LOCAL MARINE WRITES HOME FROM BOUGAINVILLE

W. R. Taylor 10-14

Grady Inman of Mount A... just received the fol... letter from his son, ...llace E. Inman, who is with the Marines at Bougainville.

Dec 29, 1943

Hello Dad,

I was glad to hear from you again. I am well and getting along fine.

We had turkeys for this Christmas. The turkeys didn't get here ...l late, so we had our Christmas dinner Dec. 26. It was a very enjoyable meal.

I participated in the operations of Empress Agusta Bay, the landing on Bougainville. We were shelled and bombed, and I was plenty scared lots of times. Every time a shell or bomb hit close, it would make me think that the next one was going to land on me. They hit close, but none of them got me. God must have been with me and I have plenty to be thankful for. I've dug more fox-holes on Bougainville than I can count on my fingers and toes. I think I know now what it is to really live and enjoy life.

I can't tell you anything about the landing.

It made me feel good to see Jap planes burst into flames and fall. I could have gotten a Jap rifle, but it would be too much trouble to carry around—and I don't want anything they have, anyway.

One morning at dawn I was awakened by the ground shaking. At first I thought the volcano had erupted, but it was an earthquake. We had seven earthquakes that day and one the next day. The volcano on Bougainville smokes all the time.

The Japs think that they have taken California. A marine captured a wounded Jap and was taking him to sick bay. On the way in, the Jap started talking to him. The Jap said, "You marines may take Bougainville, but do you think that you will ever take California back?" The marine said, "Do you think you'll ever get to sick bay?"

He didn't.

Well, it's getting so dark I can't see how to write, so I'll have to close. Tell Mary "hello" for me.

I want you to start writing to me more often, too.

Your son,
Wallace.

STAFF SERGEANT ROLAN G. INMAN
. . . Prisoner in Italy . . .

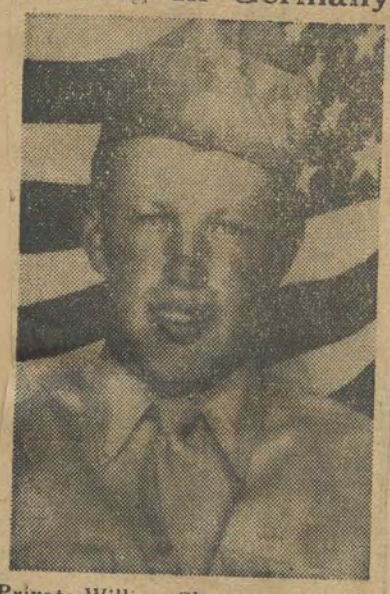

Westfield Man Listed War Prisoner

Staff Sergeant Roland G. Inman, son of Mrs. Martha Inman of Westfield, who was reported "missing in action" in the North African war zone from the 26th of March, is a prisoner of war in Italy, according to an official announcement from the War Department at Washington.

Sergeant Inman's name was among 283 released by the War Department covering the entire United States.

Sergeant Inman is a veteran of nine years' service in the regular army. He went overseas last Summer. The War Department notified his mother about the middle of April that he had been missing since March 26.

Missing In Germany

Private William Clayton Matthews, 22, son of Mrs. Alice Matthews, of Mount Airy, has been reported missing in action in Germany. The information came in a telegram received by his mother from the War Department. He entered service in March, 1944, and trained at Fort Jackson, S. C., Fort McClellan, Ala., and Fort Meade, Md. His mother received her last letter from him while he was at Fort Meade, and two months later to a day received the telegram stating that he was missing in action.

NAMED SERGEANT — Sergeant Otis Snoddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Powell Snoddy of Mount Airy, Route 2, has been promoted recently to his present rank. He entered the army November 18, 1941. He is now stationed at Fort Bragg.

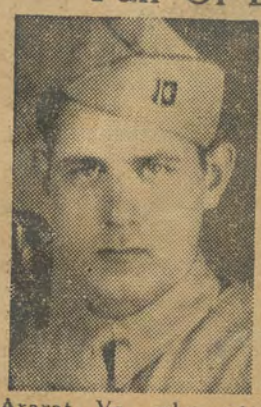

PROMOTED AND OVERSEAS — Private First Class Lawton Norman, son of Mrs. Rosa Johnson, of Mount Airy, Route 2, was recently promoted to his present rank. The young man, who entered the army of May 27, 1941, is now on overseas service. He received his training on this side at Fort Screven, Ga., and Camp Shelby, Miss.

MISSING IN ITALY

Private First Class George Orville Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Collins, of Westfield, has been reported missing in Italy. Young Collins has been in service about eighteen months and has been overseas for about three months. He had been twice wounded and returned to duty before being reported missing.

Pair Of Boys In Service Overseas

Two boys from this area on overseas duty are Staff Sergeant Glenn R. Tilley (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Tilley and husband of the former Miss Mary Elizabeth Burch, of Westfield, who entered service in October, 1940, and is now in England; and Pfc. Guy Bowman (R) son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bowman, of Ararat, Va., who entered service in November, 1942, and is now in Africa.

REID ELIJAH TILLEY

Soldier On Furlough Dies From Gunshot

(Special to The Journal)

Mount Airy.—Dr. John L. Woltz, Surry County coroner, declared the death of Private Reid Elijah Tilley, 25, 10 miles east of Mount Airy Monday, a suicide.

Private Tilley, on furlough from his army post at New Orleans, La., was found by members of his family with a gunshot wound in his chest which apparently resulted in instant death. He apparently had used a forked stick to release the trigger of the gun.

The family could assign no reason for the suicide. Private Tilley had been in the army about a year and had always expressed a great liking for army life. He had arrived home on furlough June 3 and still had two days of his furlough left at the time of his death. Throughout the time since he came home, relatives said, he had appeared cheerful and happy.

Private Tilley was born near Westfield, March 29, 1918, the son of John R. and Lilla Jessup Tilley. He was graduated from Westfield High School where he was a member of both the basketball and baseball squads. He was popular both in the school and throughout his community.

Survivors include the parents, Mount Airy, Route 2; four brothers, James T., Sam and Kelly Tilley, Mount Airy, Route 2; and Walter Tilley, of the United States Army, now stationed in Alabama; three sisters, Mrs. Clayborn Taylor, Pilot Mountain, Route 2; Mrs. R. D. Robbins, and Miss Alta Tilley, both of Cherry Point.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending the arrival of relatives from a distance. However, the rites will be held at Albion Baptist Church, with Rev. C. A. Simmons and Rev. J. F. Sellers in charge. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

A Soldier's Last Letter

A gripping, heart-stirring story comes out of Kansas. It tells of a letter received by a little two-year-old girl, daughter of Captain Gerald Marnell. The letter from the 27-year-old captain came from Palau.

Of course the little girl couldn't read the letter. But some day she will read it, and it will be her most precious possession. For on the day the captain wrote the letter he was killed in action. But before going into action that day, Captain Marnell wrote his little daughter that she had been so much on his mind "that he just had to set down a few lines to let you know how important a little lady you are."

"I know that you can't read this letter now," he wrote, "but your mother will read it to you and she will save it for you until you are old enough to read it yourself.

"Your daddy held you in his arms when you were only a few minutes old. Your daddy saw you grow. He would beam with pride and joy when he would watch your mother rock you to sleep in her arms.

"Daddy saw you start to crawl, and how you did get around! He remembered you standing alone and taking your first step and cutting your first tooth and saying your first word.

"Then came a day when your daddy had to say good-bye. You cried so hard when daddy was driving away and daddy shed a tear himself. Your daddy didn't want to leave you, but he had to go to help make your country a safe and free place to live in.

"Little baby, God has blessed you with the finest mother in the world and daddy loves your mother very much. Be good to your mother, Geraldine, there is no one else like her in the world.

"Daddy won't write much more to you. He will be back home some day and you and he will play together again. Daddy asks God every night to guide and watch over you and your mother."

Cpl. HERSEY L. WOOD, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wood, of Mount Airy, is now in North Africa. Entered the service in February 1941, and is assigned to the infantry in the capacity of cook.

GUY C. GOLDING JAMES F. TAYLOR LANNIE T. MILLS

Private Guy C. Golding, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edd Golding, has notified relatives and friends in Surry County, Mount Airy, Route 3, of his arrival overseas. He entered the army April 12, 1941, and trained at Camp Shelby, Miss. (2) Pfc. James Reed Taylor, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Taylor of Westfield, has recently been promoted to that rank. He entered service in the late Summer of 1942. (3) Seaman Third Class Lannie T. Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Mills of Mount Airy, has just been advanced to that rating in the United States Navy. Private Randall M. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Jackson, of Westfield, was killed in action in Germany on March 23rd, according to a telegram received from the War Department. Private Jackson entered the army on June 20, 1944, and trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga., and at Fort Meade, Md. He was at home on furlough in November, just before he sailed for overseas early in December, going first to Italy and later to Southern France, where he was attached to an infantry unit of the Seventh Army. He is survived by his parents and by two sisters, Miss Sue Mae Jackson, now at Appalachian State College at Boone, and Miss Faye Jackson, of Westfield.

Private Robert S. Ring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Ring, of Westfield, was slightly wounded in France on March 15th, his injury being in the leg. Private Ring entered service June 19, 1944, trained at Fort Jackson, S. C., and went overseas on January 27, 1945. He was attached to an infantry unit.

Sergeant Charlie E. Love, son of Mrs. Jettie Love, of Mount Airy, Route 2, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal in France "for meritorious service during the period between November 14, 1944, and December 18, 1944." The citation stated that "throughout this period of combat duty, in which his company engaged in many hazardous and stubbornly contested actions with the enemy, Sergeant Love carried out his assigned duties with marked courage, efficiency and initiative. Fighting over rough and rugged terrain, constantly subjected to heavy hostile artillery, mortar and small arms fire, he has displayed great aggressiveness and devotion to duty, and aided his organization in carrying through assigned missions." Sergeant Love entered the army in November 1942, trained at Fort Jackson, S. C., and at Fort Bragg, and went overseas in October, 1944. His brother, Corporal Ellis Love, who entered service in January, 1943, has been in the Pacific since March, 1944.

