Surry Ends 1972 With Road Death

Fourteen-year-old Cathy Elizabeth Darnell of Pilot Mountain became the 20th Surry road accident victim for 1972 in a one-car wreck Saturday night. Two others were injured.

It was the second highway death of December in Pilot Mountain. Earlier in the month a motorcycle rider was killed in a collision with a car.

Police officers William E. Reeves and Floyd Gwyn said the Saturday accident occurred at Academy Street and the U. S. Bypass just inside the Pilot Mountain city limits. The car, a 1972 Plymouth operated by Odell Oxendine, 22, of Ivanhoe, ran off an embankment and overturned after going out of control as the operator attempted to turn north on highway 52 from Academy St. Miss Darnell was killed instantly, Reeves said. Oxendine and another passenger, Miss Patsy Warden, 13, of Belevs Creek, were carried to Northern Surry Hospital and admitted for cuts and other injuries. They were both considered in satisfactory condition by hospital officials.

No charges have been filed pending completion of the investigation.

Funeral services for Miss Darnell will be held at 2 p.m. today at Hill's Grove Baptist Church with burial in the church cemetery.

She was born in Surry County to Lewis Aldine and Beulah Darnell. She was a sixth-grader at Pilot Mountain Elementary School and a member of Hill's Grove Baptist Church.

Surviving are her father of Pilot Mountain; her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Whitaker, route 1, Pilot Mountain; a brother, Donald Gray Darnell of Pilot Mountain; two half sisters, Misses Patricia and Shelby Annette Whitaker, route 1, Pilot Mountain; and her grandparents, Mrs. Shula Mae Warden of Belevs Creek and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Darnell of Pilot Mountain.

The body is at Cox Funeral Home in Pilot Mountain.

'Greatest living American'

Dear Ann Landers:—I was very much impressed with the funeral services of that dearly loved Senator from Minnesota, Hubert H. Humphrey. If ever a man earned the title "Greatest Living American," it was HHH.

Our entire family was glued to the TV set watching both funeral services—the one in the rotunda of the nation's Capitol and the church services in St. Paul. Our eyes were moist when Vice President Mondale said, "He taught us how to win—he taught us how to lose. He taught us how to live—and he taught us how to die."

President Jimmy Carter, in his eulogy delivered at the Church of Hope in St. Paul, quoted Mahatma Gandhi's list of the seven most grievous sins. I wish I had written them down because such gems of wisdom should be read and reread. Can you find these seven sins for me, Ann?—Just Another American Who Loved "The Happy Warrior" (A Vermont Republican At That)

Dear Vermont Republican: I was among those present at the services in St. Paul and was also deeply moved by the eulogies. I, too, wanted a copy of the President's quote from Mahatma Gandhi and managed to get it. Here it is:

"Mahatma Gandhi once wrote that there were seven sins in the world; wealth without work, pleasure without conscience, knowledge without character, commerce without morality, science without humanity, worship without sacrifice, and politics without principle."

President Carter then added, "Hubert Humphrey may have sinned in the eyes of God, as we all do, but in the eyes of Mahatma Gandhi, Hubert Humphrey was without sin."

To Comfort You

Cycle Accident Kills Pratt Youth

An 18-year-old Surry County youth was killed early Saturday near Pilot Mountain when his motorcycle ran off a rural paved road and struck a large rock, throwing him from the bike.

Joseph William (Joe) Pratt, II, of route 1, Siloam, died after being taken to Forsyth Memorial Hospital after the 7:55 a.m. accident.

Pratt, riding a 1970 Honda motor cycle, was traveling north on rural paved road 2086, 6.4 miles west of Pilot Mountain, when his bike failed to negotiate a right-hand curve and ran out of the roadway striking a large rock. Upon impact with the rock, Pratt was thrown from his motorcycle, according to investigating Highway Patrolman C.R. Watson. The bike was damaged approximately $750.

Watson estimated the speed of the motorcycle at 45-50 miles per hour at the time of the wreck. According to Trooper Watson's wreck report, the brake lever to the rear wheel of Pratt's bike was disconnected, leading the officer to believe that the bike was possibly without brakes at the time of the accident.

Pratt was the fourth traffic fatality for Surry County this year, compared with nine for the same period last year.

Surry County Emergency Medical Services transported Pratt directly to Forsyth Memorial Hospital in Winston-Salem where he died of cervical and lumbar spinal injuries and internal injuries.

