1. Henderson Bennett was born Nov 1835 in Stokes County, NC. He died 3 Oct 1919 in Surry Co., NC and was buried 5 Oct 1919 in Surry Co., NC.

"The Heritage of Surry County, NC," Volume II, includes a family history of the Henderson Bennett family.

When Henderson Bennett and Sally Whittington married in 1857, they were married by W. E. Davis, JP in Surry Co., NC.

In the 1860 Surry Co. Census Henderson Bennett (age 23) was a tenant, value of personal property was $145, born NC. In the household were Sarah (age 24) b. NC, Emeline (age 3) b. NC and Amy (age 3 months) b. NC. The family is in the Pilot Mountain District.

Henderson Bennett lived in the Pilot Mountain District in 1862 (Surry County Tax List for 1862), no acres of land shown and no slaves.

Per Lonzie Hodges, Henderson was in the Civil War. He does not know how long he was in the war. But Lonzie said he got tired of the fighting and walked home.

In the 1870 Surry Co. Census, Henderson Bennett (age 32) was a farmer, b. NC, $200 personal property; Sarah (age 23) was keeping house, b. NC; Melissa (Emeline) (age 12) at home, b. NC; Sarah (Larah Amy) (age 10) at home, b. NC; Emily (age 6) b. NC; Sidney (age 5) b. NC; Jerry (age 1) b. NC; his widowed mother Elizabeth, age 70, was living in the household as well as John Darnel (age 9), probably Elizabeth's grandson. They were living in the Pilot Township.

Deed of trust to Hugh Gwynn from Henderson Bennett and wife Sarah made 1 March 1878. Bennett is indebted to Hugh Gwynn in the sum of $155.75. If debt and interest is not paid the Bennetts will have to sell 48 acres of land lying on the waters of Darnels Creek where they formerly lived. If debt is paid off then this deed is void. If debt is not paid then Samuel H. Taylor is authorized to proceed to sell the above property at public auction.

In the 1880 Surry Co. Census, Henderson Bennett (age 42) was a farmer; wife Sarah (age 45) was in the household; dau. Sarah A. (should be Larah A.) (age 20), b. NC, works in house; dau. Emilly J. (age 17), b. NC, works in house; son David (age 14), b. NC, works on the farm; son Levi C. (age 12) (same child as Jerry C.), b. NC, works on the farm; dau. Lendah H. (Lenoah) (age 9) b. NC. Family lives in Stuarts Creek Township.

Deed from H. Bennett to F. T. Lewellyn and others, Trustees of New Hope Church made 2 Apr 1900 by Henderson Bennett and Sarah Bennett to Richard Beamer, F. T. Lewellyn and S. G. Wright, Trustees of New Hope Baptist Church of Surry Co. a tract of land adjoining the lands of C. H. Stone, G. W. Wright and others, one acre of land.

In the 1900 Surry Co. Census Henderson Bennett (age 63) and wife Sarah (age 66) are in the household with son Jerry C. (age 28) and son Donal A. (45) in Dobson near son Sid. This is the first appearance of son Donal A. Where has he been all this time.

Henderson Bennett was age 64 when registered to vote per the Voter Registration date in Surry Co. 21 Oct 1902. (Grandfather Clause Voter Reg. Book Surry Co. 1902-1908)

Henderson Bennett bought 185 acres for $85 (or $100) per Lonzie Hodges January 1993. The land was north of New Hope Church on Prison Camp Road. The land joined the Bunker land. He gave land for the church to be built. Per Lonzie Hodges in 1993 the Stones, Jarvis' and others now own the land. Lonzie's wife Edna has the original deed of Henderson dated 10 Apr 1889 where he bought the land in Surry from Mary Hollingsworth.

Henderson Bennett is buried at New Hope Baptist Church Cemetery on Prison Camp Road in Surry Co., NC.

Jack Bennett was born in Mount Airy, NC.