America's Great War President Passes

PRESIDENT FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT IS DEAD. His death at Warm Springs, Ga., at 3:35 o'clock on Thursday afternoon was a great blow to the United States and to the world, for it removed one of the guiding hands which have piloted the forces of Democracy and humanity from the threat of defeat to the threshold of a glorious victory over the totalitarian despots and their dastardly plans for world conquest. Overcoming the handicaps of disease, he rose to the highest honor his country can bestow, giving himself unsparingly as he led the United States from the depths of its greatest depression to recovery and prosperity and then guiding the nation through a gallant battle against desperate enemies on far-flung war fronts, joining with the leaders of America's allies in laying the pattern for victory and a return to a world at peace. He died for his country, just as surely as have the thousands of American boys who have fallen on the battlefields of Europe and the Pacific.

Killed In Action

Pfc. Dallas Goins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Goins, of Westfield, and husband of the former Miss Bertha Nation, of Stuart, Va., was killed in action in France during January, the War Department has notified his family. He received his training in Oregon and Colorado and had been overseas for four months.

Angel Is Wounded

Staff Sergeant Edward Warren Angel, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Angel, of the Westfield community, was slightly wounded in action in Italy on January 13th. Sergeant Angel entered service in November, 1942, trained in Oregon, and went overseas in April, 1944. He is with the Fifth Army in Italy.

Easter Signposts to VICTORY

These are times of trial for every one of us.

They are times that try our strength as a nation . . . our fibre as a people . . . our courage as men.

And each day now we see the truth more clearly: These are times that test our faith in God.

To our prayers this Easter will be added a very special prayer to our men and women in our armed service.

For those at their parents' side in the church of their faith — for those far from home . . . on battlefields on fighting ships . . . in the air! May Victory soon be theirs, and may they soon return to enjoy to the full our Christian, Democratic way of life for which they fight.

Attend CHURCH
this Easter Sunday . . . and every Sunday after.

The Ideal
WHERE QUALITY NEVER VARIES

PVT. VIRGIL COOK, son of Mr. and Mrs. Powell Cook of Pilot Mountain and husband of the former Miss Rosie Inman of Westfield, has notified his family he is now in the Southwest Pacific. He trained at Camp Wolters, Tex.

PVT. CURTIS W. CREED, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Creed of Siloam, has notified his parents that he is now somewhere in France. He entered the army June 12, 1944 and trained at Camp Blanding, Fla. He went overseas last December.

PFC. HARVEY STONE, husband of the former Miss Lois Inman of Ararat and son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Stone of Pilot Mountain, has notified his family that he is stationed somewhere overseas. He received his training at Camp Campbell, Ky.

Another trio of Surry county service men are Private Dallas C. Jackson (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Jackson, of Westfield, who entered service June 20, 1944, trained at Camp Blanding, Fla., and Fort Benning, Ga., went overseas in February and is now in Germany; Petty Officer 3-C Beverly C. Reynolds (center), son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Reynolds, of Mount Airy, who entered service in November, 1943, and has just been promoted to his present rating; and Corporal Edwin Lionel Johnson (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Johnson, of Mount Airy, who entered service September 29, 1943, trained at Keesler Field, Miss., Sioux Falls, S. D., and Yuma, Ariz., and is now a radio operator-gunner on a bomber in the Southwest Pacific.

Tank Destroyer Platoon, of which Staff Sergeant Snoddy was platoon sergeant, was in a covered position on the edge of a woods. To the left of his destroyers was an enemy anti-tank gun which was firing on adjacent friendly tanks. Visibility was very poor because of fog, being limited to approximately 50 yards.

Gets Bronze Star

Corporal John Walter Tilley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Tilley, of Westfield, and husband of Mrs. Janet L. Tilley, of Chicago, Ill., has been awarded the Bronze Star for his services with the 161st Field Artillery Battalion of the 35th Division. The citation reads in part, as follows: "Corporal Tilley voluntarily left a place of cover to obtain information for shell reports during an intense concentration of enemy heavy artillery fire, with complete disregard for his personal safety. His efforts immeasurably aided in locating and neutralizing enemy artillery, and his courage, skill and initiative reflect credit upon his character as a soldier."

One Son Dead – Second Overseas

One son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Cooke, of the Westfield community on Pilot Mountain, Route 2, has been killed in action and awarded the Purple Heart posthumously, and another son is now overseas. Private First Class Raymond C. Cooke (left) was killed in France on June 1944, and the posthumous award of the Purple Heart has just been announced. Joyce, of Mount Airy, Route 2, who entered the navy on May 3, 1944, trained at Camp Peary, Va., and is now on sea duty.

MISS ALTA TILLEY

Long, Gone, Lonesome Blues

I went down to the river.
~~to watch the fish swim by~~
When I got to the river
so Lonesome I wanted to die oh Lord
Then I jump in the river
but the doggone river was dry

Chorus

She long — gone — and now — a I got them lonesome Blues.

I had me a woman who couldn't be true
She made me for my money and she made me blue a man needs a women that he can lean on but my leaning post has done left and gone

I'm going To find me a river
one that's cold as ice
And when I find that river
Then I'm gone pay the price Oh Lord
I'm going down three times
but Lord I'm only coming up twice

She told me on Sunday
She was checking me out

Lieutenant Virginia B Corporal Root In

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beasley, of Mount Airy, announce the engagement of their daughter, First Lieutenant Virginia C. Beasley, of army nurse corps, to Corporal Leslie M. Root, of the army medical corps.

The marriage will take place at 5 o'clock on September 2, at the Trinity Methodist church at Tallahassee, Fla.

The bride-elect is a graduate of the Westfield high school and of the Martin Memorial Hospital School of Nursing at Mount Airy. Prior to joining the army nurse corps in February, 1944, she was a member of the staff of Chatham Memorial Hospital in Elkin. She is now stationed at Finney General Hospital in Thomasville, Ga.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Root, of Flint, Mich. He is a graduate of Flint Central high school and the Flint Junior College, Flint, Mich., and was attending the University of Michigan when he was inducted into the army in February, 1943. He is now physical reconditioning instructor at the Finney General Hospital at Thomasville, Ga.

Impressive memorjal services were held at Westfield Baptist church last Sunday afternoon for Private First Class Randall M. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Jackson, of Westfield, who was killed in action with the Seventh Army in Germany on March 23, 1945. The services were conducted by Rev. C. A. Simmons and Dr. R. K. Redwine. Young Jackson, a graduate of Westfield high school, entered service on June 20, 1944, trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga., and went overseas in December, 1944.

Corporal Weldon J. Campbell, son of Mrs. Hazel Campbell, of Mount Airy, has written his mother of his safe arrival at a Pacific base with the United States Marines. He joined the Marines three years ago and has been stationed at New River, Norfolk, Va., and San Francisco, Calif., prior to going overseas.

T. G. Fawcett, Mt. Airy Man, Kills Himself

THOMAS G. FAWCETT

Mount Airy.—Thomas Garnett Fawcett, 62, president of the First National Bank of Mount Airy and one of this city's best known men, died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock of self-inflicted pistol wounds.

Members of the family said despondency over continued ill health caused Mr. Fawcett to take his own life.

Mr. Fawcett had been in ill health for some time and had recently been in a hospital. He went to the clinic of Dr. R. C. Mitchell yesterday morning. He had been in the waiting room only a short time when he stepped into another clinic room and shot himself in the head with a pistol.

Born Feb. 25, 1883, in London, Ontario, Canada, a son of Thomas and Mary Lenfesty Fawcett, he came here about 50 years ago with his parents. He was educated in the local public schools and was graduated from the University of North Carolina.

At the age of 21, Mr. Fawcett went to work for the First National Bank of which his father was president. Later his brother, George Fawcett, became president. At the death of his brother about 25 years ago, Mr. Fawcett became president of the bank.

Mr. Fawcett was active in business and civic life of Mount Airy throughout his life. He was a member of the Kiwanis Club. He was also active in the Trinity Episcopal Church of which he was a vestryman.

Surviving are the widow, the former Miss Katie Lee Mills; four daughters, Mrs. Fred Folger, Mrs. Henry Folger, Mrs. R. J. Randolph and Mrs. Cecil Hennis Jr.; two sons, Thomas Garnett Fawcett Jr. and George D. Fawcett, all of Mount Airy.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home, 195 North Main Street. Rev. Ed Jeffress will conduct the services. Burial will be in Oakdale Cemetery.

S-Sgt. Ezra Cooke Gets Bronze Star

Westfield Youth Is Awarded Medal At Battey General Hospital, Rome, Ga., Where He Has Been Under Treatment

Special From Battey General Hospital, Rome, Ga.—Already the wearer of the Silver Star for gallantry in action, Staff Sergeant Ezra G. Cooke recently received the Bronze Star medal for heroic achievement in ground action against the enemy, in formal ceremonies here at Battey General hospital. The presentation was made by Col. D. B. Faust, Commanding Officer.

The bemedalled infantryman, a rifle squad leader with Co. A, 41st Armored Infantry, 2nd Armored (Hell on Wheels) Division, Cooke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cooke, of Route 2, Mount Airy, N. C.

In the midst of a raging battle in which both tanks and foot troops were engaged, Cooke, who was exposed to rifle, machine-gun and mortar fire, remained at his position in a half-track after everyone else had pulled out, and kept the battalion commander informed of the situation by telephone. For this he received the Bronze Star.

Previously, with complete disregard for his own safety, he had exposed himself in order to capture 75 Germans, thereby winning the Silver Star medal.

Something of a record for front line action was set by this redheaded North Carolinian. With eight months in the line, he could look back with a great deal of satisfaction on the fact that although he had received many close calls, not once had he been nicked. However, an injury of the knee resulted in his being hospitalized, and he was evacuated to the States on April 4, 1945.

On two different occasions Cooke's fox-hole buddies were killed, and another time his rations were shot off his back. In neither instance did he receive a scratch.

With nearly five years of army service under his belt, Cooke will probably receive his discharge under the critical score rating after he returns to duty. He left here last week for Welch Convalescent hospital at Daytona Beach, Fla.