Funeral services for Pratt were conducted Monday at Rock Hill Baptist Church with burial in Skyline Memory Gardens in Mount Airy.

He was born in Surry County, the son of Joseph W. and Polly Bruner Pratt, and was a member of Rock Hill Baptist Church. He was a student of Surry Community College, and a farmer.

Surviving are his parents; one brother, Terry Gray Pratt of the home; his grandparents, Mrs. Lucy Ashburn Bruner of route 1, Siloam, and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Pratt of route 2, Dobson.

Lillie Brown

Funeral services for Mrs. Lillie Mae Isenhour Brown, 82, route 1, Siloam, were conducted Wednesday in Pine Hill Friends Church with burial in the church cemetery. She died Monday morning at her home.

Mrs. Brown was born in Watauga County to Julius and Rebecca Smith Isenhour, and was the widow of Bennett Jasper Brown.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Wayne Snyder of Pinnacle and Mrs. George Jones of route 1, Pinnacle; five sons, Harvey Brown, Fred Brown, Lawrence Brown, all of Siloam, Glenn Brown of Winston-Salem, and Paul Brown of route 2, Pinnacle; two sisters, Miss June Isenhour of Blowing Rock and Miss Earl Isenhour of Zionville; one brother, Rev. Walter Isenhour of High Point; 12 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

I KNOW SOMETHING GOOD ABOUT YOU!
 Wouldn't this old world be better
 If folks we meet would say,
 "I know something good about you!"
 And then treat us that way?
 Wouldn't it be fine and dandy,
 If each hand clasp warm and true
 Carried with it this assurance,
 "I know something good about you!"?
 Wouldn't life be lots more happy,
 If the good that's in us all
 Were the only thing about us
 That folks bothered to recall?
 Wouldn't life be lots more happy,
 If we praised the good we see?
 For there's such a lot of goodness
 In the worst of you and me.
 Wouldn't it be great to practice
 That fine way of thinking too?
 You know something good about me!
 I know something good about you!

Sunday Rites Unite Couple

Miss Deborah Opal Edmonds and Michael Lee Worrell were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in vows spoken in Woodville Baptist Church.

The Rev. J.A. Crews performed the ceremony before an altar flanked with baskets of gladioli, pompons, palms, and greenery mixed with flowers. Pews were marked with bouquets of flowers.

Wedding music was presented by Anna Calloway, pianist, and Barry Greening, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wade Edmonds, route 2, Mount Airy. She is a 1975 graduate of East Surry High School and is presently employed at Integon Corporation in Winston-Salem.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Alva Lee Worrell, route 1, Mount Airy and the late Mr. Worrell. He is a graduate of Mount Airy High School and recently completed a tour of duty with the United States Army. He is employed at Parrish Tire Company.

Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white organza. The gown was accented with double cap sleeves and a high neckline with two bands of Venise lace. Her chapel train was also edged with the Venise and motif lace. A white veil of Venise lace was attached to the bonnet cap headpiece which was complemented with two tiers, one being edged in Venise lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses, babies breath and pompons.

Mrs. Kirby Bingman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown of Nile green Qiana knit was styled with a Queen Anne neckline and empire waistline. She wore babies-breath in her hair and carried two long stem yellow mums with green streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bob Raasch, sister of the bride, of Winston-Salem; Mrs. Norman Edmonds, sister-in-law of the bride; Ms. Brenda Ellis, sister of the bride, of Winston-Salem; Mrs. Butch Cook of Pilot Mountain; Miss Cathy Goins and Mrs. Gilbert McMillian.

Their gowns were the same as that of the matron of honor. They each carried one long stem yellow mum with green streamers.

Honorary bridesmaids were Mrs. Billy Burke and Mrs. Charlie Nifong of Winston-Salem; Mrs. Barry Greening, and Ms. Dottie Meadows of King.

Honorary attendants were attired in gowns of pastel pink, aqua, yellow and coral. Each attendant carried one white long stem mum with streamers to match their dresses.

Miss Tracie Ann Edmonds, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of floral print and babies breath in her hair. She carried a basket of rose petals. John William Raasch, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Gilbert McMillian served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Bill Edmonds and Jack Edmonds, brothers of the bride; Bob Raasch, brother-in-law of the bride, of Winston-Salem; Kirby Bingman, brother-in-law of the bride; Mike Lankford and Phil Glass.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Edmonds chose a pink polyester dress with matching jacket and white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom selected a blue polyester dress with black accessories. They wore corsages of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Ricky Lankford, presided at the guest register.

