MAMA 2" TO MOST. TO US OUR MOT

In Memory of Thira Evelyn Norman
March 2, 1923 – February 27, 2007

I, Carolyn Steele (daughter) would like for this to be a celebration of my Mother's life. First let me tell you something about her: On one occasion when she was in the hospital, I was trying to get her to take a bath, but she didn't want to, but I insisted so finally she said "Why do you keep bugging me?" I said, "Do you remember when I was born? You said "take that ugly thing away from here." Well, I'm still trying to get even with you". So she got tickled and got the bath.

Also, I would like to thank my brother, Frank and his wife, Pam for allowing us to use their place to care for her and my sister Judy and her husband Bruce for being there night and day to do everything they could. Also, my youngest brother David and his wife Kim for bringing a valentine card to Mom on Valentines...she was too sick to look at it but two days later she picked it up and read every bit of it out loud with no glasses on. This amazed me. Also, I want to thank my niece Dee Ann who looked after Mom for about a year and also Judy's daughter-in-law Kim, who has been a wonderful helper.

Most of you know Mama as "Mama 2". She got that name from her first grandchild, Cindy. She stayed with Mama a lot when she was young and one day when she said "Mama", we both said " What?" She looked at me and said "you're Mama 1" and then pointed to Mama and said "you're Mama 2".

One more story...back when I was young Mama always made an applesauce cake at thanksgiving...and in my childish eyes it was as big as a small washing tub but when she brought it out it was always about the size of a regular tube cake pan. Many years later I found out she would take out a small slice for herself and then push it back together.

I've just got to tell you this one more story... When my Mother was 63 years old, my Dad had been dead for about 14 years. Mother found a house she really loved, three bedroom, and two baths. Well, the bank had told her she could have a 30-year mortgage. I said "Mother, do you realize you'll be 93 when you get this house paid for?" She thought about it for a minute and said, "Well, I probably will not be able to drive by then. I'll just ride a bicycle to work." Well, she wanted all new furniture and Frank told her to get what she wanted. Every time I went to visit she had new curtains, matching bedspreads and the whole works! She really enjoyed her new home.

My Mother was a Christian! If there's anyone here today who don't know God as their personal Savor, I want you to talk to my Uncle Tom. "Stand up Tom" so they'll know who you are. He can tell you how to be saved.

When we found out how critical Mom was, I really believed I was the strongest of all of us, but about two weeks before she went to be with the Lord, Judy was at her bedside. I was on the couch and Judy came and sat down and whispered "Mama said she was dying". So, I went over and asks Mama "what do you want?" She took my hand and patted it and my arm and reached up and kissed me on the cheek and said "somebody just like you". I knew that was my last kiss. Needless to say, I no longer felt very strong, so I went to the kitchen to cry and pray.

My oldest daughter, Cindy and brother, Frank said they were on needles and pins when they found out I wanted to talk at my mother's funeral. They said they didn't know what might come out of that mouth of mine.

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters: He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. .Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over . . Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever. . .

Sandra Rose (Sandi) Mabe

Sandra Rose Mutino Mabe passed quietly in her home on November 8, 2012 with her husband James by her side.

Sandra (Sandi) was born November 4, 1939 to Amedio C and Filomena D Mutino in Burbank, California. A graduate of Villa Cabrini Academy, Sandi spent her formative years engaged in her passion for dance, ancient history, and love of the arts. Throughout the years, Sandi works for various financial companies in the San Fernando Valley until the entrepreneurial spirits lead her in a new direction.

Sandi and James moved to Wellington, Nevada nearly twenty years ago where they have owned and operated JamesGate Ranch. Well respected and loved in the community, Sandi found her peace and serenity on the ranch surrounded by her beloved animals, gardens, nature's gifts, and her husband. Her husband James A. Mabe, her children, sister, grandchildren and great granddaughter, nieces, nephews survives Sandi. Preceding her in death are her parents, grandniece, and aunts and uncles.

Respecting Sandi's wishes, there will not be a memorial service; rather, Sandi requested that donations be made on her behalf to Nevada Humane Society 2825 B-Longley Lane, Reno, Nevada, 89502. Special thank you to Saint Mary's Hospice of Reno, Nevada for their caring and compassionate support to the Mabe Family. Cremation services provided by Simple Cremations Carson City, Nevada.

