East Surry High School 1962 - 2011

50th Anniversary Commemorative Edition

This book has been prepared with every possible effort to give a true and an accurate representation of the life at East Surry High School over the last fifty years. Every attempt was made to gather, organize pictures and information of classes, clubs, sports activities and awards. If there are errors or something is remiss, we apologize.

Pilot Mountain before progress. . . .

Pilot Mountain

To the native Saura Indians, the earliest known inhabitants of the region, Pilot Mountain was known as Jomeokee, the "Great Guide" or "Pilot." It guided both American Indians and early European hunters along a north-south path through the area. The Sauras were driven southward by the Cherokees, who subsequently occupied the area. Further settlement in the area was led by Moravians but the population remained sparse during colonial times due to frontier turbulence created by an alliance between the Cherokee Indians and the British.

The mountain was mapped in 1751 by Joshua Fry and Peter Jefferson, father of President Thomas Jefferson. Pilot Mountain became North Carolina's 14th state park in 1968, due in large part to the efforts of a group of local citizens. Prior to that time, the mountain was a commercial tourist attraction. The Pilot Mountain Preservation and Park Committee proposed the establishment of Pilot Mountain as a state park in order to protect it and the surrounding area from further commercial development. The group secured options on the land and raised matching funds that made it possible to purchase the land with federal grants. In further support of the park, the committee acquired more than 1,000 acres of land along the Yadkin River that was added to the park in 1970. Additional acreage was later acquired, bringing the park to its present size of 3,651 acres. Today, Pilot Mountain stands as a monument to the desire and concern of a citizenry dedicated to preserving the natural resources of North Carolina.

Pilot Mountain is capped by two prominent pinnacles. Big Pinnacle, with walls of bare rock and a rounded top covered by vegetation, rises 1,400 feet above the valley floor, the knob jutting skyward more than 200 feet from its base. Big Pinnacle is connected to Little Pinnacle by a narrow saddle. Visitors have easy access to the top of Little Pinnacle where the expansive view encompasses hundreds of square miles of the Piedmont and the nearby mountains of North Carolina and Virginia.

With Pride

For 25 years, Pilot Mountain has been my home. Even though I was a Stokes County girl, the mountain and the Knob has loomed in the horizon for all to enjoy. On the road to Boone while traveling to Appalachian State, I rode past the mountain every week knowing in my soul I would someday live here. I am certain I am not the only one who has felt this way. Pilot Mountain and the surrounding areas are filled with families, young and old, that have made there way here to raise their children and live.

East Surry High School has opened its doors to all these students; no matter from where they came. Every young one of them has been given a chance to receive an education, but far more than just that. There have been clubs, activities, music, and organizations to further enhance their studies. "And then there's ball. . ." Or, not just ball, but something physical to broaden their adventures and experiences here. There have been thousands of students who have walked onto the gym floor, wondering if they would ever get a chance to play. The football stadium has such a draw that former students still come to walk the track and reminisce. The sound of a crack of a bat always brings Coach Hall to mind.

It is for all these students and their parents that this book has been created. For all the parents who have rushed home from work or the field to grab a quick bite of supper to "get to the game". For those of us who have cleaned the football field, picked up trash, worked concessions, sold tickets, washed cars and waited in the parking lot while practice lasted too long; this book is for you too.

For the children of these former stars, academic and athletic, please look to these pages with great pride. For too many of these former students, life became very hard and East Surry memories are faint, but for hundreds of them, this was their chance to shine; to excel, to live their dream and to just play.

There were glory years: state championships, tournament wins and national finals. But there was also just the joy of competing and the love and commitment of team. East Surry High School does this real well. There were coaches that have treated athletes as their own. Teachers often struggled to bring knowledge and understanding to that one child that "just couldn't get it". This book is for you as well. As a parent, I will be forever grateful that you gave your lives for my children and my neighbors' children.

Yes, the mountain has drawn us to its base, we have rested here, played here and lived here. I feel sure that is what God had in mind.

History of School Development

In the fall of 1961 after several years of community meetings, state-induced surveys, and major construction projects, Surry County opened two new high schools that would consolidate at least 10 different communities into two separate units. These new high schools were to be named Surry Central High School which encompassed the Dobson, Mountain Park and Lowgap areas; East Surry High School which included Pilot Mountain, Shoals, Westfield and the Ridges community. Other communities such as Copeland, Eldora and Siloam were divided between the two schools.

This new system was put into place by the County Board of Education in order to provide a necessary and adequate education for each child in Surry County. The smaller units were doing an adequate job, but could not offer the diversity of programs of study that would enable these young people to prepare themselves for college or the future. At that time, college courses of study required more specialization skills that were being taught at the current schools and vocational studies became more involved than ever before. If the individual schools could consolidate together under one roof, then, students would benefit from more courses of study, more teachers, and less buildings.

This process was made possible by the one million dollar bond that had been voted upon in 1956 and 1959. It was divided between three schools. North Surry High School had opened in 1959, two years prior. East Surry consolidated 485 high school students from the three communities. There were 22 teachers teaching 46 different courses. East Surry High School is located on a 20 acre tract located between Highway 52 by-pass and the main street of Pilot Mountain. Architect Fred Butner, Jr. was responsible for the plans of East Surry and Fowler-Jones Construction Company from Winston-Salem was general contractor. The new buildings had modern facilities for studies in business, home economics and science instruction. In addition to the additional classrooms, there was a modern library, gymnasium (with dressing facilities), cafeteria and office space was constructed.

Both high school and elementary students benefitted by this move. Separating the two provided much needed space to carry on activities that were previously impossible before. The future of our communities changed immensely and every day life became different.

Prior to 1959, Surry County operated 11 high schools with an average of 26 different classes for student selection. Now there would be three high schools offering an average of 45 different courses for student selection.

There were many people involved in the process of reorganization, but two people in our community made this happen for us: Mr. Joseph Andrew Pell, Jr. and Mr. Walter M. Matthews. Both of these men were community leaders in their own right. Also involved was J. Sam Gentry, Superintendent of Surry County Schools. Other key people from Pilot Mountain who were involved: R.J. Boaz, Edwin Matthews, Glenn Payne, Tom Brown and Principal James Templeton, who was currently at Pilot Mountain High School.

Mr. James Templeton

Mr. James Templeton was a perfect choice for the principal's position at East Surry's new facility. As the residing principal for the old Pilot Mountain High School, he was quite involved with the planning and building of the new school. From the beginning of development, each part of his administrative responsibilities was challenging. Yet he rose to that endeavor with leadership, strength and humor.

Mr. Templeton was born in Union Grove in 1925. He and his wife of 66 years, Edith had six children; three boys and three girls. Five of his children were East Surry graduates.

