FRANKLIN HIGH SCHOOL

Mount Airy, North Carolina

In Memoriam

ROBERT JACOB JONES

December 5, 1877 - June 5, 1949

Franklin School Committeeman for over thirty years, Chairman of the School Board, Loyal Patron. . . No one has phrased a truer tribute than Mr. Neill M. Smith, County Farm Agent: "Mr. Jones loved the things that mean most to rural people. You could find him in the heart of the church's problem, at the head of the school's problem, out in front for progress in all the activities that contribute to a better community for people who love the earth and live thereon. . ."

Dedication

. . . To Mr. Hiatt who, in his daily instruction, not only fashions for us a high moral code of honor and conduct but who also embodies these ideals in our associations with him as teacher and friend, we gratefully dedicate this, the 1950 volume of the MAROON AND GREY. . .

Maroon and Grey Staff

. . . Herewith we present this chronicle of our school days. . . spinning for you on the ensuing pages a charm against time. . . in the hope that in some future year, you may leaf through this book, and pointing to portrayed faces, exclaim: "Yes! this is how they were in the long ago. . ."

Although the school has neither Beta Club nor Honor Society, significantly on this and the foregoing page we have pictured the leaders of the Class of 1950 from the standpoint of scholarship. Certainly the class room--with all its academic aspects--is the forum from which valuable leadership emerges, and no other activity should supersede this time-honored testing ground.

Staff: "Franklin Hi-Life"

Second row: Alfred Gardner, Sports Editor; Patricia Gordon, Reporter; Maxine Tickle, Ruby Harold, Reporters; Doris Nichols, Sports Editor.

Third row: Barbara Shelton, Reporter; Thelma Hanks, Business Manager; Arthur Beamer, Associate Business Manager; Mildred Jarrell Circulation Manager.

With "four down and two to go" (with reference to issues printed) the Franklin Hi-Life Staff feels that the 1949-1950 Year has been successful from many standpoints. Inheritor of a paper in a healthy financial condition (thanks to the sagacity of 1948-49 Staff and their Sponsor: Mrs. Starling) the Business Staff sparked by Thelma Hanks, mounted a highly concentrated advertising campaign in the fall. This campaign, together with a subscription drive, should enable the 1950 Staff to carry on the tradition of a school paper which operates "in the black".

With a pared-down and cooperative staff, Carlos Surratt assumed the editorial reins and has proved a most capable "exec". Bill Venable as Copy Editor assembled "dummies" to meet press deadlines, and Dorothy Hill was always ready to fill in as typist, producing neat and accurate copy. Limitation of space prevents us from recognizing everyone by name; all worked willingly and well.

Attempts have been made to make the "Hi-Life" a truly news-worthy journal, reflecting all aspects of school activity. One criticism might be leveled that, due to Senior Sponsorship, the "Hi-Life" tends to be colored by Senior News. Would not a worthwhile goal be SCHOOL SPONSORSHIP with a paper truly representative of ALL classes?

Staff: Maroon and Grey

Seated: Mildred Leonard, Associate Business Manager; Glenn Macey, Business Manager; Mary Felts, Editor; Annie Belle Webb, Associate.

Standing; Geraldine Renegar, Photography; Howard Shelton, Advertising Manager; Anne Hodge, Activities; Kester Jarrell, Associate Advertising; Nancy Beamer, Activities Editor; Buster Gordon and Mary Nell Gardner, Sports Editors.

Elected early in October, the annual staff was immediately confronted with the problem of whether to publish a printed yearbook or a printed-lithographed book. The 1949 Maroon & Grey the school's first printed volume, was such an attractive yearbook that Seniors experienced a difficulty in making a decision. After comparing the cost of the two, it was decided to try the lithographed copy--with the expectation of including more pictures thus producing a bulkier volume.

Inability to meet regularly, lack of space to store materials, and failure to locate suitable working room handicapped the staff more than can be realized. Mary Felts as Editor, Glenn Macey, as Business Manager and Photographer, and the entire staff labored strenuously and capably to collect and assemble materials.

Efforts were made this year, to include more informal snapshots, and a thicker activities section, from the standpoint of yearly summaries. As you now witness the result, the staff hopes their goals were realized, in part---and for bigger and better years for Franklin's MAROON & GREY.....

ATHLETICS

Football 1949-1950

THE SQUAD

Second row: Dixie Norman, Howard Shelton, Buster Hall, Kenneth White, Bobby Shelton, Billy Belton, Donald Gardner.

Third row: Carlos Surratt, Jimmy Edwards, Buddy Hutchens, Donald Nichols, Billy Ray Nichols, Smith Hardy, Roger Jones, Spencer Eldridge, Wayne Hodge, Billy Smith.

The pioneer gridiron team of Franklin High School completed its first season without a win, but coaches and players feel satisfied with the year's results and are already shaping up plans for the 1950 season.

Under the leadership of Coach Charles W. Nelson, a group of boys, few of whom had ever seen a football game, was shaped into a very creditable first-year team.

The schedule of the games played, with scores follows:

September	30	Miller's Creek	21-6
October	14	Mount Airy Reserves	20-0
October	21	Flat Rock	26-0
October	28	Booneville	13-6
November	4	Flat Rock	13-7
November	11	Miller's Creek	12-7
November	18	Jonesville	59-7

Attention is called to the difference in the scores of the first and last Miller's Creek games and the first and last Flat Rock games as proof of the team's improvement during the season.

During spring training, Coach Nelson expects to pick an embyro squad from which to build a much better team. Three regulars dropped out of school and three more graduate this spring. Many of the boys now in the eighth or ninth grades are expected to furnish some valuable material to the squad.

Next year, the football schedule will probably see many wins for Franklin. Since both coach and boys have gained experience this season, it is hoped that teams of which the school can be justly proud will be produced.