He spent two and one-half years overseas in French Morocco, North Africa, Algiers, Sicily, Normandy, Northern France and Germany, landing on D-Day in the invasions of Africa and Sicily.

In addition to the Silver and Bronze Stars, Cooke wears the Combat Infantryman's badge, the American Defense ribbon, Good Conduct ribbon, and the European-African-Middle Eastern Theater ribbon with six bronze stars for major engagements.

Westfield High First Teams To Enter Northwest Tourney

Westfield High's strong cagers of Surry County yesterday became the first teams to sign entry blanks for the 21st annual Journal and Sentinel Northwest basketball tournament, set for Hanes Hosiery gymnasium here, starting March 4.

Principal and coach of the Westfield teams, Luther Byrd, returned signed blanks yesterday for the tournament.

The teams of Westfield for many years have been the first to enter the Northwest event.

Byrd, who played an outstanding part in the development of girls basketball in Northwest North Carolina, was also one of the leading school men to start the girls division of the Northwest event.

The girls and boys teams of Westfield are both entered for the tournament.

More Seating Space

The 21st annual Journal and Sentinel cage event was switched to Hanes Hosiery gymnasium from Reynolds High last week to assure more seating space for spectators at the games this Winter.

The tournament had been held for 20 years, since it was organized in 1926, at Reynolds High gym.

All high school basketball teams in 29 Northwest North Carolina and Southwest Virginia are eligible for the event.

Kannapolis High boys of Cabarrus County, and West Yadkin High girls of Yadkin County, won the championships in a colorful series of games last year. Fieldale of Henry County, Virginia, was runner-up in the boys' division while Mount Airy High girls of Surry took runner-up honors in girls' division.

29 Counties Eligible

All schools in the 29 eligible counties interested in securing entry blanks for the tournament, starting Tuesday, March 4, are urged to contact Frank Spencer, director of the Journal and Sentinel Northwest basketball tournament, Winston-Salem Journal, Winston-Salem, N. C.

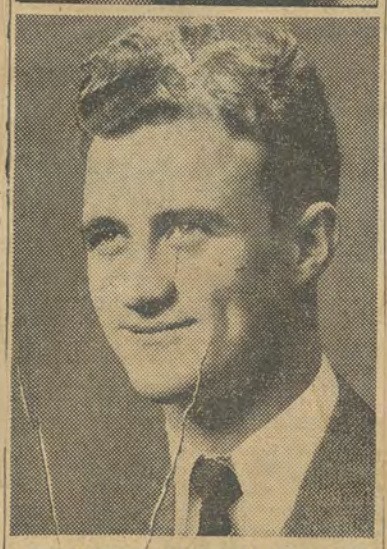

The 29 counties eligible are:

North Carolina — Ashe, Watauga, Avery, Alleghany, Wilkes, Alexander, Caldwell, Burke, Catawba, Cabarrus, Stanly, Montgomery, Randolph, Alamance, Caswell, Guilford, Rockingham, Stokes, Surry, Forsyth, Davie, Davidson, Iredell, Rowan and Yadkin.

Virginia — Henry, Grayson, Carroll and Patrick.

A field that included 119 outstanding teams from these counties took part in the tournament last year.

WIN CITIZENSHIP MEDALS —Miss Earlene Brinkley, top, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Brinkley of Pilot Mountain, won the Citizenship Medal at Westfield High School. Claude Franklin Eldridge, senior at Elkin High School, won the Citizenship Medal awarded there. His high school career was interrupted by the war and he returned to school after his discharge. He was president of the senior class.

Shimada, Former Navy Minister, Is in Custody

By FRANK BARTHOLOMEW
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Tokyo (UP). — Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama, supreme military adviser to Emperor Hirohito, killed himself yesterday while American occupation authorities were arresting Adm. Shigetaro Shimada, former Navy Minister who planned the Pearl Harbor attack.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur simultaneously ordered the immediate dissolution of the terroristic Black Dragon Society, for 40 years the notorious instrument of Japanese imperialism.

Sugiyama, 65, who had held nearly every high army post and was War Minister in a post Pearl Harbor Cabinet, and his wife shot themselves in their home not quite 24 hours after former Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo, Pearl Harbor Premier, made the botched attempt at suicide.

Sugiyama was a member of the board of field marshals which plotted Pearl Harbor. He retired from the Government along with the rest of the Koiso Cabinet in April, 1945.

MacArthur ordered the arrest of seven leaders of the Black Dragon or Kokuryo-kai Society. Koki Hirota, Premier of Japan from March, 1936 to February, 1937, was one. Also named were Rychei Uchida; Col. Kingoro Hashimoto, nationalist leader of the prewar "young officers" clique which demanded war with the United States and who ordered the 1937 attack on the American gunboat Panay; Toyasaburo Kikuchi, vice-minister of education in the Tojo Cabinet; Oketora Ogata, propaganda minister in the present Cabinet of Prince Higashi-kuni and a member of the House of Peers; Seigo Nakano, leading Fascist political theorist who once was reported a suicide; and Prof. Genchi Kato.

Shimada, 61, was arrested by a party of Americans headed by Maj. Paul Kraus, U. S. counter-intelligence officer who arrested Tojo. He did not resist and made no attempt to follow Tojo's example. But the motor convoy which took the arresting party to his home included an ambulance, just in case.

The party, including this correspondent and William B. Dickinson of the United Press, Keith Wheeler of the Chicago Times and Norman Soong of the Chinese Central News Service, lined up in front of Shimada's home in the Shiba District of Southern Tokyo at 4:30 p.m.

Shimada's wife, dressed in a grey kimono, knelt on a mat to greet us. Smilingly, she [illegible]

Their Prayers Answered

"Please bring our Daddy home soon" - - -

From the depths of their little hearts came these pleading words . . . the words of lonesome children who hadn't seen their daddies for many, many long months.

With Victory Over Japan accomplished, hundreds of daddies will return now and answer the prayers of their loved ones.

Local Boy's Death Told Of In Letter

Comrades Of Frank Forrest Write His Wife and Small Son Of His Death In Action In Pacific Theater

A letter from the comrades of Frank Forrest, who died in action in the Pacific theater this summer, has just been received by Mrs Forrest and her small son. The letter, which speaks highly of the soldierly qualities of the Mount Airy man, bore the signatures of twenty-one men, who represented Forrest's entire company. The letter follows:

Yokahama, Japan
Sept. 24, 1945

Dear Mrs. Forrest and Son:

This letter in regard to Frank, your husband and our comrade, you should have received several months ago. However, we hope that you will understand and forgive us, when we offer our lame apologies for the delay.

Our time has been quite well taken up by the old army game of being moved from place to place, training in between shipments, and various other reasons. But our feeble explanations will probably sound quite empty to you, so we will not attempt to go any further.

The enclosed picture of Frank had to be returned from the States where we sent it for reproduction, and for some reason or other, it was detained enroute. It would have been in your possession long before this, except for the fact that we received it ourselves just recently.

Although not a very clear picture, it is the only one we have, and though it is of extreme sentimental value to us, his buddies, we know it will mean a lot more to you. Therefore, we wish you to accept it along with our sympathy and deepest regrets that you and your son had to be among the unfortunate ones to suffer such a loss.

Frank died while doing his utmost to carry out his duties for his loved ones, his country and for God. His bravery was outstanding to the very end, and there was no need of anyone, during the year that he was with us, to question his courage. He filled all duties assigned to him cheerfully and without complaining. And we're sure that some of the things he did were above and beyond the call of duty.

You can feel proud to know that he was a close buddy to all of us in this company and was held in highest esteem by all that knew him. To some of us, his more intimate friends, he was not just another soldier.

We pray that it will lighten your grief somewhat to know that he did not have to suffer. He was killed almost instantly by a sniper's bullet that struck him in the base of the neck. Although it is not a pleasant subject to either you or us, we feel that you would have rather known exactly what happened and not be ignorant of the truth. We fear that you may have thought that he had to experience intense agony. Now you will know that was not so.

Frank did not utter any words after receiving his wound, but if he could have, we're sure they would have been: "Tell my wife and son my love for them was as deep as it was in my power to feel, and for them not to grieve."

We know this to be true, because he spoke of both of you quite often, in this way letting us know that the memory of both of you was his fondest recollection. He was especially proud of his son, whose picture Frank had with him ever since he received it.

Frank is now lying in the beautiful Americal Division cemetery on the island of Cebu, Philippines. At the impressive memorial services there, previous to our departure from that island, his name was listed on the honor roll. At the mention of that, everyone of us that was present felt the deepest sorrow and our thoughts turned to you, wishing that you could have been there to witness and participate in the final and highest respects being paid to your beloved husband and all the other fine men that had there found their final resting place. These men had paid the highest sacrifice for all the things that they loved the most, and the rest of us, the lucky ones, were greatly humbled by this thought, knowing that we will be indebted to these men for the rest of our lives—a debt that you wish to know, please do on this earth.

If we have failed to clarify all thaty ou wish to know, please do not hesitate to write to us. We will gladly try to answer any further questions that you may have in mind.

We remain at your service.
Sincerely yours,
Frank's Comrades.

A Soldier's Lost Letter

When the postman delivered a letter
It filled her dear heart full of joy
But she didn't know until she read the inside.
It was the last one from her darling boy
Dear mom, was the way that it started
I miss you so much it went on.
Mom, I didn't know that I love you so.
But I prove it when this war is won.
I'm writing this letter in a trench mom.
Mom, Don't scold if it isn't so neat
You know as you did when I was a Kid
And come home with mud on my feet.
The captain just gave us our orders.
And, Mom we will carry them through
I'll finish this letter the first chance I get
But now I must say I love you
Then the mothers hands began to tremple
She fought against tears in her eyes. But they came unashamed for there was not a name. And she knew that her darling had died
That night as she knelled by her bedside
She prayed the Lord above to hear her plea,
And protect all the sons that are fighting to night And dear God Keep America free.

Court Sets Bond At $5,000 For Edward; Released Monday

James E. Edwards, 31, of this city, was released from the city jail Monday afternoon under $5,000 bond following a hearing in Recorder's Court in which he was bound over to Superior court in the fatal shooting of Eddie W. Whitaker, 30, of route 4, which occurred near the depot here Friday night.