Mr. Templeton was a U.S. Navy veteran and life-long educator. He served as a teacher and principal of Central School in Iredell County. Mr. Templeton served as an administrator at Surry Community College during its first seventeen years of operation where he held the positions of director of adult education, academic dean and vice president. During his retirement, he served as mayor of Pilot Mountain and county commissioner of Surry County.

Until his death in 2011, only a few weeks preceding East Surry High School's fiftieth anniversary, Mr. Templeton remained a friend to East Surry. Former students and faculty remember him fondly and with appreciation of his contribution to the most important piece of real estate in Pilot Mountain, East Surry High School.

Principals in the early sixties were usually men who had been raised to physically do work, not just think about it. Mr. Templeton certainly was one of these men. The physical aspects of construction never fazed him and often he would be found working with the construction crews on some particular project. While building the school, money became tight. Yet with Mr. Templeton's quick-thinking, and creative wiles, one of East Surry's most prominent features remains today, fifty years after its inception. With Mr. Templeton's wise fore thought, it was realized that concrete bleachers were a luxury in the day of wooden platform bleachers. There was little money for the project, and Mr. Templeton knew the people of Pilot Mountain may never have the money to complete what the county wanted to start. With the construction set to begin work on a set of four or five rows of concrete seating; the contractor started his job. Mr. Templeton at that time (probably with sleeves rolled up) stepped in to "just help". His quick thinking encouraged the contractor to begin at the top of that mammoth hill, knowing the county "would have to finish it."

Well, of course they did; he was happy and the school continues to use them today. Thousands of children have run up those steps over the last fifty years and tens of thousands of spectators have watched Friday night football and graduation ceremonies.

Thank you, Mr. Templeton.

James Templeton with his friend, Tom

EAST SURRY ALMA MATER

IN THE SHADOWS OF THE MOUNTAINS
UNDER PIEDMONT SKY,
RISE THE HALLS OF OUR EAST SURRY
DEAR EAST SURRY HIGH.

CLASSMATES CHEERFUL, TEACHERS LOYAL,
JOINED IN FRIENDSHIP TRUE,
WORKING EVER TO BRING HONOR,
WE REMEMBER YOU.

THOUGH THE TIME WE SPENT TOGETHER SWIFTLY PASSES BY,
WE SHALL ALWAYS LOVE AND CHERISH
YEARS AT EAST SURRY HIGH.

YOU HAVE TAUGHT US FAITH AND HONOR,
TRUTH AND COURAGE, TOO,
WHILE WE LIVE WE'LL ALWAYS CHERISH
DAYS WE SPENT WITH YOU.

IN THE SHADOWS OF THE MOUNTAINS,

WELCOME VISITORS

Pilot Mountain School

The history of Pilot Mountain School dates back to 1890. Classes were first held in a two-story frame building on the corner lot of Main and Depot Street where the old Bank of Pilot Mountain building stands now. Another school was erected around 1900, and it was known as the Trinity Academy, consisting of fine teachers. This school grew rapidly, but it was finally destroyed by fire. The next school, a large frame building, was located on Key Street. After several years, the decision was made to erect a new "modern" brick building. In 1912, the new school opened.

By the time East Surry was planned, Pilot Mountain School had grown tremendously. The curriculum had been adjusted to teach vocational classes: Home Economics, Agriculture, Commercial and Physical Education. The campus was quite imposing, with a gymnasium and auditorium that were unmatched in the county. Concerts led by Mrs. Wilma Swanson filled the auditorium every year, and were very elaborate productions. (Mrs. William Swanson was the mother of Atty. Ed Swanson & Barbara Swanson.)

Shoals High School

The Shoals community had its own high school. Opening in 1936, their school was smaller than Pilot Mountain, but just as important to the community. The original floor plan called for a Rosenwald design which placed classrooms around a central auditorium. The two story building had 5 classrooms, a science lab, a library, an office and two restrooms, totaling 9,893 square feet. There was no gymnasium; so the old Shoals school was renovated to include a gymnasium.

Previously the school ran from grades one through eleven. In 1946, the state added an additional year of education to the program, establishing grade twelve. In 1961, the Shoals school was consolidated with Pilot Mountain and Westfield to form East Surry. At that time, Shoals, like Westfield, became an elementary school, housing grades one through eight.

Records show that Marvin Wall sold 4.8 acres of land shortly thereafter to the county for $10.00. School acreage increased to 11.5 acres. (Marvin Wall was the father of the principal, Martin Wall.) Mr. Martin Wall was principal at the time of consolidation. Shortly after consolidation, Mr. O.W. Hauser became principal. Along with his wife, Dolly, who worked as office personnel, he remained at Shoals until 1993. His teaching/principal position lasted 39 years, with Dolly working along-side him for 23 years. Their four children were all graduates of East Surry.

At its closing forever in 1993, the school bell had rung for 10,360 days.

Westfield High School

Westfield High School was located on Hwy 89 just around the curve from the Westfield Baptist Church. Being the only large structure in that small community, it was the center of community life. When consolidation occurred, most of the students from Ridge Westfield Elementary School were assigned to Westfield Elementary School which is synonymous with Westfield High School. The campus included a main building which housed the office and auditorium; with a building for grades one through four. There was an agriculture building as well. Farming was the primary occupation of the area at that time, so the "Ag building" was utilized daily.

Rosenwald was credited with the design of the school. It was a smaller version of the Shoals building; but a very similar style of construction. The principal at the time of consolidation was John Cox, Jr.

Ridge-Westfield Elementary School

In 1966, there were major changes that occurred in the Surry County School system. Racial integration was voted upon and became mandatory for all public schools. In 1966, schools that had only black students enrolled were closed; moving those students into predominately white schools across the county.

J.J. Jones High School was divided between North Surry and East Surry. Ridge-Westfield Elementary School was divided accordingly as well. These students were from all areas of the county along with some black students that had been bused from the Nancy Reynolds / Francisco area of Stokes County. Neither faction of people was comfortable with this arrangement. Both white and black communities were nervous and the black community did not want to lose their beloved schools. Children were separated, never to be in the same school again. Ridge-Westfield had been built only 10 years when this redistricting occurred. The building was left unoccupied until it was purchased by the Chestnut Ridge Progressive Primitive Baptist Church.

Mrs. Bernice Cox Lowe was principal at the time. She had been teaching since 1945, along with accepting the responsibilities of a principal. The change was difficult for her, even though her husband, Mr. Tom Lowe, was custodian of East Surry. Their three daughters were separated to go to different area schools. Only one, Tommy Jill, became an East Surry student at the time.