Jack Bennett and Bonnie Smith Sawyers were married in Trinity Episcopal Church by the Rev. William E. Pilcher, rector of the church. The traditional Episcopal wedding service was used. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast, catered by Ray's Starlite Restaurant, was held in the Ladies Auxiliary Room of the church. Witness of the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Campbell and R. J. Berrier. Afterwards, the couple left on a wedding trip to points of interest in the New England States and Canada. When they return, they will be at home on Gwynwood Drive, Mount Airy. (wedding announcement)

He lived in Roanoke, VA in 1970 when his mother passed away.

In June 1993 Jack had back surgery according to a newspaper article.

In a newspaper article in The Yadkin Ripple by Charles Mathis when Jack retired from the newspaper, it stated that Jack still gets his hair cut at Floyd's Barbershop in downtown Mount Airy and likes to eat at the town's famous Snappy Lunch. The Snappy Lunch, was started in 1923 by a friend of his father's, George Roberson. Jack said, "People all over everywhere know about the Snappy Lunch, Andy Griffith put it on the map." Jack is the same age as Andy. He fondly remembers Andy's mother. He noted that Andy, when he was a boy, lived on Houston Street on Pine Hill in a plain house with lots of apple trees around it. This house, which was torn down years ago, predated the Griffith house on Haymore Street. Growing up in Mount Airy, Jack said, afforded him "a million dollar boyhood." He described as "fabulous" the fun he and his friends used to have, "Swimming and fishing in Lovill's Creek, hiking up and down the railroad tracks, roller skating on cement sidewalks and on the street, playing ball with a ball made of twine, riding two-wheeled scooters, picking blackberries and huckleberries, hunting for hazelnuts, rambling around, climbing trees, riding horses and mules, riding bicycles for miles and miles and damming up the branch and swimming in it." At the age of 17, Jack found a summer job in Newport News, VA, where he was assigned to keep track of blueprints for the construction of the aircraft carrier Hornet. He was once a shoeshine boy in downtown Mount Airy; and at the time the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor, was a delivery boy for a Mount Airy drugstore. His employment experience also includes working in two different furniture factories and two bottling companies. At the age of 18, he was drafted into the U. S. Army, which trained him as a truck driver in the Quartermaster Corps, but assigned him duty as a medic driving an ambulance carrying wounded WWII servicemen in the Hawaiian Islands. In 1947, Jack entered Brevard College, and became a member of the Class of 1949. He then went on to UNC at Chapel Hill, studied in the School of Journalism and finished in 1952. As a journalist, his first job was on the Catawba News-Enterprise, but after a year there he joined the staff of Billy Arthur's News & Views, an afternoon daily newspaper at Jacksonville. He had been a general assignment reporter for Billy a year when he was called back home to the Mount Airy Times, where he worked from 1953 to 1966. He was a copy editor for the Roanoke Times from 1966 to 1970. While at Roanoke he and Bonnie bought the tobacco farm at Siloam. They built a new home and moved in with their family on his birthday in 1970. In the mid-1970s Jack was back at the Mount Airy Times as one of the owners who built the circulation up from 3,000 to almost 10,000. For a while, Jack's cousin, Roy Park who amassed a fortune at Duncan Hines and later as owner of numerous newspapers and radio and television stations, talked about buying the Times, which was later purchased by the Mount Airy News. He came to the Ripple in July 1983 and was there 13 years before he retired.

