JOHN ROBERTS

John Roberts is the ancestor of all the Roberts descendants listed in this book, and it is the starting point for this record of his descendants in America. In 1755 John Roberts lived in Surry County, North Carolina. At this time, Surry, Stokes, and Yadkin Counties were all one territory. Surry, Stokes, and Yadkin Counties were established in 1770, 1789, and 1850 respectively. It is believed John Roberts came to North Carolina from Pennsylvania. To date, no official record of connection to Pennsylvania has been found; but the research continues.

John Roberts' marriage and his children have been established from the early records from Surry County, North Carolina. In 1755 John Roberts married Elizabeth ------ in Surry County, North Carolina. To date, the maiden name of Elizabeth has not been ascertained. Below is a listing of John and Elizabeth Roberts' children born in Surry County, North Carolina.

1. Susannah (Susan); B.C. February 28, 1756
2. James (Jim); B.C. February 11, 1758
3. Elizabeth (Betsy); B.C. June 10, 1760
4. Martha (Patsy); B.C. February 14, 1762
5. Mary (Polly); B.C. February 16, 1764
6. John; B.C. March 6, 1766
7. Francis (Franky); B.C. May 12, 1768
8. William (Billy); B.C. February 7, 1770
9. Ann; B.C. February 2, 1772
10. Joshua (Josh); B.C. February 26, 1774
11. Jonathan; B.C. February 6, 1776
12. Jane (Jinny); B.C. February 4, 1778
13. Hugh; B.C. July 5, 1780
14. Sarah (Sally); B.C. May 12, 1782

Jonathan Roberts married Lucy Davis on March 28, 1808 in Surry County, North Carolina. They were married by Marriages Bondsman Leonard Davis.

Hugh Roberts married Sarah Davis in Surry County, North Carolina. Hugh Roberts is thought to have moved to Celina, Tennessee and to have died in Jackson County, Tennessee.

On December 8, 1815 Martha (Patsy) Roberts married Caleb Hiatt. The Deedbook, pages 273 and 274 shows Martha divorced Caleb Hiatt and took the name of Patsy Roberts. She used this name in all her legal papers until her death.

William Roberts was a taxpayer in Montgomery County, Virginia in 1796. He would have been 26 years old at this time.

Thank you for your help in obtaining the records I needed. Olive Branch Roberts surely did not leave enough tracks, but I think I have him nailed down now.

Enclosed find check for $$2^{00}$ and the info you requested. I have documentation for the direct line if anyone else needs help.

Dear Mr. Cockerham,

I apologize for the delay in responding to your letter of 29 July. I was excited to hear from you as I had just begun my own genealogy research and there was your letter. At any rate, I began to try to find out who had the John Weldon Roberts letter, as I was unaware that it existed, and I have just recently been able to get everything together and copied.

My father, John J. Roberts, was married twice. Both his wives are deceased. He fathered 5 children, three by his first wife and two by his second:

John J. Roberts -m- Rachel Inez Dickerson
- Barbara Lenora Roberts Clark
- Peggy Lou Roberts Wilson
- John T. Roberts

(I'll try to get these birth dates for you)

John J. Roberts -m- Frances Grant
- Sara Frances Roberts Kohler 1/13/52
- Thomas David Roberts 8/17/53

I am also enclosing the Civil War letter copies that I have been able to obtain. If I come across more I will be happy to share them. I've put notes on them. I hope this is what you were referring to.

There are a couple of questions I was wondering if you might could help clear up. You refer to Samuel Woodson Roberts while everything I have calls him Sanborn. And his wife Malinda you say was his 1st cousin. Do you know her last (maiden) name?

Unfortunately, Daddy does not remember the dates that his grandmother + grandfather died and it is very possible that he never knew them. His father, Thomas David (you referred to him as "Bud" but Daddy has always called him "Old Man T. D") had Daddy very late in life. I think he was around 60 when Daddy was born. I'll try to see if I can get in touch with anyone who might have more information.