Mrs. Jack Edmonds, sister-in-law of the bride was director of the wedding.

After an unannounced wedding trip, the newlyweds plan to make their home at route 2, Mount Airy.

Cake Cutting

Mr. and Mrs. William Edmonds, parents of the bride, gave a cake cutting at the church.

A silver candelabrum containing snapdragons, iris, pompons and babies-breath was centered on a lace-covered table. The three-tiered wedding cake and punch bowl graced either ends. The cake, decorated with yellow roses and wedding bells, was topped with a miniature bride and gridegroom. Butter mints, nuts and punch were served by Mrs. Clinton Hawks, Mrs. Moses Worrell and Mrs. Truman Puckett, aunts of the bridegroom.

Selected

An East Surry High School student has been chosen to attend the Student Science Training Program at Berea College, in Berea, Ky.

Lisa Tucker, a rising senior, received a grant from the National Science Foundation to attend the program, along with 25 other students.

Preference in selection was given to students with high academic potential from the southern Appalachian region, with emphasis to be placed on wildlife biology. The session begins June 12, and ends July 9.

Miss Tucker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Tucker, route 1, Pilot Mountain.

Area Youth Wins Globe After 'Asking Andy'

A father's suggestion was a contributing factor in Tommy Edmonds earning a world globe by Asking Andy.

The Edmonds family, Tommy, 12, and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Edmonds of Rt. 3, High Point, were at the beach last year. The movement of the tides interested Tommy.

When he asked his father what caused this phenomenon the father said he didn't know but that question would be a good one to send in to the Ask Andy columns of The Enterprise.

Tommy did, and has won the globe.

Next fall Tommy will be in the 8th grade at Trinity Junior High, and he is a member of Glenola Baptist Church and its Sunday school. While he likes to build things, and swim, his main interest is in farming, and especially things connected with tobacco farming.

His question, and Andy's

Tommy Edmonds

answer follow:

Where Does The Water Go When The Tide Goes Out?

Tides are like waves. As the earth turns completely around each day, the moon and sun pull on the oceans. At any part of the coast, the water is pulled up in sort of a heap, which is what we call high tide. Then it is pulled away for what we call low tide. When it is high tide in one part of the world, the water has been pulled away from another part.

One scientist gives this good example of where the water goes when the tide is out: Think of water half filling a big pan. Gently turn the pan to the left until the water is almost to the top of the pan. As this happens, the water on the right side becomes very low. Gently turn the pan the other way and the end that had been shallow is now deep. That's how the tides work.

90-Year-Old

Annie Whitaker Loves Neighbors And Flowers

One would never suspect that Annie Whitaker is 90 years old. Her sparkling eyes, beautiful complexion and glowing personality make her seem years younger than she really is.

Because Sunday was her birthday, members of the family gathered at her home for lunch. They brought gifts, cards, flowers and a birthday cake decorated with a 90th emblem.

Mrs. Whitaker still maintains her own home near Pilot Mountain, is an immaculate housekeeper and still does all of her cooking. Her specialties include homemade light bread and fresh cocoanut cakes.

Her first love is growing plants and flowers which she houses on the back porch. This room has been converted into a compact greenhouse. Here she has angel wing begonias, Jade plants, Swedish ivy, wandering Jew and a beautiful hanging basket, one of the many birthday presents she received.

She has some camellia cuttings that she plans to root. Her secret is to place them near a drain pipe so the cuttings will stay moist.

Crocheted afghans and doilies that she made are placed on the sofa and chair. Tucked away in a bedroom dresser are tiny booties that she crocheted. They are trimmed with minute flowers and satin bows. She says that every stitch was made with love.

"I'm not able to get out and work in my flower garden like I once did. Now I spend quite a bit of time sitting by the window reading my Bible," she mused.

Mrs. Whitaker went on to say, "Folks just worry too much. I tell them to keep a smile on their face and leave everything to the Lord. He knows best."

When asked how she has kept such a beautiful complexion she replied, "with soap and water."

Mrs. Alvis Lawson, a next door neighbor to Mrs. Whitaker considers her to be one of the most wonderful persons to be found anywhere. "We've always called her 'Ma' and think of her as a member of the family. She's an excellent cook, a wonderful neighbor to everyone in the community and a person who wants to share everything she has," Mrs. Lawson commented. A doilie that Mrs. Whitaker made for the Lawson's daughter is kept under glass because it is a prized possession.

