TEN VACATION CAR-MANDMENTS

1. I shall not exceed safety speed limits or violate speed laws.
2. I shall not drive after drinking.
3. I shall not pass on curves, hills, or where the view is obstructed.
4. I shall not drive if drowsy or fatigued.
5. I shall dim my lights when other cars approach at night.
6. I shall observe and obey highway signs--the signs of life.
7. I shall slow down at schools, playgrounds, hospitals and other danger zones.
8. I shall be cautious at all intersections.
9. I shall slow down at sundown and whenever road conditions are unsafe.
10. I shall be courteous and respect the rights of every driver and pedestrian.

Maybe our children are spoiled rotten because we've given them everything we didn't have and forgotten to give them those things we did have.

To The Grandchildren

*O little ones your skies are bright
And the sun shines on your brow
As bright as the dreams which you may have
By all that meets you now*

*Your little hearts beat joyously on
You speak as freely as birds
Though broken sometimes in melody
By imperfect spoken words*

*But there's not a fountain gushing out
That ever can compare
To the gladness of your little hearts
When happiness is there*

*I would that you may ever be
As tender as you are now
And that time would never give to you
Its marks upon your brow*

*And that life would be all poetry
To a gentle measure set
And nought could change its melody
To bring to you regret*

*For in the passing of your years
Which God may grant to you
Your tender, innocent heart will find
That skies aren't always blue*

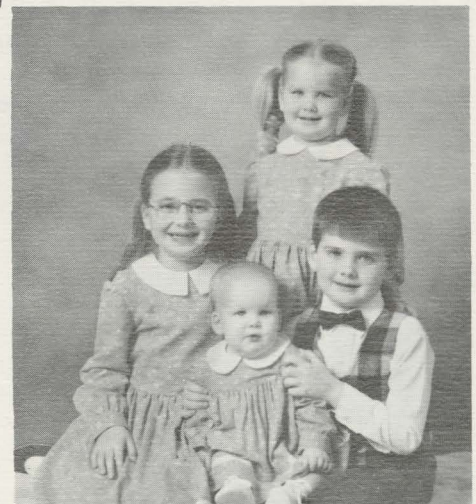

*I pray the waters of your life
Will ever taintless flow
And that you will never e'er forget
That silver stars still glow*

*For there will be days when clouds arise
And storms may suddenly appear
As dark clouds make your day like night
And cause your heart to fear*

*But remember child, I've prayed for you
Upon these waters deep
To the one who's pure and undefiled
That He your soul will keep*

*And if your life be filled with years
And sight of things grow dim
Remember someone has prayed for you
And has trusted you to Him*

This poem was written and dedicated by Jerry Gentry to his grandchildren.

Then And Now Guess Who

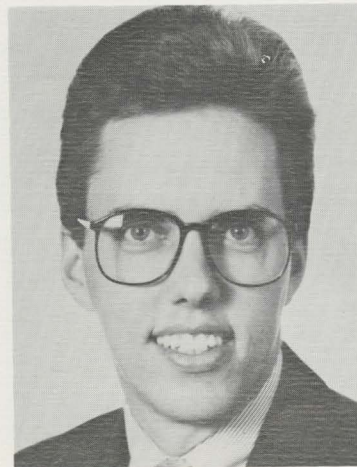

This innocent little five year old works in the Personnel Department.

Live your life each day as you would climb a mountain. An occasional glance toward the summit keeps the goal in mind, but many beautiful scenes are to be observed from each new vantage point. Climb slowly, steadily, enjoying each passing moment. The view from the summit will serve as a fitting climax for the journey.

Safety for picnickers

If you're the typical picnicker, you'll probably load up with deviled eggs, potato salad, ham or chicken salad sandwiches, creamed or scalloped dishes, cream-filled cakes and desserts. Take this food basket to a picnic and you're flirting with food poisoning.

The most common cause of food poisoning is staphylococcal bacteria. The staph germs are likely to occur in starchy foods and sweets such as potatoes, cream pies, and custards. Salmonella, another bacteria that can cause food poisoning, can be present in poultry, eggs, meat, potato salads, and other foods left out without refrigeration. Staph poisoning can hit in as short a time as two hours, and salmonella poisoning develops between seven and 72 hours.

To guard against food poisoning, follow these suggestions:

Be sure that all foods that need refrigeration are kept cold until eaten.

Wrap sandwiches snugly in waxed paper or aluminum foil (refrigerate the sandwiches overnight if possible), and pack them into the chilled insulated box immediately before leaving.

Do not serve hot creamed or scalloped dishes, especially those using milk, eggs, flour, or starch, unless they are made just before picnic time and kept hot until served.

Plan a menu of foods which are not likely to spoil: Peanut butter, jellies, canned meats, and other canned and sealed jars and bottles that can be opened just before using.

Fresh fruit, which should be washed before eating, can be used for dessert.