The atmosphere in our country was tense. Mrs. Beulah Perkins who was the guidance counselor at East Surry still remembers meeting with Mrs. Lowe in 1966. Mrs. Lowe said, "I cried and cried at the thought of losing the 120 students who were enrolled at Ridge-Westfield. I knew their days would be different, and I was afraid for them."

Mrs. Lowe is now in her 80's. Her health is failing but she recalls those days with clarity. She remembers telling her students "Go to these new schools and behave. Remember...we are somebody, we come from somewhere, and we are going somewhere. Whatever your teachers are teaching...you learn it. No one can take that away from you."

The life at these smaller schools had been one of family unity. "Everyday we (Ridge-Westfield faculty and student body) prayed and asked God for direction." She also speaks fondly of both Mr. Walter Matthews and Mr. Joe Pell, who were so important in the building of the East Surry program. Mrs. Lowe is a good judge of character and stated that, "They were very fine people. They both loved and believed in the children.

After the summer of 1966, both Ridge-Westfield Elementary and J. J. Jones High Schools were closed. The children were reassigned as well as all the teachers.

J. J. Jones High School

J. J. Jones High School was born from the struggle of black parents in Surry County (a struggle that occurred throughout the South) to provide their children with the most effective education that was within their power. Preceded by the Ararat Colored School and the Mount Airy Colored High School, J. J. Jones High School was constructed by the WPA in 1939, at a reported cost of $22,000. School officials could not get funds from the town, county or state. Principal L.H. Jones knew that he had determined teachers, students, and parents. Pooling their efforts, the students and teachers built their own auditorium, literally with their own hands, using materials retrieved from abandoned sites. The first classes were held in 1940. From 1940 until 1966, J.J. Jones High School served black students from districts in Surry County and Stokes County in North Carolina, and from Patrick County in Virginia. It was the only high school available for black students in three counties.

The unique feature of the funding and construction process, and one element of the building's history, is that students and staff contributed much of the labor required for construction of the Auditorium. The high school had a masonry class taught by Mr. E. T. Sellars, a retired brick mason, who was serving as a vocational instructor. The students learned to make cement blocks, and hand-made the blocks for the auditorium. They also laid the bricks. Students (both boys and girls) and teachers installed the floor. Without this "sweat equity," it is safe to say that the students of J. J. Jones High School would never have had an auditorium. The result was an auditorium that instilled pride in community.

After working his way through college and graduating Cum Laude from West Virginia College in 1936, L. H. Jones followed the path set by his father, returning to Mount Airy as the principal of J. J. Jones High School. The struggles of J. J. Jones and L.H. Jones to promote elementary, secondary, and higher education among black students are legendary within the greater Surry County community. Thus it is entirely appropriate that the high school was named for the father and the auditorium for the son.

In 1966, students were assigned to East Surry and North Surry, according to district lines. At that time, J.J. Jones High School was closed. After many years of being closed, the county now uses it as building to house a community organization.

J. J. Jones High graduates host an annual event which assists in maintaining the historical auditorium.

Eldora Elementary & Copeland High School

The Eldora community had a different situation from the other area schools. Eldora Elementary School only held grades one through seven, students then traveled to Copeland High School for grades eight through twelve. When consolidation occurred in 1961, all Copeland High School students were redistricted to Surry Central High School in Dobson. At that time, only one bus from the Eldora community was remaining. These students were sent to East Surry High School in Pilot Mountain. Copeland High School became an elementary school with Mr. Herman Griffin as the principal. Eldora Elementary School was closed at that time. It is now serving the community as the Eldora Ruritan Club Community Center. Eldora is the only school structure remaining in the Rosenwald design.

Joseph Andrew Pell, Jr.

Joseph Andrew Pell, Jr. was born October 19, 1915. He was born in Pilot Mountain, North Carolina. He was educated in the Pilot Mountain School System, graduating from Pilot Mountain High School in the Class of 1932. He attended Appalachian State Teacher College during the 1932 school year and graduated from Duke University in 1936.

Mr. Pell married Mary Tuttle Atwater, a native of Alamance County. She had come to Pilot Mountain to teach in the local school system. The Pells had two children, Linda and Andy and five grandchildren.

Mr. Pell was a tobacco warehouse man and the owner of a Drive-In Theatre. He was involved in textile manufacturing and eventually became a founder of one of the leading nursing care facilities in our state, Pell Care.

Mr. Pell was the Director of the Bank of Pilot Mountain. He also was a member of the Board of Directors for Mount Airy Savings and Loan. Even at his young age of 35, he became an important member of the Surry County Board of Education. He served on the Board of Trustees of the First United Methodist Church, while at the same time serving as their financial officer. If you needed him, you could find him on Sunday morning, teaching a Sunday school class.

Mr. Joe finished his public career by serving in the administration of Governor James B. Hunt, Jr. during the 1977-1985 tenure. Mr. Pell's position as senior advisor to the governor took him away from his hometown for many years, yet he never forgot his roots.

During the 40 years he served on the Surry County Board of Education; (chairman for many of those years). He was instrumental in building our school system, laying the ground work for the schools and educational system we have today.

The science wing of East Surry High School is named in memory of Mr. Joseph Pell.

Walter Matthews

Walter M. Matthews served the Pilot Mountain community all his life. He was born here, raised his family here and continued until his death to be a financial planner, insurance salesman, and benefactor for Surry County education.

He started the Farmers Bank in Pilot Mountain which served farmers and mill workers alike. Mr. Walter was known to offer a helping hand or a loan to many. He served on the advisory school committees of Pilot Mountain and East Surry for over fifty years. Mr. Matthews also served on the Foundation Board and on the Board of Trustees for Surry Community College. From cheering on athletic teams, to supporting education fundraising, to presenting Bibles to every member of each East Surry graduating class, Mr. Matthews was extremely interested in the students of this community.

The Walter M. Matthews Chapter of the National Honor Society was first chartered at East Surry High School in 1967. Mr. Walter Matthews, for whom the East Surry Chapter is named, served with dedication in many areas to enhance educational opportunities in our community.

Until the time of his death, he often strolled the sidewalk of the town, handing out candy and words of encouragement.

A former student body president spoke of Mr. Matthews generosity, "Everytime we sold something to raise money, someone went to Mr. Matthews first. He bought at least once of everything we sold, ever single time." Our children and their children will continue to reap the rewards of the seeds Mr. Matthews powered.

He and his wife had one child, Betty, who resided with her husband and two sons in Pilot Mountain. She still continues Mr. Matthew legacy of kindness.

Courage is contagious. When a brave man takes a stand, the spines are stiffened."