Thank you so much for writing. You really got me moving on a project that I needed to get started on. Thanks also for any information you have that you wouldn't mind sharing. Please let me know if there's anything I can do to help you further. I am close to the archives building here in Raleigh and will be happy to help you out in that way if I can.

Sincerely,

Sara Kohler

Dear Jim

Another cousin, Rachel Grace, has been helping me search for the heritage of my gr 3 grandmother, Ellen 'Nellie' Roberts, wife of Amos Worrell of Carroll County, VA. Not long ago, she sent me the enclosed 2-sided sheet on some Roberts family-members. They may -- or may not -- be related to you, but I thought you'd be interested.

I'm beginning to think that Nellie Roberts may have been a squaw! No one wants to claim her. For all I know, I may be related to Sitting Bull or Crazy Horse and have true American Heritage.

The enclosed cartoons are self-explanatory. These were from recent editions of the LA Times. Proves that Arkansas Bill doesn't have to be the butt of every joke these days!

Sincerely

Cec' Hubbard

Mrs. Louisa York Claimed By Death

Aged Resident of Beulah Community Dies Early Tuesday Morning at Home Of Her Son — Funeral Rites Held At Laurel Springs on Wednesday.

Mrs. Louisa York, 94, one of the oldest residents of Surry county, died early Tuesday morning at the home of her son, Wesley A. York, ten miles northwest of Mt. Airy near Beulah school. She had been in failing health for some time, but her death was a shock to relatives and a host of friends throughout this section.

Mrs. Louisa Phillips York was born in Surry county on October 12, 1841, the daughter of the late Abner and Susan Welborn Phillips, and she had spent her entire life in this part of North Carolina. She was married in young womanhood to the late Cornelius W. York, who preceded her in death about seventeen years ago.

She was a lifelong member of the Primitive Baptist church and was faithful in attendance at its services as long as her health would permit. A home-loving woman, she had always taken a deep interest in her home and children, three of whom survive her. They include Wesley A. York, Jim York and Mrs. Sarah McCraw, all residents of the Beulah community.

Funeral services were held from the Laurel Springs Primitive Baptist church several miles northwest of this city at 1 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, with Elder J. C. Dunbar officiating. Interment was made in the Laurel Springs cemetery.

century brick fillings were removed. Fragments of the sawed-off putlogs that had been left from the time colonial brickmasons built the house were found still embedded when the holes again were exposed.[72]

CONDITION

Restoration of the Palmer House took place in 1952. An 1857 brick addition to the east, which nearly doubled its size, and various frame additions of the same period to the south were demolished. The windows of the original house, lowered at the sills to match larger windows in the nineteenth-century extension and then capped with cast-iron pediments, were restored to their proper dimensions and trim. Unauthentic late dormers were removed from the roof, and the walls were cleaned of paint. The structural condition of all original brickwork and framing members was sound and needed only minimal repairs for reinforcement.

Exterior features that are wholly or mostly original include the main cornice, except its crown mold, the front steps, lacking only the bottom one whose shape was revealed by archaeological investigations, the rakeboards and endboards on the west elevation, and the south or back door with its hardware. All window frames and sashes, the front door, the wrought-iron railing to the front steps, the north bulkhead (authenticated by structural and archaeological evidence), and the part of the chimney stack above the roof date from the restoration. The south porch is a reconstruction. The only noteworthy original feature inside the house is the stairway, a closed string type with square newel posts and turned balusters of simple but customary design.

Plutina M. Jones, daughter of Jonathon and Hannah Jarvis Jones, was born March 7, 1833, and died June 19, 1958. She married Dr. David Cockerham of Jonesville, North Carolina, on May 15, 1858. This couple lived in Jonesville, and they did not have any children.

The third child of Jonathon and Hannah Jones was James Monroe Jones, born September 14, 1834, died December 13, 1908. He married on December 25, 1859, Parmelia Williams. They had ten children.

The fourth child, Frerre Houston Jones, was born September 4, 1836, and died October 15, 1912. He married Emma J. Brown on February 18, 1864. This couple had five children. He was educated for the ministry, and his first church was near Boonville, in Yadkin County.