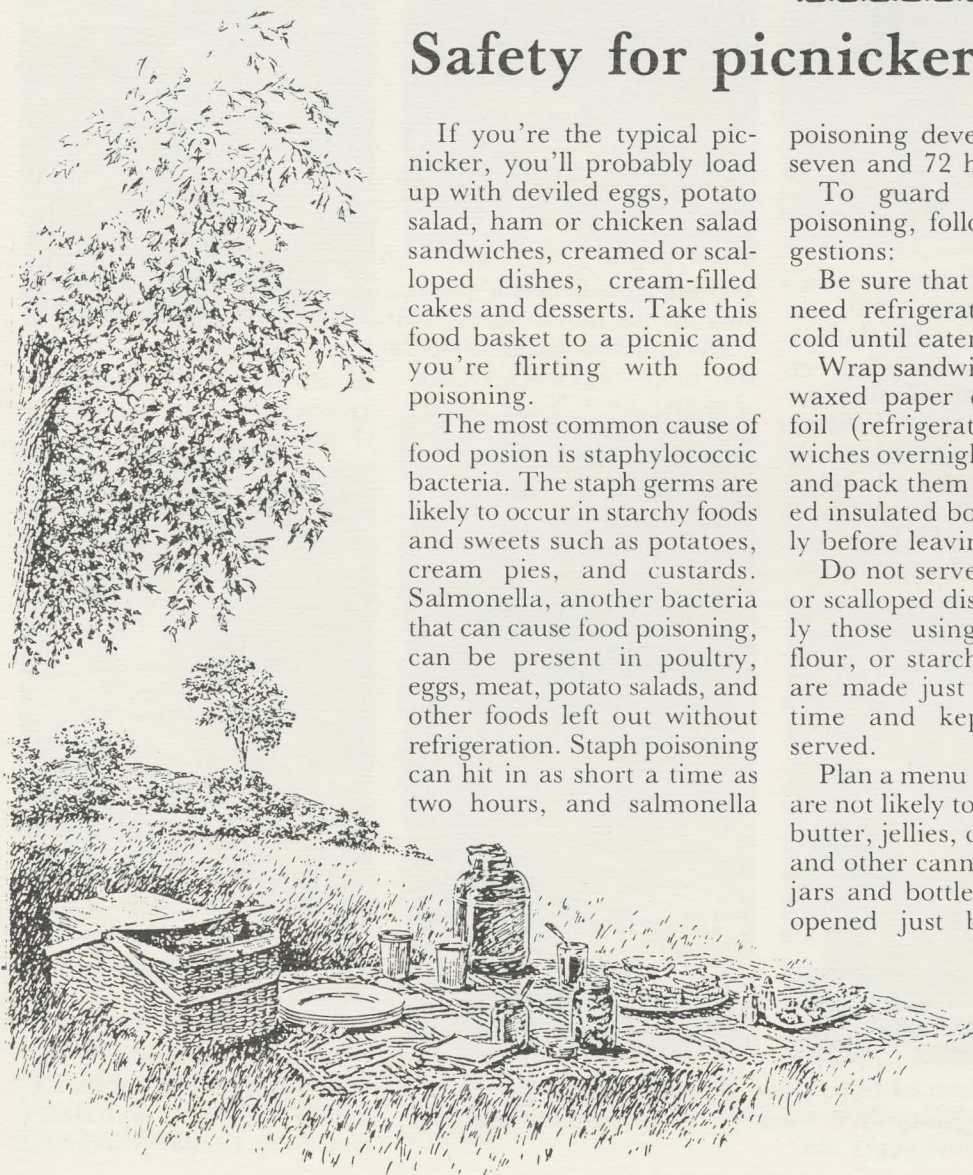

If you use ham, egg, chicken, or other meat salad sandwiches, don't make them in advance. Take along the bread and the mixture under refrigeration and make sandwiches at the picnic.

The humble-old-fashioned hot dog is one of the safest meats to take on any picnic. Its skin-tight individual casing discourages bacteria.

The cookout type of picnic is the safest. Foods are eaten as soon as they are cooked; there is no chance for food poisoning to develop.

Don't let anyone with sores, cuts or boils prepare the food; wash hands before handling the food; and protect it from flies and other contamination.

And enjoy your next picnic.

Bees fly thousands of miles to gather enough nectar to make a pound of honey — then some person comes along and robs it from them. Maybe that explains why bees have such lousy dispositions.

Be Prepared For Vacation Time

Summer is upon us and many employees are making plans for their vacations.

The best way to make this annual period of relaxation one of complete enjoyment is to include safety as a part of your vacation planning.

Listed below are a few tips on how to make your vacation safer:

- Schedule driving so you will have plenty of rest.
- Always carry something red in your car. This may be tied to the aerial if you're stalled and will readily signal your need for help.
- When driving, check your tire pressure in the morning

while the tires are cool.

