The Lord's Prayer

UR FATHER which art in heaven,

Hallowed be Thy name.

Thy kingdom come.

Thy will be done on earth,

As it is in heaven

Give us this day our daily bread.

And forgive us our debts.

As we forgive our debtors.

And lead us not into temptation,

But deliver us from evil;

For Thine is the kingdom and the

Power and the glory, for ever.

Amen.

Message from the Pastor's Desk

Rev. Frank B. Cook

Dear Members:

The church is a yeasty kind of a thing! Our Lord knew this when He said that we are the yeast in the kingdom, for the oldest recipes always provided for some dough to be used and some to be saved for a new starter. In the meantime the yeast is "working." It grows from within, spreads out, permeates all.

Our church is a part of the eternal yeast of God's kingdom; its roots go far back into Mt. Airy's great history. Proudly has she served generation after generation. But yeast is alive--and so is our church! Yeast is alive and working, or it is nothing; I know of little else it is good for except that one property of changing all with which it is mixed.

We have work to do and we are working. We are a group of people who have covenanted together--to each other and to Almighty God to try to further His work here. We are bound by a common faith in Jesus Christ as the Lord of Life--specifically, of our lives. Because of this, we mean more to each other than we otherwise would.

We have different kinds of love to give, different kinds of lives to share, but One God. We find freedom to express the working, growing, expanding yeast of our lives--but in the security of lives which depend on a God who never changes, who constantly loves us, and who perpetually seeks communication with us, His creation.

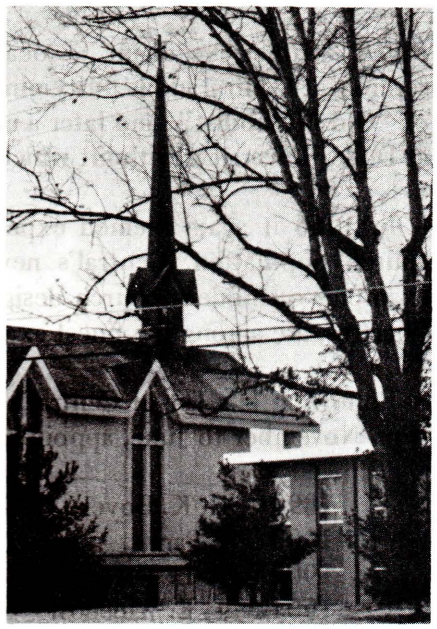

Our directory is the working of many people within our fellowship in an effort to help us know each other better and in so doing, to share our fellowship and love more generously. To you we commend the fellowship of our church, and the abundant love which is here possible.

In Christ's love,

Frank Cook

Central -- A Church With A Past

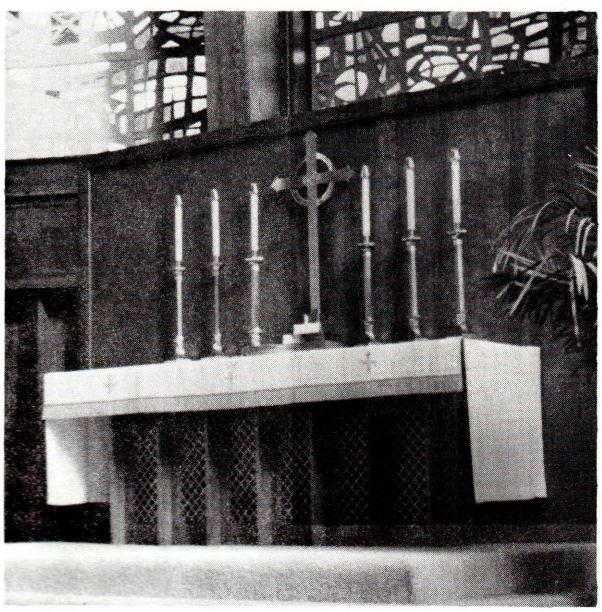

In "the Hollows," the region between the "ridges" (Pilot Mountain, Sauratown Mountain, Chestnut Ridge) and the Blue Ridge Mountains, there were few houses and very little religion when Bishop Francis Asbury, that remarkable founder of American Methodism, came riding by. The years were 1788, 1790, and 1792.

