Teresa, when you have time would you see if you can find a death record for Lizzie (?) or Jack Johnson that lived in the State Road area? Not sure of Lizzie's name and would like to know her maiden name. They might have a birth record but not sure. Thanks. Wilma urry airman dies in England

July 11, 2020 Jeffrey Linville News 3

Flags to fly at half-staff July 15-17

By Jeff Linville jlinville@mtairynews.com

DOBSON — Surry County government facilities will fly flags at half-staff for three days this week to honor the life of an Air Force staff sergeant and Surry County native who died recently while serving overseas.

Staff Sgt. Jeremiah Dakota Johnson, 28, passed away on June 27 in the United Kingdom while serving his country in the U.S. Air Force 100th Security Forces Squadron, Royal Air Force Base in Mildenhall, England.

Surry County officials are asking all local businesses to fly flags at half-staff, as well, July 15-17.

A native of Lowgap and the son of B.J. and Sandra Johnson, Staff Sgt. Johnson was a security forces airman assigned to a Royal Air Force base in Mildenhall, England.

"Jeremiah joined the Air Force in October of 2013 and was excited about his career and proud to serve his country, re-enlisting in January 2020," the family stated in his obituary.

"He was a Defender, Flight Leader and mentor, well liked by everyone that met him, touching lives in such positive ways. Jeremiah always greeted you with his contagious smile, expressing the kindness and friendship he was happy to share."

His decorations include two Air Force Achievement medals.

According to the Air Force times, he was found unresponsive at his off base residence. "Fellow airmen tried to resuscitate him, but to no avail," the report said.

"We are unsure of the cause of death at this time," based commander Col. Troy Pananon told the Air Force times.

According to the military publication, an Air Force spokesman said Staff Sgt. Johnson "was truly an amazing Airman, leader and friend to everyone he met." The Air Force also said Johnson was a "selfless servant and professional — great Defender. We will truly miss him."

Larry Johnson, chairman of the Surry County Board of Commissioners, said, "Our thoughts and prayers go out to his family and friends. May they always know that Surry County forever remembers and recognizes Staff Sgt. Johnson's protection of our freedoms."

Pilot Mountain Commissioner Donna Kiger posted on social media:

"A star has burned out. The US Air Force has lost a great leader. The world has lost a great friend. My sweet friends have lost the light of their life.

"The world is a much better place for having SSgt. Jeremiah Johnson in it, even for such a short time. He served his country big. He lived big. He loved big. And he smiled big.

"He will always hold a special place in my heart, and will forever be our Bull Frog.

"Please join me in keeping his Mama and Daddy in prayer that God's peace will surround them during this most devastating time.

"Peace and love to you Jeremiah."

Kiger said Johnson was a year behind her son Tyler in high school, then when her son was stationed in England, too, they lived just around the corner from each other.

His mother Sandy posted a memorial online at Moody Funeral Services.

"RIP my sweet, precious son. I will love you and grieve for you until I take my last breath. I am still your biggest fan and you were and still are the light of my life. The day you were placed in my arms was one of the happiest and proudest moments of my life. I will treasure all the memories made and hold on to those when the darkness tries to set in. I will miss you, your big beautiful smile, your huge heart, your love for life, your belly laughs, your kindness & thoughtfulness, everything that makes up who you are. Heaven is brighter since you arrived. I will see you again my love … You're the brightest star that shines. I love you. Momma"

The family says it will receive friends at Mount Airy Church of God this Thursday from 10 a.m. until noon. A graveside service will follow at 2 p.m. at Ivy Green Baptist Church Cemetery.

The family says that anyone who would like to pay their respects to SSgt. Johnson may do so at Moody Funeral Home on Wednesday from 3-5 p.m. In lieu of flowers, the family asks folks to make a donation to any veteran charity of their choice.

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am writing to request some information on births and deaths, and possibly the census.

I am trying to locate a birth or any sort of record for Mickey Ann Johnson (maiden name) born in 1868 in Mt. Airy, NC. The Register of Deeds was unable to locate anything and refered me to you.

Also her parents, John and Mary Johnson, may have been born and died in that same town; however, I have no roundabout dates on them. If you can find any record of them, I would be greatly appreciative.

If there are any other areas where you don't research that I can, for example churches, please let me know.

I thank you very much for your time and research.

Sincerely yours,

Jennifer Perry

Thank you for your letter dated May 17, 1996 regarding Mickey Ann Johnson. The only Mickey we could find in census records is in 1870 Surry Census, Franklin Township. A copy is enclosed. Mickey must be granddaughter of Kimbro Johnson. Mary, age 30, at home does not indicate if she is daughter of Kimbro, daughter-in-law of Kimbro, or if she is a widow. Do not know where her husband was in 1870. The age of Mickey would fit your Mickey being born in 1868. They were not found after 1870.

There are a lot of Johnsons in Surry County census records from 1850 through 1900. Several John's but could not fit your John as father of Mickey. Too many to copy. All books are available for sale. Information enclosed.

Are sending you some Johnson information found in our files that list several John Johnsons. A copy of a will in our files on Jeffrey Johnson dtd January 1789 listed a son John Simpson Johnson born 1803 and died 1872 and married Nancy Adeline Holbrook. They had a son John that never married per info enclosed. John W. Johnson was listed as son of Wright Johnson and wife Nancy in will dated Feb. 16, 1866. John T. Johnson listed as son of William Johnson in will dated Nov 14, 1867. John T. Johnson witnessed and proved will of Sallie Sparger Childress dated 4 Dec 1884. John T. witnessed and proved will of Solomon Tickle dated 6 Oct 1888. John T. (wife Margaret Phillips) witnessed will of Joseph Phillips.

There are so many Johnsons it is hard to determine your ancestors without more specific dates. Since there are so many Johnsons from Surry, it might be worthwhile to join our association and receive our quarterly journals and monthly newsletters. The yearly membership fee of $15 is well worth our 30 to 40 page journals you would receive. Information enclosed.

We suggest you send surname cards and a query for our journal. Information is enclosed. Any family charts are welcome also to be added to our file.

You might try requesting a copy of a will of Kimbro Johnson from Raleigh. It is possible he would have mentioned Mary and Mickey in his will and define their relationship. He was listed as being 88 years old and wife Quinther, age 80, in the Surry County 1880 census. There is no 1890 Surry census. Write Department of Cultural Resources, Div. of Archives and History, 109 E. Jones Street, Raleigh, NC 27601-2807.

Good luck with your research. We're sorry that we could not find more information at this time.

"The Mount Airy News"
May 30, 1980

By ELEANOR POWELL
News Woman's Editor

Bob and Margie Johnson are 90 years old, but their age doesn't keep them from have a cheerful outlook on life. Although they don't get around as well as they once did, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson manage to care for themselves at their White Plains home.

Margie will celebrate her [illegible] birthday [illegible] Bob will [illegible] Married for 61 years, they are a devoted couple.

Their cozy home is filled with a lot of love. Margie at one time, did quite a bit of handwork and she and Bob take great pride in a crocheted cloth she made for their antique dining room table. Intricate stitches indicate many, many hours of labor.

Outside their home, an array of lovely spring flowers are in bloom. This is another interest that they both share--the roses, peonies and rhodendron now in full bloom.

Up until four years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were active in community affairs. At that time he became ill and a year later Mrs. Johnson had to resort to using a walker after she became partially disabled.

As the two showed off their flowers on a sunny afternoon, Mrs. Johnson walked very slowly and carefully. Referring to her walker, she added with a bit of humor, "It's better to have six legs than two."

The Johnsons have a son and daughter-in-law, Robert and Polly Johnson, who live close by. And they are especially proud of their grandson, Lionel, a geologist working in Idaho. Lionel was named for Bob and Margie's other son, Lionel, who was killed while serving during World War II.

Staying busy with club work kept the couple busy for many years. Their interest was mainly in the American Legion and Auxiliary, and for years they attended their meetings and supported this organization. Mrs. Johnson proudly wears a Gold Star pin denoting her as a Gold Star Mother, an honor accorded the women who lost sons during the war.

Mr. Johnson served in World War I and spent almost a year in France. Two other brothers, Jim and Claude Johnson, were also in the armed forces at that time.

Returning home from the war, Bob sold wholesale produce and later operated Johnson's Cafe. Around [illegible] he and his wife bought a farm at White Plains and began raising tobacco. "We both worked hard," Johnson added. "I was in the field and Margie was at home cooking dinner for the helpers. Back in those days, we always had to have a big meal for them when lunch time rolled around."

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have many good memories of their life together. Today, they like to sit on their front porch and remember events from their past--afternoons with their friends, trips and families.

Their car sits in the driveway--unused. Mr. Johnson commented it has been parked ever since he got sick four years ago. He's unable to drive and they depend on the family and friends to carry them where they need to go.

Margie was one of six children and only has one living brother. Bob is more fortunate than most his age--he has four living brothers and sister and two half brothers. His brothers are Jim, Claude and Henry Johnson, and Della Leftwich is his only sister. The two half brothers live in Silver Spring, Md. Another brother, Albert, died some years ago.

For as long as they were able, Bob and Margie attended Central United Methodist Church each Sunday. Margie was a member there even before Bob joined the church in 1919.

Bob says they never watch television until around noon. He usually sees that meals are ready and his speciality is baking apple and pumpkin pies.

Asked what he attributes to his longevity, Johnson replied, "I believe in hard work. You must trust in God, and be yourself."

Bob and Margie Johnson, both 90 years old, take a walk in their flower garden.

Miss Alma Sparger

Now that I've reached this [illegible] other older citizens

Johnson celebrates 40 years on the job

Mondee Tilley
Staff Reporter

In this day and age, it's hard to find many people who have stayed with a company for more than a few years, much less someone who spent their entire career working at the same place. But for Dick Johnson, it's something to be proud of and while he has passed the 40-year milestone, he has no intentions of retiring anytime soon.

Johnson started work at Merritt Machine and Supply on Nov. 10, 1969. Today, the company is known as Merritt Supply, Inc. Johnson is the president of the company and works with his son, Brady, who is carrying on the family tradition as he is the third generation to work at Merritt.

Merritt Supply, Inc. sells electrical, plumbing and hand tools. The company was started in 1935 by O.K. Merritt, who is Robert Merritt's father.

Johnson, who became president in 1983, is the third president of the company.

The company has been at its present location at 1948 Rockford St. since March of 1960. It moved from what was known as the "square" of Mount Airy at the intersection of West Pine and South streets. He said the company was located where Neighbor's is today.

Johnson starting working at Merritt by way of his former father-in-law, Clinton Moseley. He got into management when there was a vacancy left by Renner Vaughn when he died suddenly.

"There are three divisions, the supply division and Renner managed that. Then there was a tractor, chain saw and lawn mower division, Clinton Moseley managed that and he was president of the entire company. Perry Robertson was vice president and managed the machine shop. When I came onboard, I didn't know a thing about the supply business. I'd been to college and done my service in the Navy. Then after the Navy, I came here. It was a learning curve, but everybody that I was involved with closely was helping teach me the business. They were good teachers and they taught me a great deal."

He remembered one of his former co-workers, Dan Perdue, the most.

"He knew a vast amount of things and knew everybody in town and everybody in town knew him. So he was an excellent tutor," Johnson said.

When Johnson started out at Merritt Supply, his job was to sweep the floor. From there, he moved up to work in the warehouse and started making deliveries.

"Like most small companies, everybody wears lots of hats. That's part of what makes it interesting here, you are not doing the same thing all day, every day," he said.

Remembering back to when he first started with the company, Johnson said, the business was a little more expansive.

"At the time when I came, we had the machine shop. We had the tractor and lawn mower division and the supply division and included in that supply division, we sold industrial gases — oxygen, acetylene, welding supplies."

He explained that in the early 1970s, the company needed to grow, so the owners decided to sell the tractor, lawn mower and chain saw division. In 1974, the company added a building behind the original building on Rockford Street, because the shop was growing and it needed more space.

In the summer of 1989, Merritt sold the welding supply business. At that time, Perry Robinson also announced that he wanted to retire. At the same time that Robinson announced his retirement, John Moseley, Clinton Moseley's son, said he was interested in buying the machine shop.

"So that meant in January of 1990, our name became Merritt Supply. And John's business, which is located on Snowhill Drive, and its name is Merritt Machine, Inc. So they still carry the name Merritt, but there's no financial relationship."

Dick Johnson points out some of the merchandise in the showroom of Merritt Supply, Inc. recently.

