The new structure which they plan will be about 36 by 60 feet in size with a full basement. In the basement will be located Sunday school space, rest rooms and utility areas. The building will be of brick.

Grading of the site will be immediately. The pastor and church members hope, it will probably be spring before construction of the building begins, with a completion date a few months after that.

"Right now, we are proceeding by faith," the pastor said. "But we feel the people will respond, in faith, and the work will proceed without delay."

The small congregation turned from the hayfield toward the nearby small church building and headed for the Wednesday evening prayer service there.