•When in doubt, don't take it. Traveling is more fun when you travel light!

•Plan a basic color scheme of the clothes you'll need. Then you can mix and match.

•Try to select clothes that will do double duty: a bathrobe/beachrobe, slippers/beach sandals.

•Select wash-and-wear clothes whenever possible.

•Wrap medicine bottles in tissue to stop them from crashing against each other.

•Seal all stoppered bottles with waterproof tape and you'll avoid leakage.

•And if you must pack a soft spray bottle, squeeze it first to decrease the excess air inside.

•Do not swim alone or in darkness. Check depth of water carefully.

•When boating, avoid overloading, standing, or horseplay. Have enough life preservers in good condition.

•Guard against sunburn and over-exertion.

•After eating, rest at least an hour before exercising strenuously.

•Be careful of impure drinking water.

•Take comfortable shoes. Most vacations call for hours of walking. And don't try to crowd all your sightseeing in to one day.

•Be careful with smoking and all fires.

•When leaving camp, cover fire with sand or dirt to be sure it's out.

To further insure an enjoyable vacation don't forget to take a flashlight, extra car keys, first aid kit, road maps, sunglasses, flares, tools, rope, and safe driving habits.

A moment of carelessness can mean a lifetime of regret, so make your comeback in tip-top shape by planning your vacation for fun, rest, and safety.

Many people have finally realized that money can't buy happiness - now they're trying credit cards.

Chocolate Ice Cream

1 large can evaporated milk
1 package chocolate instant pudding
1 cup miniature marshmallows

Mix with blender or mixer. Add enough milk to fill gallon freezer.

Vanilla Ice Cream

3 or 4 cups sugar
6 eggs
1 quart Half & Half
3 or 4 Tablespoons vanilla
2 large cans evaporated milk

Mix together and finish filling with milk. Makes 5 quarts. (Is very rich and very good.)

Cold Wave. Hypothermia isn't just for winter any more. Jumping into cold water for a quick summer cooldown can be more shocking to the system than a cold northerly wind. Caution must be taken when swimming or even wading in cold streams or lakes. Always swim with a companion, keeping an eye out for signs such as shivering, slurred speech, mental confusion, drowsiness, and weakness. Fast action to get out of the water and into warm surroundings is imperative for recovery.

So long as we love; so long as we are loved by others, I would say that we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend.

How Does Your Garden Grow?

Have you found any vegetables like these in your garden? Some of our employees garden in a "big" way. Below are a few examples of the pride and care these people take of their vegetables.

Wow! What a garlic plant! Billy Carter is pictured above with some of the garlic plants he grew in his herb garden. This plant is called elephant foot garlic. Billy said that this size is extremely large for the plant. Raising an herb garden is Billy's hobby. He raises sage, dill, oregano, horseradish and mint.

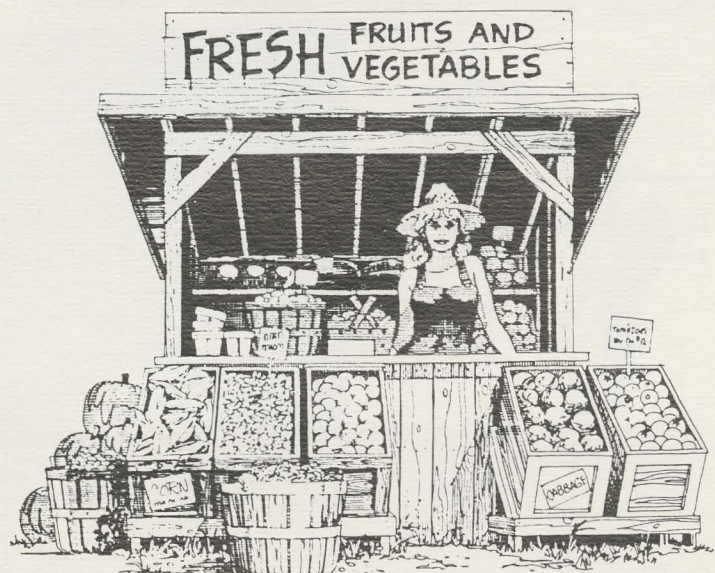

Roby Rose (Engineering) is pictured above with a nineteen pound cabbage plant he grew in his garden in the Benham Community. Roby said there were a dozen or more just like this one in his garden this year.

Adopt the pace of nature: her secret is patience.

Success

The father of success is work.
The mother of success is ambition.
The eldest son of success is common sense.
Other boys in the success family are perseverance, honesty, thoroughness, foresight, enthusiasm and cooperation.
The eldest daughter of success is character.
She has several sisters whose names are cheerfulness, loyalty, care, courtesy, economy, sincerity and harmony.
The baby in the success family is opportunity.
If you would meet the success family, get acquainted with the "old man" first and you won't have any trouble getting along with the rest of the family.