Mondee Tilley/The News

Dick Johnson sits as his desk recently as he reflects back over the past 40 years that he has worked at Merritt Supply, Inc.

He explained that businesses like Merritt are getting harder and harder to find.

"In our business, there aren't many small ones and two location businesses left in our type of business. Informally, I've been told that there are less than 20 of us left in the states of North and South Carolina. Sometimes being a small company tests our management skills. You have to be nimble, mentally and financially," he said.

Merritt Supply has 10 employees. And in addition to the Mount Airy location, there is also a Merritt Supply in Galax, Va.

While his 40-year anniversary was actually this past Wednesday, Johnson had a prior obligation, so the company will honor him on this Wednesday with a luncheon.

"People do not work for me. I work with people. I'm adamant about that."

Johnson said he made the decision to move to Mount Airy because it would be a good place to raise children and he would own a part of a business rather than just working for a larger business.

"My former wife and I had been traveling and we got a business opportunity. We lived outside the country for a year. We had the opportunity to go to work for a company in Atlanta, Ga., for National Cash Register, which is NCR. And our other opportunity was here. Sarah is from this area. She's from a small town and I'm from a small town, so we thought it would be better to raise a family here and own some of a small company, rather than none of a large company," Johnson said. "For me, that's been the right decision."

Johnson is originally from Ferdonia, a small town in upstate New York.

Johnson met his former wife, Sarah, while he was in the Navy and she was teaching school in Virginia Beach, Va. They have a daughter, Christine Casey, who lives in Huntersville with her husband, Pat, and two grandsons, Jack and Henry.

Johnson's son, Brady, started working at Merritt part-time when he was 12- or 13-years-old. That was 24 years ago.

"His mother, Sarah, works here. She's a co-owner," Johnson said. "Through Sarah's lineage, he is the third generation involved in the business. We have several customers who are second and some who are third-generation customers."

Brady and his wife, Julie, bought Mount Airy Saw and Mower three years ago. He is the vice president and operations manager of Merritt Supply and president of Mount Airy Saw and Mower.

Johnson said through the years, he has seen many changes. Probably the most jarring change was when most of Mount Airy's larger industries closed, the company saw sales drop 18 percent.

"Among the things that Brady and I talked about recently was that he marveled at the fact that we have been in business all these years without a fax machine. I told him that everything was done in long hand. And he asked, 'Well, how did you keep track of the inventory?' And I told him it was kept on a bunch of legal, yellow pads and a man by the name of Wilford Leftwich, who was our purchasing agent at the time, kept it all in his head. And at that time we probably carried 14,000 items. Today, we are carrying about 10,000 items."

Johnson said he has no thoughts of retirement. He said working keeps him young.

"But I think it's a privilege to work and having an occupation that you enjoy, which I do, gives you a sense of self-worth, some pride. It also keeps me in contact with people. Plus, I don't know what I'd do if I retired. I'd rather wear out than rust out.

"Part of the pleasure and privilege of coming to work is the people I work with. It's fun to walk in here in the morning," Johnson said.

Through the years, Johnson has been active in the Greater Mount Airy Chamber of Commerce, and he has been in the Mount Airy Rotary Club since 1975. He has served as president of that club twice. He also has been involved with the United Fund in years past.

He is now active in the UDT-SEAL Association. He said it is a membership benefit organization for Navy frogmen and SEALS. He is on the board of directors with that organization and has been for the past 12 years. He is also on the board of directors of the Naval Special Warfare Foundation. He said that is a philanthropic organization that helps families of active-duty SEALS who were killed in combat or in training.

He loves to scuba dive and goes on a trip once a year.

"I like to go where the water's warm," he said.

He also stays physically fit by working out at Reeves Community Center on Nautilus equipment three times a week. He walks four miles, three to four times a week.

"I can have an extra scoop of ice cream whenever I want and not have to worry about my waist," he said.

He also enjoys going horseback riding. He said his friend, Carol Burke, introduced him to it six years ago.

"She's got two rules about horseback riding. Saddle your own horse and don't fall off."

Sarah Adams was the daughter of William and Susannah Martin Adams who moved to North Carolina from Chester County, Pennsylvania.

WILLIAM JOHNSON

William Johnson was the oldest (known) son of Stephen Johnson and Martha Wetherald. He was born in 1767, but the place of his birth has not yet been proven. The first record mentioning him was ca 1787, when his father took out a land grant in Chatham County, North Carolina, and he was listed as the chain bearer.

In 1793 he was married, in Surry County, North Carolina to Sarah Adams, daughter of William and Susanna(Martin) Adams. Then in 1802, he, together with his brothers Samuel and Stephen, sold 150 acres of land in Chatham County, which they had heired from their father Stephen Johnson, deceased.

He apparently lived in Surry County until about 1811, when he removed from there to Wayne County, Indiana, where he resided until his death in 1830. His wife was a Quaker, but she was disowned from the Deep Creek Monthly Meeting because she and William were married out of unity. Later she condonned her misconduct and was reinstated. William Johnson was received at Deep River Monthly Meeting 6-2mo-1792 from Cane Creek Monthly Meeting, but on 4-1mo-1794, he too was disowned for his marriage out of unity. He does not appear any more in the Quaker records of North Carolina. In 1812 Sarah was received at Whitewater Meeting in Wayne County on a certificate from Deep Creek M. M., North Carolina.

William Johnson built the first grist mill in Green Township, Wayne County, about 1818, where the present mill in Williamsburg stands. The power was furnished by Green's Fork. (History of Wayne County, 1872, page 225)

The town of Williamsburg, Indiana, was laid out by William Johnson, proprietor; John Frazer, surveyor, March 16, 1830; and recorded March 23, 1830. The town was the only community in Green Township in north central Wayne County, and was named for William Johnson, Proprietor. (History of Wayne Co.)

William Johnson died August 1, 1830, just a few months after he had platted and laid out the town of Williamsburg. Sarah Johnson outlived her husband many years, dying March 13, 1862. Both William and Sarah are buried in the New Garden Quaker Cemetery, near Fountain City, Indiana. Since they are both buried in the Quaker Cemetery, William must have been reinstated in the church sometime after 1794, but no record of his reinstatement has been found.

STEPHEN JOHNSON

The first proven ancestor of our Johnson family found in America was STEPHEN JOHNSON. However, to date(1969) no official proof has been found of his parentage, place and date of his birth or marriage, or the number of his children.

However, one family record says that Stephen Johnson married Martha Wethereld, daughter of William Wethereld and Sarah(Deale) Dale. Then a deed found in Chatham Deed Book F, page 152, Land Grant No. 1013, proves that Stephen Johnson took out a land grant for 150 acres on the waters of Cane Creek, Chatham County, North Carolina in 1787. However, he must have died between 1787 and 1790, as the 1790 Census for Chatham County lists Martha Johnson as the head of the household, with three males, one over 16, and two under 16. No daughters are listed in her family. Then in December of 1802, a deed found in Deed Book N, Chatham County, proves that William, Samuel and Stephen Johnson sold 150 acres of land, a tract granted to them by HEIRSHIP from Stephen Johnson, deceased. In this latter deed Stephen Johnson is listed as being of Greene County, Tennessee, and William and Samuel as being of Surry County, North Carolina.

The Encyclopedia of American Quaker Genealogy, by Hinshaw, Volume I, Deep Creek Monthly Meeting, Surry (now Yadkin) County, North Carolina, states that on 10-10mo-1799 -- Martha Johnson, daughter of William and Sarah Wethereld, married Archelius Stanley.

Deed Book H, page 328, Surry County, North Carolina, shows that Martha Johnson sold to her son, Samuel Johnson, 150 acres of land which she had purchased November 5, 1794, from one _____Pettijohn. This sale was the day before her marriage to Archelius Stanley. Archelius Stanley died ca 1807, but no further record has been found of Martha Johnson Stanley.

William Johnson, son of Stephen and Martha Johnson married in 1793, in Surry County, North Carolina, Sarah Adams, daughter of William and Susanna (Martin) Adams. He lived in Surry County until ca 1811, when he removed to Wayne County, Indiana, where he lived until his death in 1830. Many of his descendants are to be found in Indiana and Illinois.

Stephen and Martha Johnson had three sons, namely:

William Johnson	born 1767	Our Ancestor

"What's in Your Name"

JOHNSON

It should not be necessary to explain that all persons named Johnson are not necessarily related to one another. In fact, their ancestors may easily come from widely separated areas of Europe for the name is found both in the British Isles and in Scandinavia. It is also found under such variant spellings as Jonson, Johnsen, Johanson, and Johannsen, to mention but a few. What the various Johnsons do have in common, however, is the fact that some prominent ancestor in their family history bore the personal name John (a Hebrew name meaning "Gift from Jehovah"). How many different individuals named John were responsible for the great number of Johnsons would be impossible to calculate.

Johnson, a patronymic surname, was first used to identify an individual as "John's son". A designation of this sort, however, was not, at first, hereditary. Usually it changed with each succeeding generation. Until only recently, such changes were still quite common in Wales and in the Scandinavian countries. In such instances, for example, John's son, Robert was known as Robert Johnson; his grandson, William, however, was called William Robertson; while his great-grandson, Richard, was identified as Richard Williamson. Eventually one of these designations became permanent and was retained by succeeding generations as the family name.

Dr. Samuel Johnson was noted for his great literary achievements and the compilation of his English dictionary. The life of Samuel Johnson by James Boswell is a masterpiece of biography.

In the United Sates the name can be traced back at least as far as 1630 when Captain Edward Johnson was a resident of Boston. Two Johnsons have served as President of the United States: Andrew Johnson, the 17th President, and Lyndon Johnson, the 36th. Both first served as Vice-President and succeeded to the presidency upon the assassination of their predecessors.

In the sports world, Byron "Ban" Johnson organized the American League in baseball and inaugurated the annual World Series competition.

Dear Lorna:

I am researching my ancestors from Surry Co. Nc from about 1800-1848 at which time they left Surry Co. and went to Muray Co. Ga. (Dalton area)

Since JOHNSON is the name your are researching and that is the family I'm researching I thought I might ask you if you by chance had any ancestors in the area by the name JOHNSON during that time period.

All I know at this point is that my GG grandfather was named "Kinney" Johnson b.@ 1800 Surry Co. and his wife was Sarah ??????.b. @ 1805. They had about 10 children and some of their names were Albert O. b. 1844 Surry Co.(my G grandfather); Hardy P.(the oldest so I suspect that Sarah's maiden name may have been HARDY); Evan; Margaret,Talitha.

I've also been told that some of the JOHNSON kin moved on to Ducktown, Polk Co. TN. My grandfather and my father lived there at one time around 1905-09.

If this makes any sense to you or if you know of other JOHNSONS in the area that may be kin to this family would you please let me know and have them contact me also.I belonged to the Surry Co. Gen. Soc. and placed queries in the newletter but got no replies.

I've been given leads that maybe a SAMPSON JOHNSON or a JOHN JOHNSON may have been Kinney's father but I can make any connection. I did find Kinney, Calvin, Kimbro and Charles Johnson living near each other in the 1835 tithable for Surry Co. but could not connect them.

Thanks in advance for any assistance you can give me.

Dear Madam:

I would like to contact anyone doing research on the PAYNE family. I found a GEDCOM file on the Internet. The file lists her father as LEVI PAYNE. I am trying to prove this direction for my family tree. I have a copy of the death certificate for MARTHA ELIZABETH (PAYNE) JOHNSON. She was my wife's grandmother. I am searching for documented proof of her parents, brothers, and sisters.

Enclosed is all the data on MARTHA ELIZABETH PAYNE. I have included a SASE for your use.

Sincerely,
William E. Coll, JR.

Thank you for your letter dated January 22, 1998 regarding the Payne family and the Family Group Sheet for Martha Elizabeth Payne. We will place it in our file at Surry Community College.

A list of researchers of the Payne family is enclosed. We looked further in our files and books but could not find information on the Levi Payne family that might list Martha as a daughter.

We are sorry that we were not able to locate any information on this family.

If we can be of further help in the future please write us again.

JOHNSON, Gilmer

(MOUNT AIRY TIMES - Fri., July 10, 1936)

Surry Youth Is Fatally Injured By Falling Tree

Gilmer Johnson, 16, Suffers Crushed Skull As Big Tree Drags Down Smaller Pine—Entire Top Strikes Lad.

RITE AT BLACKWATER

Gilmer Johnson, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Johnson of the Blackwater community ten miles south of this city, was fatally injured about 7 a. m. Saturday when a tree was literally "thrown at him."