For 55 years Mrs. Whitaker taught Sunday School at Hills Grove Baptist Church. A member of the church since 1917, she was always present except when there was illness in the family. Since her hearing isn't as good as it once was she doesn't attend regularly anymore. Her father was a Quaker minister and she had been a Quaker until her marriage. When the children were small she moved her membership in order to take them to the nearest church.

Her husband, Houston died in 1949. Their three children were among the 26 present for her birthday celebration. They are Oscar Whitaker of route 2, Pinnacle; John Whitaker of route 1, Siloam; and Mrs. Minnie Ring of Greensboro. There are 10 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Whitaker says it won't be long before she can move her beautiful plants onto the front lawn. "I can't lift them but my neighbors always come and help. I have the best neighbors in the world," she declared.

97TH YEAR—NO. 24

Family threatened, boy, 16, kills father

BYRD EDMONDS
RT. 1
PILOT MOUNTAIN, NC 2704

DOBSON—A 16-year-old Pilot Mountain youth charged with fatally shooting his father Wednesday night was released on $2,500 bond Thursday after his mother testified he shot in self defense.

Mark Lewis Hicks, a student at East Surry High School, is charged with first degree murder in the death of his father, Vestal Lewis Hicks, 36, of Route 1. Hicks was dead on arrival at Northern Surry Hospital following the shooting shortly after 10 p.m.

Mrs. Carole Hicks testified at the bond hearing in Surry District Court Thursday that her husband was fatally shot by his 16-year-old son when the elder Hicks began moving toward him after threatening his family with a loaded shotgun.

John Foster, an agent with the State Bureau of Investigation who assisted Surry sheriff's deputies in the investigation, testified at the hearing that Hicks, who operated a service station in Pilot Mountain, was shot "five or six times."

According to testimony from Mrs. Hicks, who drives a school bus and works as a substitute mail carrier, her husband came home from work drunk at about 10 p.m. Wednesday. At home with her were her son and two teen-age daughters, she said.

Hicks flew into a rage when he noticed his son was sorting out and ironing some comic books that he was preparing for sale, she testified.

Her son went to her bedroom and got her small-caliber handgun, after his father had said, after loading his automatic shotgun, "I can get three of you, anyway," she testified.

Mrs. Hicks said her husband advanced on his son after he had thrown the shotgun down on the sofa and had taken off his belt, holding it in his hand.

Mrs. Hicks said she asked her husband to leave the house after the argument first began, but he refused, saying his family should leave instead.

They began to pack, she said, while her husband went to the gun cabinet, took out the shotgun and began loading shells into it. He destroyed the family's aquarium with his fist, she said.

"He told Mark he would kill him if he tried to get out the door," she said.

Hicks then knocked her down and started for his son when the boy told his father, "You're the one who's doing the fusing, nobody's doing anything but you."

"So he started for Mark," Mrs. Hicks said, after throwing the shotgun down and pushing his daughter into a hallway and her into the den.

"I don't know if Mark knew he had thrown down the gun," she said.

Mrs. Hicks said she heard gunfire and that her husband turned around in the doorway and said his son had shot him.

"Mark put the gun down on the table and ran out the door," she said.

A probable cause hearing in the case is scheduled March 9 in District Court.

Funeral services for Hicks will be conducted at 11 a.m. Saturday at Old Pine Hill Church with burial in the church cemetery.

Hicks was born in Surry County to Vester and Ollie Hiatt Hicks and was a member of Little Mountain Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Carole Tilley Hicks; two daughters, Miss Dawn Hicks and Miss Theresa Ann Hicks, both of the home; one son, Mark Hicks of the home; his mother, Mrs. Ollie Hicks of Pilot Mountain; three brothers, Billy Hicks and Ronald Hicks, both of Pilot Mountain, and Wade Hicks of Kissimmee, Fla.

The family will receive friends at Needham Funeral Home in Pilot Mountain from 7 to 9 p.m. tonight.

Henry Shore

Funeral services for Henry Tom Shore, 71, of Route 1, Ararat, will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Needham Funeral Home Chapel with burial in Fulk Memorial Cemetery. He died Tuesday morning at his home after suffering a heart attack.