History Of Our Land

Mr. Henry Harding

In the Town of Pilot Mountain in the late fifties, businesses were growing to accommodate the young families that had come home from the war. There were several landowners in the area that were prospering. Many lived in larger comfortable homes in the town itself while still owning and farming land outside the town limits.

Peter Riley Nelson was such a man. He was at one time the principal owner of The Bank of Pilot Mountain. In this occupation, Mr. Nelson found himself the owner of 14 farms that lay outside the town, into the county itself. At the time of his death, this acreage was divided among his thirteen children.

Mr. Aubry Wall

Peter Riley Nelson Home

At the time of consolidation of the schools, acreage needed to be purchased somewhere nearby to build this new facility. Mr. Walter Matthews and Mr. Joe Pell did not hesitate to work together to make it possible to help keep the high school in town near the old Pilot Mountain High School. They knew this would bring more people and more businesses into the town itself.

Twenty acres were purchased from Mr. Nelson in the area between West Main Street and Highway 52. An additional acreage of approximately ten acres was purchased across the road from the main campus to be used for athletic use someday.

In the main area of the school lot were two houses that had been homes to both Peter Riley Nelson and one of his sons, Peter Boyd Nelson. After completion of the sale of the land, these houses had to go. The older of the two actually was quite a large structure. It was a two story home with large gables protruding from all four sides of the roof. Each gable included either double or single windows depending upon east or west side. Bay front windows on opposite sides of the lower floor extended beyond deep porches with turned posts and balustrade railings. Sawn work brackets completed the posts and added a Victorian look. The hip roof accommodated a large second story. The home held 16 rooms which were decorated accordingly. By the time construction of the school was scheduled to begin, the house had been demolished.

Peter Boyd Nelson Home

The other home on this farm belonged to the son, Peter Boyd Nelson. At the time of the sale, it was still occupied by the Nelson Family. It, too, was quite a large imposing structure with many rooms. Peter Boyd's son Simpson and his wife, Clara Sams Nelson (PMHS 1948), lived in this house when they were newlyweds. The Nelson Family had quite a farm there with a large hay-barn and several out buildings across the road. With the school coming, this house needed to be dealt with as well, but would meet a different fate than the grandfather's home.

Mr. Aubrey Wall, of Cox Funeral Home, along with Mr. Henry Harding came to the rescue. This house was purchased to be used as the new, larger funeral home. Mr. Wall and his wife, Mildred, lived in the house until the moving company would be able to move it. When that time came, it came quickly. Mildred remembers vividly; coming home from her work at Northern Hospital of Surry County, where she was Director of Nursing; to find her home (complete with furnishings, dishes, and clothes)

"up on stilts, parked in the middle of West Main Street, on a trailer with a flat tire." It took 17 days to move the spacious building from one side of the street to the other. "The roof kept falling off. The tile roof all had to be removed and that took a while," Mrs. Wall remembers. But she also remembers her husband Aubrey, his brother Ed Wall and Henry Harding working along with the others in the Funeral Home to make the "new" building what is today still standing. Once again, members of the community worked together to build the town structure we all enjoy today.

Rebel & Cardinal Quotations

- Words that I lived by during the season were just, "Never give up!" Justin Simmons, 2005
- "The best game this season was when we beat Mt. Airy at Mt. Airy." Cody Johnson, 2005
- "Our team is like a mullet, business in the front, and party in the back." Wesley Whitaker, 2005
- "We struggled at the beginning."
- "Focus and concentration...key elements to winning."
- "But they still had fun!"
- "I have to wear the same socks every game for good luck, but they've got holes in them now."
Joe Adams, 2008
- "Experience came from both victory and defeat."
- "I felt like I could fly when I scored the first goal in school in school history. The way I felt when I got the ball and sent it flying was indescribable. I couldn't have done it without Bobby's (Snow) pass."
William Kennedy (soph.) Soccer, 2002
- "To have so many outstanding players is very unusual for a small town". David Diamont
- "Good team chemistry." Barry Hall
- "I just did it for Reid."
(Speaking of the inspiration of Reid Walters) 1996 Steve Cooke
- "Our strong legs will run so that weak legs might walk."

Alpha Omega ~ Paige Searcy ~ Cardinal Crazies

In Greek, the word "Alpha" means the beginning and the word "Omega" means the end. This is "a group that always finishes the worthwhile projects it begins." For many years, this service organization at East Surry High School was led by a most dedicated teacher. She not only organized many events for the student body but consistently and positively kept their spirits soaring with the Cardinal Crazies. Paige Searcy came to East Surry as a young African-American girl in 1969, a year of turbulent unrest in our country. She slowly began her life of public service by organizing groups that dealt with issues facing students at that time; both black and white. The Black Awareness Club was a means to open communications and trust between these two innocent groups of young adults.

During her student years at East Surry, racial issues came to a head over the mascot name, "Rebels." This name had been chosen after a vote was taken from the student body of the Class of 1962. At the end of 1973, educators and parents came to an understanding that the racial issues were important enough to change the mascot name. In the fall of 1974, students returned to school with a new mascot, "Cardinals". The "Rebel" flag would fly no more on the campus of East Surry. Those days of discussions and worry were resolved, relatively easy, in Pilot Mountain, considering what was happening all over the country. Times were very difficult and young African-American men and women really had to prove themselves.

Mrs. Searcy has done that and more. Becoming the first black student who graduated from East Surry to return as a teach, carried immeasurable responsibility. Always cheerful, always smiling, Mrs. Searcy has endured. She brought truth and fairness to her job and we were fortunate to have her. With her leadership, students learned to serve their school and community in a number of ways. She constantly organized food drives, clothing drives, toy drives, and was able to obtain free rent and a home for a burned-out for a student from East Surry. Being an advisor to many students, she never lacked for a project. Even with her retirement, her service has continued. When publication of this Commemorative Book began, she did not hesitate when asked to help. She has become one of those legacies at our school which should not be forgotten. She can never be replaced. East Surry will benefit from her spirit for a long while.

Dr. Bishop Tony O. Carter

Dr. Bishop Tony O. Carter is a graduate and member of the last graduating class of J.J. Jones High School of Mt. Airy, NC. After graduation he entered Livingstone College of Salisbury, N.C. on an academic scholarship. He received a B.A. degree in English. He has completed further studies at the following institutions: St. Augustine College, East Carolina University, Radford University, and the University of Virginia.

Mr. Carter was awarded the Doctor of Divinity during Holy Convocation in 2000. He continues to serve as senior pastor of Triumphant Pentecostal Church and has done so for 34 years. Mr. Carter also serves as the Moderator/Bishop for over 51 churches. He taught school for 37 years until retirement on November 1, 2007. While in Surry County Schools, 95% of all freshmen entering East Surry High were required to complete the standards established by the county and state and those expected by Mr. Carter.