The boy was standing nearby, but well out of the way, according to reports, when a large tree, cut for stave timber, started to fall. The tree, on its plunge toward the ground struck a smaller pine, bent the little one almost double under its weight and cracked it at the top.

As the larger forest giant slid off the small tree, the little one rebounded, slinging its top completely off and straight toward the youth standing on the other side. The entire lap of the tree struck the boy, one large bough crushing his skull. He was rushed to the Martin Memorial hospital here but never recovered consciousness and died about two hours later.

Funeral services were held at Blackwater church Sunday afternoon. Rev. T. W. Bryant, of Ararat, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by Mrs. Lottie Robertson, of White Plains.

The youth is survived by his parents, four sisters, Vina, Thelma and Mary Lou Johnson and Mrs. Glenn Sawyers, and by one brother, Claude Johnson, all of the Blackwater section.

Notes

Hardy enlisted in the Civil War May 1862 (30 yrs old) into Co. "F" 3rd Regt. Conf. Cav. of the Ga. Vol. and was wounded and captured at Gettysburg on 5 July 1863. He laid upon the battlefield for two days before he was captured. He was taken to hospital, treated and paroled at DeCamp General Hospital at Davids Island, NY in sept. 1863.He was eventually exchanged at City Point, Va. On his way back he re-enlisted in Co."A" 3rd Regt. Conf. Inf. of the Ga. Vol. CSA. He fought at Cold Harbor on 1 June 1864 and was wounded again and captured. A bullet passed through both hips narrowly missing his spinal cord but severing a blood vessel and nerves in his right hip and leg, leaving him without use of his right leg. He was at Appomattox at the time of the surrender on 9 April 1865.

A family history tells that in early 1889 he rode a mule to Atlanta to file for a claim for his pension and on the way back the weather turned very bad. He caught pneumonia and after arriving home, he died. He was buried next to his wife, Martha who preceeded him in death by 7 years. A military headstone was dedicated to him on 1 April 1995 New Prospect Baptist Church Cem., Murray Co., Ga.

1870 Murray Co. Ga. census dated 25 June 1870 shows: House #166,family# 166, p.#22.Occupation: Farm manager (It did not show a Rosey Johnson living with him.)

Mount Airy Woman Marks 100 Years

By ELEANOR POWELL

Staff Writer

Frances Johnson was born on March 25, 1900, and during her 100 years this energetic, fun-loving lady has covered a lot of ground.

Her church, the First Baptist, honored her on March 19 as their oldest member. Up until recent years, the centenarian was a faithful member singing in the choir, serving as president of the Women's Missionary Union and heading the Primary Department.

And in the community, she has been well-known for her contributions to her garden club, the Mountain View Gardeners, and the Order of the Eastern Star Chapter No. 18.

A charter member of the garden club, she served as president in 1952-53 and again 1971-72. She also held other offices and was instrumental in helping organize another garden club, the Modern Gardeners, in 1956.

She is a past matron of the Mount Airy Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star No. 18 and past Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of the North Carolina Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Johnson was born to S.A. and Ada Coble Hennis and grew up with two brothers, Sam Hennis and the late Hugh Hennis, and two sisters, Lily Bondurant and the late Verona Wall.

She was married on Dec. 31, 1918, to Claude Johnson, a prominent business man who owned Mount Airy Produce Exchange. They had one daughter, Eva, who is married to Walter Page Jr., and resides in Columbus, Ohio. There are two grandchildren, Frances Page Porter of LaCanada, Calif., and Walter S. Page II of Hermosa, Calif. And there are two great-grandchildren, Stevan Porter Jr., a student at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and Charles Johnson Porter of California.

Reflecting on her past, Mrs. Johnson recalled that after finishing Mount Airy High School she took early employment as one of the first women hired by Belk's Department Store (now Belk of Mayberry Mall.) It was during that time that she created a wonderful relationship with some of her dearest friends, Nell Cox, Ethel Doss, Sudie Lee Welch and Cora Shackelford.

Later, she worked for a well-known doctor in Mount Airy, Dr. Thomas Worrell. He later retired and Dr. R.M. Caldwell took over his practice. She continued to work for him until they both retired.

During the past weekend Mrs. Johnson was entertained with a birthday luncheon hosted by members of her garden club and another event on Sunday afternoon at the Masonic Temple with members of the Eastern Star as hosts.

Hundreds of friends attended the events to pay tribute to an outstanding citizen.

Ann Bolen, a garden club hostess, said of Mrs. Johnson, "She has shown all her life, her love of God through her love of people and the beauty of His world."

JOHNSON JOURNEYS

The whereabouts of Thomas Johnson Sr. and his family before they arrived in Pike Co. Ky. in 1816 has been somewhat of a mystery. Recently there have been several documents that I have obtained, which include various deeds and grants, that have cleared the picture considerably. While it is still unknown exactly where Thomas and Sarah Johnson lived in North Carolina, we are certain that it was in Rowan County. It is the time period following their move from North Carolina that I will now follow.

Well-known music host Johnson dies

Tom Joyce
Staff Reporter

To area music fans, Clyde Johnson's voice has been a familiar part of Saturday mornings for the last 44 years. Today that voice is silenced.

Johnson, the longtime host of the Saturday Merry-Go-Round show heard on Mount Airy radio station WPAQ, died Friday morning after suffering a massive heart attack at his home in Cana, Va. His death came less that a week after he performed at a special tribute concert featuring his bluegrass band and the Easter Brothers at the Downtown Cinema Theater.

On Friday, Clyde Johnson was remembered as more than a genial host and a fine musician, but also a beloved gentleman who was a friend to all.

"He just had a unique way of being a host," said Kelly Epperson, station manager and second-generation owner of WPAQ, who said that Johnson was like a member of his family. "He was just so well-accepted. Everybody loved Clyde."

Even though he is known for his host's role on the weekly Merry-Go-Round program broadcast live each Saturday, Johnson was a highly regarded guitar player and vocalist in his own right. He became a musical icon in this area through performances with an earlier band of his, the String Dusters, and was a versatile musician equally comfortable with the bluegrass, old-time or country genres.

Patrick Golding/The News

Clyde Johnson, a longtime local radio host and bluegrass musician, died Friday morning from a heart attack.

"Clyde could have gone places," Epperson said.

However, he seemed to find his niche in a grass roots role that helped the music of the Blue Ridge Mountains become famous around the world. "He lived the music,' the WPAQ official said. In addition to his work with the radio station, Johnson was the emcee for the annual Mount Airy Fiddlers Convention.

Johnson took over as Merry-Go-Round host from "Uncle" Joe Johnson in the early 1960s. "Uncle Joe was a legend and Clyde became a legend," Epperson said.

The show began in 1948, the same year WPAQ was launched by Epperson's late father Ralph, and featured local talent as well as touring groups. Johnson's consistent presence helped the Merry-Go-Round become the third-longest-running radio show in America featuring live bluegrass music.

Over the years, Johnson rarely missed a day of leading the program, according to Epperson.

"With Clyde being there every Saturday, it's just hard to imagine he's not going to be there," the station manager said. "And I don't know who can fill his shoes."

Associates say Johnson's best attribute as a radio host, and also as a person, was his ability to make others feel comfortable. Whether for a nervous musician performing for the first time on-stage or the listeners at home, Johnson's deep, soothing voice and unruffled demeanor provided a calming influence. And though he was considered a major figure in area music history, he always related well to other performers and had a reputation for showing respect to all regardless of their skill level.

"I think he made everyone feel at ease," said Epperson. "He was pleasant in every way."

Brent Carrick, a part-time DJ at the station who helped organize last Saturday's tribute concert, said he will always remember how Johnson would remark at the end of an especially good performance, "Mighty fine. Mighty fine."

Johnson also was known for ending each Merry-Go-Round edition with a farewell to the audience and his trademark line: "Don't worry too awful much about anything, because everything won't be all right no how."

"We are grateful that we had the opportunity to have that show (last weekend) with Clyde Johnson and the Easter Brothers, especially now that Clyde passed away unexpectedly," said Carrick. "He's going to certainly be missed."

"He had a long and wonderful career. Clyde made a lot of friends over the years."

WPAQ was still planning to go on with today's Merry-Go-Round show as scheduled, despite a loss that has deeply saddened the local musical community. "We're trying to line up someone to fill in tomorrow," Epperson said Friday, with the list of possibilities for replacement hosts including former employees of the station. He said that WPAQ "definitely" plans some special tribute in honor of Johnson.

Despite his untimely death, those who recalled his legacy Friday say Clyde Johnson's legend as a musician, and more importantly as a gentleman, will live on.

"I can see his smile right now," said Epperson.

HISTORY OF JEFFREY JOHNSON

So far as I am able to ascertain, Jeffrey Johnson lived in what is now Wilkes County, about seven and one-half miles ~~west~~ EAST of North Wilkesboro on the Yadkin River, and about one and one-half miles west of Roaring River. The old home is, as now located, known as the old Nathan Ward place. An old house built by Nathan Ward about one hundred years ago, stands on the spot. About two hundred yards south and a little west of the house is an old family burying ground in which I believe he and his family are buried. The only marked grave is that of one Walker, and this was Jeffrey Johnson's wife's name, Rachel Walker. The eldest native of these parts living near, a Mr. Warren, said this family burying ground was there before any cemeteries were established and that his grandfather was about the last buried there. Walker's grave bears the date 1848. I visited the spot with the only living great-grandson of Jeffrey Johnson, Mr. R. N. Johnson, who is now seventy-seven years old, and a great-great-grandson, Wm. Johnson, both of whom were born and raised in Wilkes Co. and are familiar with history of the Johnson family. We could not varify anything definitely however. No one was able to tell me whether Jeffrey Johnson had parents or brothers and sisters with him when living in Wilkes County, North Carolina.

In an effort to verify the above record and investigate still further back, I went to the old land records of Surry County, N. C. and Rowan County, N. C., as the records of Wilkes Co. were too recent. I found recorded at Dobson, present county seat of Surry, where Jeffrey Johnson was given two grants of land. One was for 160 acres in Surry County - location (except bounderies) not given. The other was for 200 acres and described as located south of the Yadkin River which is very indefinit. Date of grant was 1771. Both grants were on the same page of book "C", pages 267-268 which indicates they were made at the same time. The location of the 200 acres on the south side of the Yadkin River, however, is contradictory to our present location of the old homesite which is on the north side. It, however, might be an error of copy made in registering. Description of boundaries are by creeks, rocks, trees, and sometimes by the adjoining line. It is practically impossible to anything by such description unless by a native well familiar with the locality. A more thorough search through other records of the court house might disclose further evidence.

There is no other mention of Jeffrey Johnson in the Surry County records except one of 1803 which gives account of the selling of the 160 acres grant by heirs of Jeffrey Johnson. Those heirs are mentioned as the following: Tabitha Johnson, William Johnson, Wiley Johnson, and John Allen and Reuben Wheeler. Capt. Samuel Johnson's name is not mentioned but he might not have shared in this particular land deal. I am of the opinion that the above are sisters and brothers and brother-in-law of Samuel Johnson. Strangely enough, the name of Jeffery Johnson also appears among the names of the heirs, but with a cross mark. Since the record of this land deal begins with the words "Heirs of Jeffery Johnson deceased", perhaps the signature was made for him as technicality of law or he may have had a son named Jeffrey Johnson which is a very plausible possibility. There is no other record of Jeffrey Johnson's sons and daughters anywhere that I know of, though some of the other descendants have told me they understood he had several. Above sale was made to one William Bills.

According to Mr. J. S. Forrester of Keysville, Va. (one of the descendants of Capt. Samuel Johnson, son of Jeffery Johnson) it is believed that Jeffrey Johnson came to the location described with his father and mother and that they are buried there together. Capt. Samuel Johnson, my great-grandfather, according to Mr..Forrester, was born there in 1757. The land grants already mentioned may have been made some years after Jeffrey Johnson came to N. C. and the above may be correct.

Mention is made in several places in the Surry Co. and Rowan Co. records of land deals made by Robert Johnson, Wiley Johnson, William Johnson and John Johnson, all family names. Several of the deals were made between these men who were brothers of kinsmen and they were at least part of the time located in Surry County though apparently in the northern part.

