

Dixie Reeves Is Stricken Suddenly

Well Known Surry County Citizen Victim Of Heart Attack

Richard Dixie Reeves died almost suddenly when stricken with an heart attack on the streets of Mount Airy last Friday about noon hour.

The family and friends knew he was subject to heart attacks and several months ago he gave up his position with the county school garage at Dobson when his condition grew worse, although he continued to be up all the time.

He was reared on the old Reeves homestead four miles east of Mount Airy where he resided until a few years ago. For several years he was a member of the school committee of Flat Rock School, and until his illness was foreman of the county school garage at Dobson. He was known as a very capable automobile mechanic.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Mount Airy, with Rev. Felix Waggoner and Dr. R. K. Redwine in charge. The remains were interred in the Holly Springs cemetery near his old home.

Surviving are the widow, the former Miss Pearl Thompson; two daughters, Mrs. Jim Vaughn of Winston-Salem and Mrs. Edward Short Mount Airy; four grandchildren; three brothers, Charlie, Thomas and John Reeves all of Mount Airy, R. F. D.; five sisters Mrs. D. C. Haymore, Mrs. Carson Baker, both of Mount Airy R. F. D., Mrs. Nathaniel Sparger, Mrs. Jesse Stewart, both of Pilot Mountain, and Mrs. Clarence Bennett of Winston-Salem.

A visit to the home of Dixie Reeves, four miles south of Mount Airy, will demonstrate the economical way in which many people in the rural sections could provide their homes with electric current. Mr. Reeves is a mechanic for the state highway force and during the odd moments of the past few months he has constructed and installed on his farm an electric light system operated from the waters of Rutledge creek. He runs a small generator with an over-shot water wheel, giving him about five horse power, running continuously day and night, and supplying current to his home for lights, stove, fan, churn and iron at all hours of the day and night.

Mr. Reeves kept account of his expenses in erecting and installing the system and says it did not go over $35 for the entire equipment. He built his own water wheel and used a second hand generator, bought some old pulleys and shafting at junk prices and now has it all assembled, making electricity for his home.

All over Surry County there are ideal places along the many streams that wind their way toward the sea where people of the country could erect small home light plant operated by a water wheel, with no cost of upkeep after the plant is once installed.

Mamie Reeves Turns 100 Years Old

From Staff Reports 6-18-97

Mamie Jackson Reeves, a longtime resident of the Long Hill community, Rt. 1, Pilot Mountain, celebrated her 100th birthday Friday.

She is the widow of Thomas Benton Reeves, who died in 1960.

Mrs. Reeves, who now makes her home at Central Continuing Care in Mount Airy, was surrounded by her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren on Saturday to mark the occasion.

The celebration, held at the nursing home, was hosted by Mrs. Reeves' family. Granddaughters and great-granddaughters served refreshments in the facility's dining area. Music was provided by Joyful Spirit, a women's ensemble from Knollwood Baptist Church in Winston-Salem.

The honoree's children include Thomas Codell Reeves, Rt. 1, Mount Airy; John Thomas Reeves, Annandale, Va.; Lillian Reeves Horner of Brevard; and Dorothy Reeves Key, Winston-Salem.

Grandchildren present were Charlotte Key Brown and Amy Key Ogburn, both of Winston-Salem; Cynthia Horner Mallory of Ashland, Va.; Cathy Horner Sloan of Danville, Va.; Thomas Edward Horner of Elkin; Sheri Reeves McFarland, Burke, Va.; and Elisa Michelle Reeves, Springfield, Va.

Also expressing love for their grandmother were her 10 great-grandchildren: Erin McFarland of Burke, Va.; "A.J." Horner of Elkin; Stacy Petree Davis of Winston-Salem; Chip Petree of Nashville, Tenn.; Ben and Rick Mallory of Ashland; Timothy, Stephen and Anna Sloan of Danville, Va.; and an adopted grandson, Hudson Reeves Ogburn of Winston-Salem. He is a native of Santiago, Chile.

In addition, two sisters, Della (Mrs. Grover) Jackson and Ardanie (Mrs. Arthur) Needham, attended along with sisters-in-law Elfrey (Mrs. Gene) Jackson and Mattie Inman.

Mrs. Reeves received special greetings from President Bill Clinton and first lady Hillary Clinton, Vice President Al Gore and wife Tipper, U.S. senators Jesse Helms and Lauch Faircloth and U.S. Rep. Charles Taylor.

A part-time resident and native of Mount Airy just spent the July Fourth holiday playing music for the U.S. Ambassador to the Vatican City and other prominent political and military figures of that area.