The defendant was taken into custody the night of the shooting and charged with first-degree murder and kept in the city jail without bond until Monday when Judge H. H. Llewellyn ruled that there was not sufficient evident for a first-degree murder charge and ordered the defendant bound over on either second-degree murder or manslaughter.

The shooting took place about 10 o'clock on the property of the Atlantic and Yadkin railroad about 150 yards west of the depot where according to witnesses, Edwards was being picked up by friends to whom he had lent his car for the night.

According to a statement made the night of the shooting by Howard F. Greenwood, a witness to the shooting, he and his girl friend, Miss Mary Lee Tilley, went to the railway station to pick up Edwards, who is an engine attendant and night watchman for the A. and Y. Edwards got into the car, stated Greenwood, and started driving.

While waiting at the intersection of the railroad and Pine Street for the traffic on Pine Street to cease, Whitaker was said to have come up on the right side of the car and from the general direction of a small photographic shop; called Edwards a foul name and made further remarks which Greenwood said he could not understand.

Acoording to Greenwood, Edwards, while still in the car, asked Whitaker what he meant and who he was calling any such name. Edwards then got out of his car on his side, the witness stated, and started around the front of the car. He got to a position about opposite the engine and at this point, according to Greenwood, Whitaker drew a pistol from his belt, spun it around on his finger, pointed it at Edwards and said, "I'll kill you." Then Edwards drew his gun and began shooting, firing three shots, stated Greenwood.

Miss Tilley, who was the main witness at the hearing Monday, testified that a few seconds after Whitaker fell he mumbled, "I wouldn't have done that to you, I was just kidding." Miss Tilley gave a full description of the shooting in court which matched the statement made by Greenwood before hand.

Both Edwards and Whitaker have a record with the local police department. Edwards was caught several years ago by Federal officers north of Mount Airy operating a liquor still. His case was tried in the Federal Court where he was found guilty of manufacturing liquor and was sentenced to serve time in Federal prison. He was AWOL from the Navy in November, 1943.

Whitaker has been charged with the larceny of a watch, drunk and disorderly several times, resisting an officer twice, cursing, robbery, and AWOL, and has spent time on the roads.

Edwards used a .45 caliber pistol and fired three shots. Whitaker died in the Martin Memorial Hospital later without making a statement.

Fred Folger is the prosecuting attorney in the case representing the interest of the deceased, and Wilson Barber is defending attorney for Edwards. The case will be tried in the Superior Court at Dobson in September.

Surviving Whitaker are the mother, Mrs. Daisy Whitaker; his widow, the former Tessie Griffith, one son, Joney R. Whitaker; three brothers, Arlo, Otis and Herman Whitaker; and five sisters, Mrs. Lacy Bond, Mrs. Thurmond Osborne, Mrs. Elsie Easley, Mrs. Claude Shackleford and Miss Annie Mae Whitaker, all of Mount Airy.

Zack Smith and Ensign Edward Jackson are spending some time in --ew York City.

Girl 'Saint,' Hands Streaming Blood, Terrified Nazi S.S. Men

New Orleans (UP).—A German peasant girl "Saint," whose body is marked with Christ-like wounds and whose face shines with a strange glow, caused Nazi storm troopers to flee in terror when she greeted them with outstretched hands that streamed blood, a former army chaplain's assistant who knows her well said last night.

Harold Dittman, 22, added one more account to the mounting legend of Therese Neumann whose remarkable wounds have made her a medical and theological curiosity in Germany for nearly a score of years.

Dittman, who said he had witnessed Therese's "hypnotically-induced" bleeding spells three times, said she was in the midst of one when the SS troops came to arrest her. But they left hurriedly and did not return.

Dittman said he was telling her story here last night at Therese's own request because she complained that many false things had been repeated and written about her.

Subject of countless stories, "Saint" Therese has been studied by great scientists, medical men and theologians who have sought a logical answer for the gaping wounds in her hands, the nine thorn-like holes around her head and the torn flesh at her wrists.

For the past 17 years she reportedly has not had food or drink of any kind. At daily communion, she only touches the wafer to her mouth, Dittman said.

"She told me that she never wants food," he said. "She said she did not know the taste of water."

After the war ended, Dittman as a chaplain's assistant helped arrange soldier tours to religious shrines. It was inevitable that Therese's home in the little village of Konnersreuth should be visited.

"When we entered the house, she was sitting on a sofa knitting," he said. "I didn't identify her as Therese Neumann. I had expected a thin, emaciated woman, as she isn't supposed to have eaten in so long.

"But she was six feet tall and weighed more than 210 pounds."

Although still known as a girl in the village, she is now 42 years old.

Through his chaplain who spoke German fluently, Dittman asked if he might see her wounds.

"She took off the little mittens she wears, and in the center of each palm was an open wound about an inch long.

"It was nearly noon, on the first Friday of the month, when her 'ecstasies' usually begin. She suddenly stiffened — started gritting her teeth and moaning and groaning. She sat with her wrists crossed in front of her, and there was bloody sweat where the ropes on Christ would have been," he continued.

Her family then took her upstairs to her room, and Dittman accompanied them.

"With her wrists still crossed, she started saying the same things Christ is said to have spoken at the trial before Pontius Pilate. She even speaks, as Christ did, to Peter in the courtyard, telling him that he will deny Him," he said.

"Her hands go out to the side. The wounds start bleeding. Blood is pouring from nine tiny wounds around her head. The wounds are tiny and look like the ones we are told pierced the head of Christ when the crown of thorns was placed there.

"I looked right in the wounds while they were bleeding. But I could not look straight into her eyes. The light there is so fierce that you can only glance at her."

Therese stopped bleeding at 3 o'clock, and remained in an un-

Hunt For T. B. Patient Finally Ends In Georgia

"Shotgun" Inman Sent To State Sanatorium For Tuberculosis Treatment

The search for Robert F. Inman, 35, of Mount Airy, route 1, finally ended last week when Waynesville, Georgia, County Officers located the fugitive in that area and notified Dr. R. B. C. Franklin, local health department doctor, that he was in their hands and that papers were in order to bring him back to North Carolina.

Known in this section as "Shotgun" Inman, he has long been wanted by Dr. Franklin and the State Board of Health for violating state health regulations. Inman, according to Dr. Franklin, is a "wide open case of tuberculosis and has been appearing in public places spreading the disease."

Judge H. H. Llewellyn in Recorder's Court Monday morning found Inman guilty of "having T. B. in the infectious stage and refusing to take treatment." He was sentenced from 2 to 6 months in the State Sanatorium Prison Division at Sanatorium, N. C., the length of time to be determined by the superintendent of the institution. Inman pleaded to use his own money to get into a private institution but his past record was held against him.

Dr. Franklin stated that Inman had refused treatment in several cases and that the local department had made arrangements for him to be admitted to the Western North Carolina Sanatorium at Black Mountain on March 22, 1947. However, his parents notified the sanatorium that he had joined a carnival and his whereabouts were unknown.

On May 13, the Randolph County Health Department wrote Dr. Franklin that Inman came to see them complaining with a severe cough and weakness. He wanted a dose of morphine which they gave him, as he said he was en route to Mount Airy. However, he stayed there for another week and was seen going into a theatre and hanging around in a hotel lobby. They told Dr. Franklin the man should be quarantined and not allowed to run all over the country spreading tuberculosis. Dr. Franklin answered the letter stating that Inman was wanted by authorities here.

"SHOTGUN" INMAN
. . . caught by health officers . . .

On May 23 the State Board of Health stated they would admit him to a hospital for 60 days and then send him to an institution for treatment. He was to be given treatment in the hospital for a morphine patient.

Inman's trail was followed to Georgia and Atlanta authorities arrested him once but he escaped. He was caught again in Savannah and was released when he said he would voluntarily proceed to Mount Airy. However, he failed to do this and was arrested again in November.

Correspondence between the governors of North Carolina and Georgia finally arranged for Inman to be brought to Beauford, N. C., by the Georgia officers where Deputies

A. Cooke, 59, Farmer, Dies At Francisco

Pilot Mountain.—Alonzo Cooke, 59, prominent farmer of Francisco, died at 1 a.m. yesterday at his home following a heart attack.

ALONZO COOKE

Alonzo Cooke Death Cause Determined

Mount Airy.—Dr. Rufus Helsabeck of King, Stokes County coroner, reported yesterday following an autopsy that there was no doubt that Alonzo Cooke, well-known farmer of near Westfield, had died of a heart attack.

Mr. Cooke died and was buried last week, but as a result or rumors that he had been murdered, the family requested that his body be exhumed and an autopsy performed.

Dr. Helsabeck said that there was a gash over Mr. Cooke's right eye, but that it probably was received when he fell after having the heart attack.

FUNERAL IS HELD — Funeral services for David Lawson of Mount Airy, Route 2, who died Saturday, were held yesterday at Tom's Creek Primitive Baptist Church. Elder W. J. Brown, Elder Rogers and Elder Stone officiated. Burial was in the Slate family graveyard.

David Lawson's Funeral To Be Conducted Today

Pilot Mountain.—Funeral services for David Lawson of Mount Airy, Route 2, who died early Saturday at his home after a long illness, will be held at 2 p.m. today at Tom's Creek Primitive Baptist Church.

Elder W. J. Brown, Elder Rogers and Elder Stone will officiate. Burial will be in the Slate family cemetery.

Mr. Lawson was married to Miss Nannie Hudson, who died in 1922. He had been a member of Tom's Creek Primitive Baptist Church for the past 11 years.

Surviving are seven children, Mrs. Sidney Lowe and Mrs. William Jessup, both of Mount Airy, Route 2, Mrs. Cebron Taylor and Elmer Lawson, both of Pilot Mountain, Route 1, Mrs. Arthur Slate of Francisco, Mrs. Reid Shepperd of Madison, Route 1, and Dallas Lawson of Westfield.

WEST JEFFERSON BURLEY MARKET OPENS—Farmers for miles around brought their offerings to the new burley tobacco market in West Jefferson for the Monday opening. State and Federal officials present for the first day's sales said an unusual amount of interest in the new market had been shown by growers.