Since Surry County was formed from Rowan in 1770, and Wilkes from Surry in 1777, and the first record of Jeffrey Johnson is in Surry Co. records, it appears that he must have came to Surry Co. about 1770 or there near that time. The only clue I could find as to what county the Johnson family may have come from in Virginia was a record found in Rowan Co. Register of Deeds Office which states that one Jesse Johnson sold John Johnson 25 acres of land on Wolf Creek, a branch of Deep River in Rowan Co. This record is in Deed Book #6, page 169, and incidentally mentions that both parties came from Amelia County, Virginia. At present date the writer has not had time to trace this reference further.

*NOTE:
(The above written information was written about the year 1927. It is not known at the present who wrote it but evidently the person was a descendant of Capt. Samuel Johnson, son of Jeffrey Johnson. This material at hand was typewritten from that information by Jerry Q. Gentry in March of 1987. The date 1927 was determined by what the writer stated on page one about the age of R. N. Johnson as being seventy-seven years old. R. N. (Robert Newton) Johnson was born Sept. 5, 1849 and died March 8, 1935.)

Last Will and Testament of Jeffrey Johnson

January 1789

In the Name of God, Amen. I, Jeffrey Johnson, of the state of North Carolina and county of Wilkes, being sick and weak in body but of perfect sense and memory, thanks be to the almighty God for it, and calling to mind the mortality of my body and knowing it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this to be made my last will and testament in manner and form following: that is to say first I recomend my soul to the hand of Almighty God that gave it and my body to be decently burried at the direction of my executors hereafter mentioned and as to all the worldly good as it hath pleased God to bless me with, I bequeath in manner and form following, viz:

I give to my son, Jeffery Johnson, one mulatto boy named Harry to him and his heirs forever.

I give to my two sons, Jeffrey and Lewis, the land whereon I now live to be equally divided between them at my wife's death or marriage if she should marry again, to them and their heirs forever.

My will is that my Negro man named Ned remain on the plantation for the use of my two sons Jeffrey and Lewis Johnson and if their mother should marry and they come of age, my will is that they pay each of my other children their equal part of the value of said Negro.

I give to my son George Johnson 100 acres of land whereon he now lives to him and his heirs forever.

I give to my son Lewis Johnson one young horse to him and his heirs forever.

I give to each of my three grandchildren, namely James, Rachel, and Wenifred Dodson five shillings sterling.

My will is that my executors pay unto my five children, namely, Samuel, Barbary, Benjamin, Jeffrey, and Lewis Johnson out of my extate as they come of age or marry as much as I gave my former children that is already married apiece.

I give to my son John Johnson a debt in the hands of Stephen Baily of forty-eight pounds of Virginia money.

My will and desire is all the remainder of my estate be equally divided amongst all my children at the death or marriage of my wife, Rachel Johnson and whereas I gave my son Benjamin one horse already my desire is that the value of the said horse shall come out of his part that he is to receive when he come of age.

I do hereby constitute and appoint my beloved wife Rachel Johnson and my sons George Johnson and William Johnson executors of this my last will and testament in witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 23rd of March, 1788.

THE JOHNSON GENEALOGY

The first Johnson in our line whose record we have was Samuel Johnson. He was born in 1757 near Richmond, Virginia. He parents probably were among the first settlers of that region. Early in life he settled in the upper Yadkin Valley. He married Mollie (Mary) Hammon(d) on January 27, 1781, in Clay Co., Virginia. Mollie, born in 1762 (D.A.R. records), was the daughter of John Hammond, listed in the 6th Company, Wilkes County 1790 census, as the head of a family of 1 white male over 16, 3 white males under 16, 8 free white females and 7 slaves. Wesley Joines stated in a letter to George Blevins, October 25, 1920, (See Joines Genealogy), "W. B. G.'s (Gambill) great-grandfather was William Gambill husband of Chloey Johnson before her marriage. John Hammons the father of W. B.'s great-grandmother was buried -------- here on Roaring River."

William Gambill and Chloey Johnson were married about 1805 (D.A.R. Nat. No. 335930). Chloey, daughter of Samuel Johnson, was born on September 3, 1788, in Henry County, Virginia, and died in Wilkes County, N. C. on January 9, 1877. (See Gambill Genealogy).

Samuel Johnson was listed in the 1790 Census as the head of a family of 1 free white male over 16, 2 free white males under 16, 3 free white females and 5 slaves. The list of his children is as follows: (Taken from D.A.R. records) - (1) Robert Johnson born Feb. 29, 1784, married a Bevan, (2) Chloe Johnson born Sept. 3, 1788, died January 9, 1877, married William Gambill. (3) Polly Johnson, born March 5, 1789, married Leander (Lee) Johnson, son of William Johnson, on Sept. 8, 1811. (4) Samuel B. Johnson, born May 18, 1790. (5) Col. John Simpson Johnson, born February 20, 1803; died October 11, 1872, married Nancy Adeline Holbrook. (He was buried in Newt Johnson cemetery near Capt. Samuel Johnson's grave. This was the uncle for whom John Simpson Gambill, son of Samuel Johnson Gambill, was named. He, in turn, gave Hattie Simpson Gambill McNiel his name.) (6) Rachel Johnson, born 1806, died 1872, married

Billy Forrester (1799-1898) in 1833. (7) Ambrose Johnson. (8) Nancy Johnson married Jesse Gambill, brother of Wm. Gambill, who moved to Ashe County, N. C. after selling his homeplace on Roaring River to Robert Johnson, June 15, 1821. The descendants of Jesse and Nancy Johnson Gambill are the "kin" in Ashe County that W. B. Gambill spoke of in his lifetime. (9) Mary Johnson is not listed, but I believe she was the daughter of Samuel Johnson who married William Bourne. It is established by the Leander Johnson descendants that Polly married Leander. William J. Johnson of Sparta, N. C., is a descendant of Polly and Leander. William, first son of Polly, married Sarah Crouse. His son, William Jasper Johnson, married Eulala Blevins (Blevins Genealogy), also a lineal descendant of Samuel Johnson. Wilkes County Marriage Records show that Wm. Boren (Bourne) and Mary Johnson were married July 1817. It is speculation as to whether Samuel Johnson had a daughter named Mary, but it is certain that one of his daughters married Billy Bourne for whom William Bourne Gambill was named.

In 1861 the heirs of Samuel Johnson made a release deed to John and Lewis Johnson. This gave them all interest in the property including real estate and personal property including negroes named London, David, Lucy, Thomas, Bessie, Nancy Jane, Eady and Dossie. This deed was signed by Jesse and Nancy Gambill, Chloe Gambill, William and Polly Brown, and William Forrester.

We know little of Samuel Johnson's life but from the stories that have been handed down to his descendants we believe that he brought from Virginia the ieda of establishing a plantation home similar to those left behind in Virginia. The fact that he owned a number of slaves is an indication that his standard of living was above the average pioneer. There is no doubt that Samuel Johnson was a patriotic leader at the time of the Revolutionary War. He served as a private on Rutherford's Cherokee Campaign in 1776. About 1779, he commanded a mounted company against Tories in the Fayetteville region. In 1780 he served in Cleveland's New River expedition. He was also a member of Colonel Ben Cleveland's command and joined with Cleveland in running down Tories in Wilkes County.

According to a letter written to the writer by William Bourne Gambill, Samuel Johnson was "a member of the company" that hanged Tories on the "Tory Oak" still standing on the Court House grounds in Wilkesboro, N. C.

In 1780, when Major Ferguson of Cornwallis' Army was threatening to invade the frontier to suppress the Whig opposition in the back country, the freedom-loving frontiers-men determined to destroy the invader. The forces of Shelby and Sevier were joined by Col. Cleveland's Command. Two hundred and twenty-five soldiers, armed with knapsack, blanket, and long hunting rifle, met on Rendezvous Mountain in Wilkes County and marched to join the other "over the mountain men" and on to Kings Mountain where Major Ferguson had taken his position. The defeat of Ferguson practically ended the Tory organization in the Carolinas and contributed to the growing resistance which resulted in the American Victory in 1781.

Among Cleveland's men was Samuel Johnson. He had served as a private in the North Carolina line under Capt. Ben Cleveland and Col. Armstrong (N. C. Pension Rolls) and as Captain in the Calvary. He led his company on the Kings Mountain Campaign but, as the companies were reduced in the reorganization leaving the footmen behind, he acted in the battle as a second lieutenant in Joel Lewis' company. His unique but effective command during the battle was "Aim at the waistbands of their breeches, boys!"

In a bold and dashing foray, he led his group up one of the steepest and roughest areas on the mountain side. Several of his men were killed and he, himself, received a severe wond in the abdomen. Three bullet holes were made in one of his coat-tails and four in the other. After Lieutenant Johnson had fallen and while the contest was yet furiously raging around him he repeatedly threw up his hands shouting, "Huzza, Boys!" (Draper)

"After Major Ferguson's death", Draper states, "Lieutenant Samuel Johnson desired to be carried to the spot where Major Ferguson lay that he might look upon the dying or lifeless leader of the enemy whom he had so valiantly fought.

Col. Cleveland and two of his soldiers bore the wounded lieutenant to the place." (Draper) When he was wounded, a silk handkerchief which he carried was pulled through his wound. This handkerchief is still in possession of Mrs. Addie Howell Jones of Wilkes County, one of his descendants. His recovery was said to have been due to the fact that he and his men had had very little to eat for several days preceding the battle.

Upon his return from the battle, he served as Captain in the Calvary. In 1781 he aided in capturing and breaking up Captain Riddle's band of Tories. He was a member of the 10th North Carolina Regiment under Col. Abraham Shepherd (Colonial Records Vol. 22, p. 71 - Pension Rolls of Wilkes County, p.466).

Lieutenant Samuel Johnson's name is inscribed on the monument at Kings Mountain National Park as one of the officers wounded in the battle. He died September 15, 1834. His grave in the old Newt Johnson cemetery near Traphill, N. C. is marked by a headstone inscribed "Sacred to the memory of Capt. Sam'l Johnson Dec. who was wounded in the Revolutional Struggle for Libert at Kings Mountain.Dec. Sept. 15, 1834, age 77 years." There is a second monument at the grave erected by the goverment inscribed, "Capt. Sam'l Johnson, Cleveland, N. C. Militia Rev. War."

Many stories of his daring and adventurous experiences were handed down to his descendants by his comrades in arms. These stories convince us that he was one of those brave spirits who by their courage and love of liberty helped build the foundation upon which our nation stands.

Wallace Kallam
Rt. 8 Box 660B
Mt. Airy, N. C. 27030

Dear Mr. Kallam,

For some unknown reason I did not get my May issue of the "Newsletter" of the Grayson County Historical Society until I wrote asking them why, it came today and I am very interested in knowing more about the Johnsons named in your query for whom you are searching.

My husband has a maternal Johnson ancestor whose parentage has not been found, and then too I am interested in some Grayson County Johnsons.

Several years ago I bought a book by Dr. Lorand V. Johnson of Ohio This book has many early Johnsons who lived in Louisa and New Kent Co., and Hanover Co., Virginia. I had hopes that this book might give me a clue to some of the Johnsons I am searching for namely; my husbands ancestor Elizabeth Johnson, but so far I found nothing in this book to tie her in with the Johnsons in this book.

Now back to those of Grayson, Carroll and other areas and the Johnsons of interest to you. Since I got the "Newsletter" at this late date you may already have what I have. In the Carroll County Va., Census Annotated by John P. Alderman is the following.

479 Johnson, Lewis M. age 29 m farmer b. Va.
Dealey " 31 f " "
Lucy J. " 2 f " "
Mary A. R." 1 f " "
Jones, Francis " 18 m " " "

Lewis was the son of Jabez and Mary Johnson, a member of an old family which had been on the crest of the mountain for three generations. He married Delia Wheeler in 1846: she was Vincent Wheelers daughter.

480 Johnson, Greenberry age 27 m farmer b. Va.
Mary A. " 65 f b. Va.

Jabez Johnson died in 1840, leaving ten children. Mary shown here is his widow and Greenberry is the youngest son.

If you ever find out who Jabez Johnsons parents were won't you please let me know.

If in your Johnson search you identify any Benjamin or Ashley Johnson won't you please inform me. My book has several men of those names but I cannot locate them as the author did not name places and few dates.

Another Johnson I am trying to locate is a Jonathan Johnson who married Micah BEDWELL 30 Aug 1807 in Grayson County Virginia. I would like to locate descendants, and possibly his parentage.

I am sorry I haven't been in time to be of help to you, but there were several Johnson surnamed families in Carroll Co., Va. census mostly annotated by Mr. Alderman.

Please let me hear from you.