Jack Bennett retired in August 1996, ending a 44-year newspaper career. He was 74 and death was unexpected. He was the associate editor of The Yadkin Ripple in Yadkinville when he retired. He began his newspaper career in North Carolina, shortly after graduating from the School of Journalism at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. His first job was with the Catawba News-Enterprise and then he joined the staff of News & Views, an afternoon daily at Jacksonville. In 1953 he came to work for the Mount Airy Times, remaining with that newspaper until 1966 when he and his wife Bonnie moved to Roanoke, VA where he was copy editor of the Roanoke Times. The Bennetts bought a tobacco farm at Siloam and in the mid 1970s Jack found himself working back at the Times. He remained with the local weekly until 1979, when he joined the staff of the Yadkin Ripple.. He graduated from Mount Airy High School and served in the U. S. Army during WWII. He was a medic and drove an ambulance in the Hawaiian islands. After WWII, he graduated from Brevard College, where he was a member of the class of 1949. Bennett also was a member of Trinity Episcopal Church, was a charter member of the Mount Airy Jaycees, from when the club was reorganized in 1954, and had been a member of the Mount Airy Kiwanis Club. Graveside services for Bennett was conducted at Skyline Memory Gardens by Dr. Wilford Lyerly. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Jane; a stepdaughter, Jean Badgett of Mount Airy; a stepson, Dennis Sawyers of Wilkesboro; and two sisters, Betty Robertson of Mount Airy and Ann Branscome, Hillsville, VA. not know who it was. I looked only to whisper "Auntie, who is that?"

One day started a week ago. I asked Jack how he always knew who it was. He confessed: "I've got a photographic memory for names and faces."

"If a photographic memory was Jack's secret weapon at The Ripple, he had another everybody knew—he was an expert on being friendly. "Anybody wants to be friendly to you, you just do it," he said.

I really loved Jack. A friend of mine, truly he was a devoted friend who kept working on Tuesday nights long after he had really finished. He showed up for no other reason than to sit with me while I finished. He and Jack's boss, Jack, dedicated and the town quieted down into the silence of early Wednesday morning.

I am glad Jack's retirement day came on Monday when I was able to leave while he sat still at his desk. Telling Jack goodbye at 1:30 pm on Wednesday—then our parting time as we closed The Ripple, would have been hard to do.

Jack Bennett, who worked and worked at water for a group of The Pacific Ripple, grew up in a working class neighborhood of Mount Argy.

His father, Charles Bennett, worked for the Mount Argy Telephone Exchange, and his mother, Evelyn Taylor Bennett, was a homemaker.

Though he lived near a farm at Mount Argy, he never had much to do with the farm. Jack still has his own farm, The Ripple, in the country near Mount Argy.

The Ripple Lunch, he said, was started in 1958 by a group of his father's, George Bennett.

"People all over everywhere know about the Ripple Lunch," he said. "Andy Griffin put it on the map."

The Point About Jack Bennett

I will long remember Jack Bennett, not only for the fact that he was a childhood chum of one of the most famous actors of all time, but also because of the way he never seemed to forget a face or someone's name.

It amazed me when someone walked into The Ripple office, someone who had not made an appearance in maybe 10 years, and Jack would call him by name.

It was the same way when Jack stepped out to smoke or sat down on the bench in front of Ace's. He could call almost anybody he had ever met by name. "Hello, Pauline." "Good to see you again, Phyllis." "How have you been, Robert?" "Will you get me a doggie box, Caroline?"

I felt good having Jack nearby. When someone spoke, and I did not know who it was, I needed only to whisper: "Jack, who is that?"

One day about a week ago, I asked Jack how it happened he always knew who everybody was. He confessed: "I've got a photographic memory for names and faces."

If a photographic memory was Jack's secret weapon at The Ripple, he had another everybody knew—he was an expert on being friendly. "Anybody that's friendly to you, you like them," he said.

I really liked Jack. A friend of mine, truly he was—a devoted friend who kept working on Tuesday nights long after he had really finished. He stayed late for no other reason than just to be with me while I finished, too—as Jackson Street darkened and the town quieted down into the eerie silence of early Wednesday morning.

I am glad Jack's retirement day came on Monday when I was able to leave while he was still at his desk. Telling Jack goodbye at 1:30 am on Wednesday, often our parting time as we closed The Ripple, would have been hard to do.