Don't cry for me, now that I am free.
Just look around anywhere, and that is where I'll be.
For I am the daylight, when the sun starts to rise.
I'm the bright rainbow, you see with your eyes.
I'm the tiny raindrops, that sprinkle in the wind.
I'll always be here with you, for there really is no end.
I'm the dew that's on the ground, and the quietness all around.
Yes, I am so very happy, with this new life I have found.
I'm the peaceful summer breeze, that flows softly through the trees.
I'm the bluebird in the sky, that sings with such ease.
Yes, I am so very happy, so happy to be free.
Understand my family and friends and don't you cry for me.

John Grover Keck

John Grover Keck was born on September 12, 1935 in Prairie Grove, Arkansas, to Mary Jean De Roulhac Keck and John Virgil Keck. His mother cared for John and his younger brother, Jack, in Rogers, Arkansas, when their father went to Europe as an officer with the U.S. Army Air Corps during World War II.

After the war the family moved to Hope, Arkansas, where John made friendships that would last a lifetime. He was considered a thoughtful and earnest young man, quiet and somewhat shy. He spent much of his free time hunting and fishing, often by himself, and became an accomplished outdoorsman. John played football at Hope High School and, after graduating in 1953, joined the Marine Corps and served in Korea. He returned to Camp Pendleton, near San Diego, California where he was assigned to the First Engineering Battalion of the First Marine Division.

On weekend leave with a Marine Corps buddy to the mountain town of Big Bear, California, he met the love of his life, Lynda Carolyn Mabe, whom he wed on Feb. 9, 1957. They faced much joy and heartbreak together through 52 years of marriage, and were rarely apart. She learned to share his love for the outdoors, taking on everything from quick weekend camping trips to long backpacking excursions deep into the forests of John's beloved Sierra Nevada of California. Meanwhile, he learned to share her affection for animals and in making their home a sanctuary for God's creatures that would otherwise have none.

John attended the University of Arkansas before moving his young family to Los Angeles where he took a job at Bekins Moving and Storage. In his 36-year career at Bekins he rose from working long hours on the loading docks to becoming an operations manager for the company's Pacific Region. He was active in the community and in organizations, becoming president of the North Valley YMCA and raising champion Old English Sheepdogs with Lynda. But his greatest passion was for his family. He raised two sons, David and Eric, before retiring from Bekins in 1997.

John and Lynda traveled some, then moved to Alton, Missouri, where Lynda's father once lived. For the first time after leaving Arkansas five decades before, John felt he had truly found home. He took pride in his community and among other activities was elected to the board of BB Rd. Volunteer Fire Department. He purchased a bakery with Lynda and Eric, but mostly relaxed and mused about the mysteries of life. He enjoyed the birds, the trees and the squirrels of southern Missouri. He liked fishing with his sons and watching the Eleven Points River flow by. Most of all he loved the people of Alton, their values and beliefs. He felt privileged to be called their neighbor.

John died peacefully in Springfield, Missouri, on April 25, 2009. He was preceded in death by his parents, one toddler son and two infant sons. He is survived by his wife Lynda of Alton, sons Eric of Alton and David of Wrightwood, California, and David's wife, Lori, grand-daughter Stephanie of Aurora, Colorado and his brother Jack of Alabama.

A memorial service will be held 10am Wednesday, April 29, 2009, at the Oak Hill Missionary Baptist Church, with Bro. Edward Casey officiating. Arrangements are under the direction of the Clary Funeral Home of Alton, MO