Mr. Carter's students proved that you get what one expects; and he expected the best. His freshmen students, when compared with students within the county and state, received remarkably high scores for the English I, End of Course Test. The test was one which every ninth grader had to take and pass.

Dr. Bishop Tony O. Carter has been listed in Who's Who in America's Teachers on five occasions: 1994, 1996, 1998, 2004 and 2005.

Dedicated by ...Triumphant Pentecostal Holiness Church Apostolic, Inc.

The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise him.

Psalm 28

Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

2 Timothy 2:15

Northwest Conference Coach Of The Year

"He is a dedicated and multi-talented individual who has devoted himself to his family, his school, his community, and his team. He has been a source of guidance and inspiration for the many students who have called him teacher, Coach, friend. Many young people have been taught, guided, or pushed by the patience and the tenacity by this one man. For those he has touched, their spirits were altered, their days were busy, and their lives were changed. To his name, one word is added that says it all. We call him "Coach".

In the history of East Surry High School, there have been many faces and diverse styles of leadership for the students who were involved in extra-curricular activities. Tens of thousands of hours have been spent in gymnasiums, muddy fields, dusty fields, grassy fields, or a bus. Sports were limited in the beginning. The usual activities were there; boys football, basketball, baseball and track. Eventually the scope broadened to include girls in this participation. Today there are so many activities that range from football to soccer, basketball to tennis, baseball to wrestling, swimming to track and so on...

Along with this diversity, came the numerous men and women who taught techniques and sportsmanship to all these many young people. In East Surry's history, 93 coaches have entered these grounds to instruct and train. They have shared with our young people their knowledge of their sports. Many of them were students, here themselves. Their pride and love for their school remains constant, always with a need to better each student. Some have taught, some have played, and all have loved. Our community is richer, as a whole, because of their gift.

Tomorrow's Promises

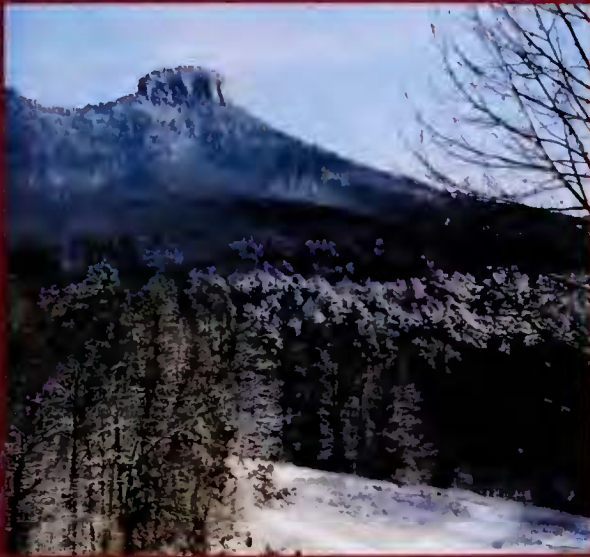

Just
 as a calm ends on the find that we too move on from this year, with an ever onward what is to come Though we leave behind a year of remarkable events, we look forward to the next chapter of life which awaits us with our keys, poems, graduation and a life at college. Finally it is time to grow, change, and discover something different. Time to step in and be the playboy.
 Because just like a song, one moment will never last forever. It is replaced its somewhere unheard song never disappears found in the darkest part because it is something because its words and melody, the way our high school years
 Though we may not have gone platinum we seized a number one hit, the athletes that stamped our lives excited a AAA that would always be remembered by some individuals, but time passes, its create something new, but the song lives on by Lucy Given & Nicole Larris

we each step, foot on campus and read in the smile of new textbooks that would weigh us down for the next year, we are faced with a challenge: How to make this year count?
 I responded by joining teams that bonded and formed a family.
 I chose to take classes that would challenge them from start to finish. Some chose to get involved in their school and community.
 Everyone had fun with their friends and made memories that would last forever. Regardless of what we set out to do this year all 671 of us were destined to leave our mark.

Brian's Vision

No matter who won Homecoming Queen, graduated with honors, wore the best prom dress, had the most hectic schedule, received the most speed tickets, took the most "sick" days or won the championship, all 671 of us made our year count by accomplishing our own goals. Regardless if we return for the next school year or go our own way, we left our mark in the hallways of East Surry at Pilot Mountain. It was our year, and we made it count.

Great things are done when men and mountains meet.

GUIDANCE directed pupils toward secure futures

Guidance counselor Mrs. Beulah Perkins found her work challenging, but rewarding. Challenging because important futures were at stake, but rewarding when those college acceptances began to arrive.

Mrs. Perkins thought it important that each student realize that he has potential for success. She derived great satisfaction from sharing the responsibilities of molding productive and happy citizens in today's world.

Mrs. Perkins taught in the Surry County School System for 37 years. She retired in 1987 after 23 years of service at East Surry High School.

Mrs. Beulah Perkins' guidance article included introducing students to national testing programs to aid in making important decisions about their future.

Hard Earned Thoughts

"I was thrown out of the game by an official!"

Award Winning Coach (Most Embarrassing Moment)

"I knew what would be expected of me and I knew I could do the job."

Jack Marion, 1992

"To everyone's surprise, the Cards didn't just roll over and play dead - in fact, they won their season opener by coming from behind.... They had taken all of the doubts and bad remarks about their season and turned them into a motivation that would take them to a place they had not been in years."

(spoken of the 1994 Football team coached by Tom Eanes)

"Due to a few stubborn wrestlers who refused to quit...there was a season."

(spoken of- wrestling team, 1994-1995)

"My most memorable moment was when the state trooper got on the bus asking, "Who threw the grape?"

Bronson Cline, 2007

"...I do my best..."

Alison Hooker 2007

"I was nervous about Coach Hall, though..."

Brett Smith, 2007

THE STORY OF THE WEIGHT ROOM AND THE CARDINAL FOUNDATION

By Coach David H. Diamont

Sometime during the mid-1980's, the football coaches and players cleaned out the coal room under the gym. We painted the room and moved in our one universal machine and the one squat rack which we purchased with the "Yards for Cards" fund raiser money. We would lift every afternoon after school. We would use a whistle and rotate around the machine in a timed manner. We also had one bench for the bench press. Some of our more "dedicated" players like the Beeson twins (Paul and Joel), Mike Kiser, and Jimmy Upchurch made significant strength and weight gains that year.