Mr. Shore was born in Surry County, the son of Henry Tom and Victoria Flippen Shore and was a retired farmer. He was of Primitive Baptist faith.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ada Bell Fry Shore; one foster son, Andy James Taylor of the home; two brothers, Wesley Shore of Jonesville and Sid Shore of Siloam.

The family will receive friends tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Funeral Home Chapel in Pilot Mountain.

Harbour-Whitaker marriage

Miss Deborah Elaine Harbour and Larry Dale Whitaker were united in marriage in a ceremony performed Sunday at four o'clock in the afternoon at Laymore Memorial Baptist Church. Dr. Wilford Lyster was the officiating minister.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Nelson Harbour, 1710 Farmbrook Road, Mount Airy. She is a graduate of Mount Airy Senior High School and attended Surry Community College. She is employed with Lowe's of Mount Airy.

Mr. Whitaker is the son of Mrs. Ruby Brewer, 319 Pipers Gap Road, and Mr. B.E. Whitaker Jr., Route 1, Pilot Mountain. He graduated from East Surry High School and attended Surry Community College. He is employed with Proctor-Silex, Inc.

The ceremony was performed before a large wedding arch surrounded with palms and two baskets of flowers consisting of mums, gladioli, pompons, daisies, and sprenger fern. Two large heart candelabras entwined with palms completed the setting. Tall aisle candelabras decorated with greenery were used to mark the pews.

Wedding music was provided by Miss Kat Acker, flutist and pianist, and Miss Kathy Calaway, guitarist.

Miss Robin Whitaker, sister of the groom, presided at the guest register. Wedding director was Mrs. Gladys Smith.

Bride's gown

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white Qiana with a detachable wattleau chapel train. The empire bodice was designed with a scooped neckline trimmed in Venise lace flowers matching those at the wrist of the long fitted sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was trimmed in Venise lace and set on a matching band cap. She carried a nostalgic bouquet of white roses, white daisies, dotted with peach colored miniature carnations, babies'-breath, ivy, with streamers tied in love knots.

Miss Alison Harbour, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

She wore a formal length gown of peach peau de sole fashioned with a fitted bodice, spaghetti straps and trimmed with an ecru satin collar. A cluster of babies breath accented her hair. She carried a bouquet styled similar to the brides with miniature carnations, daisies and babies'-breath.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Steve Johnson of Mount Airy and Mrs. T. Clayton Goings of Pilot Mountain. Their attire was identical to that of the maid of honor.

T. Clayton Goings served the groom as best man.

Ushers were Leon Whitaker, brother of the groom and Steve Johnson, both of Mount Airy.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Virginia Beach and Williamsburg, Va. They will reside at Route 8, Mount Airy when they return.

Cake cutting

Following the rehearsal on Saturday evening, the bride's parents honored the couple with a cake cutting in the fellowship hall of the church.

The wedding cake was placed on a large round table covered with white imported tiered lace over linen, tied with ribbons and fresh flowers. The three tiered all white wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom surrounded with fresh flowers and greenery in the bride's chosen color of peach.

The serving table was covered with matching lace featuring a tall centerpiece of silver filled with white snapdragons, pompons, peach colored daisies, roses and ming fern. Flanked on each side was a five branched silver candelabra holding tall tapers.

Mints, nuts, cheese straws, punch and wedding cake were served from silver trays. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Sanford Cooke, aunt of the bride; Mrs. Steve Johnson, Mrs. Leon Whitaker, Mrs. Clayton Goings and Miss Kat Acker.

Scott-Inman exchange vows

Miss Deborah Jean Scott became the bride of Mr. Paul Michael Inman Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the First Baptist Church of Pilot Mountain. The Rev. William H. Edwards, pastor of the church, was the officiating minister.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie W. Scott, of Pilot Mountain. She graduated from East Surry High School and will graduate in May from Davidson Community College with a degree in Paralegal Technology.

Mr. Inman, of Plymouth, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Inman, of Elizabethtown. He graduated from Fayetteville Technical Institute with a degree in Civil Engineering and is employed as a Peat Engineer at First Colony Farms in Creswell.

Wilson Smith was organist for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza over Peau taffetta. The empire waist featured a Bertha yoke of English net extending into a high neckline and embroidered with Venice lace motifs and seed pearls. A ruffle of Venice lace extended around the chapel length train of the A-line skirt which was embroidered with Venice lace motifs down the front.

Her headpiece was a fingertip Mantilla of silk illusion edged in the same Venice lace as the dress and sprinkled with tiny lace motifs, centered on a headband of Venice lace.