Bishop Asbury was coming by horseback from the Holston River Valley beyond the Blue Ridge, down to Clemmons, in present day Forsyth County, where Methodism had already taken hold. He came by way of Flower Gap (near where Interstate 77 now climbs the Blue Ridge), to Paul's Creek, down Stewart's Creek to the Ararat River, and on to the Yadkin. Although an old and permanent settlement already existed at present day Mount Airy, Asbury evidently did not deem it important enough to visit. Perhaps he had heard of its ungodly reputation, given it by the Salem Moravians.

But Asbury seeded his territory well, as Methodist Societies began to spring up, first in homes, then in organized congregations.

The first Conference-appointed minister (we have reason to believe) to serve the Hollows was Thomas Waddill, appointed in 1815. From then on Methodism in our vicinity grew steadily. In the 1820's Peter Doub, who later became an eminent Methodist minister, was appointed Presiding Elder (what we would call District Superintendent) for this district. He must have held meetings and preached near here, because around that time a number of local Methodist churches were organized, among them Mount Airy's first Methodist congregation, Lebanon Church. It was housed in a wood-framed structure which stood on four granite pillars atop Lebanon Hill (near where the water tanks stand today). Tradition and deduction, although it is only that, places the building of Lebanon Church around 1829.

"Old Lebanon" served well this community; but gradually the town of Mount Airy began to shift its population southward. So about 1858 the congregation divided itself into two groups, one going north to found Salem Church, and one going south to better serve Mount Airy. In 1858 a new building was built on South Main Street. Its cemetery still exists, and a brick church stands on virtually the same spot as Main Street Methodist Church, or "Old Methodist," as it is now called. "Old Methodist" saw the turbulent Civil War years and the end of slavery, the unsettled years of Reconstruction, and the more tranquil years that followed.

In 1894 it again seemed prudent to build a more handsome edifice in the newer central part of town. Thus Central Methodist Church was built, and the outgrown, wooden "Old Methodist" building abandoned. From 1894 until 1965, Central, in its fine brick building with beautiful French stained glass windows, grew into the most prominent Methodist congregation in this part of northwest North Carolina, and one of the most solid in the Western North Carolina Conference.

In those early years Central had some remarkable ministers, dedicated Christians like the Reverend Miles Foy, doctor-preacher, converted by Peter Doub in 1829, pastor of Lebanon and "Old Methodist," groundbreaker of the then new Central. Or like James Needham (lovingly called "Father Needham"), local preacher, of Lebanon and "Old Methodist", who delivered a revival sermon at Central in his ninty-ninth year. Or like Marquis L. Wood, local pastor of Lebanon and first pastor of "Old Methodist", and later a missionary to China; it was Reverend Wood's exhaustive diary, now housed at Duke University, without which much of the early history of Central would remain mostly tradition.

In 1966 it again seemed expedient to move into a newer church nearer to the center of the shifting church population. Central's new building is admired throughout the Conference as one of the finer examples of modern church design, and its stained glass windows, designed by French artist Pierre Millous Chartres, are among the finest examples of that art in America today.

Following is a list of Central's ministers, beginning in 1900 (until 1947, when conference was changed from November to June, appointments were for the ensuing year):

1899 - H. K. Boyer
1900 - Z Paris
1902 - F. L. Townshend
1904 - T. E. Winecoff
1905 - J. E. Abernethy
1907 - D. Vance Price

1911 - W. H. Willis
1915 - G. D. Herman
1919 - W. B. West
1921 - H. K. Boyer
1925 - W. A. Newell
1927 - R. H. Daugherty
1928 - A. C. Gibbs
1929 - C. S. Kirkpatrick
1932 - J. T. Mangum

Central --

A Church With A Present

The traditions of Central's past live on into the present: inspiring worship of God in Jesus Christ, warm fellowship together as Christian brothers and sisters, and concerned involvement in the life and needs of the community.

