REV. L. W. MCFARLAND

McFarland Rites Set For Today

Funeral services for Rev. Lewis Wesley McFarland, 70, who died Sunday at his home at White Plains, will be held at 11 a.m. today at White Plains Friends Church.

The body will lie in state for one hour before the service. Rev. Reuben Payne, Rev. Clifton Pearson, Rev. Virgil Pike, and Rev. Frederick Carter will officiate. Burial will be in Springfield Friends Church cemetery, near High Point.

Rev. Mr. McFarland was born in Miami County, Indiana, June 4, 1877, on a farm.

While he was still a young boy, his mother died and he went to live with an aunt in a Quaker community in Indiana.

In a history of his life which Mr. McFarland began sometime ago, he said that his education was cut short and that at an early age he got a job with a cousin. In this job, he said he learned the value of honesty and fairness.

After he married Miss Pearl Thurston of Indiana, he took up the ministry. They first went to work among the Iowa Indians of Oklahoma in 1899. From there they moved to Kansas, to Illinois, and to Carmel, Indiana.

Rev. and Mrs. McFarland moved to High Point in the Fall of 1912. After a short time there he became general superintendent of North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends. In this capacity he had charge of pastoral, evangelistical and extension departments, and held meetings all over North Carolina and in parts of Virginia.

During his 20 years as superintendent of the Yearly Meeting, he conducted over 200 revivals.

A record of his work in 1928 gives an indication of his service. In that year he visited 124 churches and 134 families, held 315 church conferences, preached 124 times, and drove a total of 16,310 miles.

A physical breakdown led to his quitting the superintendent's job. He moved from High Point to a farm in Alamance County for a [illegible] and later went to White

PILOT MOUNTAIN — The Rev. Wayne Franklin Johnson, 68, of 188 Parkview Circle, Pilot Mountain, passed away Wednesday morning, Jan. 14, 2009, at Forsyth Medical Center in Winston-Salem. Wayne was born Feb. 27, 1940, in Surry County to the late Roy Melton and Rosa Mae Wright Johnson. He grew up in the White Plains-Red Brush community and attended White Plains School, where he graduated in 1958. He entered John Wesley College in the fall of 1959 and graduated with a bachelor's degree in 1963. Then, he transferred to Guilford College, where he graduated with a B.A. degree in 1965. He graduated with a Master of Arts degree in 1969, attended the North Carolina Baptist Hospital School of Pastoral Care from 1970 until 1971, and completed his internship in social work classification in mental health. Wayne worked for New River Mental Health in Boone from 1971 to 1984, and Crossroads Mental Health in Yadkinville, Elkin and Mount Airy from 1984 to March 1, 2000. After his tenure with Crossroads, he worked in the evening hours as a private family practitioner from 1986 until his death. Wayne was recognized while working in Watauga County as starting the first substance abuse couples counseling group; worked with the first AA group; established the first employees assistance group that had 16 agencies and companies involved; established the first group and marriage counseling; established the first mental health on-call system, using ministers as volunteer workers; was identified as the first marriage and family counselor for New River Mental Health; helped to establish the first inter-agency committee involving health department of social services and New River Mental Health and Vocational Rehab; was identified as the first case manager with Crossroads Mental Health; was chairperson for the North Central Case Managers; and helped to establish the first de-toxic unit at Blowing Rock Hospital with Dr. Devant. Wayne was converted at age 13 at Union Hill Friends Meeting in Surry County and was called to the ministry at age 18. He was very committed to the cause of Christ and to Quakerism, thus pursued his pastoral duties by pastoring Forbush Meeting from 1959-1960, Deep Creek and Hunting Creek meetings from 1963-1968, Cedar Square Meeting from 1968-1971, Pilot Mountain and Westfield meetings from 1971-1983, Ararat Meeting from 1983-2000, White Plains Friends Meeting from 2000-2008 and then in 2008 he served at Deep Creek Friends until his death. Wayne still made time for his family and his hobbies of yard work, gardening and golf. He also enjoyed, antique cars, gardening and landscaping. He is survived by his wife of 43 years, Anne Covington Johnson of the home; a daughter and son-in-law, Kim and John Williams of Kernersville; a son and daughter-in-law, Scott and Jennifer Johnson of Greensboro; three grandchildren, Marjolie Jayne Johnson, Patrick Johnson and Catherine Johnson; a sister and brother-in-law, Casper Jean and Herman Thomas of Mount Airy; and two brothers and sisters-in-law, Roy M. and Dot Johnson of Lake Gaston, Va., and Ted and Martha Johnson of Pilot Mountain. The funeral service will be held Saturday, Jan. 17, 2009, at 11 a.m. at Moody Funeral Home Chapel in Mount Airy. The service will be conducted by the Rev. Ben Hurley, the Rev. Archie Creed and the Rev. Don Tickle, and burial will follow in the Whitaker Chapel United Methodist Church Cemetery. The family will receive friends Friday from 6 to 8 p.m. at the funeral home. The family would like to especially thank Deep Creek Friends Meeting for all their kindness and compassion shown during Wayne's illness; to Dr. Aimee Shephard, ND, MS, ON, LAC of Kernersville; Dr. Jamie Trujillo and staff of Winston-Salem; and Dr. Thomas Grote and his staff at Forsyth Medical Center. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions can be made to Mountain Valley Hospice and Palliative Care, 401 Technology Lane, Suite 200, Mount Airy, NC 27030, or to the charity of the donor's choice. Online condolences may be made at www.moodyfuneralservices.com.