Sincerely
Kathy Johnson
Kathy (Hines) Johnson

SPECIAL VISITOR: Frances Johnson, who recently celebrated her 100th birthday, visited Jamie Kirkman's fifth-grade class at Franklin Elementary School. Accompanied by her daughter, Eva Page, Mrs. Johnson told the students of her childhood days, getting married and taking a train trip to honeymoon in Danville, Va., She also expressed her love of gardening to the classroom. They were amazed to learned that Mrs. Johnson drove her car until she was 98 years old. The class gave her a miniature rose in a watering bucket. 5-4-00

Johnson's time was well spent

By MARIA MAGHER
Staff Writer

After growing up on his family's farm and working as a rural mail carrier for 22 years, Grady Johnson has seen Surry County and Mount Airy change significantly in his 84 years.

Johnson said that most of the changes involve new roads and more places to eat. Johnson said he remembers the time that there was only one place to eat on U.S. 601. Now there are more than a dozen.

"I like to see things get better," Johnson said.

Johnson said that he saw even more change on his mail route in Mount Airy, like working under three different postmasters and seeing his paycheck grow from $20.25. Johnson said that there were a lot of ups and downs, like broken car engines, and run-ins with the people he encountered such as the time he helped a lady who was locked out of her house.

"I've seen a lot of excitement out there on the mail route," Johnson said. "Everybody ought to have to carry (mail) for a year."

While working all those years on the same route, Johnson said that he also got to know the people well, and some of them still call every once in a while.

Many of the ceramic and porcelain cups in his collection were give to him by people on his route, Johnson said.

"I miss people," Johnson said.

Though he's retired from his route, Johnson does not spend his time idly.

After he retired, Johnson went back to working on his family farm, which he is still working with his son, Eddie Johnson, to grow tobacco, cattle and hay.

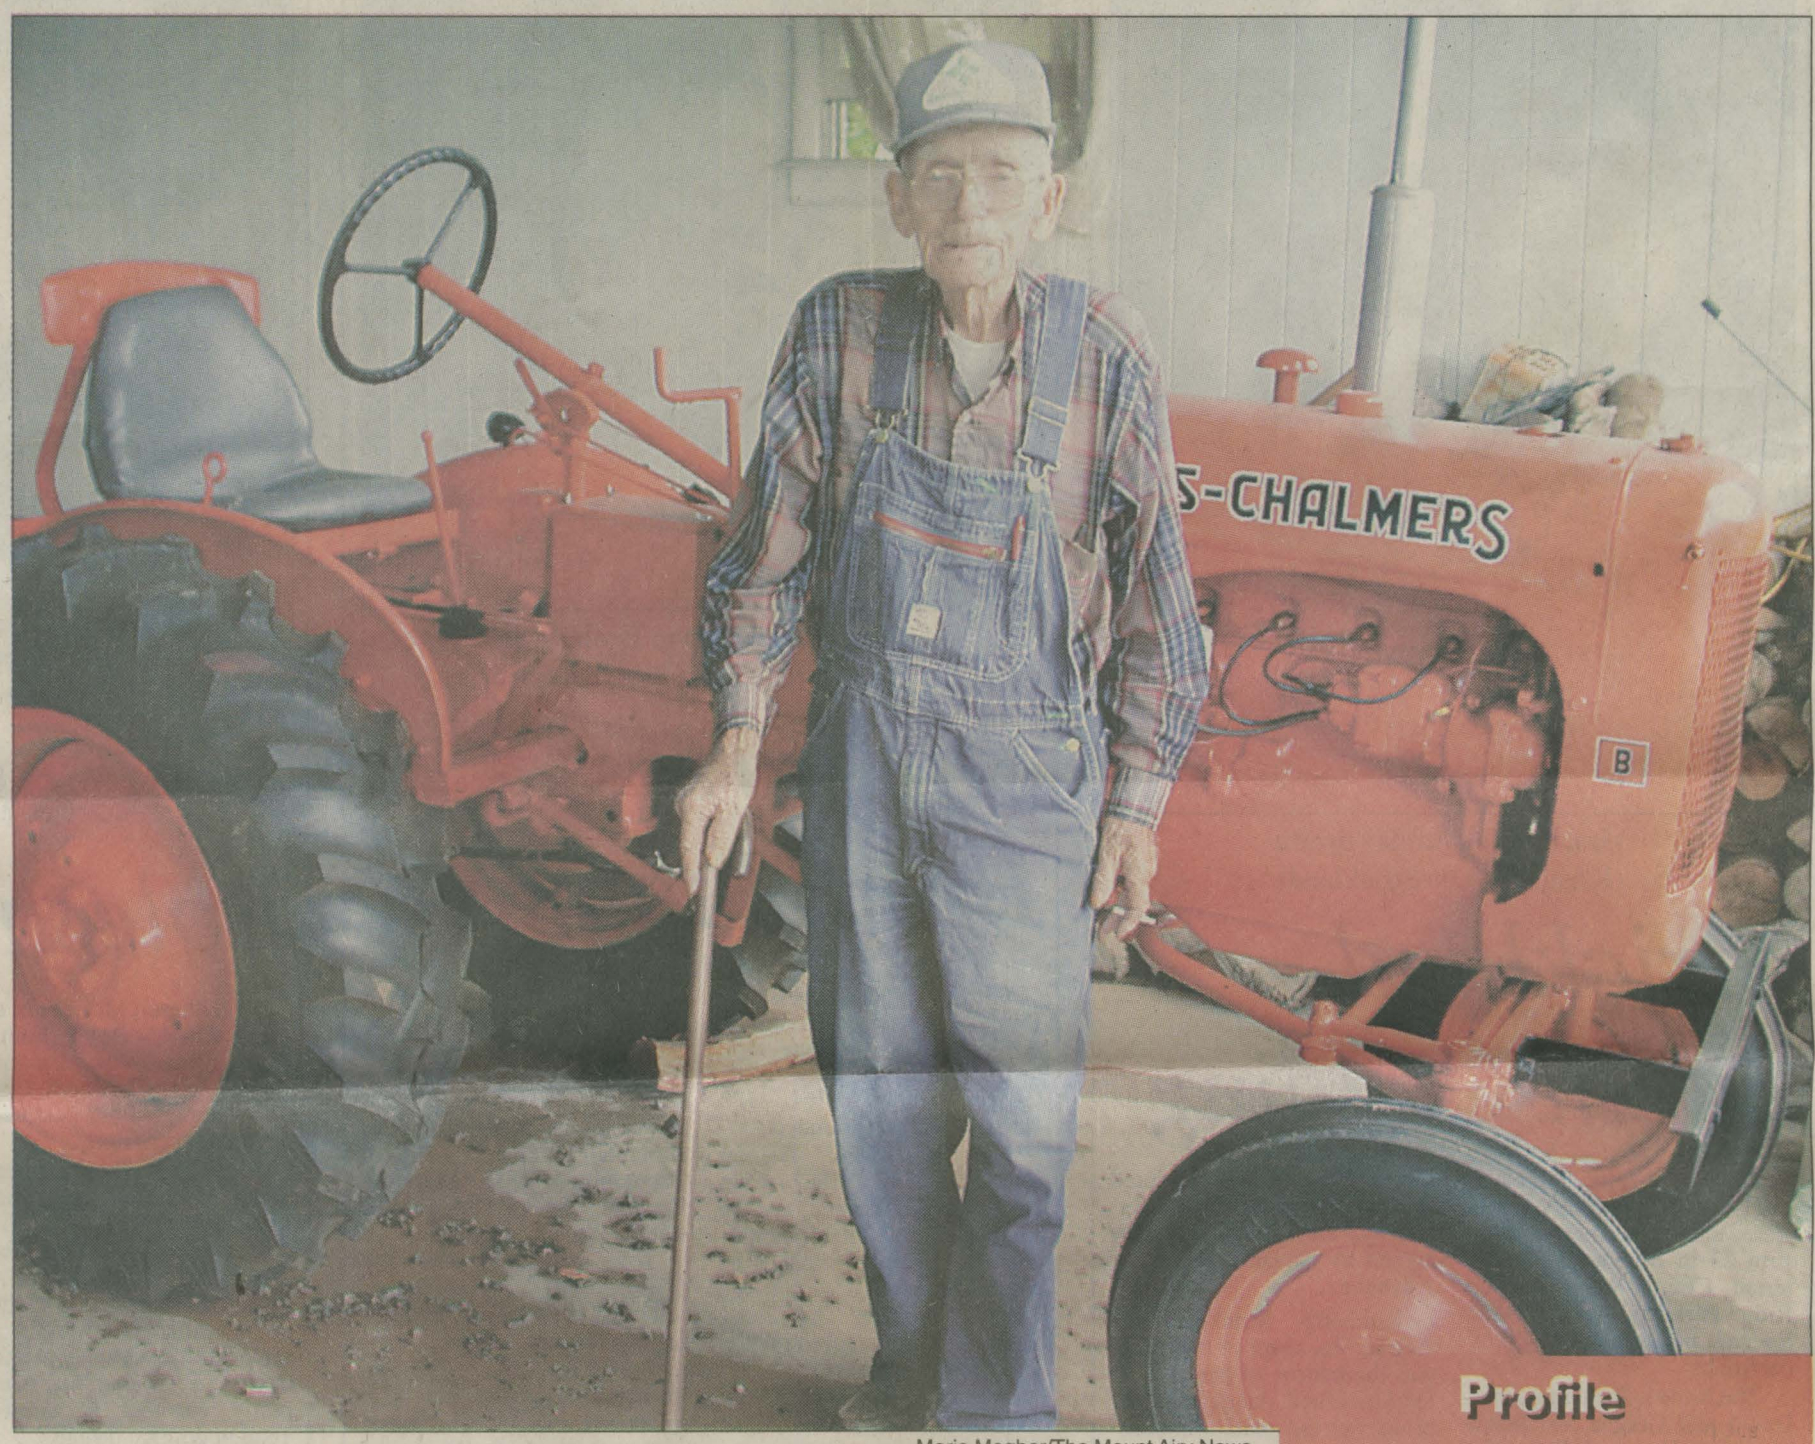

Though he had been helping out on the farm since he was a young boy right out of grade school, sometimes helping to unload tobacco until midnight, Johnson did not start working independently on the farm until he was 18 years old.

"When I was going to school, the seventh grade was it," Johnson said. "I didn't know nothing much but farming."

In his many years of farming, Johnson said that he has also seen many changes in the way that things are done.

For example, Johnson said when he started farming, he had only a mule and buggy. Johnson also pointed out the many changes in the way that tobacco is harvested, like that it used to be hand-tied and is now baled.

Johnson's daughter, Stella Hawks, who also helped out on the farm with her brothers and sister, said she remembered when her grandfather would get upset if she even stepped on a leaf of tobacco. Now, the leaves are freely pitched and baled.

Maria Magher/The Mount Airy News

Grady Johnson stands next to the first tractor he bought in 1954. The tractor, an Allis-Chalmers, has since been restored.

The same year that Johnson started working independently on the farm, he married his wife, Elizabeth McHone Johnson, whom he had only known for about a year and a half. The two were married for 60 years until her death five years ago.

"Sometimes we didn't see alike, but I didn't pay no mind and she didn't pay no mind," Johnson said.

The couple had four children: Eddie Johnson, Stella Hawks, Patsy Amburn and Billy Johnson, who died in 1979 at 33 years old.

"He's always been a good daddy," Amburn said.

Hawks described him as "hard-working, honest," and Eddie Johnson described his father as "really devoted."

Johnson's children grew up helping out on the family farm, as well.

"Everybody worked when we were younger," Hawks said.

The family also grew corn on the farm, and Amburn remembers that Johnson would make popcorn for them every night in the winter.

"We didn't have a T.V., so that was our entertainment," Amburn said. "We would just sit around the fire and eat popcorn and talk."

Though Johnson's children are older, and have families of their own, the family still gets together for regular traditions, like dinners on Thursday and Sunday afternoon rides.

"We always stop and get some ice cream" after the Sunday rides, Amburn said.

"I just love to get out and go," Johnson said. "I like to get out and meet people."

Johnson said that meeting people was his favorite part of working as a mail carrier.

According to his family, people that know him look forward to interacting with Johnson as much as he does them.

"He's respected by his neighbors — because of his honesty and morals," Amburn said. "If you need some advice, he's the one to go to."

Johnson has been active in his community and has been a member of Blue Grove Baptist Church for 25 years and a member of the White Plains Ruritans for over 20 years.

He said that he likes bluegrass and "any gospel song I love," but that he doesn't have much time for movies or hobbies.