Mrs. Weldon C. Smith was Miss Opal Irene Love, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Love of Mount Airy, before her marriage Dec. 5 in Dobson. Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Smith. The couple will be at home in Westfield.

WILLIAM I. CHILTON

Mount Airy.—William Ira Chilton, 76, farmer of the Westfield section, died at the home of a son, Archie Chilton, Mount Airy, Route 2, at 4:30 a.m. yesterday.

He was born in Surry County, son of James and Sallie Pell Chilton.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at Albion Missionary Baptist Church, near the home, conducted by Rev. Clarence Jenkins. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Susie Vaughan Chilton; five sons, Alvin, Archie, Oliver, Howard, and Nathan Chilton, all of Mount Airy, Route 2; one daughter, Mrs. Elmer Stewart of Westfield; one brother, Jodie Chilton of Amelia, Va.; 23 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

The body will remain at Moody Funeral Home until this morning when it will be taken to the home of his son, Archie Chilton.

WESTFIELD VALEDICTORIAN—Miss Jean Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Payne of Westfield, is valedictorian for the graduating class of Westfield High School, having made an average of 98.7 per cent for her four high school years.

PLANE RESERVATION CLEARING-HOUSE — Miss Thelma Taylor, Piedmont Airlines reservationist, checks reservation charts on some of the hundreds of passengers that fle[w] on the local company's plan[es] yesterday. Reservat[ions] o her office by teletype from all ove[r] the count[ry].

Airline Reservations Office Often Busy and Hectic Place

By Tom Wood

"I want to fly to Tokyo. Can you tell me how I go about it?" the woman's voice said over the telephone.

"Yes, ma'm. We can make all the arrangements for you," Thelma Taylor answered from the other end of the line, in the reservations office at Piedmont Airlines' headquarters here. "But it will take a little while to get all the information. Suppose I call you back in about an hour," she added.

It was a little after 11 p.m. Miss Taylor was about to leave for the day when the Tokyo request came through.

She went to work on the request.

A Lot of Work

Check plane connections over the eight-thousand-mile trip . . . personal credentials the passenger would need . . . time changes through the West . . . seat reservations on the different planes she'd have to take . . . layover points and durations . . . hotel reservations . . . information on visas to stay in Japan for a visit . . . passport requirements.

Forty-five minutes later, she picked up the telephone and dialed the lady's number.

"Oh, is that right? O-o-o-o-h. That certainly is a lot of information. Wasn't that a lot of trouble? And just to go to Tokyo. W-e-e-llll. I've changed my mind about going. I'll just send my son a package. Thank you."

Click!

Miss Taylor mad? Uh-uh. She has done the same thing too many times.

If the woman had really wanted a reservation, Miss Taylor would have contacted several other airlines in the country, and perhaps a couple of foreign ones, to be sure that she got a seat all the way to Tokyo. This would have been done by teletype, which connects all of the country's airlines.

All-the-Way Ticket

A ticket would have been made out for the passenger in Piedmont's offices that would have taken her all the way to Japan. Piedmont would have taken her money for the whole t[rip] [allo]ted their part for tak- [to] Ohio, and ment for reservations at Eastern Air Line's Atlanta offices. She worked three years for Eastern.

Miss Taylor, Miss Maxine Redding and Mrs. Bill Hunter handle the day's two shifts in Piedmont's reservations office, which is open from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. This week, Shirley Redding, High Point golfer, will join the staff.

Other Airlines

At the Capital and Eastern stations here, more requests for foreign accommodations come through. Both stations reported they had about 50 such requests during the year past.

Much of the overseas travel from here is to South America. Eastern helps a few persons to go to Europe, and arrangements have been made to fly one group of Bowman Gray Schoo[l] of Medicine doctors to South Africa for study of tropical diseases.

Some requests—by war brides and American soldiers—come from the other end, in Europe, to the Eastern office.

"We have to keep up with international laws and requirements for travel in foreign countries. They're constantly being changed," said Jack Adams, Eastern manager here. "The current flu epidemic in England may mean that passengers will have to take flu shots before they land in England, for instance."

War Brings Drop

Capital arranges for flights to Mexico City, Honolulu and Europe.

"Our international reservations have dropped off since the war in Korea began," Jim Mummah, Capital manager, said "People are nervous about being caught in the Far East and in Europe, with the threat of war hanging over the world."

A lot of local tobacco men fly to Europe to check on brokerage outlets there and to act as foreign representatives for local companies. In addition, the airlines ship samples of local tobacco from here to Europe, for comparison with foreign types.

Before World War II, there was very little air travel to overseas points. Most travelers went by steamship.

HONORED — Miss Mary Lou Vaden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Vaden of Francisco, will be valedictorian at the commencement exercises at Nancy Reynolds High School, Stokes County, tonight. Other graduates are Paul Bowman, Rosco Boles, Betty Lou Durham, Carl Frye, Mary Jo Jackson, Doris Martin Cooke, Juanite Morefield, Herbert Nunn and Helen Venable.

CLARENCE L. WARREN

Westfield Gets Agriculture Teacher

(Special to the Journal-Sentinel)

Dobson.—Three teachers have been added to the agricultural staff of Surry County schools, including one to teach the first agricultural classes to be held at Westfield.

They are Clarence L. Warren, a Sampson County native, at Westfield; William H. Cochrane Jr. of Macon County, at White Plains; and James M. Wilburn of Person County, at Pilot Mountain.

A veteran of four years in the marine corps, two of them in the Pacific, Mr. Warren is an alumnus of N. C. State College and taught last year at Green Hope, Wake County.

Mr. Cochrane attended the University of California and graduated from State. Mr. W[illegible]urn is also a State alumnus.

MOUNT AIRY.—Mr. and Mrs. Aldie Hollingsworth of Westfield announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Nell, to Melvin E. Chilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Chilton of Pilot Mountain, on Oct. 14, at the home of E. Gettys Nunn in York, S. C.

The bride wore a suit of toast with brown accessories and a blouse of ice blue.

The bride is a graduate of Westfield High School. Mr. Chilton attended Pilot Mountain High School and is now employed by the Amos and Smith Hosiery Mill in Pilot Mountain.

BASKETBALL BEAUTY—Frances Shelor, top - notch Francisco forward, not only draws fans' attention with her fancy basketballing but also rates highly when beauty honors are handed out. She is rated as one of Stokes' best players, finishing her fourth year with Francisco and averaging better than 15 points per game with a variety of shots. She will lead her team into the Stokes tourney this week.

Called Biggest Improvement in 20 Years

He previously coached at Linwood High for 16 years and stated that the new rules are the biggest improvements made in girls' basketball in the past two decades.

C. L. Warren, Westfield High boys' and girls' coach, suggested that the rim of the basket be raised a foot and a half as another step in taking the game away from the tall girls.

Becky Tedder, 5-10 Westfield freshman, is probably the only team manager in the tournament that saw action yesterday. Becky is listed on the team roster as a manager, but she was used briefly as Westfield defeated Pine Hall, 20-15.

Glenn (Chief) Painter, former North State All-Conference fullback at High Point College and now coaching at Ramseur High of Randolph County said: "We like the new rules—it's the first time our girls have played them. They didn't have any practice with them before they got here. I think it speeds the game up and makes it more interesting for fans and players alike—the girls like it."

That makes it about unanimous.

Girls Have to Primp, Polish Before They Play Basketball

By WALT FRIEDENBERG

You can take a boy, toss him a basketball uniform, give him a few seconds to change his clothes, and you've got a basketball player.

But you take a girl, hand her a basketball uniform, give her a half-hour to change her clothes, and you're just getting started.

First she has to powder her nose.

Boys will be basketball players. Girls will be girls first—then basketball players.

The wail, sounded by Coach C. L. Warren of the Westfield, Davidson County, sextet, goes like this: "For heaven's sake, girls, this is a basketball tournament, not a beauty contest!"

The girls snap back: "Well, you just can't go out there looking awful!"

And they get their way.

Half-Hour Primping

Yesterday, out at the Hanes gym where the Journal and Sentinel's basketball marathon is taking place, the primping—they say—began in the girls' dressing room a half-hour before game time.

Twenty-five minutes later, Coach Warren was in the hall, sloshing around in his gloshes. He was pretty cool about it.

"They held up a number of games this year," he said matter-of-factly. "They wouldn't think of going out on the court without combing their hair. Faye (the last name is Stone) usually is the last one out."

Suddenly they came prancing out of the dressing room—a dozen of them—smoothing down their locks, tugging on their tights. They stood around nervously for a minute, then got started:

"How's my lipstick?"

"Tuck my blouse in in the back, will you?"

The coach squeezed in a word edgewise. "All you girls got knee-guards that want them?"

"Yeah, look at that," one of the girls complained, pointing to a skinned knee.

"That's nothing," another out-did her, "look at that black-and-blue mark."

The coach tried again. "Always remember to work the ball in close for a shot. Now this Pine Hall team. . ."

Polish Chipped Off

On the outer fringe of the circle one girl spread out a hand and whispered to a teammate, "That's what basketball will do to your fingernails. Polish all chipped off."

A husky-voiced buzzer sounded the end of a game. The Westfield girls, waiting in the wings, were ready to enter the next contest.

"Okay," ordered the coach, "let's get in there and beat 'em."

The girls lined up.

"Faye, let me have a bobby-pin, will you. . .?"

They filed into the gym.

Give credit where credit is due: They combined good looks with good basketball and won, 20-15.

Inman Scores 50 In Westfield Win

Westfield.—Bill Inman, stellar Westfield guard, set a new Surry County scoring record here Wednesday night as he poured in 50 points to lead his teammates to a 80-28 slaughter over Shoals.

The Westfield girls made it a twin victory by edging out a 24-22 decision over Shoals in the opening contest.

The girls' fracas was close all the way with the Westfield sextet moving out front with three minutes remaining. O. Jessups and Pruitt paced the winners with 11 points apiece.

S. F. Shelton, Farmer, Dies At Westfield

Mount Airy.—Sebron Franklin Shelton, 74, one of Surry County's leading farmers, died unexpectedly at his home in Westfield Friday night.

