

The Thanksgiving Spirit

Thanksgiving is a uniquely American holiday whose humble beginnings established a rich tradition. This is a time when all look inward with a grateful heart for the bountiful blessings of our nation.

Though we are showered with abundance, Americans have not lost their spirit of Thanksgiving. Indeed, there is much to be thankful for.

Our employees certainly feel that they can count their blessings this season. The following are some quotes from employees.

"I'm thankful for my fellow employees at Chatham."

Randel Fender, Engineering

"I'm thankful for a good retirement and the C-I program. C-I is one of the best things at Chatham. Everything we ask we get a response for. It may not be exactly what we want, but they will listen to what we have to say."

Jimmy Macemore, Wet Finish

"I'm thankful for having a chance to come back and get a GED."

Tina Waddell, Yarn Finishing, Boonville

"I'm thankful for my children."

Danny Gillespie, Binding

"I'm thankful for my children and my grandchildren. I'm thankful for living in a country where worship is free."

Maxine Pickett, Cloth

"I'm thankful for my family, my church, and my job. I'm thankful the Lord has let me live as long as He has and be in good health."

JoAnn Cox, Weave

"I'm thankful for a free country. I'm thankful for my five grandchildren and I enjoy them. Now that I'm getting closer to retirement, I'm thankful for retirement benefits. I'm thankful for my job and the people I work with. I enjoy my work."

Velma Darnell, Personnel

"I'm thankful to have a place to work, and to have a family."

Tony Newman, Wet Finish

"I'm thankful for good health and a good family. I'm thankful for a good place to work and for all the friends I've got."

Larry West, Engineering

ABE - Strong and Growing

The Adult Basic Education class at Chatham is strong and growing. Many of our employees are becoming interested in completing their education or improving their math and reading skills.

The class meets on Mondays and Wednesdays from 2:00 p.m. until 4:00 p.m. in the Personnel Building. This totally self-paced class is offered free of charge to Chatham employees and retirees. For more information, call Beth Steelman, Ext. 530.

In case you are considering this program for your educational needs, read these statements which were made by Chatham students about our class.

"It's been helpful. It's right here at work so you don't have to go to a community college. It's been good for me."

Ryan Watson (Blending)

"It's worth the time. It can help you out later."

Robin Reece

"What I like the best is you can work at your own pace."

Garvie Waddell (Garnett)

"ABE is a wonderful opportunity for anyone who wants to further their education. It is a good program which is free of charge. I just wish more people would take advantage of it. If you know of a family member, friend, or co-workers who needs this program encourage them to come."

Instructor, Linda Brown

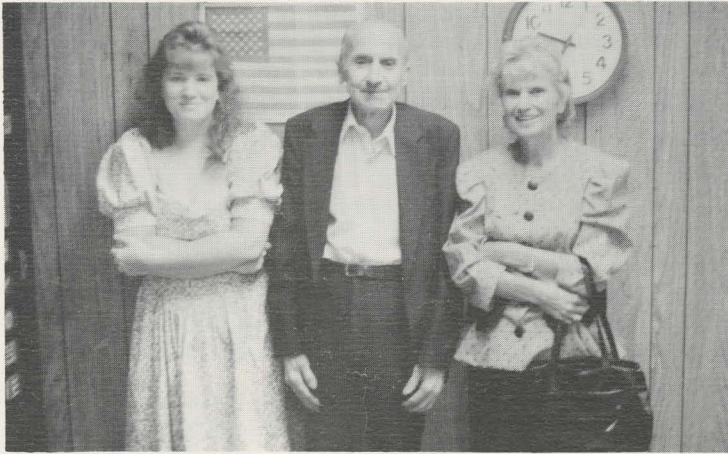

Classes for the Childbearing Family

Chatham will be offering classes about healthy childbearing. These classes are free and open to any employee. The series of topics available are: ABC's of Healthy Childbearing; Today's Knowledge, Tomorrow's Child: The Role of Genetics (Heredity); Eating for Two (Diet During Pregnancy); Danger: Tobacco, Drugs, Alcohol Use During Pregnancy; Healthy Families: Chance or Choice (Working while Pregnant); Fitness for Two; Coping with Stress During Pregnancy; Children Having Children; Pregnancy After 35; Preparation for Breastfeeding; and Infant Feeding and Care.