Johnson received a service award for his years as a mail carrier and a certificate of service for 20 years in the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Thank you for your letter dated June 14, 1995 regarding the Johnson family and thank you for joining our association. We hope you will be happy with our quarterly journals. We also submitted your query to be printed in an upcoming journal.

We will place your pedigree chart in our file at Surry Community College Library.

We did not find any information in our files on the Johnson family or any surname cards. However, you might like to write Jerry Gentry, Rt. 1, Box 122, Elkin, NC 28621 to see if he might be able to help you.

We found a Henry Johnson listed in Surry during Aug 1778 as owning 200 acres of land. Kimbro Johnson (age 50) was listed in the 1850 Surry County Census in the Stewarts Creek District. Wife listed was Quimett and children were Jerry, John, Jincy, Mary, Ransom, Thomas, Milley, and Martha. Kimbro was also listed in Surry County in 1860, 1870 and 1880.

Sorry that we could not help you out more at this time. If we can be of further assistance, please write again. Good luck with your research.

I am writing as I am interested in trying to determine if my ancestors in fact came from Surry Co, NC

I have gotten information back to my grandfather b. in GA. It is now clear from there on back of who his ancestors were On his death certificate it showed his father as A. JOHNSON, no mother listed. He was born in 1870 in Murray Co. GA. Upon checking Murray Co census for 1880, I find only one A Johnson who was 10 years old named Henry. (my grandfather's name) This man was Albert O. Johnson. (spouse Didemth). Her father is supposedly Kinney Johnson born in Surry Co. N.C.

SIDNEY JOHNSON PASSES

Sidney Johnson, 80, passed away recently after a long illness.

He was a rare individual and those who knew him well said they had never heard anyone say a word against him,. He was honest, kind and patient, a hard and exemplary worker, the kind of person one would like to have as a son, brother, father, grandfather, uncle, friend, neighbor or associate.

He was born in Pulaski County, Va., the second of nine children of Barry Martin and Lavina Edwards Johnson to live to adulthood.

When he was three, the family moved to Surry County and settled in the Piney Grove community. He graduated from Dobson High School in 1935 and later took a commercial business couse. But he wound up becoming a master carpenter.

He farmed for a while on the family farm until World War II. He served in the Army Air Force from July 1941 until September 1945, serving in Africa and Italy in the 15th Air Force Quartermaster Company.

He married Ida Lambert, also of Piney Grove, in 1942. While he was in service, Ida bought land on the Dobson-Mount Airy highway. She had picked a lot she had always loved because that was where she met the school bus and she determined that was where she wanted to live, it was such a pretty area.

After the war, Sydney built their house, which continues to be their home. He built many others, one of which this correspondent lived in on South Main Street, Dobson, a good, well-built house. His houses were built to last. He built many other residences and businesses, such as the Dobson Post Office, doctor's offices and many others around Courthouse Square.

In 1969, he became superintendent of maintenance for the Surry County Schools, a post he held until he retired in 1979.

Sidney and Ida had three daughters, Susan, Jean Ingram and Dawn Marion. All are accomplished ladies, a tribute to the care and training of Sidney and Ida.

In 1968, Susan became executive secretary to the president of Surry Community College and plays a large part in the wheels running smoothly there. She participates in an atmosphere of congeniality and helps to foster the feeling among students that all are welcome and worthy.

Jean is a fine nurse, who is now raising a family. Dawn is a math teacher at East Surry.

Of Sidney's brothers and sisters - nine reached adulthood - two are now deceased, Roy and Edward. Still living are Helen Woodruff, Faye Edwards and John Lee Johnson, all of Surry; Ruth Barry of Connelly Springs, Betty Sutphin of California; and Patty Shores of State Road. Betty and Patty are twins.

He was very involved in Piney Grove Baptist Church.

This was a well-loved man who gave everyone the feeling of being blessed by knowing him. 3-5-98

Mount Airy Woman Marks 100 Years

By ELEANOR POWELL
Staff Writer

Frances Johnson was born on March 25, 1900, and during her 100 years this energetic, fun-loving lady has covered a lot of ground.

Her church, the First Baptist, honored her on March 19 as their oldest member. Up until recent years, the centenarian was a faithful member singing in the choir, serving as president of the Women's Missionary Union and heading the Primary Department.

And in the community, she has been well-known for her contributions to her garden club, the Mountain View Gardeners, and the Order of the Eastern Star Chapter No. 18.

A charter member of the garden club, she served as president in 1952-53 and again 1971-72. She also held other offices and was instrumental in helping organize another garden club, the Modern Gardeners, in 1956.

She is a past matron of the Mount Airy Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star No. 18 and past Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of the North Carolina Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Johnson was born to S.A. and Ada Coble Hennis and grew up with two brothers, Sam Hennis and the late Hugh Hennis, and two sisters, Lily Bondurant and the late Verona Wall.

She was married on Dec. 31, 1918, to Claude Johnson, a prominent business man who owned Mount Airy Produce Exchange. They had one daughter, Eva, who is married to Walter Page Jr., and resides in Columbus, Ohio. There are two grandchildren, Frances Page Porter of LaCanada, Calif., and Walter S. Page II of Hermosa, Calif. And there are two great-grandchildren, Stevan Porter Jr., a student at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and Charles Johnson Porter of California.

Reflecting on her past, Mrs. Johnson recalled that after finishing Mount Airy High School she took early employment as one of the first women hired by Belk's Department Store (now Belk of Mayberry Mall.) It was during that time that she created a wonderful relationship with some of her dearest friends, Nell Cox, Ethel Doss, Sudie Lee Welch and Cora Shackelford.

Later, she worked for a well-known doctor in Mount Airy, Dr. Thomas Worrell. He later retired and Dr. R.M. Caldwell took over his practice. She continued to work for him until they both retired.

During the past weekend Mrs. Johnson was entertained with a birthday luncheon hosted by members of her garden club and another event on Sunday afternoon at the Masonic Temple with members of the Eastern Star as hosts.

Hundreds of friends attended the events to pay tribute to an outstanding citizen.

Ann Bolen, a garden club hostess, said of Mrs. Johnson, "She has shown all her life, her love of God through her love of people and the beauty of His world."

Well Known Teacher Dies At Age 99

From Staff Reports

One of this area's most honored and respected teachers died las t week after an extended illness.

Funeral services for Laura P. Johnson were held Monday at 1 p.m. in the chapel of Smith-Hinnant Funeral Home in Greensboro, conducted by Rev. Paul Milton, with burial in Peace United Methodist Church Cemetery in Summerfield. She died Friday.

Johnson was born June 28, 1900. She was just short of 100 years when she died March 3 at 99 at Wesley Long Nursing Center. where she spent the last years of her life.

Johnson was well known by teachers and students alike after teaching for 35 years at J.J. Jones School.

She was born in Summerfield to the late James T. and Nellie Settle Johnson.

Johnsonwas educated in the Guilford County Public Schools and was a graduate of Slater College, now Winston-Salem State University.

She was a member of Peace United Methodist Church, the United Methodist Women, the Girl Scouts and the National Education Association.

Although Johnson never married or had any children, she always felt the students she taught were her children, according to a former student, Martha Joyce.

"All who knew her will remember how she could give encouragement, be a friend, give sympathy and love. She was a disciplinarian, a devoted and committed educator and also a wonderful humanitarian. She devoted her life to caring for others in her community in Summerfield and Mount Airy, as well," related Joyce.

Many students were in attendance at her funeral to honor the memory of the teacher and the woman.

"Miss Johnson was more than a teacher. She wanted every child in her classroom to succeed in life," Maggie Scales Rosser said.

"Miss Johnson was 'the' teacher and more than a teacher. She was interested in 'the whole student,' enhancing the character and spirit. As well as education, she involved the parents, visited their homes, churches and social functions, too," said Lucy Nora Taylor.

"Miss Johnson was a very special person to me. She was a large impact on my life. I will never forget her. She was a lady," said Margie A. Carter.

THOMAS JOHNSON DIES

The Dobson-Salem Fork area also lost a prominent farmer, Thomas Johnson, who died Jan. 10. He and his wife, Loree White Johnson, and sons, Randy, Mark and Eddie, have been such successful farmers that their farms among others have helped to make Salem Fork one of the most beautiful farming sections in Surry County. The area has been featured in soil conservation and farm publications several times.

Folks say that Thomas and family have worked hard, used common sense and recommended practices and have prospered. Thomas and family are held in high esteem by Surry County folks, as shown by a long, overflow crowd at the wake held at the Moody Funeral Home in Dobson on Jan. 11. There was also an abundance of exquisite flowers, especially large red roses on the casket and at the sides of it from the family.

Both Thomas and Loree are from large families that have been a part of the family for generations. The parents of Thomas were Early and Viola Payne Johnson. His siblings, Curtis and Calvin Johnson, are living, as are sisters, Vergie Cave, Helen Bowers and Lois Snow, who were also receiving at the funeral home. Deceased are brothers Marvin, Carl and Carville Johnson.

The sons and their wives are Randy and Carolyn Bryson Johnson, Mark and Mollie Johnson, Eddie and Ellen Johnson, and there are also nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The Thomas Johnson family are a vital part of the Salem Fork Baptist Church family. He is buried in the cemetery there. The officiating ministers were the Rev. Van Brindle and the Rev. Joe Atkins. Pallbearers were nephews and honorary pallbearers were grandsons.

Introduction

Joseph Johnson has been very elusive. Most researchers have Joseph Alexander Johnson, son of John B. Johnson of Yadkin County, North Carolina, as the husband of Lucy Ann Taylor. Joseph A. Johnson could write his name, when he married Eliza Jane Vestal on November 26, 1858 in Yadkin County, North Carolina. Our Joseph Johnson married Lucy Ann Taylor, could not write his name. In 1850 census, Joseph was in Smyth County, Virginia . He was born in 1848 in Surry County, North Carolina. His parents were William Johnson and Sarah Ann Wallace. This information was found on Matilda Johnson, Joseph's sister's marriage license from Smyth County, Virginia. Matilda was born in Surry County, North Carolina. In 1880 census, William Johnson was living between Hugh Taylor and Abner Sutphin. Abner married two of Hugh Taylor's daughters. Irvin Sutphin, Abner's brother, was the bondsman for Joseph Johnson. Lewis Johnson, Joseph's brother, married Tempy Taylor, Lucy and Christina's sister.

Joseph Johnson married Lucy Ann Taylor in 1867. He did not marry Christina Taylor, as far as we know. Christina was in the 1900 census, but was not listed in the 1910 census. Joseph died on May 28, 1913 in Surry County, North Carolina. He was buried at Holly Spring Baptist Church Cemetery. Source for this information was found in Moody Funeral Home Records. He was called Keeny, but the information came from C. C. Goins, who was Joseph's son-in-law. Aunt Becky Mathis said "she remember going to the funeral in a wagon and Moody (Hannah Funeral Home) buried him". Joseph and Lucy had three sons and two daughters. Joseph and Christina had two sons and two daughters. Christina had a son in 1866.

Joseph Johnson and Lucy Ann Taylor had a son, Edward Andrew Johnson, who is my great grandfather. Edward married Delia Caroline Cook in 1887. Caroline was the daughter of Newell Cook and Rebecca Jessup. Edward and Caroline had four sons and five daughters.

This book has a family tree, several family sheets, pictures, and descendants list. My informations came from family members, marriage licenses, death certificates, censuses, and cemeteries. I would like to thank everyone that has helped me to obtain pictures and informations regarding the Johnson Family.

By MONDEE COX
Staff Writer

While local attorney Fred Johnson is looking forward to retirement, free of the daily grind, the feeling is bittersweet because he said he will miss the friends and colleagues he sees on a regular basis.

Johnson, 49, moved to the area and bought a house in Dobson, prior to accepting a job with the local law firm, Gardner, Gardner and Bell in Mount Airy. He said that he and his small family took the leap of faith because small town living was exactly what they were searching for.

He said that Mount Airy has satisfied all of those dreams and more. "I have had wonderful relationships with the partners in the firm and the clients I have represented over the years at Gardner, Gardner, Johnson and Mills. Being in the legal profession is not something I did to become rich. I chose that path because I felt it would be the most rewarding for me and my family.

Although Johnson and his wife, Betty, who is also retiring at the end of the month, are planning on moving to a house they own on Cape Hatteras, he remembers a time when the couple struggled to make ends meet.