Funeral rites will be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at Westfield Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. Charlie Simmons, Rev. Everett Powers and Rev. Tom Cooke. Burial will be in the church cemetery. The body will lie in state at the church one hour prior to the funeral.

Survivors include his wife, the former Donie Cooke; three sons, Chester and Adam Shelton of Westfield, and Tom Shelton of Boynton Beach, Fla.; four daughters, Mrs. John Hunter of Westfield, Mrs. Ronald Christian of Miami, Fla., Mrs. Cladre Spauling of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Robert Smith of Oakland, Calif.; eight grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. A. Witherspoon and Mrs. Ellie Cooke, both of Mount Airy, Route 2.

The body will be taken to the residence of Mrs. Hunter from Moody Funeral Home at 2 p.m. today.

Miss Hauser, Mr. Badgett Are Married

(Redmon)

MRS. TOMMY J. BADGETT

Mount Airy.—In a double ring ceermony performed at 10 a.m., August 1, Miss Carolyn Claire Hauser, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar H. Hauser of Westfield, became the bride of Tommy Jackson Badgett, son of Mrs. James R. Lawrence of White Plains. The marriage took place at the Westfield Baptist Church with the bride's father officiating.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Tommy Payne, pianist, and Mrs. Lee Vinson, soloist.

Miss Ocho Lee Johnson, maid of honor, was the bride s only attendant. She wore a turquoise taffeta dress fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, peplum, and a full ballerina skirt. She wore matching mitts and headdress, and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin designed with a flowing ballerina length skirt, peplum, and close-fitted bodice with a sweetheart neckline. She wore a broad brim hat of white satin edged with a pleated satin ruffle and matching mitts. Her shoes were white satin opera pumps. The bride carried a bouquet of gardenias and her only ornament was a gold lavalier, handed down from her maternal grandfather.

Grady B. Badgett was his brother's best man. Ushers were James S. McCollum and William L. Holcomb.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Badgett left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. After August 7 they will reside in Mocksville.

featuring a marquisette yoke, with a lace edged bertha, fitted bodice and long sleeves. Rows of lace extended from the waist to the floor. Her finger tip veil of imported French illusion was caught to a satin tiara embossed with seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a purple-throated orchid. A double strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom, was her only ornament.

The couple will return to Appalachian State Teachers' College this Fall where Mr. Caskey will begin work on his Master's Degree.

Mrs. W. J. Kirkman, 68, Dies in Surry County

Mount Airy.—Mrs. Nancy Sutphin Kirkman, 68, wife of Walter J. Kirkman, died at her home in the Sheltontown community near here at 7 p.m. yesterday.

She is survived by the husband; two sons, Percy A. and Walter J. Kirkman Jr., both of Mount Airy; three daughters, Miss Colleen Kirkman of the home, Mrs. Roscoe Inman and Mrs. Tom Inman, Mount Airy; seven grandchildren; and one brother, Lige Sutphin of Washington, D. C.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Sheltontown Brethren Church with Rev. Norman Reid and Rev. Jim Belton officiating. Burial will be in the Kirkman family cemetery.

DAVID ANDERSON

Mount Airy.—David D. Anderson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anderson of Mount Airy, Route 2, died at 1 a.m. yesterday at a local hospital. Graveside services were held yesterday afternoon at Mount Herman Baptist Church cemetery.

Surviving are the parents; two sisters, Alene and Ruth Anderson, both of the home; and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson and Zeb Inman, all of Mount Airy, Route 2.

ROBERT F. INMAN

Mount Airy. Funeral services for Robert Frank Inman, 42, Mount Airy, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today in the chapel at Moody Funeral Home here by Rev. C. E. Otey, pastor of Haymore Memorial Baptist Church. Burial will be in Oakdale Cemetery.

Mr. Inman died Monday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Inman of the Oak Grove section here. He had been ill several months.

Mr. Inman was born in Surry County September 18, 1906.

He is survived by his parents; a brother, Vernon Inman of Tucson, Ariz., and a sister, Mrs. Rena Holshouser, Mount Airy.

PFC. R. C. COOK

R. C. Cook's Rites Set For Thursday

Pilot Mountain.—Funeral services for Private First Class Raymond C. Cook, 26, who was killed in action in France, will be conducted at 3 p.m. Thursday at Westfield Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. A. B. Powers, and Rev. Gilmer Denny.

Pfc. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel L. Cook of Pilot Mountain, Route 2, was killed on June 12, 1944, while serving with Company G, 22nd Infantry Regiment, Fourth Division, in Normandie, France. He entered service May 7, 1941, and was sent overseas in January, 1944.

The body arrived at Needham Funeral Home at 1:30 p.m. yesterday and will remain there until the funeral hour Thursday.

Members of Surry-Stokes Post 142, American Legion, at Pilot Mountain will have charge of the graveside military rites, led by Commander Raymond Boaz and Chaplain Carl Stark.

Survivors, in addition to the parents, include four brothers, Claude Cook of Mount Airy, Hoover, Paul and A. Q. Cook of Pilot Mountain, Route 2.

A Soldier's Last Letter

When the postman delivered a letter,
It filled her dear heart full of joy,
But she didn't know until she read
the inside,
It was the last one from her darling boy,
Dear mom, was the way that it started,
I miss you so much, it went on,
Mom, I didn't know that I loved you so,
But I'll prove it when this war is won,
I'm writing this down in a trench Mom,
Don't scold if it isn't so neat,
You know as you did, when I was a kid,
And came home with mud on my feet,
The Captain just gave us our orders,
And, Mom we will carry them through.
I'll finish this letter the first chance I get,
But now I must say I love you,
Then the mother's whole hands began to tremble,
She fought against tears in her eyes, But they came unasked, for there was no name,
And she knew that her darling had died,
That night as she knelt by her bedside,
She prayed the Lord above to hear her plea,
And protect all the sons that are fighting tonight,
And dear God, keep America free.

Branded Wherever I go

I received the litter you wrote dear,
In which you said you'd wait for me,
I'm asking you to please not wait dear.
If would only ruin your life I see.

Chorus

Please don't wait for me darling;
We could never be happy I know,
I'll always be an ex-convict and branded Wherever I go.

In three years my sentence is over,
Then gates, they will swing wide for me;
The warden, he'll say I'm a free man,
But my name will never be free.

May God bless you for your kindness you've stuck with me thru thick and thin.

I love you to much to disgrace you.
In closing God bless you again.

I love You A Thousand Ways.

I

I love you I'll prove it in days to come, I swear it's true darling you the only one, I think of you, the past & all our fun. I love you I'll prove in days to come.

II

You're my darling You're been true I should have been good to you,
You're the one thats in my heart while Ive apart
I'll be true I'll prove it again some body
I love you, I m my heart you always stay.
I've been so blue & lonesome all these days. I love you I prove it a thousand ways.

III. I'll be nice & sweet to you & no more will you be blue. I'll prove I love you every day in all kinds ways.
So Darling please wait & please wait.

Faded Love

As I look at the letter that you wrote to me. Its you that I am thinking of as I read the lines that to me were so sweet.
I remember our faded love.

Chorus

I'll miss you darling more and more every day as heaven would miss the stars above. With every heart beat I'd still think of you and remember our faded love

II I'd still think of you of the past and all the pleasure we had as I watch of the drone.
It was there in springtime that you said goodbye
I remember our faded love.

Tramp on the street

I Only a tramp was Lazurs sad fate, he who laid down at the rich man gate, he begged for the crumbs from the rich man to eat, he was only a tramp found dead on the street.

Cho He was some mother's darling,
he was some mother's son, once
he was fair, and once he was young, some mother rocked him her darling to sleep, but they left him to die like a tramp on the street.

II Jesus who died on Calvery's tree, shed his life's blood for you and for me, they peirced his sides, his hands, and his feet, but they left him to die like a tramp on the street.

III If Jesus should come and knock at your door, for a place to come in or bread from your store, would you welco-in or turn him away, then God would reward you on the great judge-ment day.

If He was Mary's own darling, was God's Chosen son, once
he was fair and once he was young, Mary she rocked him her darling to sleep, but they left him to die like a tramp
on the street.

Repeat Chor. He was some mother's darling,
he was some mother's son, once
he was fair and once he was
young, some mother rocked
him her darling to sleep, but they left him to die like a tramp on the street.

My Hearts cries for you

I If you're in Arizona I'll follow you, If you're in Minnesota I'll be there too, You'll have a million changes, to start a-new. Because my love is ind-less for you.

II The bloom has left the roses since you left me, The birds have left my window since you left me. I'm lonely as a sailboat that's lost at sea, I'm lonely as a human can be.

III An unimportant qurrel was what we had, We have to learn to live with the good and bad, together we were happy, apart we're sad, This loneliness is driveing me mad.

cho My heart cries for you sighs for you, dies for you, And my arms longs for you, Please come back to me,

Martin Primes Pilot Mountain for Tourney

PILOT MOUNTAIN. — Coach Pete Martin is priming his boys and girls for tournament time.

Right now Martin has both his teams near the top in the Surry County races, and they are showing no signs of folding in the stretch. Rather they are improving, apparently with every game, and should really be hard to oust from the free-for-all Surry classic which will be held the first week in March.

Since the State Board of Education squelched the girls' half of the Yadkin Valley Conference derby at Elkin, the Surry tourney figures as about tops in the Northwest as far as tournaments go.

The girls have a slightly better record than the boys. They are currently riding the crest of a nine-game winning streak. They have an over-all 13-1 record. Franklin is the only team to hold a victory over the P-M lassies. This defeat was administered on the Franklin court back before Christmas, 54-50. The team is hoping for revenge when Franklin comes here for a double-header Feb. 13.

Two factors distinguish this 1953 edition from other recent girls' teams representing this school. These are the better balance of the team as a whole, and the fine play of Virginia Jessup, who is the backbone of the offense and packs an average of 18 points per game. Coach Pete Martin says, "She is one of the best in the Northwest," and these sentiments are echoed by Coach Odell Neal who got some first hand knowledge of her ability when she led her mates in a victory over Neal's King girls, the only game they've lost this year.

