

MANUFACTURERS OF
Cotton & Woolen Goods.

PATTERSON, N.C. May 5 1891

Dear Bro:

I am sorry to enclose you such a letter as you will find herein, but I think you ought to see - now (as you know) that I think there is a word of truth in it, but is a fair sample of letters Willie has written here since the day she got mother to her house. Now I do not remember but intended to if I did not tell you. That it was a letter similar to this that caused Sis and I to go for mother. In vain

90119.007
did I try to reason with sis and make her believe it was not so. So after she had cried over it for two or three days I consented to go with her for mother so we went and she saw before we left your house that what she had been told was not so. Well -

I made a settlement of account to date. took your note now I did not expect to collect that note but merely wanted to hold it in reserve. It justly and rightly belongs not to Miller or any one but you and you shall have it. I don't know what to advise you about paying Miller's demands. She will not be satisfied when you pay her - you will notice the splake of a paper mother made her mark on now I don't believe that was Lates doing. While he was plotting with our darling sisters conspirators you will see from her letter the old helpless mother that she had tenderly care for for the long time of 7 years for the little pay of $2.00 - made her sign on make her mark after had tortured her till she was too weak to write. The very day she died was the day they were going to send her to Gaunt. Who our darling says is afraid will not live long. -

GWYN, HARPER MFG CO.

Wool Cassimeres,
Jeans, Blankets,
Linseys, Flannels,
Kerseyes,
Fancy Zephyrs.

Cotton
Plaids,
Carpet Warps,
Heavy Sheetings

Manufacturers of
Cotton & Woolen Goods.

Patterson, N. C. May 5 1891

Dear Bro:

I am sorry to enclose you such a letter as you will find herein, but I think you ought to see--not (as you know) that I think there is a word of truth in it, but is a fair sample of letters Millie has written here since the day she got mother to her house. Now I do not remember but intended to if I did not tell you that it was a letter simalar to this that caused Sis and I to go for mother. In vain did I try to reason with sis and make her believe it was not so. So after she had cried over it for two or three days I consented to go with her for mother so we went and she saw before we left your house that what she had been told was not so. Well-
I made a settlement of rents &c to date. Took your note &c now I did not expect to collect that note but merely wanted to hold it in reserve. It justly and rightly belongs not to Millie or any one-but you and you shall it have. I dont know what to advise you about paying Millie's demands. She will not be satisfied when you pay her-you will notice she speaks of a paper mother made her mark on now & that was Tates doing. While he was flouting with our darling sisters consent (as you will see from her letter) the old helpless mother, that she had tenderly care for for the long time of 7 mo for the little pay of $200_made her sign or make her mark after had tortured her till she was too weak to write. The very day she died was the day they were going to send her to Jennie_who our darling says is affraid will not live long.&c

(no signature)