Rev. Jones served as pastor of the churches in and around Boonville until 1890 at which time he moved to Reidsville in Rockingham County, North Carolina. There he served several churches until his death at age 75 years.

A few months before he died he wrote his brother Monroe Jones in Boonville a long letter in which he described his work in the church. He told of how he drove a horse and buggy from church to church. He stated that 4,000 people had professed at his revivals, and that 2,000 had been baptized. He had sent out 12 young ministers from his churches, 10 of whom he had personally baptized. Under his leadership, eight church houses had been built, the least expensive cost $300.00, and the most expensive one cost $9,000.00 to build.

The fifth child of Jonathon and Hannah Jarvis Jones was Jacob Sect Jones, born September 22, 1938. He married and moved to Surry County on Snow Creek, two miles north of Little Richmond. He had four children, and he lived in Surry County until the children were all over 21 years of age. Then sold his property and moved to Ogelsby, Texas, where he purchased a large cotton farm. He and his family are all buried in Texas.

The sixth child, Sanders Jones, was born September 14, 1842, and died as a child on December 13, 1855.

John Dallas Jones, the seventh child, died at age 11 years, and 8 days, having been born November 10, 1844, and died November 28, 1855.

Lunsford Winfield Jones, was born January 9, 1864, and died April 23, 1895. He married Mattie Benbow on December 4, 1844. They had five children. After Mr. Jones married he built a large, two-story house and a store on Carolina Avenue in Boonville, North Carolina. This store was a general mercantile store. The store building was the third one built in the town of Boonville. Both the house and the store building are still in use.

After Mr. Lunsford Winfield Jones died, his North Carolina, where she lived until her death. Her children all married and continued to make their homes in Winston-Salem. James Monroe Jones accomplished so many things, his history and that of his family will be included in a separate article. (See "James Monroe Jones Family" for more information as well as other articles on the Jones Family.)

HISTORY OF THE JAMES MONROE JONES FAMILY

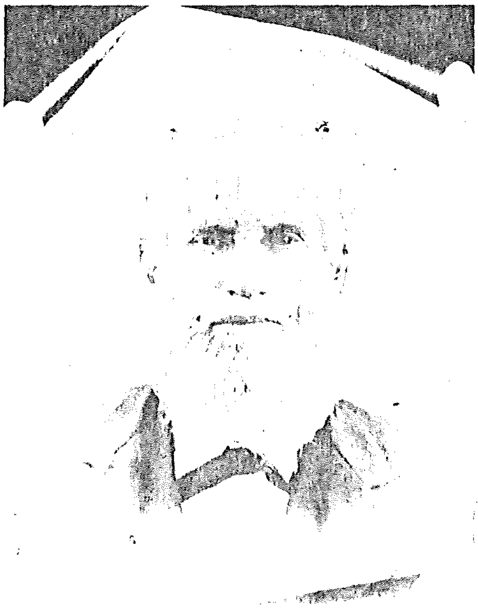
James Monroe Jones, born September 14, 1834, died December 13, 1908, married Parmelia A. Williams on December 25, 1859. Parmelia was born January 14, 1842, and died March 17, 1924. To this couple were born ten children.

(1) Tecora Jones died as a child, (2) Laura A. Jones married Jim Hurt, (3) John Dallis Jones married Emma Jones, (4) Rosa Dora Jones married Edgar Johnson, (5) Jonathon Luther Jones married Annie Poindexter, (6) Martha Etta Jones married Dr. Everette Peak, (7) Lula Plutina Jones married Dearing Watkins, (8) Crawford Houston Jones married Mamie Virginia Burton, (9) Mary Stella Jones married Bright Woodhouse, (10) James Edgar Jones, died as a child.

In July of 1861 James Monroe had typhoid fever and nearly died. In August of 1862 he was called for service in the Army of the Confederacy. He was examined and declared unfit for military service as he had never fully recovered from having typhoid fever. Mr. Jones believed the South was right in declaring war against the North and he wanted to do his part, so in September of 1862 he hired Mr. Henry Starling to go in his place to fight. He bought Henry Starling a complete uniform and a rifle and paid him $1,500.00.

