parting:—When you want anything in our line it will pay you to go to the store of