"During my sophomore year in college at Chapel Hill, I brought my wife and young daughter, Robin, to North Carolina. Those were some lean years, but, all in all, I think it brought us closer together."

After college when he and his wife moved again. Johnson remembered that the couple moved to Indianapolis so that he could work for the Pennsylvania Railroad in the Labor Relations Department. Their second daughter, Kim, was born there in 1966. After two years, he was transferred to the railroad's Philadelphia office.

He said that his interest in law peaked at that time, because of the work he did for the railroad. So, in a daring move, he packed up his wife and two daughters and moved back to North Carolina to attend Wake Forest University's Law School. He said that it was hard giving up a good-paying job, and going back to school on a limited income.

But now, Johnson says all the sacrifice was worth it, because of his long and rewarding career and all the friends he has made in this area. Johnson joined the firm 27 years ago and made partner in 1976.

Looking back on his career, he said, "I believe that probably the most rewarding work that I have done over the years are the pro bono cases. It's a good feeling to know that you helped a few people along the way. I have always believed that you should do what gives your life a sense of purpose."

Now that his children are grown, he said that he would like to slow down a little bit. He told of his love of travel, especially to Mexico. He and his wife have traveled to Panama and Mexico several times, and also to the Bahamas. He said that they usually like to venture off the beaten path and enjoy the local culture, more than just spending time in the tourist traps.

One of the places that Johnson said he would like to visit is the site at Normandy where his dad helped storm the beach during World War II. His father, Thomas, was a physician, whom he admired very much. His father joined the 101st Airborne against his mother's wishes. He was captured at Normandy and spent the rest of the war in a German prison camp.

Johnson remembers his father fondly and has missed him since 1968, when he passed away. His mother, Eleanor Lee Kinch, also passed away several years ago. He said that he could attribute his wanderlust, especially for Mexico, to his mother, who frequently visited that country on solo trips.

He said that his parents divorced when he was 12 years old, but he still cherishes the memories of them both. "I was blessed to have wonderful parents who taught me well."

In addition to his practice in Mount Airy, Johnson has worked as the town attorney for Dobson for the last three years . "I think that we, the town commissioners and myself, have made a lot of capital improvements. This has all been accomplished without major increases in the tax the citizens there pay."

Johnson married his wife, Betty, his high school sweetheart in 1961. She, too, will be retiring at the end of June from the Surry County Clerk of Court's Office. She has been employed there for 24 years.

When asked how they would celebrate their joint retirement, he said that they would try to stay away from a lot of fanfare. Although the law firm where he works will be throwing him an all-day retirement party on June 30, that will be held at the firm.

Some say they won't listen to the obituaries on the radio anymore if Ronald Johnson isn't the one reading them.

For the last 48 years, Johnson has read the obituaries three times a day on WSYD 1300 A.M. radio. He has read the obituary of almost everyone who has passed away in the area during that time.

Having probably read more obituaries than any other radio announcer on the face of the earth, Johnson said if he had kept records, he probably could have been in the Guinness Book of World Records.

"If I had known I was going to do it this long I would have tried to keep up with how many I've done. It's too far gone now. Some of the funeral homes have gone out of business now," said Johnson.

Long-time co-worker and broadcast personality, Debbie Cochran laughed as she joked that he has "out lived" several local funeral homes.

"Sometimes, if I know the person I add in a little something special about them. Nobody has ever really complained, and, as a matter of fact, sometimes they call up wanting a recording of the obituary and the comments spoken on air," noted Johnson.

Although Johnson has read hundreds of thousands of obituaries on the air, he has yet to write his own.

"I think it's morbid. But I don't mind reading other people's obituaries."

Although every now and then, he said, an obituary of a past acquaintance or friend comes across his desk. He said those do get to him.

Remembering back over the years, he recalled in particular the day when an obituary for Mrs. A.B. Carter crossed his desk. She taught history at Flat Rock Elementary when Johnson was a student there.

"That was very difficult for me. She was my all-time favorite teacher."

Back at that time, the fax machine was only a twinkle in the inventor's eye, Johnson said. Funeral home employees delivered the obituaries to the radio station daily.

"I was on the air and about half way through reading the obituaries when the fellow from the funeral home came in. He knew to just come on in the studio. He laid it there and I didn't have a chance to read it ahead of time.

"I almost didn't get through that. It brought back so many memories. It really shook me up."

In addition to reading the obituaries, Johnson also broadcasts news and sports. Thinking back over the years to some of his biggest news stories, Johnson related the story of the Flat Rock school fire that happened in February of 1957.

"I was working part-time at Belk Department store then and I remember Wayne Lambe came in running and said 'Flat Rock school was on fire!'

"They didn't have a chance back then; you see they didn't have the fire departments that they have now. The old hospital on Cherry Street had burned in May of 1953 or 1954 and Northern Hospital hadn't been built yet," recalled Johnson.

To this day Johnson remains a confirmed bachelor, although he has had his brushes with romance. As a radio personality, he said, he has received several invitations from women who were attracted to him through his voice.

When asked the question, "Have you ever had a woman call and ask you out?" Johnson laughed, "Oh yes, more than once. I had one call me and she said 'I'm going to be at a certain place and if you want to drive down the street you'll see me.' And I pulled down that way, and uh, I didn't care to go any further," he laughed with his charming chuckle.

He said that chuckle is something some women have found quite attractive over the years.

When talking about his favorite aspect of being on the radio, Johnson said, "I guess it sounds kind of morbid, but the obituaries means so much to so many people and I try to do a good job on those. If I mess up on that it really bothers me."

Johnson has been such a fixture at the local radio station, Cochran said she couldn't even imagine being at the radio station without him.

A, a few years ago Johnson suffered a heart attack while sitting at a desk in the station. He didn't want to go to the hospital, but Cochran insisted on taking him.

"I wasn't going to the hospital. I had my mind made up. But the one thing that sticks out to me is when Debbie said, 'I can't come back to work if you die here.' And that's all it took."

After being on the radio for all these years, Johnson said he believes he's made a lot of friends along the way.

"They say familiarity breeds contempt, but I don't think it does in my case. I think people like me because they are familiar with me. They learn I'm not going to go after somebody. They know I'm not going to use any filthy language. That's just not something that I do."

Johnson does a newscast beginning at 6 a.m., one at noon and another at 5 p.m. daily. He covers the news, weather, obituaries and sports. In order to be on the air so early, Johnson gets out of bed at 4 a.m. Monday through Friday "I'm up here by 5 o'clock," he said.

When asked if he had considered retirement, Johnson responded, "Every year I say I'm going to quit and I'm not going through another winter. But every winter, come December, I keep on going."

Dear James,

I am sorry for the delay in writing to you. I have been out of town several times, overwhelmed with my volunteer Library work at church and outdoor work here at home. I will be gone again next week end so felt I'd better try to answer your letter before then.

Now to your first question, the Johnson lineage begins on p. 285 but I don't know if any of that ~~is~~ pertains to your family. The record of Richard Henry Johnson and Mary Thompson begins on p. 294. Some aspects of the Johnson lineage carry on through p. 403.

For the other names you asked for contained in the index: see enclosed sheets. I had thought I could copy all the names and pages but it was too large a task for me so had to go to the Library and make copies. It can become rather expensive if one copies very much.

I knew of the Creed-Bryan connection of course, but there is also a Creed-Gillespie connection. I don't know if it is the same Creed family but think it may be. Possibly the lady in Mt. Airy can clear this up for us.

You did not send me Mr. Jackson's address but some one sent mine to him so I have had correspondence with him. The lady who sent me the Henderson data is, Mrs. Jack Anderson, 7810 Kachino Lane, Bethesda, Maryland 20034. I got her name from The Genealogical Helper. Hope this helps. I know I snatch at any straw.

Sincerely,

Mary

Thank you for your letter dated March 3, 1999 regarding William Johnson. We have enclosed the copies of surname cards for Johnsons and Hughes that you requested. We did not have any cards on file for Stubblefield. We have also enclosed another list of researchers that we have compiled on the Johnson family.

For your information we printed in our SCGA journal in April 1989 the family Bible record of William and Mary Hughes Johnson. Would this be your family? In our journal of April 1988 was information on the Johnson family. We sell our past journals for $5 each.

There are also many Johnson family histories in our books "The Heritage of Surry County," Vol. I & II. In Vol. I is a history of William Johnson (born Oct. 1803) who came to Surry Co. from Virginia but we don't believe he is your William Johnson. This William supposedly married Nancy Hawks ca. 1826.

We have a William Johnson that married in Surry Co. 10 Aug 1792 but no bride is listed. Would this be your William Johnson?

We would welcome family group sheets from you on this family that have Surry Co. connections.

If we can be of service to you further, please write again.

Dear Madam,

I am enclosing Surname cards on 3 persons. Johnson is the main line I research. Hughes & Stubblefield were wives #1 & #2 of William Johnson who I believe to be my GGG Grand F.

Also, I am enclosing SASE. I would like to request copies of cards from these three surnames. It would be wonderful, after over 40 years of research, to make a contact!

Thank you for your time & effort which help those of us who are not close enough to come by & look up our own information.

Dear James,

After rereading the carbon of the letter I sent to you yesterday, I decided to go ahead and make copies of 3 pages contained in Mrs. Irwin's book. I'm certain you would get permission from her before using anything from her book. I also thought you might not be able to get a copy of her book at once, and expect you are anxious to know some of the contents. There is a great deal more information in the book which might prove helpful to you and I hope you are able to get a copy.

Through correspondence this past month, I may have the name of Isabell's Henderson's father. I believe it to be John. Do you have any record of him ? Does your knowledge of Isabell Henderson Thompson come from family records or other sources ?

If I am reading the data you sent me correctly, Joseph Thompson Jr. was your g.g. g.g. grandfather and a brother to Mary Thompson, my g.g.g.grandmother.

The Mary Johnson and Gideon Bryan I marked on page 298 are, of course, my g.g. grandparents.

Sincerely,

Mary

Dear James,

Please forgive the delay in answering your letter. It arrived just as I was preparing to leave for a short visit with friends in Fla. I simply did not have time to reply before I left. When I returned to my daughter's home in Dearborn, Mich., I became ill, so that further delayed my return to Fairborn. At last I am home and attempting to catch up with my mail.

I thank you for the information contained in your letter. I write and receive so many letters that I may have mis-read information in previous letter of yours or jumped to wrong conclusions. In fact, in going over the carbons of a letter I wrote to you, I discovered I referred to Mrs. Wells as Mrs. Mosley. Just a case of my mind going faster than my hand. Sorry !

Now to the first item in your letter. I re-checked some data I had ~~received~~ copied from research done by Glenn Tolliver (desceased), of Statesville, N.C. He too, was descended from Francis Bryan b. 1770, Va. According to his records Joseph T. Bryan b. 29 July, 1819, m. 3 Apr. 1843, Frances Spicer. He is buried in the Old Bryan Cemetery at Ten Mile, Tenn.

Your dates for wife Frances are interesting as you give her death date as 31 Oct., 1843. It made me wonder if she died in childbirth ? Do you know if Joseph T. Bryan married again ? As I believe I told you in a previous letter, he and Morgan Bryan, a brother, accompanied their sisters Mary and Martha and their families to the Ten Mile Community in Tenn.

You ask for the descendants of Richard Henry Johnson and Mary Thompson Johnson. I can list names but feel I must tell you that I don't feel free to do more than that, as all of the data I have is contained in a book published by Mrs. Alya Dean (Smith) Irwin. It is, of course, copyrighted and contains quite a bit more than I could copy. of Johnson and Thompson lineage, even if copyright law permitted. It was published in 1974, and I believe it worth your while to get a copy of the book. In 1974 the book sold for $35.00. Your ancestor Joseph Thompson Jr. is listed but, does not say who he married. You might wish to write to Mrs. Irwin. She may at this time have more data available. Title of the Book is Fuqua- A Fight for Freedom and her address is in winter : Mrs Irwin, 1300 Wood Hollow Drive., # 5003, Houston, Texas, 77027
Summer: R.F.D. # 2, Ten Mile, Tenn. 37880

Children of Richard Henry Johnson and Mary Thompson are listed as follows:

1. Isabel Johnson.....1794
2. Samuel " 1795
3. Mary " 1798
4. Rhody " 1799
5. James Johnson 1802
6. Sarah " 1804
7. Thomas Jefferson Johnson....1808
8. Susannah " 1811
9. Martha " 1813
10. John Henderson Johnson 1816
11. Elizabeth Johnson 1819

I have not had a chance to write to the different counties you suggested for the marriage date of Joseph Thompson and Isabell Henderson, but hope to work it in soon.