Henry Starling stayed in the Army four years, and was never wounded. After the war, he returned home. Henry came to visit Mr. Jones and gave back the rifle. That gun has remained in the Jones family all the years since, and is still in excellent condition and can be fired safely. At the present time the gun is owned by a grandson, C. Hilton Jones, of Boonville, North Carolina.



Pamelia Jones

James Monroe and his bride moved to Nebo where he operated a store for the Government during the war. This store supplied the wives of the men who were away at war with all the home necessities such as salt, pepper, lard, sugar, molasses, fat meat, vinegar, shoes, nails, axes, and cloth.

After the war, James Jones bought a 265-acre farm on the Yadkin River opposite Burch Station. This farm did not have any buildings on it at the time, so James got a sawmill to move in and cut enough timber so that he could build a 7-room house, an 8-stall barn, a tool shed, a grain storage house, a large corn crib, and a tobacco barn. After the buildings were completed, James and his wife, Parmelia, moved in.

For the first few months they got their water from a big spring at the bottom of the hill. But, they finally decided it was too far to have to carry water. So, work was begun on the digging of a well. It is not known just how many weeks and months it took to dig this well. When completed it was four feet wide and 125 feet deep. It is probably one of the deepest hand-dug wells in Yadkin County.

After five or six years, Mr. and Mrs. Jones had several children, and they wanted these children to go to school. It was three miles to Boonville School which was too far for the children to walk. So Mr. Jones and his neighbors went in together and built a one-room log school house. The building was 20 feet square and had a rock chimney. The neighbors who helped were members of these families: Reece, Hurt, Lane, Harris, and Woodruff. Each of the neighbors paid his part of the teacher's salary. The building was not torn down until 1920.

Mr. Jones bought one of the first grain drills

Yesterday when I tried to find the 1830 census it didn't come up at ancestry but today it did so here it is. So this means that the William Lyon who lived in Grayson County in 1830 was another William Lyon. The William Lyon in Surry was on the same page with James Roberts, John Roberts (this was Nancy Lyon Robert's husband John), and Jonathan Roberts (this was James Roberts' son Jonathan). I've never understand why every generation in my Roberts family has both a Jonathan and John Roberts for sons in the same generation but it does. There's a Jonathan Roberts who lives near here where I live in Ft. Worth, TX. He was my grandmother's first cousin. He legally changed his name from Jonathan to "Jack" Roberts. He became a Gen. after WWII. He was a pilot during the war. I've got two newspaper articles on him about WWII and his being a pilot. Someone in the family told me that a movie was made about him. I'm not sure if it's true or not. He supposedly spotted a ship from Japan near the U.S. The ship was very close to our shores. I called him on the phone one time to talk to him and asked for Jonathan Roberts. He said nobody lived there with that name. I called him back and asked for Jack and he talked to me for a very long time.
Thanks, Mallory

>> Dear Mallory,
>> Hope your back has improved since we last "talked." Did you have to have >> more surgery? What an incredible burden this must be for you.
>>
>> It's been a while since I updated you on people we've found in the John >> C. Roberts family. Just finished a job ("real" work) this morning so am >> going to try to catch up on some personal correspondence before another >> job descends.
>> First, I found a death date for James Lyon Roberts in a book at the >> Sutro Library here in SF. I think you had month and year already but >> maybe not the day. Also found the death record for James Lyon's daughter >> Amanda. Her husband, Thomas J. Johnson, was not in these records; he >> probably died before 1940, when the records posted at RootsWeb begin.
>> Source: Sonoma County Death Records, 1873-1905 (Santa Rosa, CA: Sonoma

>> Jame [sic] L. Roberts, d. 2 Apr 1897, 82y3mo5d. Male, married, b. NC, d.

>> The following is a brief summary from my worksheet of where the research >> stands on James Lyon Roberts's brothers and sisters:
>>
>> 1. James Lyon Roberts, b. 1815 NC, m. 1837 Ripley Co., IN, Rebecca
>> Colson; d. 1897, Santa Rosa, Sonoma Co., CA; in Mahaska by 1850C.
