God made man
Woman makes bread
It takes the bread
That the woman makes
To sustain the man
That God made
But the bread
That some women make
Would not sustain any man
That God ever made
If they have to make the bread
Out of the dough the man makes

Somebody told Bill Byerly that Roy Mitchell charged twenty dollars for the first call and two dollars for the second. Bill Byerly called to see him. When the door was opened, he said: "Well, doc, here I am again."

—K—

Grover Lovill: "Charlie, why, there ain't no chicken in this chicken pie."

Charlie Andrew: "There ain't no dog in dog biscuit, is there?"

—K—

Steve Hale: "I've had to press these trousers four times and the skunk has not paid me for them yet."

Carlyle Boyles: "I went to collect a bill for a pair of boots yesterday, and the fellow kicked me out with them."

—K—

Blevens: Dearest, if I had known this tunnel was so long, I'd have given you a jolly hug.

She: "Didn't you? Why, somebody did."

—K—

Hurst: The word "pants" is an uncommon noun, because pants are singular at the top and plural at the bottom.

—K—

John Folger has the reputation of forgetting names, dates and appointments. Recently on a trip to Washington he wired Mrs. Folger: "Have forgotten name of client. Please wire at once."

Mrs. Folger's reply: "Client's name Jenkins. Your name Folger."

—K—

Carlyle Boyles: Stockings? Yes, ma'am what number do you wear?

Lady Customer: What number? Why, two, of course. Do you take me for a centipede or a one-legged veteran of the war.

Arthur Marshall: "Do you allow a drunken Irishman in this jitney?"

Camel City Driver: "No slip in and take a back seat no one will notice you."

—K—

John D. Thompson: "Job, why is it that you have not hair on your head?"

Job Sparger: "Grass does not grow on a busy street."

John D.: "Oh, I see. It can't get up thru the concrete."

—K—

Burglar: "If you stir you are a dead man. I'm hunting money."

Mose Newell: "Let me get up and strike a match and I'll hunt with you."

—K—

John Sobotta: "Say, Jim what time is it by the end of your nose?"

Jim Yokley: "I don't know. Mine is not running, is yours?"

—K—

Rossie George: "How much?"

Harvey Hege: "Two dollars."

Rossie: "Heavens TWO DOLLARS?"

Harvey: "Sure it was an extraordinary job getting the tooth out, and you required twice the ordinary amount of gas."

Rossie: "Then Cola Whitlock must have read the meter."

—K—

Mrs. Hoffman: "Put on your hat Dan."

Dan Hoffman: "Why?"

Mrs. Hoffman: "Here comes a woodpecker."

—K—

Mrs. Robert Lovill: "I see in the paper where a man was killed for three dollars."

Robert Lovill: (Absently) "What a small fee. The fellow who did the work must have had a fake diploma."

Moir Martin: "You'll have to cut out some of this wine, women and song business, its killing you."

Jess Prather: "All right, doc." "I'll never sing again."

—K—

George Snow: Giving commands in France:

"Shoulder arms—you too."

"Forward March—you too."

"To the rear march—you too."

First Lieutenant—"Fine, but I don't get the idea of that —'you too'."

George: "Well I'll tell you. I know this gang—they're a hard lot. Every time I ask them to do something, under their breath I know they are going to tell me to go to h.....! and I want to beat them to it."

—K—

An august Englishman introduced himself to C. H. Haynes, the Englishman said: "I am Lord Baconfield, Knight of the Golden Fleece, Knight of the Star and Garter, Knight of the Rose Croix and Knight of the Iron Cross."

Sheriff Haynes: "I am Caleb Haynes, l-ast n-ight, n-ight be-fore l-ast, to-night and every d—m night."

—K—

Joe Tesh to Blevins: "I wish you would give orders to the passenger train engineer not to blow his whistle when coming in town on Sundays."

Blevins: "What prompts such an unreasonable request?"

Tesh: "Charlie Crouch preaches until he hears the train blow, and it was thirty minutes late last Sunday."

—K—

When E. W. Fox made his first round of the mountain churches after coming to the Mount Airy Circuit, he preached at one place and had for his text "Jeremiah." After he had fed them on Jeremiah for about one and one-half hours he exclaimed: "What shall I do with Jeremiah?"

A real old brother in the Amen corner said: "Parson you can give Jeremiah my seat caze I'm going home."

Oscar Merritt's Epitaph:

Here lies the remains of a radio fan
Now mourned by his many relations;
He went to a powder mill, smoking his pipe,
And was picked up by twenty-one stations.