Doug Reeves, a recording artist and bass player, explained how he, Chris Beckerdite of Siloam and three other band members got the "experience of a lifetime" -- to play for some 750 people at the home of U.S. Ambassador Joe Nicholson.

"I know the star and emcee of the Alabama Theater in Myrtle Beach Greg Rowles," began Reeves, who lives part-time in Nashville.

"Greg had been a winner on Ed McMahon's show Star Search," he reported. "Ed is personal friends with the ambassador. The ambassador had told Ed that he wanted to have a country music theme party and cookout for the 4th.

"Ed recommended Greg for the music," continued Reeves. "Greg asked me if I would form the band, so I agreed to do it. The party was to be a Fourth of July celebration, but it was held on the third."

He said they thought there would 40 or 50 people there, but when they got there they learned that it was actually going to be about 750 people instead. "There were high-up American political figures, other country's ambassadors and high-up military officials," remembered Reeves. "There was word that there was two Cardinals and three Bishops and other dignitaries from the Catholic church as well.

"It was a sight to see chefs in their full attire and white hats standing at charcoal grills cooking hamburgers and hotdogs. No one went 'yee-ha.' It was a semi-formal event."

Reeves said the party went wonderfully, and, at each break, the people in attendance would make sure to come up and talked to all of the band members and make them feel comfortable and at home. "They were all so friendly," he remarked. "I think they enjoyed hearing from people who were fresh from the States.

"The highlight of the performance was in the closing. We sang our version of Lee Greenwood's 'God Bless the U.S.A.' Right in the middle of the song, nine U.S. Marines in full dress uniform that are members of the ambassador's personal innerguard, without any prompting, joined us on stage to finish singing the song," Reeves said. "You could almost see the chill bumps on everyone at the party. We definitely had them."

After the show, the band visited with other political figures and did some sightseeing. "We enjoyed some authentic Italian food from a little sidewalk cafe that happened to be open after the show," he remembered, adding he ate authentic lasagna.

"We were definitely given red carpet treatment," Reeves commented. "The ambassador's consulate gave us personal tours and accompanied us at all times, except when we were in our hotel rooms, which were quite lavish also.

"I particularly enjoyed all the coliseums. The Roman people have done such a good job of preserving their history," he mentioned.

He added that he also liked watching the people drive. "There are no speed limits, and the lanes are very tight. Where we would fit two cars, they fit three. On the way back to the airport, I asked our driver how fast we were going and he said a little over 100, and we were keeping up with traffic."

Reeves has played on recording sessions, concert shows and live performances, and he performs part-time with Ronnie Millsap. He has two children who live in Mount Airy and one in Nashville, thus the split in his living arrangements.

"I have a forthcoming CD of my own about Mayberry, Mount Airy and the Andy Griffith Show," he offered. "Nine of the 11 songs I at charcoal grills cooking hamburgers and hotdogs. No one went 'yee-ha.' It was a semi-formal event."

The other members of the band that joined Reeves, Rowles and Beckerdite in the Vatican City are Tom Garber of Myrtle Beach and Jeff Rowles, Greg Rowles' brother, of Fredericksburg, Va.

Wrangler furnished their outfits, J. Chisolm furnished their boots, and Dean Markley provided their strings.

Dear Genealogists,

For the past three years I have been looking for information about Daniel C. REAVES/Reeves/Reves. The first spelling is correct but I have found them under the other spellings. I have enclosed a family group chart. You can tell in a glance that I have not found very much about him. Actually, I have Never found him in a census. The rest of the family in the Kansas Census of 1900 and 1910.

I do know that he may have a sister, Martha A. M. D. Reaves, and a brother, C. M. Reaves. Daniel and the others were married in Blount county in the 1870's and moved on to Kansas in 1879.

Having search most of the counties in North Carolina and found very little, I have decided to find out what those counties that don't seem to be listed on any census or marriage records may have.

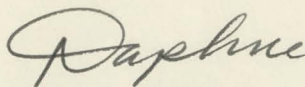

What I am looking for is a LIST for the census for the years of 1860 and 1870 if this is possible. Plus, a list of marriages around 1840-55.

There was a Daniel Reaves, son of Will Reaves, listed in the 1850 Census. He was age 5. This is the reason I am writing.

I have enclosed a check for $5.00 to cover the three lists and please feel free to include anything that you think will help. I will be glad to pay extra. Also, an SASE is enclosed.

Thank you for your help.

Sincerely,

Daphne Harding

Thank you for your letter dated August 12, 1996 regarding Daniel C. Reaves/Reeves. There are many Reeves families in Surry County, but we have found nothing on Daniel. We did not find a Daniel listed in the 1850 Census book of Surry County, NC as you stated there was a Daniel Reaves (age 5), son of Will Reaves.