When I returned to East Surry High School in the fall of 1999 to coach football, I found a need for a weight room. Coach Tom Eanes had done a great job of transforming the visitor's dressing room in the field house into a weight room. He and his staff had painted the room and it looked great. But I just did not think it was big enough and we needed that room to dress our JV football team. So I moved the weights into the field house gym. Tom Beroth actually went with us to the Nautilus plant in Virginia and paid on the spot for 16 pieces of refurbished equipment. We squeezed the equipment into the county truck and came back to Pilot Mountain.

I decided that the county was never going to help us build a weight room. They didn't have the funds and there were other more pressing needs for tax dollars. So I decided to get a few former players and a few parents of future players together to talk about the problem. Meanwhile I had talked to Richard Vaughn in Mt. Airy because he had just helped the Wolf Pack Club add to Carter Finley Stadium at NC State. We took his idea to form a foundation and lease an area from the school system and build our weight room on that leased area. The first two meetings/discussions took place in the varsity dressing room of the field house.

Some of our ideas were very large. I took advantage of having a sister-in-law who had design expertise and computer software. We began to design our weight room. The actual first meeting of the Cardinal Foundation of East Surry, Inc. was held on September 9, 2001.

The following people were present: Ronnie Diamont, Donnie Diamont, David Diamont, Darren Haywood, Angie Smith, Thomas Beroth, Jr., Randy Stanley, Gary Walkup, Audie Simmons, and Earl Sheppard. I presided at the beginning then we elected the following officers: Gary Walkup; Vice-President: Audie Simmons; VP: Thomas Beroth; VP: Earl Sheppard; Treasurer: Dan Stone; Secretary: Bill Weldon. The foundation continued to meet and develop plans for the weight room and plan to raise the money. Besides the officers the following people attended one or more of these meetings during the fall of 2001: Donna Walkup, Melanie Diamont, Vicky Sheppard, Paige and Jessica Searcy, Doug Simmons, Tina Bullington, Max Livengood, and Jim York. Lawyer Mike Royster helped the Foundation to incorporate and Brevard and Lewis did the non-profit applications.

The foundation held several fund raisers and the East Surry administration allowed the Foundation to rent signs around the football field to raise funds. The big commitment came when eight gentlemen signed a note with the bank to borrow $180,000. These patrons were T. Beroth, Sherman Sheppard, Owen Fulk, Earl Sheppard, Audie Simmons, Gary Walkup, Randy Stanley, and Jim York.

Bottom line: the East Surry community saw a pressing need and stepped up without the government spending a single taxpayer dollar. Those of us who use the weight room are deeply indebted to these ladies and gentlemen for their time, energy, knowledge, and financial support. Our weight room has four PE IV classes per day. The weight room is used almost every day in the summer by the football program. Sometimes in the spring the room is even opened at 6:30 am for our athletes. We are on an equal footing or better when comparing our weight room facility to other 1-A high schools in North Carolina.

Cardinals' Coaching Duo Deals East Winning Hand

Players' Names, Times Change, But Theme Of Success Remains

This is the first of a two-part story on the highly successful East Surry baseball program and its coaches.

By MICHAEL HOWLETT
News Sports Editor

PILOT MOUNTAIN — Although the duo of Hall and Oates had more No. 1 hits than any other rock act in the 1980s, little has been heard of the two for the past few years.

Much to the sorrow of Northwest Conference foes, the same can't be said for East Surry's record-making duo of Hall and Downs, whose baseball teams dominated the Northwest charts in the 80s and have shown no signs of slowing down as the 90s get under way.

Under the guidance of head coach Barry Hall and assistant coach Harry Downs, East Surry put together a record of 185-71 during the past decade. Even more impressive is the Cardinals' current streak of eight straight trips to the state playoffs.

And if East Surry foes thought there was any chance of the Cardinals slowing down in the 90s, it should be pointed out that this year's team is off to a 9-0 start, the best in school history.

Talent players, a little luck, community support and coaching all play a part in any successful athletic program, but in East Surry's case, it is impossible to overlook the improvement in the baseball program since Hall and Downs joined forces.

It is also ironic that Downs started out as the Cardinals' head coach, guiding the team from 1972-75 before stepping down to take over a fledgling tennis program.

"Someone wanted to start a tennis team and I had coached tennis and had two little kids at home," recalled Downs of his decision to switch from baseball to tennis. "Plus, I felt we couldn't compete with South Stokes, North Surry and Surry Central (in baseball) without a real good summer program and I just didn't have time to do it."

However, four years of tennis was all Downs could handle.

"I loved to practice (tennis), but the matches just seemed to take forever," he admitted.

Although the teaming of a former head coach with a current head coach could have resulted in a strained relationship in many instances, the situation has worked at East Surry because of several factors, including friendship, respect and similar baseball philosophies.

"One thing I'm very fortunate for is continuity. This program wouldn't miss a beat if something happened to me or if I went somewhere else," said Hall. "It's like having two varsity coaches and it helps that (Downs) is a good friend. A good friend doesn't always agree with you and you don't want the guy helping you to always agree."

"It's been a good relationship. Coach Downs could be a head coach here or anywhere because he's a very knowledgeable baseball man. So is our jayvee coach Garvine Collins. I don't have to worry about one of them wanting my job. I've talked to other coaches and they've told me they were always looking over their shoulder because they knew their assistant wanted their job."

"As far as I'm concerned we've got two head coaches," added Hall. "I tell the players that the first day (of practice) and I think they realize that. If Coach Downs gets on them in practice, they know not to come to me."

"I think one thing that's helped me is that I was a head coach for four years," added Downs, whose teams compiled a 40-17 conference record. "I've proved to myself that I could coach. It's not like having a young (assistant) who wants to prove himself."

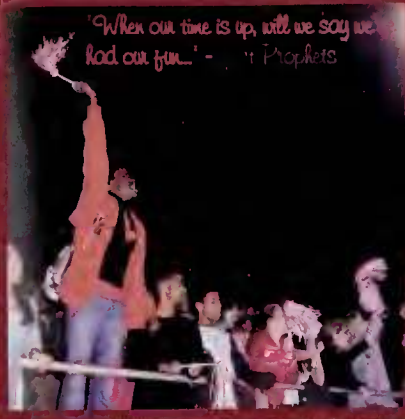

In fact, as far as Downs is concerned, the situation is a perfect one.

"I've enjoyed it even more than when I was a head coach," he said. "I don't have to take care of the field, handle the checks (given to the umpires) or any of the other stuff. I can just coach."

"Plus, Barry gave me responsibil-

Cardinal Returns Home

As we celebrate the 50th year of East Surry, we proudly recognize a tradition of excellence in academics, athletics, and the arts. Results indicate that teachers and coaches are committed to the success of our students and student-athletes. Over the years, students at East Surry have excelled in an environment that focuses on educating the whole child.