The bride carried her maternal grandmother's white Bible which was covered with a white purple Throated Cattleya Orchid, stephanotis and ivy. Her mother carried the same kind of bouquet on her wedding day.

Maid of honor was Tammy Chilton of Pilot Mountain. She wore a floor-length gown of interlock knit polyester of azure blue. Her gown featured a yoke of white old-fashioned lace with a blouson bodice gathered at the waist. She carried a long-stemmed mum with streamers.

Bridesmaids were Kathy

Scott of King, sister-in-law of the bride; Rita Francis and Susan Frasco, both of Winston-Salem; and Janice Mills Marion of Mount Airy. Their gowns and flowers were identical to that of the honor attendant.

Amy Badgett of Mocksville was flower girl. She was dressed identical to the honor attendant and the bridesmaids. Kevin Scott, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mr. Inman was his son's best man. Ushers were Ken Inman, of Elizabethtown, brother of the groom; Dickie Scott, of King, brother of the bride; Arvill Terry Scott, of Kernersville, brother of the bride; Frankie Baxley and Tony Inman, both of Elizabethtown; Wayne Inman of Lexington; and Johnny Inman of Concord.

Reception

A reception was given in honor of the couple by the bride's parents immediately following the wedding in the church social hall.

A large round table covered in white tiered lace and tied with ribbons and fresh flowers featured a four tiered wedding cake. The cake was decorated with tiny roses and rosebuds in the bride's chosen colors of mango and blue with a miniature bride and groom on top.

The serving table covered in the same tiered lace held a tall esporn of silver with an arrangement of pompons, Killiams Daisies, fugi mums, babies breath and roses. It was flanked on each side with large five branch silver candelabras holding tall tapers and entwined with fern and fresh flowers.

The elegant silver punch bowl, on a large round silver tray, was on a round table matching the one holding the cake. Tiny rose mints, nuts, cheese dreams, punch and cake was served to the guests.

Mrs. Fred C. Smith, of Siloam, made the wedding cake and directed the wedding.

After an unannounced wedding trip, the couple will reside in Plymouth.

Traffic Mishap Near Pilot Mtn. Injures Three

Three persons were injured in a three-vehicle traffic mishap that occurred Saturday afternoon at approximately 1 o'clock on N. C. Highway 268 at the Highway 52 ramp.

State Highway Patrolman J. W. "Buck" Edwards of Pilot Mountain, who investigated, said that a 1965 Plymouth, operated by Paul Zane Shelton, 26, Route 3, Stuart, Va., was traveling west on N. C. Highway 268 and had stopped to make a left turn onto the Highway 52 ramp. A 1969 Ford, driven by Robert Brent Davis, 18, traveling west on Highway 268 came up behind the Shelton vehicle, pulled out to pass and hit a 1966 Chevrolet, operated by Byrd Isaac Edmonds, 58, Route 1, Pilot Mountain, headon. The Chevrolet was traveling east on Highway 268, towards Pilot Mountain.

The Davis vehicle, Patrolman Edwards said, bounced sideways into the side of the Shelton car.

Edmonds was taken to Northern Surry Hospital, where he was admitted for treatment of fractured ribs and lacerations about the face and legs. Shelton and Davis were treated at the hospital and then released.

Damage to the Shelton vehicle was estimated at approximately $300, while the Chevrolet and Ford were total losses.

No charges have been filed pending completion of the investigation.

Three Are In Hospital

Three people remain in the intensive care unit of Northern Surry Hospital today for treatment of injuries received in a head-on collision Friday afternoon on NC 268.

Highway Patrolman C. C. Tilley reported that the accident occurred at 3:15 p.m. Friday around six miles east of Pilot Mountain.

Lester Matthew Chaney, 57, route 1, Pilot Mountain was driving a 1967 Ford Station wagon east and collided head-on with a 1966 Pontiac driven by Mrs. Nellie Inman Tilley, 42, route 1, Ararat, N.C.

Patrolman Tilley said the Ford was completely left of the center line when the collision occurred, and that the Pontiac had come almost to a stop.

A spokesman for Northern Surry reported Chaney had sustained a broken back and that Mrs. Tilley and a passenger in her car, Mrs. Betty Chilton Bledsoe, 42, route 1, Ararat, N.C., were being treated for multiple facial lacerations.

Patrolman Tilley reported that Chaney is charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and driving left of the center.

Both cars were demolished.
