

"Proffessor, How' Could You!"
A Comedy' in Three Acts
by
Anne Coulter Martens

1943

Presented by the Senior Class

Dobson School Auditorium
Thursday Evening, April 29th
Eight o'clock

Cast of Characters

Keats Perry, a young professor	Claude Draughn
Vicky Randolph, the bane of his life,	Hallie Dockery
Grandma Perry, an obliging soul	Frances Gillispie
Prandpa Perry, an innocent bystander	Bill Marion
John Appleby, a helpful friend	Glenn Dobbins
Priscilla Morley, a sweet young thing,	Mary Catherine Trevathan
Tootsie Bean, a plump spinster	Izella White
Butcher Boy Bean, her big brother	Ralston Long
Valerie Whitman, a Southern charmer	Betty Steele
Boggins, the sporting butler	Bill Copeland
Three young children, extras, who do not speak	Ruth Myers, Norma Jones, Mabel Marion

Place: The library of the Perry home in a college town
Time: The present - Spring

Synopsis

Act one: Eight o'clock on a Thursday evening
Act two: Eight o'clock on a Friday evening
Act three: Eight o'clock on a Saturday evening

Chief Marshals: Kelly Hutchens and Opal Hill
Marshals: Vena Holt, Vivian Trevathan,
Victoria Dockery, Magdalene Edmonds and Faye Fulk