Students at East Surry are encouraged to participate in extra-curricular activities. Studies have shown that students who participate in school related programs have many advantages over those who do not participate. In general, these students perform better academically, have a higher attendance rate, and are more likely to graduate from high school and attend college than their peers who are not involved in their school. The commitment required of student participants cultivates perseverance, hard-work, teamwork, self-discipline, and humility. The programs at East Surry provide our students with an avenue to improve their talents and skills, while at the same time instilling pride through their accomplishments.

The success of a school is often related to the level of community support. We are very fortunate to have a solid support system within the East Surry community. On behalf of the students, faculty, and staff, I must take this opportunity to recognize and thank the East Surry community for the support that has been given to our school over the past 50 years. We are truly a community school.

As a 1979 graduate of East Surry, I can truly say that I am proud to be back and serving as your principal.

"A band is only as strong as its weakest member..." Well for us, there was not a weakest member among us! Thank you all for being a part of an organization that is alive!

The Cardinal Foundation

The Cardinal Foundation was formed to supply a need. That need was to build and pay for a weight room facility for all sports. Coach Diamont's letter explains the process. In May 2008, the room was dedicated as The Cardinal Fitness Center. This was an extensive project. But it was only the beginning.

Our mission is to provide and assist East Surry High School in academic, artistic and athletic endeavors. We strive to become a solid foundation for future growth for the school and the students. After receiving permission from the school to use the stadium fencing for sign rental, we started that program in order to prevent overlapping with other school fundraisers. We could only sell so many tickets. The program also allows us to advertise local businesses and thank them for their support of East Surry.

In 2009, the East Surry Arts and Academic Team (ESSAT) was formed to assist in the school's development of art interest or academic special programs. The Foundation has included ESAAT under its umbrella in order to aid them with their work. The students of our area are so deserving of any extra push we can give them. To see their excitement at a Shakespeare Festival, or their dismay at a Science Museum exhibit is reason enough to help them pursue their dream. Providing opportunities for off-campus learning is inspiring for their impressionable minds.

For all those businesses and patrons that continually support these efforts, we thank you. Please remember your investment by whatever means is enriching young lives for many years to come. They are our future.

Tammy is a very caring, people conscious individual but she is a mother first. You will know this if you take the time and listen to her tell stories of her children: Andy, Katie, Cameron and Joe Reid. She is a talented lady who is dedicated to the mission of serving her community. She is meticulous in the things that she does. She wants things to be just so. Individuals need this quality to have a good result. Yes, is the word she uses most often; because when you think no...her response is yes, we can do it. Our time together this past few weeks has been pain-staking but not without reason. I know that the commemorative book which you will look back on in times to come will bring a smile to your face. There have been many 18-20 hour days with much hard work, research, and note-taking. Tammy has done an awesome job compiling information from 50 years of East Surry High School annuals and individuals who were willing to provide information. I would like to thank Tammy for going the extra mile to include more than just a few pictures and names. Tammy Collins Denny, You are AWESOME!

Ralph Epperson was a recipient of numerous awards. His work in broadcasting music native to the Blue Ridge Mountains and Foothills of North Carolina and Virginia inspired countless TV and radio documentaries as well as newspaper and magazine articles. He suffered a brain injury after falling in his driveway on May 12, 2006. Ralph Epperson passed away at Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Center in the early hours of May 31, 2006.

Wally's Pharmacy

Lin Hamilton, RPH • Kathryn Hamilton, RPH
Jessica Scott, Pharm D

Wally's Pharmacy was founded in 1974, and has for over 35 years been providing quality pharmaceutical care to the residents of Mount Airy, and visitors to Surry County.
We are a compounding pharmacy, which means we can mix the drugs to fit your unique prescription needs. In some cases we can also add flavors to medicines to help the medicine go down easier.
Since 1993, the pharmacy has been owned and operated by husband and wife team Lin and Kathryn Hamilton. Both are registered pharmacists, and have been residents of Mount Airy for over 25 years. They understand your needs, and are very proud of their high standards when it comes to customer service.
We understand that there is a lot of competition for your business, and we would like the opportunity to show you why you should choose Wally's.

To such an Inspirational Woman

To such an inspirational woman, who strives to the highest limit, who will take challenges that no one else will; she is an amazing human being. A mother to so many, a wonderful friend to most, a vivacious energy that makes so many people smile. A person who just wants to give back to the community and doesn't even want any recognition, that is Tammy Denny. Tammy Denny is the hardest working, loving person that I know; she has such devotion for this town. Who else do you know that is willing to put up signs on the football field, or to "paint the town red", or accept challenges that are not easy to overcome? Tammy Denny is my mama, and I am extremely proud of her in so many ways that are hard to express. She spends many sleepless nights, staying up working, or doing for East Surry High School events to benefit the town and the children; she is a woman of wonders. So when you see a rainbow, think of joy, happiness, love, faith, and compassion for your friends and your family. So much work in such a short amount of time, but it gets done. Mama, I want to thank you for all that you do. I know that you do the things that you do because you love it! If you're not doing for school, or for the Boy Scouts, or for a friend, you're doing it for you! And I would like to say congratulations on doing an amazing job!

I love you very much!

To a woman of inspiration,

Your Daughter Katie

the players, T-Bird fans and all patriotic Americans everywhere. I don't think I could help somebody if I didn't have responsibility."

"I also think we've been good for each other because I'm more fiery and (Barry) has calmed me down some. I used to get on the umpires a lot more, but I chart the pitches (during a game) and that's helped calm me down too," added Downs, who has been known to argue with an umpire or two.

"Coach Downs will go after (the umpires), but I've officiated basketball and baseball and I try to put myself in their position," said Hall.

Downs figures questioning one call might prove beneficial down the line.

"The next time (a play's) close, you've got a better chance (of having it go your way)," he said.

However, that doesn't mean Hall doesn't have a temper.

"I've got to be real careful," said Hall. "Sometimes I go over the limit, especially in a game, and get a kid down instead of what I want to get across to him. I'll chew him out big time, but then I'll have Coach Downs go over and pat him on the back.

"We're tough on our players, but we have very few players who don't come back after graduation. They want to sit down and talk about their playing days, and we're not talking about (former) starters all the time either. Very few people we've coached won't tell you they didn't have a good time. That makes you feel good about it."

One reason he and Downs demand so much of their players, said Hall, is to build discipline, not only on the field, but in the classroom.

"If our players get in trouble in school, then they know they're going to sit out the next ball game," he said. "We don't compromise. It doesn't bother us if it's a starter. I've had fans come up to me (before a key game) and say 'why not sit him out the next game', but I don't think (the players) would respect us as much if we did. Our philosophy is students first, athletes second.