The P-M offensive trio is rounded out by Vera Gammons, hook-shooting artist, and Betty Simmons. Gammons is the team's second high-scorer, and frequently is the leading scorer. She is also a good rebounder, and with Simmons, gives the team at least as good an offensive unit as there is in the Northwest.

Peggy Almond, a junior, and 10th graders Nancy Patton, Julie Simmons and Jean Latham are promising reserves.

The guards have shown steady improvement and will be able to hold their own with any offense in the county by tournament time. Rachel Joyce is the only senior in the starting lineup. Betty Jean Joyce, a junior, is one of the outstanding guards in this area. Joyce Welch, another junior, is the tallest girl on the team, six feet, and she always draws the assignment of stopping the opposition's biggest forward. Bonnie Cole is a dependable reserve that has started several games.

The boys' starting team that has brought most of the 10 victories show Bill Wilson, 6-5 in the pivot spot; Don Denny, 6-1 forward; Bud Inman, 6-2 forward or guard; Raymond Jessup, 5-10 guard, and Charles Hill, 6-1, forward. Hill often plays in the pivot position. Dick Shackleford and Billy Inman might well be considered first stringers for they start almost as frequently as the others. Doug Inman and Ray Collins are also steady reserves.

The strength of the team is in its balance. There are no individual stars. Several of the boys are good set shots, and several of them have the height to make their backboard play effective.

The offense has been paced by Bill Wilson, Don Denny, Raymond Jessup, and Charles Hill, while Bud Inman, Wilson, and Raymond Jessup have featured in the fine defensive play the team has shown.

The team has had good success with its deliberate, possession type of offense, and a rugged defense.

The team has won 11 and lost three. Teams that have won over the local boys are King, Dobson, and Mountain Park. Dobson has already been defeated in a return game, and Coach Pete Martin hopes to get revenge over the other two teams before the season is over.

Pilot is definitely considered a tough contender for Surry County and Yadkin Valley honors.

Four Teams Advance Into Semifinal

Fast Action Marks Play At Mt. Airy

MOUNT AIRY.—Franklin's top-seeded girls, with two star players seeing only part-time action because of the flu, fell by the wayside before a fighting Pilot Mountain girls' team in the quarter-finals of the annual Surry County tournament here last night.

A packed Reeves YMCA gymnasium crowd saw the fighting girls from Pilot Mountain top the county championship sextet from Franklin, 23-22, in a thriller.

Franklin boys moved into the semifinals with a 33-32 victory over Mountain Park on a 45-foot field goal by Jack Renegar in the final 10 seconds of play.

Flat Rock girls, rallying in the final four minutes, shaded a strong Lowgap six, 22-21, to enter the semifinals.

Flat Rock, county champions and top-seeded in the boys' division, defeated Copeland's Blue Birds, 44-34, in the night's final contest.

Four games tonight will complete the quarter-final play and set the stage for the semifinals Friday night.

Tonight's schedule follows:

6 p.m.—Dobson vs. Westfield (girls); 7—Mount Airy vs. White Plains (boys); 8—Beulah vs. Copeland (girls); 9—Beulah vs. Pilot Mountain (boys).

Pilot Mountain girls, with three brilliant guards working smoothly, halted Franklin's high-powered scoring attack and built up an early lead to win the opening game from the county champs.

B. and R. Joyce and Welch guarded closely against the champions.

V. Jessup, sharp-shooting forward, and Gammons, led the scoring attack for Pilot Mountain.

Carlene Tickle and Elmira Loflin, the two scoring sparks of Franklin all season, saw only limited action because of illness and this hampered the offensive play of the regular season winners.

The big thrill of the night came in Franklin's 33-32 victory over Mountain Park boys.

Trailing by one point with only 10 seconds on the clock, Renegar took a jump tip in mid-court, whirled and fired a field goal through the net to give Franklin the victory.

Max Hiatt paced the attack for Franklin boys while Tommy Cockerham played sensationally for Mountain Park.

Flat Rock and Lowgap girls played the third one-point decision of the night in the third game.

The teams were tied until late in the fourth period when Flat Rock gained a one-point lead to win the contest.

Brady was the big star for Flat Rock with 17 points. Tolliver led the way for Lowgap. The guards of both teams did outstanding work in this contest.

Flat Rock boys, regular season winners, put on a beautiful offensive show to defeat Copeland in the final game.

D. and C. Vaughn were the offensive stars for Flat Rock while Bledsoe dropped in 16 points for Copeland and did a swell job on the backboards.

Copeland took a 22-21 lead in the first half but Flat Rock spurted in the third period to take a commanding advantage in the play.

Wingate Trips Campbell Five Again in Kansas Cage Tourney

HUTCHINSON, KANSAS.—Looking much more like the Wingate team which won fourth place in 1951 National Tournament, Coach Danny Miller's Bulldogs rolled to easy 79 to 61 victory over Campbell College of Buie's Creek, N. C., in the first elimination game in the National Junior College Tourney.

Each of the Carolina entries had lost its opener. Wingate, however, is still in the running for a finish as high as fifth place.

Darrell Floyd, Bulldog forward, snared 25 points to go with 12 he hit against the Connors Aggies. His season total is now 968, believed highest ever compiled by a junior college player. O'Neil Weaver, center for last year's Tyler, Texas Apaches, National champions, held the previous high at 924 points for a season.

Wingate will play in first round loser's semi-finals game at 12:30 Thursday game between Graceland of Lamoni, Iowa, and Abraham Baldwin of Tifton, Ga.

The big thrill of the night came in Franklin's 33-32 victory over Mountain Park boys.

Trailing by one point with only 10 seconds on the clock, Renegar took a jump tip in mid-court, whirled and fired a field goal through the net to give Franklin the victory.

Max Hiatt paced the attack for Franklin boys while Tommy Cockerham played sensationally for Mountain Park.

Flat Rock and Lowgap girls played the third one-point decision of the night in the third game.

The teams were tied until late in the fourth period when Flat Rock gained a one-point lead to win the contest.

Brady was the big star for Flat Rock with 17 points. Tolliver led the way for Lowgap. The guards of both teams did outstanding work in this contest.

Flat Rock boys, regular season winners, put on a beautiful offensive show to defeat Copeland in the final game.

D. and C. Vaughn were the offensive stars for Flat Rock while Bledsoe dropped in 16 points for Copeland and did a swell job on the backboards.

Copeland took a 22-21 lead in the first half but Flat Rock spurted in the third period to take a commanding advantage in the play.

defeat, 57-53. Williston has a 15-2 record and West Charlotte a 13-6 mark.

The four winners of today's games will clash in the semifinals Friday night. The consolation and finals will be staged Saturday night.

Carver, fresh from a 39-36 triumph over Atkins earlier in the week, will be slight favorites against Kinston. The likely starting lineup for Carver will be Evon Watson and Cephus Montgomery, forwards; Jerry Saddler, 6-8, center; Steve Adams and Napeleon Cloud, guards.

Coach Sam Cary of Atkins said that he plans to start his usual lineup consisting of James Sligh, William Griffin, William Vance, Donald Young and B. T. Williams.

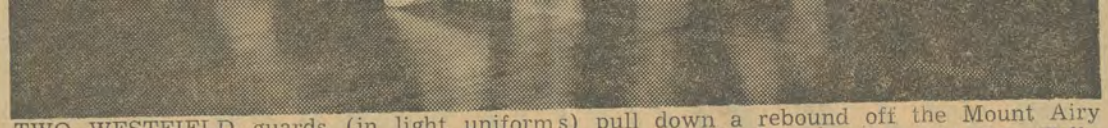

King Plays Alumni In Contest Friday

KING. — The twice-beaten King High School varsity boys team will meet the Alumni cagers in the feature game of a double-header at the King gymnasium Friday night.

In the preliminary contest, a picked club from the school's seventh and eighth grades will play the King's Lions Club at 7:30 p.m.

The King alumni team will feature Roy Lee Harris who is now playing with Hanes Hosiery in Winston-Salem.

The double-header is being sponsored by the King Lions Club.

Wingate Trips Campbell Five Again in Kansas Cage Tourney

HUTCHINSON, KANSAS.—Looking much more like the Wingate team which won fourth place in 1951 National Tournament, Coach Danny Miller's Bulldogs rolled to easy 79 to 61 victory over Campbell College of Buie's Creek, N. C., in the first elimination game in the National Junior College Tourney.

Each of the Carolina entries had lost its opener. Wingate, however, is still in the running for a finish as high as fifth place.

Darrell Floyd, Bulldog forward, snared 25 points to go with 12 he hit against the Connors Aggies. His season total is now 968, believed highest ever compiled by a junior college player. O'Neil Weaver, center for last year's Tyler, Texas Apaches, National champions, held the previous high at 924 points for a season.

The Bulldogs were passing and hitting much better than in their tourney opener. They led Campbell 24-17 at quarter and 46-29 at half. Thereafter there wasn't much doubt as to outcome. It was 65-42 going into final period.

Ron Percise, guard who potted 12 points, again starred for Campbell although Paul Davis, at forward, took scoring honors for team with 15. Coach Smith's Camels closed their season with 23-12 record and six of the losses were to Wingate.

Chipped Bone Operation Is Planned for Brecheen

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. (UP). —Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, last pitcher to win three games in a World Series, is suffering from a chipped bone in his left elbow and probably will require an operation if it is to be of any service to the St. Louis Cardinals this year.

The chip in the 37-year-old southpaw's salary wing was revealed yesterday by X-rays. His chances of ever pitching in the majors again are regarded as 50-50.

Photos by Allan Jessup

WESTFIELD HIGH'S quint is having a lean season on the hardwood, but it might be a different situation next year since the team is studded with underclassmen. The spirit and determination have marked the club this season. The players are (left to right), Alden Owens, Charles Owens, Oneil Owens, Bill Jessup, A. Q. Lewis, Frank Jones, Mack Tilley, Donald Riddle, and Frank Tilley. Captain John Griffith is in the foreground. Anslie Hooker was absent when the picture was made.

Westfield Cagers Building for Future

WESTFIELD. — The Westfield boys and girls have had a tough time this year, but, like the Brooklyn Dodgers, they say wait until next year. Both squads are loaded with young players who have one or more years of eligibility left.