If you are interested in any or all of these classes, contact First Aid to sign up. We only need a few more employees to sign up for classes to begin.

Retiring - Retiring

Leo Haynes Retires

Leo Haynes was honored with a retirement party given by the Garnett Department on September 30. Special guests for the party were his daughter, Abby Cox, and his wife, Rosalyn.

Jerrell Gough was employed by Chatham thirty-eight years and two months. His first job here was in the Napping Department. After two years in this area, he moved to the Main Office where he worked in the Apparel Division for twenty years. Jerrell retired after working sixteen years as Cloth Sales Supervisor.

Jerrell has two daughters, Karen Marshall and Donna Merlo. He has one granddaughter, Lindsey, who is 5 years old.

Jerrell's immediate plans for retirement are to take a few months off to catch up on things around home. Now he will also have time to go eat lunch with his granddaughter, Lindsey, at least once a week at Calvary Preschool in Winston-Salem.

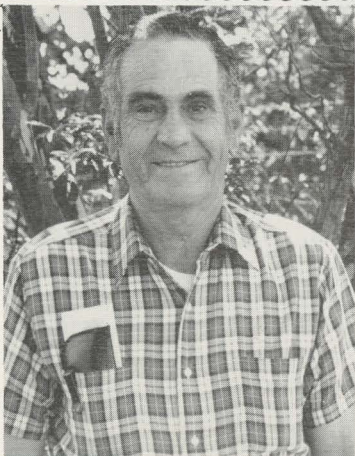

Jerrell's hobbies are playing golf and reading financial publications. He has several golfing trips planned.

"In taking early retirement, I don't think I will miss the job, but I know I will miss the people I have worked with for such a long time. It was a hard decision to make because I would be leaving the friends I have at Chatham. I haven't had time to do a lot of things I wanted to do so I know it will be nice to have extra time."

"Chatham has been a good company for 114 years. I believe it will continue to be a good company in spite of the set backs in recent years."

"The retirement profit sharing program is a good investment. I encourage everyone when possible to become fully invested," said Jerrell.

Jerrell is a member of Flat Rock Baptist Church. He is on the Board of Directors of the West Yadkin Fire Department.

Leo Haynes retired with twenty-one years and one month service in the Garnett Department. He retired as a staple cutter in this area.

Leo and his wife, Rosalyn, have three children - Abby Cox, Randy Haynes, and Dennis Haynes. He has one granddaughter, Allison Cox, who is 20 months old.

Leo wants to just enjoy life after his retirement. He intends to catch up on some work around home and do some gardening.

Several of Leo's relatives have been employed with Chatham. His uncle, Lester Haynes, and his aunt, Vernie Renegar, are retirees.

"I've enjoyed working here. I worked with some good people. I have worked with some of the best people there ever was at Chatham. I worked with two of the best supervisors - Frank Luffman and Cecil Ball. Before them, I worked with a fine man, Jimmy Mickey. I worked with Johnnie Spainhour for a long time."

"I want to thank a good friend Bill Hutchens, Joni Cook, Randy Cook, and Debbie Soots. Most of all I thank Priscilla Wood. Louise Prevette and Dorothy Casey are two special ones I have been with all the time," said Leo.

Jerrell Gough Retires

Cecil White Retires

For thirty-four years and six months, Cecil White has been employed in the Spinning Department. He retired after working as a fixer in this area for the past fifteen years.

Cecil and his wife, Aberdeen, have one daughter, Robin Buie. They are expecting their first grandchild to arrive in January.

Being an outdoorsman, Cecil plans to enjoy spending more time with his cattle and his bees. Presently, he does some small scale cattle farming. Now that he has retired he intends to increase his herd. Raising bees has been a hobby of Cecil's for many years. He has twenty bee hives.

Cecil has two brothers who have been employed by Chatham. His brother, Gray White, works in Yarn Finishing at the Boonville Plant. His brother, Dewitt White, is a retiree.

"I thank the Company for the pension we have and the profit sharing program they made for us. It is nice for the Company to have this for us. I worked under a lot of supervisors and I enjoyed working with all of them. I've enjoyed working with my co-workers. There's a good bunch of people that work here at Chatham," said Cecil.

Cecil attends Union Cross Church.
