Teachers' Greeting

When comes the close of school my friend
What varied feelings stir the heart!
How soon all pleasures have an end
How soon the choicest friends must part.

A backward glance will fill the mind
With grateful joy for knowledge gained
For time well spent, and feelings kind
And friendships strong and unrestrained

At time of "books" with joyful zest
Fair Learnings pathway we've pursued,
Knowing full well they study best
Whose minds are set in willing mood,

Soon as the playing period came
Our books and toil we laid aside,
And gave our zeal to every game
As to the play-ground forth we hied

In due proportion thus the hours
Were yielded up to work and play—
The body trained, the mental powers
Unfolded in true wisdom's way.

We feel both glad and sad to-day,
And scarce can hide the rising tear,
We're glad for changes on life's way
Yet sad to part from schoolmates dear.

Ah! me that some will not return
When opes again the school-house door,
How oft their hearts within will burn
As they recall the scenes of yore.

Where'er they go to do the will
Of Him who guides each boy and girl,
May peace and gladness o'er them still
Their banner brave and true unfurl.

So one and all, my pupils dear,
Whatever comes of joy or stress
Your teacher bids you have good cheer
And win the crown of true success.

The school is out vacations come,
The bell has ceased to sound.
The old schoolhouse has lost its hum,
And silence broods around.
