Postlude

During the singing of hymn 44 the congregation will please arrange to leave vacant any pews where there are not holders for communion glasses.

The Lovefeast is purely a service of Christian fellowship. Following the example of our Lord and His disciples, we partake together of a simple meal, even as He and they often went to eat with friends and with one another. It has no connection whatever with the service of the Holy Communion save as it may prepare our hearts for that greater service. All who call upon the name of Christ and desire to live after His love are welcomed to take part with us in this service.

We invite members of other Christian churches who care to do so to unite with us in the Holy Communion around the table of their Lord and ours. Those who do not wish to remain may retire at the close of the Lovefeast service.

On August 13, 1727, in the little village of Berthelsdorf, Saxony, a band of Moravians went at the invitation of the Lutheran pastor to a communion service in the Lutheran church. There they received such a blessing in the out-pouring of God's Holy Spirit that the Moravian Church, and particularly the Moravian Missions of today are the result. For all of us who are their spiritual descendants there is a great heritage. Do we strive to live up to it under God?

This is the first of a series of weekly bulletins which will be issued each Sunday during the coming year, beginning with the third Sunday in September. They have been made possible through the kindness and interest of those whose advertisements appear upon the back page. Members of the congregation are earnestly asked to show their appreciation of this interest by patronage of these concerns from time to time. Christian spirit would return to them our interest in return for their kindness. Let us endeavor to show our appreciation.