Spirit has been more evident on the Westfield cage teams than ability. Both coaches have nice things to say about their charges' determination and team spirit.

The Westfield lassies won the Journal-Sentinel tournament in 1932, the first year girls were entered. The girls on the present squad hope to be around long enough to see some of the past glory restored to their school.

Teams Are Rebuilding

Next year could be the year. Only three girls are graduating from the present outfit which has been getting better as the season progresses. Coach Clarence L. Warren says that the nucleus of his team is a group of sophomores with a smattering of juniors and [illegible]n.

The best showing by Westfield this year was in the last game with Lowgap when they held the top rated team in Surry to a three-point victory. That was the closest game of the year for the Lowgap lassies.

Onell and Frances Jessup are co-captains of the present team. The rest of the squad includes Leota Johnson, Grace Martin, Barbara Cooke, Nancy Collins, Foy Moser, Dotty Lee Simmons, Fleta Mabe, Frances Draughon, Shirley Taylor and Bonnie Chilton.

John Cox has about the same story to tell about his team, with one exception. The Westfield boys have been plagued by injuries all season. Mack Tilley missed most of the games due to a broken arm. Ancil Owens, A. Q. Cooke and Frank Tilley have missed games with injuries.

Cox, also, will only lose three players from his squad, and has built the team around underclassmen. Many games lost this year would have been won if the five had been only slightly more experienced.

John H. Griffith is the team captain, and Anslie Hooker is co-captain. The remainder of the squad includes Alden Owens, Charles Owens, Ancil Owens, Bill Jessup, A. Q. Cooke, Frank Johnson, Mack Tilley, Donald Riddle and Frank Tilley.

Christmas Toy Shop Site Studied

The need for space to use as headquarters for the Christmas Toy Shop was discussed yesterday by the Christmas Cheer Committee at a meeting at Community Chest offices.

Nov. 12 was set as the date for opening the Toy Shop. This would allow a minimum amount of time to repair all the toys necessary for more than 3,000 needy children in Forsyth County.

Last year the Toy Shop was located at Fire Station No. 3 on North Liberty Street. For many years the headquarters were at the old West End School but recently the Toy Shop has depended on the kindness of property owners for floor space.

Reginald Marshall, chairman of the Christmas Cheer Committee, with Mrs. Calder Womble and Mrs. Charlie Frank Benbow Jr., co-chairmen of the Toy Shop, are supervising the hunt for Toy Shop headquarters.

Budget Reviewed

Mr. Marshall explained that to be eligible to receive toys from the Christmas Cheer Committee program, the children's needs must be certified by the case work agencies of the city. They include the Forsyth County Welfare Department, Family and Child Service Agency, Red Cross, Good Will Industries and Salvation Army.

The budget of the Christmas Cheer Committee which has been approved by the United Fund was pointed out that the Christmas pointde out that the Christmas Cheer Committee will not conduct a drive for funds in December as it usually does, since the budget will be included in the United Fund campaign this month.

Phases of the Christmas Cheer Committee work in addition to the Toy Shop were discussed at the meeting. Additional checks will be given to needy families at Christmas to assure each an adequate Christmas dinner.

The committee also made plans to continue its practice of having Salvation Army Christmas parties for various boy's clubs and other groups. Treats will be provided again this year for county institutions including the jails and county home.

JOE BILL COX

Stokes County Soldier Killed In Training

PILOT MOUNTAIN. — Private Joe Bill Cox of Pilot Mountain, Route 1, was killed Monday during a training session at the Anti-Aircraft Replacement Training Center at Fort Bliss, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Hattie Cox, the parents of Pvt. Cox, were notified of the fatal accident in a telegram received from the Department of Defense midnight Monday.

The announcement said that their son was killed when a hand grenade exploded during a training maneuver.

Pvt. Cox entered the Army only three months ago. He was graduated from Nancy Reynolds High School in June, 1950. Prior to his entering the armed forces Pvt. Cox was farming with his father in the Brown Mountain Community of Stokes County.

Two Youths Arrested On Charge of Rape

NIA (AP). — Two Lincoln- re arrested yesterday by county officers on warrants signed by a 19-year-old West Gastonia girl charging them with rape.

Deputies Jim Mattox and W. R. Hayes took John Robert Gardner, 27, and Robert Gene Hudson, 18, into custody at Lincolnton.

Officers said the girl told them she and a companion had been riding with the pair earlier in the evening and that they had let the other girl out but had refused to release her. She told police that both youths then proceeded to rape her.

A preliminary hearing before Magistrate D. B. Price is expected to be held within the next few days.

MRS. ROBERT K. FOWLER

Miss Dearmin Becomes Bride of Mr. Fowler

WESTFIELD.—Miss Melva Leigh Dearmin, daughter of Mrs. Samuel Pinkney Dearmin and the late Mr. Dearmin, became the bride of Robert Keith Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Fowler of King, yesterday afternoon in the Westfield Baptist Church.

The Rev. E. T. Sims performed the double ring ceremony. Miss Guilda Tuttle of Rural Hall, pianist, and Miss Brona Faye Morefield, cousin of the bride, soloist, presented a program of wedding music.

The bride wore a colonial gown of candlelight satin with a yoke outlined by a ruffle of Chantilly lace. The full gathered skirt had a bustle back with inserts of Chantilly lace and ended in a wide circular train. Her two-tier fingertip-length veil of illusion fell in points from a band of crushed illusion trimmed with pearls. Her bouquet was white and centered with a purple orchid.

Mrs. Wesley E. Collins of Jamestown, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an ankle-length gown of green velvet. Her headdress was of matching velvet and net and her bouquet was of bronze mums tied with a satin ribbon.

Mrs. Ernest Collins of Mount Airy, aunt of the groom, and Miss Eloise Frans of Mount Airy were bridesmaids. Mrs. Collins wore a red velvet gown and Miss Frans a dark green one, both made similar to that worn by the matron of honor.

Frank Fowler of Chapel Hill was his brother's best man. Ushers were Carlton Martin of San Francisco, nephew of the bride, and Harley Grey Cromer of Winston-Salem, uncle of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. The bride wore a costume suit of gray wool, with accessories of gray and black. Her corsage was an orchid.

Upon their return, they will be at home with the bride's mother.

Man-Picked Clothes Are Good Policy

NEW YORK. — "Never underestimate the power of a man to pick the right clothes for a woman," advises fashion designer Mollie Parnis.

Miss Parnis believes that the woman who fails to cultivate the interest and advice of the man in her life when it comes to her wardrobe, is missing a major bet in "mistake insurance."

"The average man—even when he claims to have no interest in clothes—has very good judgment and perception," says the designer. Miss Parnis thinks that a great many women are blinded by the dictates of fashion, that women follow fashion's edicts with docile obedience. "If that word 'obey' in the marriage lines were interpreted to mean buying what he approved, it might be better all around."

The man of our mid-century likes his woman provocative but not brazen, striking enough to turn heads, but not gaudy. He's not much for brassy junk jewelry, preferring it to look like real. He winces at too shiny, sleazy fabrics, stubby, teetering shoes, and cheap, ill-fitted stockings. And the reason full skirts, shirtwaist dresses and glamour bobs stay in style year after year is that they put a certain look in a certain man's eyes.

"But never forget," says Miss Parnis in final warning, "to a man, the most fashionable thing you can wear is a smile. He will never say: 'Are you going out in that thing?'"

TRIPLE WEDDING COULD HAVE RELATIVE MIX-UPS

Slightly mixed was the affair, but it was a sweet mixture, when three Surry County couples descended upon Yadkin County on Christmas Day to have a few knots tied.

After rousing Troy Davis, Yadkin County Register of Deeds, out long enough to get their licenses, the six people, three sisters, two brothers, and a son of one of the brothers, were married in old fashioned Quaker style by the Rev. Charles H. Hutchens of Union Grove in a single triple ceremony.

The three sisters were Frances Hill, 28, Mary Ruth Hill, 29, and Ellen Hill, 24. Grover Stanley, 23, married Frances. His brother, Fred Stanley, 38, married Mary Ruth, and Fred's son, Bobby Dean Stanley, 19, married Ellen. The three women are from Rockford, and the men are from Ararat.

Besides husband and wife, brothers-in-law, and sisters-in-law what the contracting parties in particular, and the public in general, are trying to figure out is the relationship existing among these people.

Grover Stanley, besides being brother-in-law to his nephew, Bobby Dean Stanley, is also his uncle, and if Bobby Dean and his wife, Ellen, have children, then Grover and wife will be uncle and aunt, and the great-uncle and great-aunt to these children at the same time. Now in the case of Bobby Dean's father and his wife, Mary Ruth, there is another peculiar relationship. Fred and son Bobby Dean are father and son, and brothers-in-law at the same time. Bobby Dean will be half-brother and uncle to any children born to the union of Fred and Mary Ruth. Children of both of these two latter couples will be first cousins, and uncles, aunts, nephews, and nieces at the same time, and to cap it all, Father Fred will be brother-in-law, uncle and grandpa all at the same time to Bobby Dean and his family.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By J. E. TREVATHAN
(Work Unit Conservationist)

Rufus Moseley of the Blue's Grove neighborhood north of Dobson started strip crop farming about five years ago. He is still following a three year rotation of corn followed with two years of grass and lespedeza arranged in alternating strips at terrace intervals and each of the corn strips cover only one terrace interval. Mr. Moseley says he likes this system of farming, which is quite effective in erosion control. Mr. Moseley also has one strip of alfalfa at the top of the field which is not included in the rotation.

Arlie Moseley has recently purchased six acres of land from Rufus Moseley to connect two tracts which he has purchased from Sanford Eads of the Blue's Grove neighborhood. Arlie plans to have a plan prepared on his farm under agreement with the Tri-Creek Soil Conservation District, so that he can the benefit of the services of the Soil Conservation Service.

Wes Nichols is fencing in a large area on the tract of land he purchased from the Brower Atkins estate. The fenced area includes several acres of Kudzu planted several years ago under direction of the Soil Conservation Service. It also includes several acres of pasture seeded last year by Mr. Nichols. This will be used for grazing beef cattle. Mr. Nichols says he plans to turn this over to his oldest son when from the Army. of the Union ulldozing