'Education Is The Key' Says Newspaperman Now Retired

Thurs. 5-8-96

By CHARLES MATHIS

Jack Bennett, who retires this week as associate editor of The Yadkin Ripple, grew up in a working class neighborhood of Mount Airy.

His father, Caleb Henderson Bennett, was the Merita bread man; his mother, Evelyn Tolbert Bennett, a homemaker.

Though he lives now on a farm at Siloam, not far across the river from Yadkin County, Jack still gets his hair cut at Floyd's Barbershop in downtown Mount Airy and likes to eat at the town's famous Snappy Lunch.

The Snappy Lunch, he said, was started in 1923 by a friend of his father's, George Roberson.

"People all over everywhere know about the Snappy Lunch," he said. "Andy Griffith put it on the map."

Jack, at 70, is the same age as Andy. He fondly remembers Andy's mother. "I loved Andy's mama," he said. "She had a beautiful smile. I called her 'Geneva,' and Andy called her 'Neenia.'"

Andy was gone from Mount Airy, and already a famous star of stage, screen and television, when he moved his mother out to California—not long after the day Jack saw them downtown for the last time.

"Geneva died 10 years ago last May in California," Jack said.

He noted that Andy, when he was a boy, lived on Houston Street on Pine Hill in a plain house with lots of apple trees around it. This house, which was torn down years ago, predated the Griffith house on Haymore Street.

Growing up in Mount Airy, Jack said, afforded him "a million dollar boyhood."

He described as "fabulous" the fun he and his friends used to have:

"Swimming and fishing in Lovill's Creek, hiking up and down the railroad tracks, roller skating on cement sidewalks and on the street, playing ball with a ball made of twine, riding two-wheeled scooters, picking blackberries and huckleberries, hunting for hazelnuts, rambling around, climbing trees, riding horses and mules, riding bicycles for miles and miles and damming up the branch and swimming in it.

"We just took all these things for granted," he said, adding that "the most fun of all was spent down on the creek bottom.

"In those days, parents thought nothing of letting their sons go out to have fun on their own. Now, you'd be afraid to let your children out of sight."

At the age of 17, Jack found a summer job in Newport News, Va., where he was assigned to keep track of blueprints for the construction of the aircraft carrier Hornet. He was once a shoeshine boy in downtown Mount Airy; and at the time the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor, was a delivery boy for a Mount Airy drugstore.

His employment experience also includes working in two different furniture factories and two bottling companies.

At the age of 18, he was drafted into the U. S. Army, which trained him as a truck driver in the Quartermaster Corps, but assigned him duty as a medic driving an ambulance carrying wounded World War II servicemen in the Hawaiian Islands.

In 1947, Jack entered Brevard College, and became a member of the Class of 1949. He then went on to UNC at Chapel Hill, studied in the School of Journalism and finished in 1952.

As a journalist, his first job was on the Catawba News-Enterprise, but after a year there he joined the staff of Billy Arthur's News & Views, an afternoon daily newspaper at Jacksonville. He had been a general assignment reporter for Billy a year when he was called back home—to the Mount Airy Times, where he worked from 1953 to 1966.

He was a copy editor for the Roanoke Times from 1966 to 1970.

It was while at Roanoke that he and his wife, Bonnie, bought the tobacco farm at Siloam. They built a new home there and moved in with their family on his birthday (March 28) in 1970.

In the mid-1970s, Jack found himself back at the Mount Airy Times once more, this time as one of the owners, who built the circulation up from 3,000 to almost 10,000.

For a while, Jack's cousin, Roy Park—who amassed a fortune at Duncan Hines and later as owner of numerous newspapers and radio and television stations—talked about buying the Times, which was later purchased by the Mount Airy News.

"Boy, have the years slipped by!" said Jack. "I came to the Ripple in July 1983—it has been 13 years now.

"I have really enjoyed working here. I love Yadkin County and its people. They are wonderful and friendly."

He has also enjoyed, he said, his career in journalism—even though he found out long ago that the financial rewards of working for any newspaper are not great.