Subject: Re: John Keck's Memorial

John certainly had a good childhood in Hope and I remember nothing but good comments. Although he lived in several other places, Hope was home to John and his friends there were considered extended family. I was privileged to meet and become friends with a few.
It is wonderful to share memories when he lived there, but much of that might already be known to you. I want you to know about John and his life away from Hope. I cannot account for the time he spend in Korea because I did not know John at that time. I do know that he had a very sad experience while there because, Carolyn Sprague, his special "girl", at the time,sent him a "Dear John" letter. John was crushed. She was suppose to wait for him. Girls will be girls, I know because I did the same thing to another guy when I met John! Life goes on....
John's life was so much more than a boy from Hope, it help mold him into being what he became, a man of integrity and character. He had a love/hate relationship with California. To mention a few, he hated the traffic that he faced everyday going to work to provide for his family, and he hated the large crowds that were everywhere on family outings, but this did not keep John from being the very best husband and father that he knew how to be. He tolerated the beach, but loved the High Sierra Mountains where we spent much time when our boys were small. As the boys grew, we would take long back-packing trips into the back country and later when John and I got older, it was on horse back with pack mules. John went deer hunting in the Sierra's almost every year with work buddies. One was from New York and had never shot a gun, let alone hunt. John helped Art pick out a good rifle and taught him how to shoot before their first trip together. These buddies and John became good life-long friends and Art always looked up to Johnny, as he called him, as any younger brother would. John took his own boys on hunting trips, Eric always enjoyed "the trip", but the hunting part never appealed to him. It took David a few years, but he enjoys a good, successful Quail hunt now.
John was a dedicated worker, working for the same company for over thirty five years. He worked hard for his advancements and earned the title of General Manager-Director of Operations Pacific Region Dispatch, making him responsible for all moves taking place in AZ, CA, OR and WA. He had a full department staff, plus all contract drives under his control. He earned the full respect of his staff and drivers and many have remained good friends.
John was very active in the North Valley YMCA where he and his boys belonged to the Y Indian Guides, if I remember correctly, they were the Fox Tribe, David being "Yellow Sun" and Eric was "Little Beaver". If John had a name, it escapes me. He was very active with me in breeding top quality Old English Sheepdogs,and at one time we had the # 19 ranked OES in the country. Melissa and our other OES did beautiful winning at such shows as Beverly Hills Kennel Club. John created The Golden State Old English Sheepdog Club and served as it's first president. The mission of this club was to educate owners about their new puppies and we held classes on showing and training. He was also a member of the Old English Sheepdog Club of America for many years, where he served on the board more than once. John had that ability to get things done, and to make others want to help.
When our only grandchild, a granddaughter was born in November, 1992, John immediately went and purchased a movie camera. A star was born! From that day forward, Stephanie had a camera in her face on every visit to our home. By that time, we had moved from the San Fernando Valley to Acton, CA. where we had purchased five acres and built a home. John drew the plans himself and did a beautiful job. We lived there until retirement and the beginnings of our travels. My illness prevented us from traveling in recent years, but we had some great times and met some wonderful people.

Years later when talking about when and where we first met, John said when he first saw me, he told himself "that is the girl I am going to marry". I thoughts were, blond hair and blue eyes, he's cute. It's been quite a journey, and he'll always be "my guy".

Subject: Mom's service

Aunt Sis:

Hi, David here. Sorry we didn't respond to your e-mail sooner. Lori and I were in Michigan for her niece's wedding when it arrived.

I'm also sorry that I cannot send you a program from Mom's memorial. Eric made funeral arrangements before I arrived to Missouri and unfortunately he didn't get a package that included programs, and I didn't find out until day of the memorial. I wrote a little biography that appeared on the Clary's Funeral Home website. I attached a copy on this e-mail or you can log on to Clary's to view it here: www.claryfuneralhome.com/viewobit.php?obit_id=1631

I'm happy to say that Uncle Carl's grandfather clock came here. Mom repeatedly told me that she wanted me to have it. It's beautiful and the first thing people see when they walk into our house! I think of you all -- and mom -- every time I look at it. Thank you so much for making it. We had a clock tuner (he's originally from Tennessee) come over and adjust it as soon as it arrived here and he complimented Carl on the fine craftsmanship. I've also attached a photo of it as well.

We hope you are all well. I'm still in school, finishing up an MBA, and working at The Press-Enterprise newspaper in Riverside. Lori's teaching home-school students. Things are good here. We're just waiting for me to graduate next June. Take care and keep in touch.

Love,
David

Lynda Carolyn Mabe, beloved mother, wife and friend, was born in High Point, North Carolina, on Feb. 5, 1940, to James Mabe and Irene Norman Mabe. Her ancestors had lived in the Piedmont of North Carolina since it was a British colony and she was deeply proud of her Southern ancestry. Lynda grew up in High Point, a furniture manufacturing center, and was baptized at Green Street Baptist Church. Some of her relatives still attend services there and one of her sons was later baptized in the same church. Lynda learned the value of hard work at an early age. She worked in the tobacco fields during summer vacations and watching her grandfather run his car parts business in Mount Airy.

Lynda moved with her family to Siloam Springs, Arkansas, for a year, then to Burbank, California, when she was 13. She attended Burbank High School and spent summer weekends with school friends in the San Bernardino Mountains town of Big Bear. It was on one of those trips with a friend's family that Lynda met a young Marine on leave riding horseback named John Keck. They were married on Feb. 9, 1957. Rarely were they apart over their 52-year marriage, enduring tragedies and celebrating triumphs together. After the loss of their young son, Johnny, they wrapped their lives around raising their next two boys, David and Eric, in the San Fernando Valley area of Los Angeles.