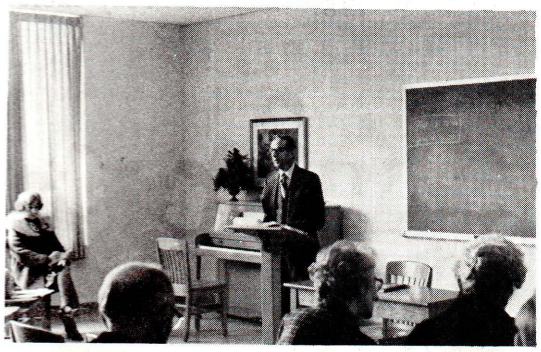

Kindergarten Sunday School

The Church School of Central is an institution with roots just as deep and firm as that of the church itself. Here many hundreds of persons have deepened their faith through study of Scripture and Christian teaching, and our teachers continue to ably provide this vital ministry today.

Adult Fellowship

Since 1962 Central has been involved in the ministry of day care for children, and now operates an excellent Day Care and Kindergarten, demonstrating to the families of Mount Airy our concern for the welfare of children and our dedication to the improvement of education.

Ross Francisco Class

Through outreach ministries such as the Yokefellow Co-operative Ministry, Hope Valley, the Mount Airy Ecumenical Council, the hospital Chaplaincy, and support of denominational mission such as world evangelism, hunger relief, and educational funds, Central proves its committment to Christ's call that we be His witnesses and disiples to the world.

Our Day Care Program

Central --

A Church With A Future

Our Sunday Nursery

Recollection of the past and involvement in the present are important, but so much moreso are planning, preparation, and planning for the future. A truly alive and vital church is one that faces forward and asks that it be given even larger chances to serve.

The children and youth of Central are a constant sign of the future and all that it means. In them we see not only the continuation of the church, but our responsibility. What we do today is leaving behind us a legacy to the young. It is up to us to decide what that legacy will be. If we are indifferent, than the church of tomorrow will wither from neglect. If it is a legacy of committment and hard work, founded on trust in God's grace, then the church we leave our young will continue to grow and to be there when persons turn to it in need.

Children's Choir

These are urgent times. Today more than ever before the world needs the message the Christian Church has to share. This need is reflected in each community, and every congregation must respond in its own way. The people of Central are responding.

CALL YOUR MINISTER

1. WHEN YOU ARE FACING A SERIOUS PROBLEM

   Most Ministers have been trained to help people with their personal, family and other problems. The important judgment of a spiritual leader, together with his prayers for Divine guidance, will enable you to face your problems with confidence. Don't allow your problem to get too big for you.

2. WHEN SOMEONE IS INTERESTED IN THE CHURCH

   You constantly meet young people and adults who are in your community, and others who have not united with the local church. Put in a good word for your church and tell your pastor about the prospective members.

3. WHEN THERE IS ILLNESS

   Your Minister is as near as your telephone. His presence, counsel and prayer will be helpful. Your pastor will appreciate your phone call when you, your loved one or friend is sick or going to the hospital.

4. WHEN THERE IS DEATH

   Your Minister should be notified when there is a death in the family. He can give comfort and counsel at this difficult time.

5. WHEN YOU MUST MAKE AN IMPORTANT DECISION

   If you are a young person and face a decision about going to college, arranging your course of study, or choosing your life work, make an appointment to see your minister. The viewpoint of your spiritual adviser should be considered.

6. WHEN THERE IS A WEDDING

   Your Pastor should be consulted before the wedding day is set. Since you will undoubtedly desire to have one or more conferences with your Minister, it is advisable to contact him well in advance of the wedding.

7. WHEN SOMEONE DESIRES TO BECOME A CHRISTIAN

   Happy, indeed, is the pastor who is asked to talk with someone desiring to become a Christian. Tell your Minister about friends of yours who are interested in knowing more about the Christian faith.