We are sending you copies of Reaves/Reeves information listed in our 1850, 1860, 1870, and 1880 census books as you requested. We are also sending some information on wills found in Surry, as well as some marriage lists. Also enclosed are a few estate and taxable lists found with Reeves mentioned as well as some information found in some cemetery records. We also found William Reeves in the 1771 Surry Tax List and James Reves and son Edward Reeves (and negroes Bobb, Dick, Seiler & Phebe) listed in Surry in the 1774 Surry Tax List.

We wondered if perhaps this family was in the section of Surry that became Yadkin County. Yadkin formed from Surry in 1850. Have you checked that county. You might write The Yadkin County Historical Society, P. O. Box 1250, Yadkinville, NC 27055 if you have not already done so.

You might want to write the Department of Cultural Resources, Archives and Records Section, 109 E. Jones Street, Raleigh, NC 27601-2807 if you have not done so to see what they may have on Daniel C. Reaves. Iris Harvey, 2208 Basil Drive, Raleigh, NC 27612 may be able to help you also but you would need to check with her regarding her charge.

We will be happy to publish a query for you in our quarterly journal free of charge. Information is enclosed.

Thank you for your donation of $5 to SCGA and we will place your Family Group Sheet in our files at Surry Community College. With so many Reeves in Surry you might consider joining our association. Information is enclosed. Our monthly newsletters and quarterly journals are well worth the yearly membership fee of $15. Several of our 1995 members of SCGA were listed as researching the Reeves and Whitehead families.

We're sorry that we could not find more information for you at this time. If you feel we can be of service in the future, please write us again.

She could get someone to check State Census index to try to locate him.

We did have Reeves, Whitehead & Thompson here.

Send our flyers for 1850-60-70 Census, etc.

She prob. could write Reg. of Deeds for marriage index.

Did not find DANIEL C. or WILL REEVE in 1860 Sany Census. There are other REEVES. Wonder if in 1850 they were in what became YADKIN Co. that year?

I didn't check Heritage books.

JOHN DOURDAN REEVES

By COMMON TRADITION our Reeves ancestors came from Dorset, England, some settling in Surry Co., Va., then later moving down into the Albemarle section of the Carolina Province. There, in what is now Halifax Co., N.C., at any rate we find our earliest KNOWN progenitor, JOHN DOUR-DAN REEVES. Born in 1759, he enlisted in the Continental Army of the Revolution at the age of 21. He served as a private for 16 months, with Capt. de Courts under Cols. Lane, Hill, and Mebane.

After the war he went to Fay-etleville, Cumberland Co., N.C., where he married Sally Locke El-well, dau. of Richard Elwell. She was b. in Cumberland Co. 1770, married ca. 1787, and d. in Surry Co., N.C. 1810, where they had purchased land in 1804 from Joshua Freeman. This land was situated on the Ararat River about a mile north of where it flows into the Yadkin River, and about 2 1/2 miles n. east of the present village of Si-loam. He d. 1840, 81 years old, and was buried on the farm on which he lived. They had seven children.

Misl Notes By: BFR 27 April 2007

I, a great granddaughter, remember the home that John Durdan Reeves built when he first settled in Surry County. When I knew this home, John Durdan Reeves and his children had died and the home was owned by Joseph Plippen. It was burned about 1900.

It was a comfortable house for the day in which it was built, about 1800—built of heavy hand-hewn logs, two stories.

There was a large living room with its large fireplace. Two bedrooms opened from the living room and a narrow stairway led to two large bedrooms on the 2nd floor. Off the front porch and down three steps was the large kitchen, which also had a large fireplace containing ovens and cranes for cooking.

There were no cookstoves in those days.

Back of the kitchen was a large storage pantry.

John Durdan Reeves cut out of a solid rock a bowl. The spring water flowed into this bowl and was always cool and clean.

He was buried by a large pine tree on his home place.

She was born 1805 in Kingston, Roane, Tennessee, USA³, and died 12 Aug 1878 in Decatur County, Tennessee.

Notes for RICHARD ELWELL REEVES:

The last official account I have is the 1870 Census for Decatur County Tennessee. Richard was 80 and listed his occupation as a school teacher. He appeared to have some of his daughter-in-laws, widowed by the Civil War, living with him. The census had his youngest son Hezekiah B. Reaves living near him and his other son De La Fayette Reeves) living after him.

I found this picture on Ancestry.com yesterday. This is my grandfather James Monroe Turney's sister Naomi Lou Emma Turney Reeves and her husband Hiram Jackson Reeves. They lived in the Dobson, Surry area most of their lives. She lived from 5 Mar 1875 until 17 Jan 1969. I love finding old pictures of my family from the past.

NAOMI & JACK REEVES