Never setting aside her work ethic, Lynda involved herself in the PTA at her boys' elementary school. She became a top bowler, worked part time at a bakery, studied to be a nurse, and showed champion Old English Sheepdogs. She helped to organize the Old English Sheepdog

Club of Southern California. She learned to love camping and hiking, spending time with John and the boys in the Sierra Nevada. She loved to bake and never flinched at heading to the kitchen to cook up something new. Lynda had a passion for life, her family and for everyone around her. Nothing intimidated her.

After raising her boys, Lynda and John moved to Acton, California in the mid-1980s. She worked at banks and in the advertising department of a department store before retiring. John and Lynda climbed into a motor home and traveled the country for several years before settling down in the Many Springs area outside of Alton, where her late father had purchased property.

Again Lynda relied on her work ethic. She bought the Sweetheart Bakery in Alton and ran it successfully with John and Eric until 2009, when illness took her from it. Despite undergoing major surgery in January 2010, she fought on for 18 months, until she quietly slipped away to be with John in Heaven on the morning of June 29.

Lynda loved Alton and the people here. She couldn't wait to chat with everyone who came into the bakery every morning and with those at Oak Hill Missionary Baptist Church. She enjoyed living in the country and cherished the opportunity to save stray dogs, feed wild birds and raise catfish in a pond. If she had a regret it would be that she was not able to spend more time with the wonderful people here.

She was preceded in death by her parents, one toddler, two infant sons, and her beloved husband, John. She is survived by sons David, of Wrightwood, California, Eric of Alton, and David's wife, Lori, and grand-daughter Stephanie Keck or Aurora, Colorado. A memorial service will be held at 2 p.m. July 2, 2010at the Oak Hill Missionary Baptist Church, with Brother Edward Casey officiating. Arrangements are under the direction of the Clary Funeral Home of Alton, Missouri.

Clinging to the tree of life

The 23rd Psalm

The Lord is my Shepherd;
I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul:
He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness
For His name sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil:
For Thou art with me;
Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
Thou anointest my head with oil;
My cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life:
And I shall dwell in the house of the Lord Forever.

City worker checks out

Library staffer recalls time

By Teresa Killian
STAFF WRITER

High Point

High Point resident Vi Kelley remembers when checking a book out of the library meant using a foot-pedal operated camera to snap a picture of the book and library card.

Thirty years later, library personnel scan books and maintain records through a computerized process.

Kelley, who retired this month from her post as lending desk supervisor, was part of the leadership that guided the expansion, organization and growth for three decades.

"She has seen a lot of change in the library," said Director Kem Ellis of the High Point Neal F. Austin Public Library.

When Kelley first started working at the library in 1968, snapshots on a film similar to a microfilm were used for overdue notices.

Records and transaction slips of the approximately 17,000 books checked out monthly had to be filed in order by hand.

"We took one of the janitor's mop rooms and made an overdue room out of it," Kelley said.

She started working in general information at the library Sept. 16, 1968, after deciding to go to work to help pay for college for her three children.

"I was told I was the 27th person they interviewed, and I was hired," said the Mount Airy native.

A year later, she took the helm at circulation department.

Vi Kelley

Neal F. Austin, former director of the library, said Kelley demonstrated attributes needed for the post: a good attitude that was bright, helpful and encouraged the staff, tact as well as record-keeping and organization skills.

"I wanted anybody who came to the library to be happy when they left, and Vi was very, very good at that," Austin said. "She just makes people feel good."

Kelley said when she first went to work at the library, she worked with a 13-member staff and helped delegate individual projects.

She described when they started delivering 600 books a month to those who were homebound.

Recognizing the need for more space, she recalled it took two years before they established a regular sorting room.

But the highlight of highlights occurred when automation started to take hold of the library after it moved to a new building.

"That changed everything," Kelley said. "It was a delight to get away from all the card filing we had to do and the photographing."

All the things once done by hand could be done by about nine people.

"Now, it's nothing for us to do (check out) 45,000 (materials) a month or better," Kelley said.

The day the library opened has special meaning for her.

"We started checking out materials at 8 a.m., and we were still standing there at 5 p.m.." Kelley said. "A woman said you've been standing here all day smiling I bet.

"There was no let up."