"I had a teacher one day tell me one of our players had his head down in class, sleeping. The next time I saw (the player) I told him 'you're going to miss a game'. The teacher told me a few days later that (the player) had been working hard since I'd talked to him. When we get to the ballfield we want the same type of intensity."

Obviously, the discipline and knowledge that Hall and Downs have instilled in their players over the years has paid off, as evidenced by the eight players who have gone on to play college ball and the many who have had successful lives outside the sport.

However, even when you have an outstanding program, such as the one at East Surry, life is not always easy. For one, the Cardinals are like a famous gunfighter of the old west, there's always someone looking to gun them down.

"The negative part (of success) is we can make anybody's season if they beat us," said Hall. "You can't take anybody lightly. That's why we prepare for every game the same way. Each game, no matter who it is, is the big game.

"I think some teams have lost some games on Tuesday because they were thinking about playing us on Friday."

Another aspect of coaching at East, which has both its good and bad points, is the fact that the area boasts fans who are well-versed in the game of baseball.

"Our fans aren't always going to agree on whether you should have bunted or not because most of the people are definitely baseball strong," said Hall, who has been criticized at times for being "too hard" on his players.

"But if they feel they can get someone who can do a better job, they can. Coach Downs could be a head coach and I've had a chance to move on two or three times, but we like the community and like the players we work with. We enjoy what we're doing."

Those ardent, and sometimes vocal, fans do support the team, however, and for that Hall is thankful.

"A few years ago, we played Surry Central in the (Northwest Conference Tournament) championship game and we had a tremendous crowd (800). And when we played South Point for the Western Championship in 1982 we made $1,800 at the gate at $2 a head. You see that kind of crowd for a basketball game, but not baseball."

But no matter how much money is made or how many titles are won, Hall said the importance of sports can best be illustrated by his team's response following a loss in the third and deciding game of the 82' championship game.

"What stands out in my mind more than anything is after we lost the game, our kids stood around quietly and watched South Point celebrate, then shook their hands.

"Two people came up to me after the game and said 'I just want to say your team has more class than any team we've seen'. They couldn't believe our kids didn't throw a single glove.

"That's what sports is all about. If we can't teach that within the sports framework, then we shouldn't have it. You've got to be able to accept both winning and losing."

Monday: A look at the players that helped build the Cardinals into a high school baseball power.

The Cardinal Foundation would be quite negligent in accolades if we left out a most important part of East Surry High School History.

This book would not have been possible without the tremendous work of previous years. Pictures, script, dialogue, quotations, statistics, documentation of all areas of student and faculty life at East Surry High School have been carefully prepared by many people throughout the past 50 years. We have all taken them for granted or have wished many times; they would get out of the way or leave us alone. This daunting task was not easy, but usually, always fun and rewarding .

They have captured and processed history for generations of East Surry students and their families to enjoy. Sometimes words are never enough to adequately express gratitude and deep appreciation, nevertheless, for all the East Surry year book staffs and their advisors, that have contributed to this gift, we thank you, our children thank you and our grandchildren will thank you.

Initially, all they had to use was a Brownie camera, paper and pencil and manual typewriters. Xerox machines, scanners and computers have gradually replaced the old-fashioned "cut and paste" routine that was so time-consuming. Developing rooms have evolved into digital cameras with flash drives and discs. "Spell check" now makes "Webster" obsolete and totally unnecessary. Cell phones with cameras can catch that spur of the moment picture that is priceless for the future.

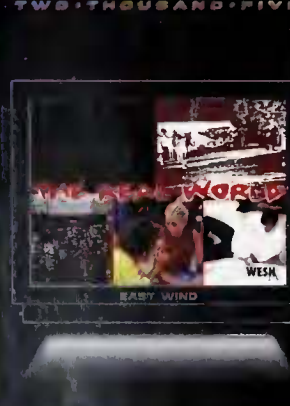

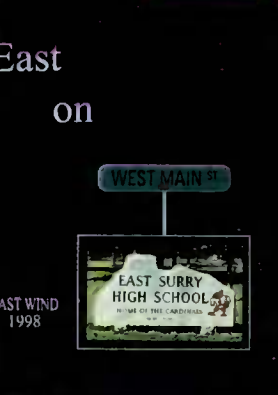

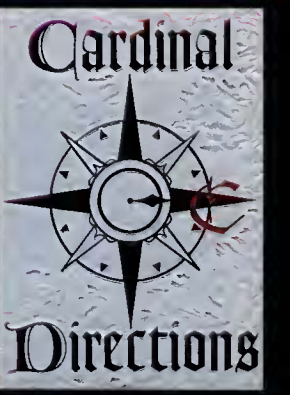

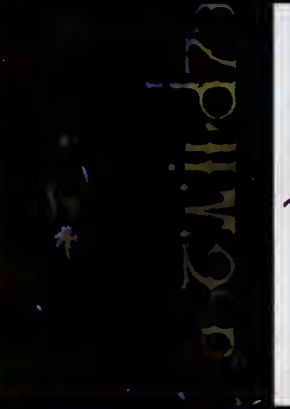

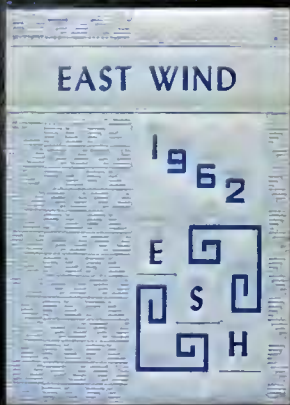

But one thing has remained constant. The human eye, brain, and heart that has diligently searched for and captured the moments we all hold precious. Our daily lives have been recorded by these efforts; systematically, comically, and lovingly. Miss Norma Draughn, Advisor and Kathryn Redman Dillon, Editor were representatives of those efforts.

50 Years Of Creative Energy

East Surry High School
1962 - 2011
50th Anniversary
Commemorative Edition

During the last 50 years in Pilot Mountain, there have been 6,410 young men and women to enter the halls of East Surry. For each of them there was an opportunity to learn, grow, and achieve. It was their choice to use this knowledge to give back as others have given to them. Those young people are today our mothers and fathers, business leaders, ministers, doctors and teachers. Thank you East Surry for enriching our future.

Summer ended, and as one class arrived, another prepared to leave, there was football, volleyball, basketball, swim meets and then Christmas. We started over once again with basketball, and wrestling. Soon the weather broke and there were homeruns, mile-runs and tennis balls. For the old folks; the teachers and parents, a continuation of both daily routine and years. For the young folks, there always were periods of adjustment; different people, places, or situations, a period of learning for all. The old ones learned once again to let go and let grow. And the young ones learned to leave, not lean. We all lived it, always changing, never remaining, and so, it goes.