If I were ever to call you I'd end up with a phone bill as large as the National Debt, I just wouldn't know when to quit talking. (only joking). I do thank you though for your phone number and all the data you sent to me. If my plans work out it may be possible for me to make a trip to N.Carolina next fall, providing my daughter can get away. If so, I'll certainly let you know and plan to look you up.

Sincerely,

Mary L. Burt

Mary L. Burt

P.S. The book by Mrs. Irwin contains a great deal of information on both Johnson and Thompson families, which I think you should have. By-the-way, Mrs. Irwin did not have Isabell Thompson's maiden name . I'm certain she would like to hear from you. M.L.B.

Dear Mr. Cockerham,

Tonight when I was typing index cards for the letters we receive at our Jackson County genealogical Society research Assistance Committee, I noticed that you were asking about several eastern Jackson County names. I believe I can give you the names of some individuals who may be able to help you.

First of all, Mildred Shawhan, 33901 E. Lone Jack, Lee's Summit, MO 64063, is extremely knowledgeable about Lone Jack families, having married into the Shawhans, an old Lone Jack family. I believe that the Shawhans intermarried with the Snows, about whom you asked. I remember that when I ran an article about Snows in our society quarterly a few years ago, she responded with more information. I will look up a copy of that article and enclose it with this letter.

In addition, a woman named Dorothy Shelton recently wrote to us asking about Shawhans (I gave her Mildred's name) and also, I believe, about Drury Kiersey. I will look up Ms. Shelton's address and also enclose it.

Leo Jane Shore, of this area, has written a book entitled "The Ancestors and Descendants of Frederick Shore." I believe this deals with the same Shore family you are asking about. The book is available to you through your own local public library, through inter-library loan from the AFRA Collection, at Mid-Continent Public Library, 15616 East 24 Highway, Independence, MO 64050. Ask your librarian to write to Mid-Continent for the book. There is also a Shore cemetery in the county.

If we can be of further help to you, please let us know. If you wish more extensive research, please write to Mid-Continent Public Library's Genealogy and Local History Dept. at the address in the preceding paragraph. Ask for a list of local researchers who do research for a fee.

Please let me know if you are unable to contact Mrs. Shawhan or Ms. Shelton. I know they would be happy to help you.

Sincerely,

I double-checked, and I was correct; Mrs. Shelton had inquired about Drury Kiersey. Her address is Mrs. Dorothy Shelton, Rt. 1 Box 117, Fairfield, CA 94533.

Enclosed is a photocopy of an article from the Pioneer Times, publication of Mid-Missouri Geneal. Society, plus copies of my article about the first article, and my follow-up comments based on Mrs. Shawhan's comments. Please note that the Pioneer Times article is copied from a 1921 publication.
In addition, the current issue of our quarterly includes a summarization of the affidavit (1868) filed by Rebecca Hunt Powell of Linn county, Oregon, originally of Jackson Co. MO I am not at all sure that this John Hunt is from the same family, but will enclose it anyway.

An Olden-Times Missouri Cottonwood Log Cabin

A COTTONWOOD LOG CABIN, NEAR LONEJACK, MO., BUILT BY JOHN SNOW MORE THAN 70 YEARS AGO.

SOURCE: Missouri State Board of Agriculture, 1921 Year Book--53rd Annual Report, pages 408-409.

"Written by Walter L. Cheney of Johnson County, Missouri, in the 'Breeders' Gazette'. This cabin of cottonwood logs, erected more than seventy years ago, was built by John Snow. This landmark stands near Lonejack in Jackson County, Missouri."

One mile east of Lonejack, Mo., on the graded road that has been prepared for the rock, stands Cottonwood Cabin, a landmark of ante-bellum days. The cabin takes its name from the fact that its chimney is built of "cottonwood" limestone, and from its proximity to Cottonwood Spring. Built long before the war, in the '40's, by John Snow, who was a slaveholder and a large land owner of the Lonejack neighborhood, this cabin stands as a sentinel of the past. Where the road curves to the south around the hillside and about 100 yards east of Cottonwood Cabin is a large spring that is now under the graded roadway, there having been built over it a great concrete archway. If one looks closely on the north side, he will see a splendid stream of clear spring water running from under the road out through a concrete trough.

Long years ago, Stephen I. Snow, who was a son of John Snow the builder of Cottonwood Cabin, as a boy brought from way south on the prairie a cottonwood sprout and planted it beside the spring which is now covered with this modern road. The sprout flourished and grew into a mighty tree, and gave the name to this spring. Steve Snow grew to manhood's estate and in the '50's became the owner of his father's home place and was the master of Cottonwood Cabin, which was then a mansion. The cottonwood tree was buffeted by the elements, beaten by summer wind and rain and repeatedly blasted by lightning until a few years ago, when it was finally destroyed. The man who as a boy had planted the tree lived to see it disappear. The boy Steve became an old man and was known as "Uncle Steve". A short time ago he was gathered to his fathers and buried in the Lonejack Cemetery within a quarter of a mile of the cabin and the spring of his boyhood days.

John Snow had two neighbors, John Daniel on the east and Galen Cave on the west. Galen Cave and John Snow entered their lands from the Government in 1836, both taking their lands in a long strip north and south. The home place of the Snows was a quarter=mile wide and a mile and a quarter long, while the Galen Cave tract was the same width and a mile and a half long, so that the neighbors could live close together and be near the wood and water. Thus their houses were on either side of the spring. All of the more than 400 acres that John Snow owned at his death have passed from the hands of his many descendants; but the land that Galen Cave entered is held by his grandson, John B. Hunt, who now lives at Highwood. Highwood is the first house east of Cottonwood Cabin and Cottonwood Spring. In fact, the spring runs into the feedlot of Highwood farm. At Highwood still stands the old mill in which Noah Hunt, the father of John B. Hunt, ground the wheat and corn and carded the wool of the community. To the east of Cottonwood Cabin a half-mile, and a quarter-mile back across a splendid bluegrass pasture, stand the house and barns of Edgewood farm, which is now owned by Mrs. Julia F. Shawhan. She is the daughter of John Danile, who was the possessor of more than 50 slaves and many broad acres.

Cottonwood Spring could tell of the tryst of lovers long ago; romance lies sleeping inthe logs of Cottonwood Cabin, and there are tales of romance and death at Highwood and Edgewood. There is the story of an only son who went from Edgewood to the southern army and was never heard from, and Cottonwood Cabin holds the memory of a southern girl and a northern man who married inthe face of parental opposition.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The next issue of Pioneer Times, Vol. 9, No. 3 (July) 1985) will have additional information on the Snow family of near Lone Jack, Missouri.

Cottonwood Log Cabin and the Snow Family --- In Volume V No. 3 of The Pioneer Wagon I mentioned an article from PIONEER TIMES, the publication of the Mid-Missouri Genealogical Society. The article was about the Cottonwood Cabin near Lone Jack, and the families who lived in the area. PIONEER TIMES promised that the next issue would contain more information about the John Snow family; however, it didn't appear.

But one of our own members, Mrs. Mildred Shawhan, has kindly sent along data about the John SNOW family. According to the 1850 Census, John Snow, age 57 and his wife, Frances, age 56, were from North Carolina. Their children were: Sarah (age 21) Stephen (age 20), James (age 16) and Charles (age 14). All were born in North Carolina.

John Snow gave an acre of ground to the community for a cemetery, which is the present Lone Jack Cemetery. The first burial was that of Bettie Snow, age four, daughter of Stephen I. Snow and John Snow's niece. Bettie died June 20, 1837. Several other members of the John Snow family were also buried in this cemetery. John Snow died June 23, 1851, age 61 years, 3 months, 11 days old. Frances Snow, born Dec. 14, 1793, died Sept. 22, 1859. Charles E. Snow died Dec. 5, 1858, age 21 years.

Thanks go to Mrs. Shawhan, who has contributed several pieces about the Lone Jack and eastern Jackson County areas and about families like the Snows and Shawhans, who were early residents. I appreciate her interest in our Society and its publications.

Chronicles of the Generations --- I have trouble remembering which "great-" each particular ancestor of mine is, unless I start with my grandparents and count back. I was reminded of 2 solutions to this problem recently, but I haven't decided which one to use, if either!

An article in The Lutheran magazine, April 2, 1986, describes Lutherans in Indonesia's North Sumatra who celebrate Easter by going to graveyards to perform a ceremonial cleaning of family graves. In their culture, family and clan loyalties are all important; before the coming of Christianity, these Batak people worshipped their ancestors. Earlier generations could recite the names of 25 generations that preceded them! But an elderly pastor there can't recite them, so he carries them with him always, in his wallet, listed on a paper that resembles our supermarket checkout slips. I think I could handle at least 6 generations on the back of an old SaveMart slip.

The other method was one used by Curtis Burnam Ledford, age 102, of Harlan and Garrard counties in Kentucky. A wonderful book, "Generations: An American Family" by John Egerton, published by the University Press of Kentucky, 1983, profiles the Ledford family. Egerton used the Ledford family to typify the changes and continuity of 4 or five generations of an American family. When Egerton found Burnam Ledford and his wife Addie King Ledford, he found a treasure store of family lore.

At one point, Egerton asked Mr. Ledford to tell him about his parents. Immediately he began, "My father was Jesse B. Ledford, born in Harlan County, Kentucky, on the twenty-fifth of April, 1855. He was twenty-on years, one month, and one day older than me. He married Vesta Jones. She was born in Tennessee, near Tazewell. She was about..." and Mr. Ledford went on and on. For 2 hours, he named his grandparents, great-grandparents, their birth, marriage, and death dates, names and numbers of children, details of life and work, death and burial, and then his wife did the same thing, in the same detail.

COTTONWOOD LOG CABIN near Lonejack, Jackson County, MO

PIONEER TIMES, Quarterly Publication of the Mid-Missouri Genealogical Society, Inc., Vol. 9, No. 2, April 1985, contains an article about Cottonwood Cabin, which John Snow built in the 1840s near Cottonwood Spring a mile east of Lonejack. According to the article, which is reprinted from the Missouri State Board of Agriculture 1921 Year Book and was written by Walter L. Cheney of Johnson County, MO for the 'Breeders' Gazette' publication, the cabin received its name from its proximity to Cottonwood Spring and to the fact its chimney was made of "cottonwood" limestone. The article describes the neighborhood and its residents, including Stephen I. Snow, John Snow, John Daniel, Galen Cave, Noah Hunt, John B. Hunt, and Mrs. Julia F. Shawhan - names of interest to many of our readers. An Editor's Note states that additional information on the Snow family of near Lone Jack will be printed in the July 1985, Vol. 9, No.3 issue. However, that issue doesn't contain Snow information; perhaps its will appear in No.4. Our society receives PIONEER TIMES as an exchange publication. Ask our librarian, Betty Jones, about the copies.

"What's in Your Name"

JOHNSON

Johnson

It should not be necessary to explain that all persons named Johnson are not necessarily related to one another. In fact, their ancestors may easily come from widely separated areas of Europe for the name is found both in the British Isles and in Scandinavia. It is also found under such variant spellings as Jonson, Johnsen, Johanson, and Johannsen, to mention but a few. What the various Johnsons do have in common, however, is the fact that some prominent ancestor in their family history bore the personal name John (a Hebrew name meaning "Gift from Jehovah"). How many different individuals named John were responsible for the great number of Johnsons would be impossible to calculate.

Johnson, a patronymic surname, was first used to identify an ibdividual as "John's son". A designation of this sort, however, was not, at first, hereditary. Usually it changed with each succeeding generation. Until only recently, such changes were still quite common in Wales and in the Scandinavian countries. In such instances, for example, John's son, Robert was known as Robert Johnson; his grandson, William, however, was called William Robertson; while his great-grandson, Richard, was identified as Richard Williamson. Eventually one of these designations became permanent and was retained by succeeding generations as the family name.

Dr. Samuel Johnson was noted for his great literary achievements and the compilation of his English dictionary. The life of Samuel Johnson by James Boswell is a masterpiece of biography.

In the United Sates the name can be traced back at least as far as 1630 when Captain Edward Johnson was a resident of Boston. Two Johnsons have served as President of the United States: Andrew Johnson, the 17th President, and Lyndon Johnson, the 36th. Both first served as Vice-President and succeeded to the presidency upon the assassination of their predecessors.

In the sports world, Byron "Ban" Johnson organized the American League in baseball and inaugurated the annual World Series competition.