Only the Best

God saw she was getting tired,
And a cure was not to be;
So He put His arms around her,
And whispered, "Come with Me."

With tearful eyes we watched her
suffer, And saw her fade away;
Although we loved her dearly,
We could not make her stay.

A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands to rest;
God broke our hearts to prove to us,
He only takes the best.

Psalm 23
The Divine Shepherd

The LORD is my shepherd, I shall not want.
2 He makes me lie down in green pastures;
he leads me beside still waters;
3 he restores my soul.
He leads me in paths of righteousness
for his name's sake.

Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I fear no evil;
for you are with me;
your rod and your staff—
they comfort me.

You prepare a table before me
in the presence of my enemies;
you anoint my head with oil;
my cup overflows.
6 Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me
all the days of my life,
and I shall dwell in the house of the LORD
forever.

Romans 8.31-39
God's Love in Christ Jesus

What then are we to say about these things? If God is for us, who is against us? 32He who did not withhold his own Son, but gave him up for all of us, will he not with him also give us everything else? 33Who will bring any charge against God's elect? It is God who justifies. 34Who is to condemn? It is Christ Jesus, who died, yes, who was raised, who is at the right hand of God, who indeed intercedes for us.* 35Who will separate us from the love of Christ? Will hardship, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? 36As it is written,
'For your sake we are being killed all day long;
we are accounted as sheep to be slaughtered.'
37No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. 38For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor rulers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, 39nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

In Loving Memory of Malbert Johnson

The truest end of life, is to know the life that never ends. He that makes this his care, will find it his crown at last. And he that lives to live ever, never fears dying: nor can the means be terrible to him that heartily believes the end.

For though death be a dark passage, it leads to immortality, and that's recompense enough for suffering of it. And yet faith lights us, even through the grave, being the evidence of things not seen.

And this is the comfort of the good, that the grave cannot hold them, and that they live as soon as they die. For death is no more than a turning of us over from time to eternity. Death, then, being the way and condition of life, we cannot love to live, if we cannot bear to die.

They that love beyond the world cannot be separated by it. Death cannot kill what never dies. Nor can spirits ever be divided that love and live in the same Divine Principle, the root and record of their friendship. If absence be not death, neither is theirs.

Death is but crossing the world, as friends do the seas; they live in one another still. For they must needs be present, that love and live in that which is omnipresent. In this divine glass, they see face to face; and their converse is free, as well as pure.

This is the comfort of friends, that though they may be said to die, yet their friendship and society are, in the best sense, ever present, because immortal.

Once when reminiscing of her youth, Barbara spoke of the old times. Barbara said her family slept on feather tick mattresses and in the winter they would heat bricks in the stove to place under the mattresses. She said a lot of people couldn't go back to living in those days, but she could. Growing up one of Barbara's chores was to milk cows, she then had to carry the milk out to a cold spring so it would stay cool. At lunch everyone would stop working in the field and there would be cold milk to drink. She was known for her biscuits and pies. Barbara loved to sew and sewed with her sisters often. Barbara was the last surviving of her siblings and will be very missed.