Working at the library gave her the chance to learn to appreciate a lot of authors, but she counts her former co-worker Elizabeth Hawn, who retired earlier this year, as one of her favorites.

Hawn has published several stories for Woman's World.

"I told her that she and I didn't know, either one, what it meant (to be retired)," Kelley said. "We'd always be doing something."

What Kelley will be doing will be a patchwork of activities that includes yardwork, caring for her home and animals, community activities and being available to her church, Green Street Baptist Church.

She helps her husband teach a 130-member Sunday school class in the same church where they were married.

Ellis said Kelley is someone who is well-known at the library partly because she was so active with her church.

"Lots of people that mention to me that they enjoy the library know her because she is so outgoing and friendly," Ellis said. "I think it's important for (users) to know she has retired."

Kelley said she certainly was attached to the public, too.

"You know each individual and what they read," she said. "It's been a good experience."

Service station owner still finds satisfaction

HIGH POINT — Roy Kelley has a unique perspective on rising gas prices.

He's owned the Auto Oil Co. service station on Greensboro Road in the Five Points neighborhood since 1947. He's watched prices rise and fall through the administrations of 10 U.S. presidents.

The $1.49 Kelley was charging last week for a gallon of regular unleaded was the most he's ever asked, even more than during the gas crunch of the 1970s, when cars would line up before 7 a.m.

But wait before you whine about the increasing cost of driving, Kelley asks.

PAUL MUSCHICK
Hometown High Point

"Gas, in a sense, is one of the best buys left," he said.

Don't gag on your car keys.

In 1947, Kelley sold gas for 14 cents a gallon. The going rate of $1.49 a gallon is an increase of about 10 times.

Compare that to a can of soda, Kelley said, pointing to the three machines chained to the wall of his building. Soda sold for about a nickel a can when the High Point native opened the station after returning from World War II, where he served as a Marine.

Now, a can of cola costs at least 65 cents in most places. That's more than a dozen times the price. Consider coffee. It also was a nickel a half-century ago. Kelley pays 80 cents now, or 16 times as much.

So maybe gas prices simply are catching up, Kelley said. Europeans have been paying higher prices than Americans for some time.

Kelley doesn't like selling gas for so much. During the price wars of his younger years, he watched gas stations sell fuel for less than it cost them to stock it. Now, he doesn't have much control over price.

Gas stations like his are being forced to pay more because fewer barrels of crude oil are being drawn from overseas wells. That's limiting the supply available to make gasoline, driving prices up.

But that is happening far from Kelley's corner of Greensboro Road at Montlieu Avenue. He's just worried about matching prices with the competition every day.

He makes the same profit when gas is a buck a gallon as when it's $1.49, he said.

And because people need gas no matter the price, they still drive in.

"It hasn't affected our business at all," said Kelley, 75, a father of three and a Sunday school teacher at Green Street Baptist Church.

Last week, Kelley's price was the same as the Phillips 66 next door. It was a penny cheaper than the BP and Amoco just down Greensboro Road.

Kelley said he stays in business partly because of tradition and loyal customers.

His small station does not offer customers ATMs. There is no sandwich shop inside. But he will fix a customer's lawn mower.

Kelley and his workers also will fill your tank for you — for the same price you pay to pump it yourself across the street. They'll check your oil level and tire pressure. No charge.

In days of high prices, people appreciate that, Kelley said. It makes them feel like they're getting a little bit more for what they are paying.

Older drivers who live in the nearby Presbyterian Home retirement complex seem especially appreciative of not having to fumble with the gas cap in the cold or heat, Kelley said.

When Kelley first opened his station, such customer service was the norm. A stop for gas was like a mini-inspection. And plenty of people were gassing up at his place, which back then had a big green-and-red neon sign.

Greensboro Road was the region's highway then, as part of U.S. 29/70.

"There was no Interstate 85," Kelley said. "There was no Interstate 40."

Auto Oil Co. was open 24 hours to serve all-night travelers and truckers.

Now, Kelley has cut back his hours. He opens at 7 a.m. and closes at 5 p.m. He never thought he still would be in overalls pumping gas 53 years after opening.

He bought the station because he was fresh off the battlefield and was looking for work.

He had thought about teaching, like some of his relatives. But he never did.

"I just kind of stuck, like a barnacle on a vessel," Kelley said.

"I have achieved a great deal of satisfaction in this because I have made a pretty good living, and I have helped some people along the way."

He just wishes he could help them by lowering his prices.
